VOICE OF THE PEOPLE

Indian River, Jan 12, 1920

The Examiner,
Peterboro,

Dear Sir,—In your report of the case of Borland vs. Walker ,entitled case of Borland vs. Walker, entitled 'Dispute over a table cloth' in Saturday's issue, you infer that the complainant was Mrs. Borland and that there had been a dispute between Walker and Mr. Borland. The fact is that there was neither Mr. or Mrs. Borland in the case whatever. The complainant was Miss Agness Borland.

Kindly insert a correction in your next issue.

Yours sincerely,
W. H. Borland.

SANDRA THE JEALOUS

BY JANE PHELPS

SANDRA HIDES HER HEARTACHE

CHAPTER XVIII

Everett had told me absolutely nothing of his past. He had been married before—that was all I knew. He had satisfied Father as to his moral character and his financial ability because I heard him tell Mother so. But he had loved her or he wouldn't have left her pictures hanging for me to see. He must love her now—even tho she were dead—better than he did me—the girl who had snatched at the chance to be second wife, the recipient of his warmed-over affections.

I commenced to feel very sorry for myself, not sorry that I had married Everett, but that I had not married him first, been Mrs. Graham number one, instead of Mrs. Graham number two. I know now as I look back that I was enjoying the perfect riot of self-pity into which I had worked myself. That I had set the stage with myself as the heroine, the star; the play one of those terrible triangle affairs; with one of the three a dead woman.

How could I ever look Rose in the face when she knew that Everett was in love with the first Mrs. Graham when he married me? Perhaps now that I had the pictures taken down, I could keep it from her.

Suddenly I would have given anything could I have recalled the letter I had written Rose, in which I praised Everett, his generosity. I wanted that letter back so fiercely that for a few moments it swamped all other feeling.

After I had heard Richard come down from the attic, I went immediately to my room and laid down. My head was throbbing painfully. I was frightened at what I had done, at what I feared might be Everett's attitude. Yet he had no right to have that other woman's picture where it would be constantly before me and so make me unhappy.

The telephone shrilled loudly:

"Hello"—it was Everett calling.

"Hello"—my voice weak and far-away as I answered!

"If you would like to lunch with me to-day, meet me at Larsen's, at one o'clock. Be sure to be on time, and look as well as you can. Richard knows where it is.

The receiver clicked as he hung up He gave me no opportunity to refuse to go even had I possessed the courage—or the inclination. For in spite of my headache and my fear that he would be offended because of what I had done, I still was young and I had never been to Larsen's.

Twice I went to the telephone to call his office to tell him that it would be impossible to meet him, and twice I turned away. I would go and trust to luck that he would not notice how nervous I was. If he did, I would lay it to my headache.

I had taken great pains with my toilette. Everett was very fastidious. "He may have some of his friends with him,' I thought as I put the faintest bit of rouge on my cheeks.

"You look very well." He had met me at the door and given me a glance of approval. "I thought it would be a change for you, that you would enjoy lunching here."

"Thank you, I shall enjoy it of course," I replied, but with so little spirit that he said testily:

"If you are going to act in that way I shall regret that I asked you."

"I have a headache." I might truthfully have said "heartache" instead.

"A cup of tea and some luncheon will help that."

I noticed as we threaded our way between the tables to one near the window marked "Reserved" that Everett seemed to know everyone. He bowed and smiled right and left to men and women both. In spite of my anxiety, my fear of his anger, a little glow of pride crept over me. He was so handsome, he carried himself so well, everyone seemed pleased to see him, showing he was popular and —he was mine, my husband.

He ordered me some tea at once, and I drank it while waiting for the luncheon to be served. When some men sitting at the next table rose and came over to speak to him, and he presented them to me so nicely—really as if he were a tiny bit proud of me—I forgot the pictures of the other woman I had banished to the attic and everything unpleasant in my desire to acquit myself so that Everett would not be ashamed of me.

I knew by his manner that I was pleasing him as I answered their questions and chatter with his friends. In spite of his sang froid, his worldly wisdom, my husband was very quick tempered, very quick to show either pleasure or displeasure—especially the latter.

PETERBORO MAN IS INTERESTED IN THE FAMOUS PAINTING

Nothing further has been done in the case of the Rembrandt picture purchased some month ago by Mr. Frank P. Wood of Toronto, son of Mrs. Jane Wood, 400 Belmont avenue which as stated in a former issue of the Examiner has involved the owner in internationtal difficulties with the French Government as the famuso picture which was in the Colmar Museum in Alsace was removed by the Germans. The present owner however, has been assured by high legal authority that in case the French Government demands the return of the picture which is valued at $200,000 or $300,000 the Reinhardt art dealers of New York from whom it was secured will return the money paid for it. A sister picture was purchased at the same time by Prince Rupprecht of Bavaria.

The following is taken from the Toronto Star:

COLMAR'S MAYOR TOLD OF REMBANDRT HERE

Painting on Exhibition in Toronto Causes International Correspondence

To the Editor of The Star:

Sir:—I have read your article in yesterday's Star about the Rembrandt, of which a report has been published that it was taken from the museum at Colmar, by the Germans. I am an Alsatian, and the Mayor of Colmar is a friend of mine. I have already send a letter to the Mayor of Colmar, so he can take steps. I will also send a copy of The Star, with this article to the French consul general at Montreal.

I am also very interested in the letters of William II to the Russian Czar, and I believe that I have some photos of Count Thorvaloff. I will send for them and send them to you for reproduction in The Star if you like. In yesterday's issue, there was a mistake made by the translator. It says: "Von Gottes Gnadon" (by divine right), well that is wrong, the translation of "Von Gottes Gnadon" means in English, by the grace of God, and in Latin "Der Gratire." but not by divine right. I would like to know the man, who says that "Von Gottes Gnadon" means by divine right. All reigning kings and emperors of the past and of the present times, including King George of England, use this word after their names, See on Canadian coin "Georgius V. Dei Gra. rex et Tud. Imp. Through such a mistranslation lots of blunders have been made. As I had been a conscript in the German army just at that time, when Willy wrote those letters to Nicky I am very interested in them. Yours very truly,

EMILE BAUMER,

Voice Of The People

Peterboro, Ontario,
January 10th, 1920.

To the Editor of the Examiner.

Dear Sir:

May I make so bold as to reply to your article written to Hockey Fan in your edition of January 7th, answering my letter of the previous evening. Your answer has just come to my notice, else I should have replied before.

I am well aware that "rooting" is "a feature of the game." Fortunately I am in a position to say that, on occasions, I have even myself had the honour of acting as cheer-leader of my college, and credit myself with at least a vague notion of what "rooting within the bounds of good taste" is, when kept within these bounds, rooting to my mind must be a positive, not a negative form of expressing the feelings of a crowd. By this I mean that it is calculated to encourage one-s own team, rather than to discourage one's opponents; to commend good play shown by the former, not to sneer at and ridicule the latter—and especially under the circumstances which I was careful to point out. Now, granted that you accept the above definition of "rooting within the bounds of good taste" and to give an instance of my idea of the opposite from the very game in question, I shall go so far as to say that I am sure that the play of Williams, the Cannington goal-keeper could not have been detracted from by certain rooting which was not kept within the said bounds. For failing to stop a few shots of his team-mates in the practice before the game he was at once branded "green" and "rotten" by a few of your "hockey-featuring" rooters, and was even condemned to ridicule for the whole evening, although he cleared nicely on several occasions.

Fortunately I am also in a position to say that I have already "spent an evening in the bleacher section of the Toronto arena during a big game," presuming that by a "big" game you mean a professional one. Professional sport, I may say, is generally acknowledged to be distinctly different from amateur sport, and in it even filthy and unjust remarks pass over their target's head almost like water rolls from a duck's back: the professional hopes his team will win and looks forward chiefly to his salary. On the contrary, discouraging remarks from the spectators do tell clearly on the amateur player, himself individually and on his team as a whole. Moreover, was it not totally unfair (I ask you to reconsider your verdict) to direct them at the Cannington team? Why not better get up a snappy, virile, spirited Peterborough yell, and raise the roof of the rink, if you like with that? We'll all join in.

It is unfortunate too that Peterborough should have to succumb to Oshawa's leadership in the sphere of cheering, and if Oshawa happens to "shout down" her opponents in their evident hour of victory, is it for Peterborough to follow her example?

I should be grateful if you would endeavor to find space for this letter in your valuable columns, both to clear me from being thought an "anti-rooter," and to make more clear to the public, views which I am certain are those of more than our citizens of Peterborough.

Thanking you for your space, I am,

Yours very truly,
J. F. DAVIDSON,
(of Peterborough)

Toronto, Ontario.

RAILWAY BOARD FROM UPOWN IMHOFF SEWAGE SYSTEM, CALLS FOR NEW PLANS

PROVINCIAL BOARD OF HEALTH WILL ACCEPT ONLY ACTIVATED SLUDGE SYSTEM, ALD. PHELAN REPORTED—PLANS MUST BE READY BY MARCH 1ST.

The Ontario Railway Board has granted the city an extension of time until March 1st for the preparation of plans for a sewage disposal plant of the activated sludge type. Ald. Phelan reported to the Council last night.

"They wouldn't accept our Imhoff plans" he said. "Dr. McCullough and his engineer of the Provincial Board of Health wouldn't listen to anything but the activated sludge idea."

Ald. Hamilton—The Board of Health is not supreme. They ordered the people of Toronto to be vaccinated but a Court over-rode them. If we still want the Imhoff system we might open this up again."

Mayor McIntyre—What would you do?

Ald. Hamilton—We could tell them we wouldn't have the other one.

Ald. Gordon—Resist the order. But this Council is relieved of the responsibility of deciding upon a plan in dealing with this problem and that is something to consider.

Ald. Hamilton—For the benefit of the new members I might add that we preferred the Imhoff system because of City Engineer Parson's recommendation that it was most suitable for this city, and he was not satisfied that the activated sludge method would be a success.

This question was referred again to the Board of Works.

Hear From Nashua Co.

City Solicitor Widdifield wrote that the Nashua Gum and Coated Paper company would occupy their factory here on January 15th but would assume all expenses dating from January 1st. They had been delayed in completing their local organization.

A request from the Board of Education for the flooding of the South Central school rink was referred to the Board of Works.

Sidewalk Need Repair.

Mr. R. R. Hall reported that the crossing on the east side of Reid street opposite his house was badly in need of repair. Ald. Phelan said he would notify the Street Department at once.

Acknowledged Contribution.

The Sisters of St. Vincent's orphanage thanked the Council for their gift of ten dollars for Christmas cheer for the children.

Dyspepsia and Home Life

What a Relief When All the Family Eat the Same Foods! Avoid Dyspepsia, Sour Stomach, Gas—Indigestion from Breakfast Sausage to Dinner Mince Pie.

After mother has struggled two or three hours over a hot fire to do the cooking for a hungry family, it is real enjoyment when there isn't a dyspeptic jinx among them. Of course, a case of dyspepsia or daily indigestion must be looked after. But it is far more to the point to prevent as well as to treat sour stomach, belching, water brash, etc., by such a valuable means as Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets. Coddling the stomach with soft food and predigested stuff merely invites sluggishness.

Eat your little pork sausages for breakfast without fears; have a plate of beans and a piece of pie with cheese for lunch, and end the day with a real dinner, instead of a bowl of bread and milk. Follow each meal with a Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablet an get right back to your natural self.

These tablets digest food and assist the stomach to prepare the content for assimilation in the intestinal tract. Thus you get the practical relief and help which induces a better appetite and a greater freedom in the selection of foods. You will find Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets on sale at any drug store in the United States and Canada, as they are considered one of the stand-bys by the druggist.

COUNCILLORS MUST ATTEND MEETINGS

(Special to The Examiner.)

COBALT, Jan. 13.—The new Town Council got down to business yesterday. In outlining new business for the year two important matters were touched on, the necessity for Hydro electricity in the district, and the building of a new hotel for the town. The 1919 Council was notorious for its non-attendance at meetings, and Mayor McEachern told the new councillors that slosh will not be put up with.

CANON SCOTT READY FOR THE NEXT WAR

MAKES A PLEA FOR THE RETURNED MEN.

(Special to The Examiner.)

OTTAWA, Jan. 13. — "I am only waiting for the next war to be declared to go again," was the war-like remark of Col., the Rev. Canon F. G. Scott, of St. Matthew's church, Quebec, famous poet and author, during an address here at the annual vestry meeting of St. George's church last night.

"The next time I go to war it will be as a combatant," added Col. Scott, who had an enviable record as a chaplain at the front, and who is one of the most popular padres in Canada.

"When I go again I expect to bring a few scalps in my belt." Canon Scott enjoined his hearers not to worry about the returned men because they do queer things. The returned man has come from a larger and better world into a small one," he pointed out, telling of the spirit of unselfishness that animated most of the men at the front, and that returning to Canada they had to enter an atmosphere of petty selfishness and jealousy that pervaded the country.

THE CHURCHES UNITED EFFORT

A Prime Minister's Reading.

A London Journal has an article with the attractive title "What Lloyd George Reads". The article is an interesting one as revealing the intellectual pabulum of the great Englishstatesman. Of course he reads the newspapers, and takes a special interest in the conduct of law cases, being himself a lawyer. He also finds public speeches attractive. He reads novels, especially novels of action. He reads history, politics, speeches, travel, poetry and biography. His extraordinary memory stands him in good stead. He remembers what he reads as it is his habit to think over what he reads.

In St. Paul's Church last evening Rev. R. J. M. Glassford spoke on "The Reading of the Prime Minister of Queen Candace of the Ethiopians. This great man read, as he journeyed the prophesy of Isaiah. He was taken as a typical inquirer after truth, and as such he was spoken of last night as an honest seeker. He was evidently a thoughtful man and so he came to realize the inability of his own religion to meet his needs. He was honest enough with himself and with His God to acknowledge his ignorance of divine things, and he was willing to seek after God in a different faith than that in which he had been brought up. When men are earnest with God they are willing to run the risk of losing anything rather than lose eternal life.

Then he was a sincere as well as earnest seeker after truth. His earnestness sent him out upon a journey of 1,200 miles to worship God in Jerusalem. A man must be tremendously in earnest to do that. A man's earnestness will not save him but he will not be saved without it. His earnestness led him to investigate the Scriptures. No man is justified in rejecting Christianity until he has earnestly and reverently read the Word of God. The truths of Christianity cannot be dismissed with a wave of the hand.

And then he was an obedient seeker. He was swift to hear but he was just as prompt to obey. When Philip showed him the truth and urged him to accept it he immediately did so. At once he desired to confess Christ and be enrolled with the people of God. And what followed his confession of the Christian faith? This: "He went on his way rejoicing". That is always what follows. The worl became a new world to this man when he had believed. It was a new heaven and a new earth he looked upon. The sky was the bluer and the fields were the greener just because of the change that had taken place in his own soul. He was happy because he was saved.

A special feature of the meeting last night was the service of song led by Rev. Mr. Thomas, and the solo which was sung by Mrs. R. W. F. E. Davidson at the close of the address. It was a very helpful and inspiring service. The public are cordially invited to the meeting to-night.

Take LAXATIVE BROMO QUININE (Tablets). It stops the Cough and Headache and works off the Cold. E. W. GROVE'S signature on each box. 30c.

Whenever your skin is blotchy or "pimply" Zam-Buk is what you need. First, wash with warm water and Zam-Buk Soap.

Then apply Zam-Buk gently, but thoroughly. If this is done persistently each night before retiring, you will soon be repaid by a much improved condition of the skin, and eventually by freedom from all blotches or pimples.

Mrs. Owen A. Gee, of 3 Beaconsfield Ave., Montreal, states: "Generally speaking, I have no faith in so-called skin remedies, but I am willing to admit that Zam-Buk is quite different. It is very superior to anything I have ever used, and I have good cause to know, as I used innumerable remedies before I heard of Zam-Buk. I had suffered for a long time from blotches and spots on my face and body, and had used so many remedies without receiving benefit, that I had given up hope of anything curing me when Zam-Buk was recommended. I agreed, however, to give it a trial, and to my amazement I soon noticed a marked improvement in my condition. I persevered with Zam-Buk until finally it rid my skin of every spot and blotchy patch and left it clear and smooth. Zam-Buk is certainly worthy of all the credit and praise given it."

For eczema, ulcers, abscesses, boils, blood-poisoning, piles, cuts, burns and scalds, Zam-Buk is equally good. All dealers 50c. box.

GERMAN STAFF MESSAGE DECLARED COLLAPSE WAS DUE TO SMASHING BLOWS ON WEST FRONT

BERNE, Jan. 12.—A Swiss newspaper has just obtained a secret document of the German General Staff sent from headquarters at the Western front to the German War Office, and dated 31st October, 1918.

The document gives the lie to the Hindenburg - Ludendorff contention that the collapse of the German army about this time was due to the fact that "the front was stabbed from behind," that is, that Germany collapsed owing to internal revolution.

The document plainly shows that the collapse and retreat was due to the Allied troops' attack and to the exhaustion of the German army. The German General Staff document states:

"The beginning of our retreat date: from 21st August, 1918, from Amiens owing to the constant pressure of the armies of Gouraud, Mangin, and Degoutte.

"On 8th August the First French Army, under Debeney, with the Fourth British Army under Rawlinson, dealt a decisive blow with superior forces against our south-eastern position near Moreuil, when we lost all our heavy artillery. The enemy here succeeded by tremnedous dash in breaking through our front and driving us back on Roye. Similarly we lost Soissons. In three days we had to abandon twenty-five kilometers of front, thus losing Montdidier, while to the north the British troops inflicted a similar loss on us, obliging us to abandon Peronne, etc.

"Our exhausted and used-up men, incessantly engaged since spring in heavy fighting, could no longer hold their own against these united exertions of the enemy, who were supported by fresh American and British troops. One blow followed another, and a rest upon leap became inevitable from lack of reserves. The question of an armistice was daily becoming more urgent."

The GRESSMAN Company Limited

NEW SUGGESTION FOR EXPANDING PROPOSED RIVERSIDE PARK SITE

ALD. GORDON SUGGESTS THAT GOVERNMENT BE ASKED TO DEPOSIT EARTH FROM RIVER BELOW THE PARK AND THEREBY EXTEND IT.

The new Council packed two hours with motions and by-laws and snappy discussions of business both fresh and warmed over last night, and adjourned at ten o'clock.

Familiar figures were missing. The effect of the New Year's infusion of new blood was strikingly evident, but the illusion of unchanging continuity was preserved somewhat by the presence of those members of last year who were at their accustomed desks.

Mayor McIntyre of course occupied ex-Mayor Duncan's old place. Ald. Copping took Mr. Taylor's seat beside Ald. Jones is back in his old setting at the desk Mr. Edgar held, and beside him is Ald. Whitehouse at the McIntyre desk. The only other change is Ald. Gordon's position in the Labour wing in the chair vacated by Mr. Carside next to Ald. Crowe.

To implement the Park by-law passed by the electors Ald. Turner suggested that immediate steps should be taken with the options the city held.

Ald. Gordon moved, seconded by Ald. Turner that City Solicitor Widdifield be asked to ascertain at the Registry office the extent of the properties that are proposed for purchase, the prices of these lots and if necessary that a surveyor's sketch be made for the guidance of the Council.

Ald. Hamilton recommended that the City Clerk write to Mr. Robert Stuart of the Quaker Oats company stating that the city would be glad to secure the old raceway owned by the company and the deed of it, in order that the entire park block may be intact.

City Trust Surplus.

Ald. Turner recalled that at a recent banquet he had mentioned an accumulated surplus held by the City Trust. Mr. Vincent Eastwood had replied that this money could not be used for any other purpose but for what it was voted.

"If that is so it is a mistake" Ald. Turner continued. "We ought to have legislation in order that the money could be used by the people and by the present generation. I have before me the charter of the city of Saskatoon. It contains a provision by which their surplus which was $31,000 on October 1st may be taken into the current revenue. If we haven't that legislation we should apply for it."

Ald Hamilton—What is the City Trust's surplus?

Ald. Crowe—$30,000.

Ald. Gordon—I think Ald. Turner's idea is a good one. With regard to the park, the Dominion Government requires to do a lot of dredging in the river, and they carry the material to the Little Lake. The Government might put that dredging at the south side of Riverside Park, and extend it over a large area that could be confined by a retaining wall. It would save time for the Government and would be a big advantage to the city. I move that the Parks Committee get in touch with the Department of Railways and Canals and see if they can make an agreement for the dredging to be used in extending the park."

Ald. Turner—I would suggest that this be referred to the City Plan Commission.

Ald. Gordon—Would it be satisfactory if they meet with the Parks Committee?

Plan Comprehensive Scheme.

Ald. Turner—The City Plan Commission are planning to take a bird's eye view of the city from a airplane and in conjunction with Mr. Thomas Adams to prepare a comprehensive scheme for parks and boulevards. I am in accord with the suggestion for a retaining wall, but we might as well have the detailed plan for the whole city.

Ald. Phelan—Leave it to the Parks Commission and ask the Commission to meet that committee.

Ald. Gordon—If Ald. Gainey will watch it I have no objection to it going to the Commission. We are responsible body and should have control.

Ald. Turner stated that control would remain with the Council, but that the Plan Commission would outline a comprehensive scheme and present it to the Council.

Ald. Gainey said he could not watch the work as he was not a member of the Commission, but Ald. Turner replied that Mayor McIntyre as an ex-officio member would keep him in touch with what was done.

Ald. Gainey seconded Ald. Gordon's motion as amended for reference of the park extension idea to the City Plan Commission.

"There's a general election coming and there might be all kinds of dredging" Ald. Gordon suggested.

HOUSING COMMISSION TO VISIT FEW CITIES FOR SUGGESTIONS

COUNCIL WILL ALSO ENQUIRE INTO BREAD COSTS—CITIZEN INJURED BY FALL ON SIDEWALK UNABLE TO CONTINUE FORMER WORK.

$27,100 TAXES IN ARREARS

Referring to a Government report on the costs of grain and flour, Ald. Crowe last night read a Toronto report to the effect that the bakers of that city had not increased their price of bread.

"It appears to me that our bakers didn't hesitate to make an increase in the cost of bread" he remarked. "And we may get another before long. It occurred to me that there might be some information we could get in this matter."

Ald. Hamilton—The Ontario farmer is not getting any benefit from the higher prices of grain. These apply to the hard wheat from the west.

Ald. Gordon moved, seconded by Ald. Crowe that the clerk write the secretary of the Board of Commerce asking whether the local increase of two cents on the pound and a half loaf was justified.

"We can find out whether we should invite the Board to sit here," Ald. Gordon added.

U.F.O. Getting Coal.

Ald. Morrison—I understand that the U.F.O. are getting coal $3 less than we pay.

Ald. Hamilton—They are buying in car lots and delivering it themselves. Three dollars a ton may not be too much for delivery.

Ald. Morrison—It seems quite a lot.

Investigate Housing.

"We appointed Mr. Jas. Finnie and Mr. F. H. Dobbin Housing Commissioners with the Mayor but we did not provide them with funds for a trip to see what has been done elsewhere" Ald. Turner pointed out in introducing a motion that the Housing Commission be permitted to visit three or four cities in the province that launched building schemes last year. The Mayor is authorized to pass their accounts, "not to exceed $100," Ald. Turner said.

Ald. Crowe—They ought to get photographs when they are at it. A lot of people are asking what we are going to do."

Ald. Gordon seconded Ald. Turner's motion.

Ald. Phelan—Do you give them a roving commission?

Ald. Turner—Yes for the three or four places I mentioned.

For Garbage Collection.

Ald. Crowe reported that the residents of the new garbage collection areas had not been instructed as to the days on which the collections were made in their districts.

Ald. Hamilton—That's up to the Sanitary Inspector.

Ald. Crowe moved, seconded by Ald. Jones that this detail be referred to the Inspector to inform these residents as to the days on which they should set out their garbage.

Ald. Crowe complained that men from outside the city have been employed on the Hunter street bridge, and single men too, while married ratepayers were unable to obtain work.

Ald. Gordon—It must have been the fault of last year's Council.

Ald. Phelan—I never heard a complaint.

Ald. Crowe—You must have been in the cellar then.

Ald. Phelan—I'm no cellar man, and I wasn't looking at the furnace either.

This last remark was a humourous reminder of Robert Hendry's monologue at Mr. R. Denne's banquet Friday night.

Mayor McIntyre—They've been telling me too that they can't get work.

Ald. Hamilton—If any member will give the names of men working on the bridge who shouldn't be there I'll take it up at once.

Resolution to Civil Service Com.

Ald. Whitehouse moved, seconded by Ald. Gordon that the Civil Service Commission be requested to enforce its regulations regarding appointments and that appointments be made of men who are next in line for promotion providing they are qualified, and that men who have seen war service and are qualified be considered.

"Under the patronage system there has been no encouragement for the young men who prepare themselves and are ambitious to succeed in that work" Ald. Whitehouse explained.

Broke Two Ribs in Fall.

H. Blain, 537 Sherbrooke street, tripped over a projection on the sidewalk on the east side of Aylmer street north of McDonnel street on December 6th and broke two ribs. He had to be treated by Dr. Wood. As a result of the accident he had to give up a position at which he earned four dollars a day and did not expect to be able to return to it. Mr. Blain asked the Council to consider his plight. His letter was referred to the Legal Committee.

SAVE THE OLD SHOES

A campaign to be launched by the National Shoe Retailers Association of U.S., estimated to save $300,000,000 by repairing all the old shoes.

Retail Shoe dealers are to be urged, not that new shoes be purchased, but that Old Shoes be dug out of the closets and repaired.

It is said that there are "millions of shoes in the closets of the nation, that, with a little repair, they can be made perfectly serviceable. If people will get out these old shoes it will reduce the shoe bills from more than $1,000,000,000 to $700,000,000."

What is true of the U.S., is true of Canada and of Peterborough. I am splendidly prepared to Repair all kinds of Old Shoes. Dig them out of the Closets and bring them here for a first-class job. We don't cobble Shoes, we Repair them.

THE CALL FROM ARMENIA

HUNDREDS OF HELPLESS WOMEN AND LITTLE CHILDREN ARE DYING OF STARVATION—TERRIBLE SCENES WITNESSED BY RELIEF OFFICER—AN APPEAL TO EXAMINER READERS.

Armenia is on the conscience of every right-thinking man and woman on this side of the Atlantic. The last direct message from the stricken nation is penned by a woman. Eleanor Franklin Egan writes in The Saturday Evening Post of what she saw—trying to tell it all, telling so much that is terrible, yet stopping suddenly with the shiver: "No, one must not write a thing like that!"

Howard Heinz of Pittsburg, Hoover's representative in the Near East, did not credit what he was told. He could not believe such things could happen. He was a 'cool-headed business man," and regarded the stories he heard as ghastly exaggerations. He went into Armenia to see for himself. He returned. He said one thing—said it over and over again:

"Merciful God! It's all true! Nobody has ever told the whole truth! Nobody could!"

The Hunger Cry of the Starving.

"O-na-ne! O-na-ne. O-na-ne." It was a wail of indescribable anguish, coming from the gathering gloom — mournful, pleading, ceaseless. It was the hunger cry of starving Armenians, hundreds and hundreds of them, pushing, shoving, fainting, falling — their thin, bony arms outstretched, their eyes sunken and staring, their skeleton bodies shivering in the cold, drizzling rain. Closer and closer they crowded—unkempt, dirty, filthy.

Women and girls were many. Men were few. The Turks had seen to that. Rags were their clothes. Sores covered their bodies. Disease was doing its deadly work. Little emaciated children whined and moaned—and pariah dogs prowled in and out among them.

Supplies Not Sufficient.

The train had stopped. It had penetrated far. And now, relief supplies all gone, its workers worn and weary, it found itself compelled to switch and travel back. But, while it waited, the crowd had gathered —that crowd of hungry humanity.

The Relief Officer looked upn the sea of hopeless faces and listened to the low moan expressive of the suffering of a persecuted people —a martyred nation, homeless, poverty-stricken, friendless. Husbands and brothers gone, murdered by the Turk. Only older men left, and younger women, reserved for a fate worse than death And no food now remained!

Bit of Bread Comes Too Late.

An old man tottered as he held out a trembling hand. The Relief Officer handed him a last bit of bread. Eagerly he snatched it and thrust it into his mouth. He shuddered, staggered, and ,with the bread still between his teeth, fell to the ground—dead. Those near him turned and looked, then once more besieged the officer.

It was only an incident of everyday occurrence, and they had grown used to it. Starvation had claimed its thousands. Would it not soon be the fate of all the rest? It was their portion as a people. The Christian nations had forgotten them. The Christian churches had deserted them. What hope had they?

At last, convinced of the uselessness of waiting longer, they slowly turned away, huddled together in groups or wandered off in search of some kind of shelter from the cold rain. And as they went there arose, now here, now there, the low, weird wail: "O-na-ne! O-na-ne! O-na-ne!"

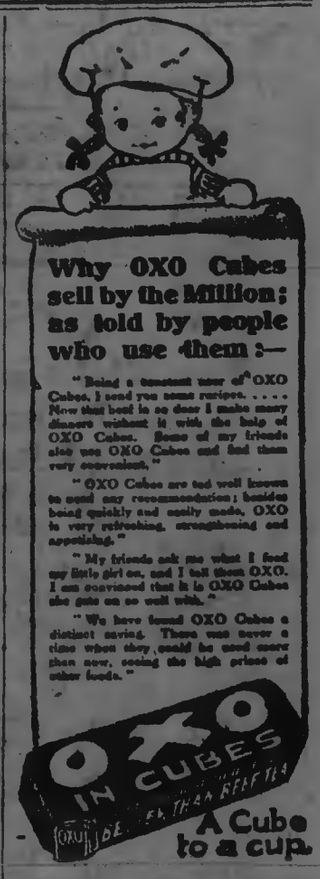
"Like Dumb, Driven Cattle."

What are they doing now? The Relief Officer makes his way to a scene that suddenly arrests attention—women and children down on the ground, moving about on hands and knees, eating grass, tearing it up by handfuls and chewing it— human beings grazing like cattle! Unbelievable? Yes, but true! And his soul revolted at the sight.

He did not sleep that night. His eyes saw visions in the dark — the homeland overseas with plenty—food, clothing, shelter; and, then, this! And to his heart spoke the Voice toward which no man dare be indifferent: "Inasmuch as ye have done it unto one of the least of these, My brethren, ye have done it unto Me."

Shall Armenia perish? Let each Canadian, man and woman, make the question personal and the answer prompt.

It has been suggested that a local committee be formed to undertake the work of collecting funds for this purpose. The Examiner has been authorized to receive funds unless such a committee is formed.



Why OXO Cubes sell by the Million; as told by people who use them:—

"Being a constant user of OXO Cubes, I send you some recipes. . . . . Now that beef is so dear I make many dinners without it with the help of OXO Cubes. Some of my friends also use OXO Cubes and find them very convenient."

"OXO Cubes are too well known to need any recommendation; besides being quickly and easily made, OXO is very refreshing, strengthening and appetising."

"My friends ask me what I feed my little girl on, and I tell them OXO. I am convinced that it is OXO Cubes she gets on so well with."

"We have found OXO Cubes a distinct saving. There was never a time when they could be used more than now, owing the high prices of other foods."

TIE-UP ON THE C.P.R.

Owing to a slight tie-up on the Canadian Pacific between Toronto and Coldwater, two large passenger trains from Toronto and Sudbury passed through Lindsay Sunday night and early Monday morning. — Lindsay Warder.

How Any Woman Can Remove Hairy Growths

(Beauty Culture.)

It is not longer necessary for a woman to visit a beauty specialist to have superfluous hairs removed, for, with the aid of a plain delatone paste, she can, in the privacy of her own home, remove even a stubborn growth in a very few minutes. The paste is made by mixing some water with a little powdered delatone. This is applied to the hairs and after 2 or 3 minutes removed and the skin washed, when it will be left clear and hairless. Be sure you buy real delatone.

BREAD UP TWO CENTS.

With the advance in wheat and flour, Lindsay bakers have seen fit to advance the price of bread two cents. The advance went into effect yesterday morning.—Lindsay Warder.

NIGHT COUGHS PREVENT SLEEP

WEAR OUT THE SYSTEM

The dry, hacking cough, cough, day and night is very wearing on the system. The constant coughing disturbs the rest and keeps the lungs and bronchial tubes in such an irritated and inflamed condition they get no chance to heal.

You will find in Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup a remedy without an equal for curing coughs and colds, soothing the lungs, loosening the phlegm, strengthening and healing the breathing organs, and fortifying them against serious pulmonary disease.

Mrs. Fred. Fairburn, Copper Cliff, Ont., writes:—"I caught a heavy cold, got a sore throat and had a terrible hacking cough that I could not get rid of. I could not sleep at night. I had tried quite a few remedies, but they did not seem to do me much good until I took Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup. By the time I had taken two bottles my cough was all gone.

"It seemed to loosen the cough right away so that I could spit up the phlegm that gathered in my throat, and also took that hot, raw, burning fever out of my bronchial tubes. I feel that Dr. Wood's has no equal."

AULD SCOTLAND'S NATIONAL DISH

RECIPE FOR MAKING HAGGIS, THE FOOD IMMORTALIZED BY BURNS

The Scotsmen of the city, banded together in the Caledonian Society, announce that on January 26th., they will celebrate the anniversary of the birth of Robert Burns by giving a haggis supper. Scotland's national poet and national dish will thus alike be honpured. It may be, however, that it will be necessary to import a special cook who will be able to prepare the comestible according to rule. For the haggis is a food by no means in common use, and there are plenty of Scotchmen in the city to-day who have never regaled themselves upon it. Here is the recipe for the preparation of the haggis:

"Procure the bag and pluck of a sheep, also one neck of mutton. Boil the neck of mutton for stock. Boil the pluck, mince the heart, liver and a small portion of the liver, grate the remainder of the liver, add three-quarter pound beef suet minced, two handsful oatmeal toasted in the oven, one-half nutmeg, one teaspoonful of white pepper, one-half teaspoonful of red peper and other spices to taste. Do not forget the salt (and some onion if desired). Mix all together with the stock, making the consistency of porridge, and half fill the bag and put on in boiling water. Prick bag frequently to keep from bursting, and put a plate in bottom of pot. Boil three hours."

Burns immortalized the haggis in a poem, that is one of his best works the closing stanza of which is as follows:

Ye Powers, wha mak mankind your care,
And dish them out their bill o' fare,
Auld Scotland wants nae skinking ware
That jaups in luggies;
But if ye wish her grateful' prayer
Gie her a Haggis!

For Chapped, Rough, Red or Blotchy Skin

Do you realize that just beneath that coarse, rough or discolored complexion there's an exquisitely beautiful skin of youthful tint and delicacy? If you could only bring this complexion to the surface, discarding the old one! You can—in the easiest, simplest, most natural manner imaginable. Just get an ounce of ordinary mercolized wax at any drug store, apply nightly like cold cream, removing it mornings with warm water. The wax assists Nature by gradually taking off the lingering particles of dead and half-dead surface skin, causing no discomfort whatever. Cutaneous defects like chaps, pimples, blotches, liver spots, moth patches, freckles, of course disappear with the old skin. Nothing else will accomplish such wonderful results in so short a time.

BEER AND SHAVES TOO DEAR.

London, Eng.—Several anti-profiteering tribunals in South Wales have as yet received no complaints of high charges, while Cardiff's population of 200,000 has only produced two. One man complains he was charged too much for a shave, and the other says his beer was too dear.

It's the easiest thing in the world for a man to forget the mean advantage he took of another.

There must be something wrong with the vision of some people who do their duty as they see it.

OAK HALL

SPRINGVILLE PRESBYTERIANS HONOUR THEIR FALLEN HEROES

SPECIAL SERVICE HELD ON SUNDAY --ADDRESS BY THE REV. G. I. CRAW.

Impressive Service Before a Large Congregation From Surrounding District.

The congregation of Springville Presbyterian Church paid tribute to her fallen heroes, on Sunday morning when a beautiful tablet was unveiled in honor and loving memory to three of her young men who at one time were identified with the congregation and who paid the supreme sacrifice in the great war.

The men so honored were:

Cpl. John Andrews killed in action at Vimy Ridge.

Pte. William Bertrand Elliott, died of wounds received at Passchendaele.

Sergt. James Webster Marsh killed in action at Passchendaele.

Beautiful Service.

A beautiful service appropriate to the occasion was conducted by the pastor Rev. G. I. Craw who chose as the subject of his discourse II Timothy 2nd chapter 3rd verse, "Thou therefore endure hardness as a good soldier Jesus Christ."

To the large congregation present he eloquently appealed to make their lives worthy of the great sacrifice made by these men, who laid down their lives on the battlefield of France. The only sacrifice worth making was a sacrifice for a people giving their lives in Christian service. Let us then be worthy of what our men did for us in the Great War. Should he ever forget? Can we forget these men for their valour in an hour of great period. He pointed out that there was evidance that such sacrifice would soon be forgotten and that our nation would relax in regard to her duty toward God now that victory had come to our arms. Was that a true reward for the service rendered by our men on Flanders field. We won a great victory on the battle field of Europe at a tremendous loss. A cost that cannot be computed, it is too great, let us therefore march forward as true soldiers of Jesus Christ in the great warfare against sin and other sacrifices shall not have been in vain.

Mr. Craw spoke feelingly regarding those whose lives they were about to honor and read letters received from the men's officers and chaplains.

Following this part of the service and as the congregation remained standing the tablet was unveiled by Nursing Sister Margaret Whitfield and Pte. T. L. Elliott who had served with the forces overseas.

The service closed by the singing of hymn 503.

LINDSAY EXPECT TO TIE GROUP RACE HERE FRIDAY

As expected the Lindsay Intermediates had no trouble in beating Cannington in Lindsay last night ad they are now in a position to tid up the group race by beating Peterboro here on Friday night.

It will be a battle royal for that Lindsay crew is fast and big and the bigger ice surface here will benefit rather than handicap them The game in Lindsay was a struggle from the first drop of the puck and Friday's engagments will be of the same calibre. The biggest crowd of the season will see the old rivals clash in this fixture.

The Intermediate O. H A. team will practice at the Brock street rink between 7 and 8 o'clock te-morrow night. A full attendance is requested

The Juniors practice to-night at 5.30 o'clock in final preparation for their game to-morrow night with Lindsay. The youngsters leave for Lindsay on the 5.30 G.T.R. train tomorrow evening and will be accompanied to Lindsay by a number of fans.

LINDSAY EASILY BEAT CANNINGTON

LINDSAY, Jan 12.—Lindsay intermediates defeated Cannington tonight by 9 to 1, the visitors scoring at the close of the final period. It was a light lunch for the locals, and the game was far from being brilliant, there being too much one-man hockey. For the locals Carew and Coombs were the best. Williams, in goal for the visitors was good, and saved his team from a larger score. Hodgson for Cannington was also fair. Lineup:—

Referee—Glen Smith.

Yes, Rafalo, the right kind of experience is worth all it costs.

The loss of his job is apt to puncture a man's vanity and let a lot of egotism run out.

ARCH BAR BROKE.

Yesterday morning at Jones' Siding, between Omemee and Bests, at about seven o'clock, an arch bar broke on a car of grain, derailing the car and blocking the main line. The morning passenger trains between Peterborough and Lindsay had to be run via Millbrook Junction until the track was cleared for traffic at about 10 o'clock a.m.

How many people do you know—including yourself—who would cause their neighbors to shed tears if they moved away?

BANKRUPTCY ON DECLINE.

LONDON, Eng.—Due principally to special wartime protection of debtors, there was a further diminution during last year in the number of recorded insolvencies. This was 888, or less than half the number in 1917. Little change is expected in the number for this year. One bankrupt prosecuted was a bank manager, who pleaded guilty to larceny while acting as hon. treasurer to a Bible Society.

IMPORTANT CITY LEAGUE MEETING

TWO GAMES IN THE CITY LEAGUE SERIES TO-MORROW NIGHT.

There will be an important meeting of the City Hockey League Executive at the Brock street rink tonight at 7 o'clock. Every member is expected to be present.

The Canadian Woollens team will practice at the Brock street rink tonight between 6.45 and 7.45 p.m. The following players are asked to turn out: Legros, F. Graham, H. Graham, McMartin, Williams, Jackson, Tudhope, Mulhall, Shaw, Smith, Gilchrist, Coughlin, Rutherford.

The two games in the City League Series to-morrow night should be productive of some great hockey The Belmont Club and the Business College meet in the first game and the Canadian Woollens and the C. G. E. in the second. Both of these teams won handily last week and there is much interest in their meeting to-morrow night. Both teams will be at full strength for the game.

FIDDLERS THREE

"Fiddlers Three," which is coming to the Grand on Wednesday Eve and to be a rare bit of music and unusually well played comedy. It is seldom that a piece of theatrical property meets with such favor as has been accorded this delightful romantic operetta. Its story has charm and its dialogue is rich in wit and humor. Tavie Belge, the prima donna has a voice of great range and sweetness—one that is seldom heard outside of grand opera and has since her first American appearance at the Cort Theatre in New York last summer, gathered a following of music lovers that must be very flattering to her. Tom Dingle, puts his comedy over the footlights with personal directness and keeps you smiling, and Edna Morn, with her sprightly and graceful dancing, Katherine Clare Ward, Ethel Dwyer, Horace Sinclair, Marius Rogati, Layman and Kling with their unusual dancing that borders on the sensational, Thomas Conkey whose baritone voice is of rare quality, brings a tunefulness and gayety to the place that makes it thoroughly good entertainment.

FAIR AND WARMER

When Spaeth & Company present "Fair and Warmer," the Avery Hopwood farce which transported all New York with joy for one year, at the Grand on Wednesday, Jan. 21st. it is in answer to the most imperative demand that has been made for a New York success within the memory of the oldest inhabitant.

"Fair and Warmer's" quickly-got reputation of being able to make anybody and everybody laugh, and laugh uproariously and incessantly through three dazzling acts, created its unprecedented popularity. It was a season when even the best thrills sulked beside the lure of laughing. Before the end of half the farce's first year run the whole country was asking for it, and it is now in its sixth capacity month at the Cort Theatre, Chicago.

MUSIC AND DRAMA

"COWARDICE COURT."

Admittedly the best novel George Barr McCutcheon ever wrote, "Cowardice Court," lends itself admirably to the movies, and the large audiences who attended the matinee and evening performance were delighted with the presentation of the delightful play, featuring Peggy Hyland, whose handling of a regular McCutcheon hero added new laurels to her already enviable position among the movie stars. She is supported by an excellent cast, who grasp and make the best of every McCutcheon line and situation.

"Roaring Lions," the special Sunshine comedy, entitled, if possible, previous comedies of the kind, and featured some absolutely new situations drawn from some master comic mind. It is a good programme, and will be repeated to-night.

PRIME MINISTER HAD TYPIST AS A WIFE

For Years She Continued as Rigsdag Stenographer.

When the Danish Prime Minister was called upon to form his first Cabinet, in 1909, and his wife, Mme. Mathilde Zahle, became, next to the Queen, the first lady of the land, she did not give up the position she had held for 16 years as stenographer in the Danish Rigsdag, but continued to report the sessions.

She loved the work and wished to be where political issues of the country were decided. Her salary she used to establish a foundation for the benefit of the stenographers of the Rigsdag. Now, after 35 years of service, she has resigned.

New One Born Every Minute

Mail Order Man Need Not Worry About Keeping His Old Customers

His Field Not Restricted

Local Merchant, on Other Hand, Must Give Good Values and Service in Order to Hold His Trade

It has been said that there is a sucker born every minute. If this be true, there are 1,440 potential customers of the mail-order houses ushered into the world every 24 hours and the number reaches a total of 525,600 every year.

Of course, as Mark Twain remarked regarding reports of his death, these figures may be exaggerated, but they serve to illustrate the fact that the mail-order houses of the big cities always have new fields to exploit and are not hampered in their dealings by the necessity of pleasing all their old customers. If the mail-order buyer discovers that he has been "stung" and registers a vigorous kick, it means nothing in the young life of the mail-order man. Why should he worry as long as there are some 99,999,999 other persons in the United States to whom he may make his alluring appeals.

Ever Get Money Back?

Did anyone ever hear of a mail order house refunding a customer's money if the customer was not satisfied with his purchasing? Don't all speak at once, please. The big mail order houses in the cities expect to receive a large number of complaints from their customers. They know that much of the goods which they sell will not come up to the expectations of the buyers, whose ideas as to what they will receive have been formulated from the pretty pictures and alluring descriptions given in the catalogues.

The mail order houses prepare for this contingency by maintaining large corps of clerks whose sole duty it is to answer the letters of irate customers. These clerks, or correspondents, as they are called, exercise all their powers of cajolery in an effort to appease the complaining customers, but if this is found to be impossible, after an exchange of letters the mail order man has no cause for worry. His living is not dependent upon the customer to whom he has already sold goods. "There are as good fish in the sea as have ever been caught" and he turns his attention toward the landing of the new fish.

Local Merchants Field Limited.

Compare the position of the mail order man with that of the retail merchant in the small city or town. The retail merchant has a certain limited territory from which he must draw his trade. All his business must be done day after day and year after year among the same people. The buyers to whom he can appeal for business number only a few thousand at the most and in some cases a few hundred. Unless he can make his customers his friends and bring them back to his store again, he cannot continue in business. The result is that he looks beyond the single sale which he may be making at the time. It is to his interest to please every one of his customers. It will profit him nothing to make a big profit off a customer on one sale if that customer is not satisfied with his purchase and refuses to come back to his store again.

From which man can the buyer expect to get the best value, the best service and the best prices in proportion to the quality of the goods sold? From the man who must please him and give him his money's worth in order to remain in business or from the man who figures that he may never hear from the buyer again and that it will make no great difference whether he pleases him or not?

Gets It While He Can.

The idea upon which the mail order man works is to get the money while the getting is good. If the customer is satisfied with the goods which he receives, all well and good. The mail order man knows that the customer is the kind of a man or woman who likes to take a chance or he wouldn't have sent in his order in the first place. Therefore he may figure that the customer is likely to take a second chance even if the first does not turn out to his liking. If the customer has enough spirit to make a kick, the trained correspondents in charge of the complaint department may be able to pacify him. If they are not, it doesn't matter much anyway, for there are millions of others who may be caught with the same bait—there is one born every minute, you know.

It is well for the consumer to remember these facts if he is ever tempted to take a chance on the offerings of the mail order house. The home merchant has something at stake in every sale that he makes. The mail order man has nothing at stake. The home merchant has everything at stake on the manner in which he treats, his customers for he cannot get others to take their places. The mail order man has nothing at stake for it is to his interest to get all that he can out of each sale, knowing that he may never have another chance at that particular customer.

Which is the safest man to do business with?

Big Developments in Evangeline's Land

BY COURTESY OF C.P.R.

6

Not only is the Canadian Pacific Railway making advances in accordance with the necessities of the times, and providing every modern improvement for the convenience and comfort of the public, but all its subsidiary lines are similarly progressive. The Dominion Atlantic Railway, which serves a large portion of Nova Scotia and runs through the beautiful Land of Evangeline, now owns and operates The Pines Hotel at Digby, providing first class accommodation for the large numbers of tourists who visit the district. A new night service between Halifax and Yarmouth has recently been inaugurated. This night service leaves Yarmouth on Monday, Wednesday and Saturday evenings, and Halifax on Sundays, Tuesdays and Fridays, and marks one of the most important developments since the through line of railway from Yarmouth to Halifax was opened up for traffic in 1891. These trains carrying on a combined freight and passenger service, but only carloads of through merchandise are carried.

When on a trip of inspection over the Dominion Atlantic Railway at the end of November last Mr. Grant Hall, vice-president of the C.P.R. expressed the desire to have the D.A.R. equipped in the near future with steel rails much heavier than those at present laid. He said that this work would probably be undertaken when the effects of war conditions had disappeared. Important improvements are being carried out along the line and arrangements are progressing for the erection of a new station at Digby which will provide the most up-to-date facilities for tourists and other traffic and add considerably to the beauty of the town. It is estimated that during 1919, 60,000 tourists visited Nova Scotia, and spent there about $3,000,000. Recently a new station was opened at Bridgetown, much to the satisfaction of the public of that town. It is a handsome building 24 ft. x 56 ft. with 20 ft. overhanging on each end and has in front a tavia walk 200 feet long and 12 feet wide.

The building is very conveniently designed. It has a cement basement. The outside finish is stucco on truss-it lath, centred with plain pebbled dash, with smooth finish above and below. The roof is asbestos. The inside consists of gents' room, 20 ft. x 24 ft., office 14 ft. x 14 ft., ladies' waiting room, 12 ft. x 24 ft., and baggage room 24 ft x 10 ft.

The inside finish is of Douglas fir and birch, finished in the natural wood. The ceilings and side walls are sand finish tinted in cream. There are also up-to-date conveniences and the heating plant consists of a Cumberland hot air furnace manufactured and installed by Mr. G. R. Banks, of Bridgetown, who also executed the plumbing. The inside and outside decorating was in charge of Mr. Harry Sanston. The whole work, including the building of a freight shed 20 ft. x 48 ft., on the opposite side of the track, was built by contract by J. H. Hicks & Sons, under the personal supervision of Mr. E. A. Hicks, of that firm, who has already built seven Dominion Atlantic Railway stations.

The Dominion Atlantic Ry. has also added to its system the hotel at Kentville now known as the "Aberdeen." Kentville is an important and growing centre, and the fact that it is now to have modern hotel accommodation will add tremendously to its benefit.

The "Aberdeen" is splendidly situated, and will be made very attractive. It will be renovated and refurnished from cellar to roof. Many of the rooms will be equipped with private baths. The work of renovation will begin at once, but will be so conducted that guests will not be disturbed. The Aberdeen will continue to be open [illegible] year-around, and cater to the general and commercial interests as well as to the tourist traffic.

WHY BOY IS NOT THRASHED.

LONDON, Eng. — "His father thinks that if you knock one devil out you will let in two," declared a Bagshot woman named Rideout, when the school attendance officer sugestd that her boy aged 13 should be thrashed for not attending school.

The father attempted to take the boy to school one day but the only one to reach the school was the father, the boy having bolted. A bribe of a shilling failed to induce the boy to attend.

The magistrates fining the father $1.50, concurred in the view of the school attendance officer that the boy was master of the situation.

OBITUARY

LATE JOS. J. GILCHRIST.

Mr. Joseph James Gilchrist, an old and respected resident of Ottawa, passed away on Thursday, January 8th. He was 78 years old. The deceased had followed mining all his life, and came to Canada fifty years ago, from Plymouth, England. He was twice married, his first wife predeceasing him some seventeen years ago. Besides his widow, four sons, John of Peterborough, Joseph, residing in Hintonburg, James of Montreal, and Richard of Buckingham, and one daughter, Mrs. R. Deviney, of Haileybury, mourn his loss. Mrs. John Osbourne Maygog, Quebec, a sister, and eleven grandchildren also survive.

MRS. WILFRID McCUE.

The death occurred last night of one of the oldest and most respected residents of Douro in the person of Mrs. Wilfrid McCue, aged 87 years.

The late Mrs. McCue was one of the oldest residents of Douro and had lived there all her life. An ardent churchworker and a fine Christian character she leaves a host of friends who will deeply regret to hear of her death. Her husband predeceased her some fifteen years ago and since then she has made her home with her grandson.

She leaves one daughter, Mrs. Michael Sullivan.

JANUS HONORED AT NEW YEAR.

As long as people can remember, there have been New Year parties. The old Romans gave theirs in honor of Janus, the two-faced god. One face looked back at the old, spent year, and one face looked forward to the new, fresh year. They gave presents to him and to each other with the hope that the new year would be good to them. Some of the people who lived long ago waited until the end of March to celebrate the New Year, since that was the time that the trees and grass began new life. The Persians still exchange presents of eggs at New Year's just as we do at Easter. In Scotland and England everybody calls on everybody else New Year's Day and drinks punch.—Detroit News.

Konek and Bahri Executed at 8.30 For Murder of Yanoff

BOTH MEN WALKED TO THE SCAFFOLD WITHOUT A FALTER --ARTHUR ELLIS, THE HANGMAN, WAS MERCIFULLY RAPID IN THE LAST ACT OF EXPIATION OF BULGARIAN'S DEATH.

Tom Konek

Michael Bahri

For the murder of Phillip Yanoff, a Bulgarian laborer, in the bunkhouse of the Ontario Rock Company's quarry, near Havelock, early Sunday morning, June 22nd, Thomas Konek and Michael Bahri were hanged simultaneously in the county jail yard this morning at 8.33 o'clock. Death was pronounced instantaneous.

Less than three minutes elapsed from the moment the prisoners were taken from their cells until the trap in the scaffold was sprung by the executioner, Arthur Ellis. Both men carried themselves erect and with a coolness and composure that was communicated to the police guards and to the Rev. Canon Davidson, who had given the condemned men every comfort, spiritual and otherwise, during their confinement awaiting death, and who accepted the duty of attending them in their last moments through the unavoidable absence of the Rev. J. Sechinsky, who, as priest of the Russian Orthodox church, was detained in Toronto for the religious celebration of the Russian New Year's Day and Feast of the Epiphany.

Rested Quietly During the Night.

The jail authorities reported that the condemned men had rested silently and calmly all night, but declined the breakfast that was offered them. The guards said they didn't know whether the men slept or not. They lay on their cots manifestly resigned to their fate and prepared for the end.

Rev. Canon Davidson afterwards attributed this composure to the deep religious spirit that had taken possession of both Konek and Bahri after the Rev. Father Sechinsky had spent a day and a night with them, bringing them at last to a state of mind in which they made their peace with God and received the sacraments and last rites of the Russian church.

Bahri was informed last night that the last appeal for a reprieve had been refused by the Department of Justice, and that the law must take its course.

Mr. Essery Present.

Those present this morning were only the officials, guards, representatives of the press, and Mr. B. W. Essery of Toronto, who had been associated with Mr. G. N. Gordon in the defence of the Russians. Mr. Essery was greatly depressed at the culminating failure of all his efforts for these two men, and especially by the execution of Bahri.

Mr. Essery was one of the first to arrive at the Court House this morning and in a parting conversation with Konek received a statement with the request that it be made public.

Shooting Was An Accident.

"Konek told me that he didn't see Yanoff when he reached the top of the stairs in the bunkhouse," Mr. Essery quoted. "He said he never intended to shoot, but the excitement of the situation made him nervous, and the hair trigger of the automatic revolver was pressed unintentionally. "Weak gun" were the words Konek used. He said that it shook in his hand under his excitement. He wants some of his people, the members of the Russian church, to believe him that he didn't mean to shoot Yanoff. He said this as his last statement."

Mr. Essery added that he had never thought anything else, but that these men were not guilty of intentional murder. "But our law is a safeguard against such crimes as the lynchings in the Southern States," Mr. Essery remarked. "A number of men could band together to kill another and it would be difficult to discover which one had actually done the killing. Hence as in this case the five Russians were held to be equally guilty. Besides if a number of men engaged in one crime commit a more series one they shall be tried for the greater offence."

Mr. Essery said he understood that this morning's case was the first in the history of Canada in which an execution had been carried out under the former section of the code.

Ellis Dominated.

Ellis the hangman dominated the whole proceedings from the time he arrived about 7.30 o'clock and entering the library greeted the little group with "Good morning, gentlemen: that's a very cold morning." He conducted the whole affair up to the last few seconds, and even then too, perhaps, with a nonchalance and business flourish that was amazing. Although his hands seemed to shake while he was waiting to begin his unspeakable task he seemed to be the coolest person there.

At ten minutes to eight he entered the library, and in short, crisp words, summoned the guards as follows: "The escort of officers will come with me to the yard and I'll show them their places. No others will be admitted now. The execution doesn't take place for half an hour."

Then he led them off towards the corridor with short, brisk steps that suggested, with other manifestations, a sort of professional pride in his work. Ellis has 422 executions to his record in England and Canada, and has evidently long lost any qualms as he sets himself to the duty, in the performance of which he regards himself as an indispensable, or least a necessary, public servant.

There wasn't a sign of gravity about him. In fact he was rather airy, though precisely so, as he swung on his heels in his comings and goings into the library, and his directness left an impression of unreality as if he were rehearsing a bit of theatricals.

Was Swift in Work.

But Ellis was mercifully swift and skillful, and his self-confidence and sufficiency dominated the final preparations. About a minute or two before 8.30 he again called the guards and led them into the corridor. He counted them to make sure his setting was complete.

The jailer opened Konek's cell, and as the prisoner stepped out, Ellis took Konek's arms, folded them behind his back and securely strapped them. Canon Davidson stood before Konek, repeating "Courage, Konek."

"Escort take charge," Ellis called out and walked down the corridor to Bahri's cell. The handcuffing with a leather strap was repeated. Canon Davidson placed his hands on Bahri's shoulders while Ellis was engaged in binding him.

"Courage Bahri, be brave," said Canon Davidson several times.

Both the prisoners were without coats or vests. Their faces hadn't been shaved for three or four days at least. Neither of them exhibited any outward sign of perturbation, nor did they speak. They were dumb and docile.

CHILDREN'S AID SOCIETY HELD INAUGURAL MEETING YESTERDAY

COMMITTEES APPOINTED--FATHER SEEKS CUSTODY OF CHILDREN --LIST OF ACCOUNTS PASSED.

At the inaugural meeting of the Children's Aid Society held yesterday afternoon Rev. C. J. Phelan, president of the Society asked for the Co-operation and goodwill of the members and urged prompt attendance. He also urged the members to stick strictly to business at the meetings, to expedite matters that the afternoon's business might be put through in an hour stating that some members are prevented from attending on account of the long drawn out meetings which interfere with their regular business.

Committees Appointed

A purchasing committee of Mrs. W. H. Gibbs, Mrs. Walter Stocker, Dr. D. C. King and the President and Secretary was appointed and a Finance Committee of Mr. John Edgar Mr. Sidney Whatley and Chief Thompson.

Served Notice

After a stormy interview with the Board in which he claimed that the Society has acted unfairly in the case he has been handling, Mr. J. Fordyce Strickland served notice that he will put his case in court. Mr. J. Wearing told Mr. Strickland that he and the President had gone in to the case of the children who Mr. Strickland seeks to return to the father thoroughly and had found that the children are living in perfect harmony with their mother and considered for their good that things should be left as they are at present. Mr. Strickland contended that the matter should have been dealt with by the whole Board instead of in Committee and stated that he has received instructions that if the children were not returned he was to apply for their custody. "There is not a spot on the man he concluded and I do not think the Board has dealt fairly.

Mr. Edgar objected to the latter statement and Mr. Strickland said that he was prepared to back what he said. Rev. C. J. Phelan concluded the interview by referring to the fact that the best interests of the children are looked after by the Society without fear or favor.

Co-operation of County Inspector

Upon receiving word of the remiss manner in which some of the wards of the Society attend school in the country districts, Chief Thompson moved seconded by Mr. Whatley that the County Inspector be asked to request the teacher in each school of which a ward of the Society is a pupil for a monthly statement of the child's attendance.

Resolution of Sympathy.

On motion of Mr. Edgar seconded by Mrs. J. Knox a resolution of sympathy was sent to Mrs. Walter Evans in her recent bereavement in the death of her husband.

Matron's Salary.

MARTIAL LAW FOR GERMANY

MOB DEMONSTRATIONS IN BERLIN --MACHINE GUNS IN ACTION --STREET PARADES PROHIBITED. MANY KILLED

United Press.

BERLIN, Jan. 14.—A state of siege has been proclaimed throughout Germany with the exception of Wurtenburg, Saxony and Bavaria, as a result of the widespread riots.

The proclamation was issued by President Ebert late yesterday afternoon. Scores have been killed in riots in Berlin and more than 100 men and women wounded.

The fighting over-night when the police and soldiers attempted to disperse a great mob which had formed in front of the Reichstag building. Hand grenades were used by the police with fearful results.

The mob began gathering shortly after noon in response to requests for a demonstration against pending labor legislation in the Reichstag.

At first the meeting was orderly. Then radical orators so inflamed the people that they attempted to rush the Reichstag. Fighting then followed.

Less than a score of guards were about the building when they hurriedly called the reinforcements. Machine guns were brought into use.

The greatest confusion then followed. Many women were trampled as the great crowds attempted to escape the hail of bullets from the soldiers and the police.

Dead and wounded littered the great square in front of the Reichstag. Mob leaders commandeered taxicabs to carry off the injured. The streets and the steps in front of the Reichstag were smeared with the blood of the dead.

The outbreak is believed to be a direct result of the government's new policy of ruthless suppression of peaceful demonstrations.

Many leaders pointed out it would have been impossible had Gustav Noske, the Minister of Defence, continued his former policy of ruthless quelling of all attempts at Radical demonstrations.

Reports indicate that the outbreak was widespread. Rioting has occurred at Hamburn in Rhenish Prussia, where the mobs were said to have rushed the town hall, destroying the archives. Similar riots have occurred in villages in the Hamburn district.

The agitation began some time ago when the railway strike was declared. There were rumors at that time that the Radicals planned a general outbreak, possibly with a general strike designed to overthrow the government.

(Canadian Press.)

BERLIN, Jan. 14.— The government, last night proclaimed martial law in all sections of Germany, following a mob demonstration in which many were killed and others wounded by machine gun fire from the guards in front of the Reichstag building. Gustave Noske, Minister of Defence, has been appointed commander-in-chief of Greater Berlin district and Brandenburg province. Street parades, meetings and demonstrations of all kinds have been prohibited.

(Canadian Press.)

PARIS, Jan. 14.—Despatches from Berne say that during a demonstration yesterday in Berlin, two policemen were killed and two are missing, and ten others are wounded. Twenty of the crowd which attempted to rush into the building were killed and forty wounded.

HANGMAN A. ELLIS KEEPS SCRAPBOOK

When Hangman Arthur Ellis left the city this morning he carried with him the piece of fiction that appeared in Saturday's Review about Ellis turning up in a barber shop and taking part in a discussion about himself. "I have a scrap book full of that kind of stuff," said Ellis. "I gather a piece or two wherever I go," he added. In addition to this Ellis keeps a huge scrap book in which he has a complete record of the four hundred and sixty-four executions he has officiated at. This book contains a photograph of each criminal executed and also the evidence given at the trial, and the newspaper report of the execution.

Over Four Hundred Persons Believed to Have Been Lost

STEAMSHIP AFRIQUE WRECKED IN THE BAY OF BISCAY--ONLY FIFTY-SEVEN SURVIVORS. MARINE DISASTER

(Canadian Press.)

LA ROCHELLE, France, Jan. 14.—More than four hundred persons are believed to have lost their lives in the wreck of the steamer Afrique in the Bay of Biscay on Sunday last.

Only fifty-seven survivors are known to have been landed.

Sailors and French Colonial soldiers are the only ones from the ship known to have been rescued.

Hope for the rest of the passengers and crew faded during the past night. As the hours passed without cheering tidings, and seventy-two hours after the vessel foundered, many feared one of the greatest marine tragedies of modern times was enacted.

"It was impossible to reach the Afrique," said Captain Jouan, of the steamer Ceylon, which was summoned to the wreck by wireless on Saturday, and which attempted to rescue those on board the doomed vessel.

"I remained in wireless communication with the ship, however, and received the following message: 'I am drifting, and fear the ship will go ashore.' The final message came, 'We are sinking.' That is all I know about the loss of the Afrique."

Some of the rescued sailors declared that when with great difficulty the boats were swung out the passengers were afraid to jump for them, seeing they were half-full of water.

BAHRI TREASURED BOUQUET OF FLOWERS FROM ST. JOHN'S ALTAR

"These Are the Last Flowers I'll See in My Life," He Said, Returning to Canon Davidson the Carnations Given to Him on Monday—Both Men Were Thoroughly Penitent and Prepared for Death.

Because of the deep interest the public has taken in the two prisoners who were hanged this morning, and especially of the anxious hopes that had been expressed on behalf of Bahri, and the final appeal for a reprieve, Rev. Canon Davidson said he felt that many persons would be relieved to know that the men had died with every Christian comfort, and fully repentant.

"Looking back over the efforts that were made for them, I can hardly comprehend anything that was left undone. There is some satisfaction in that. Both men had their religious services. The visit of the Russian priest was a most satisfactory one. Father Sechinsky had a long interview with them on Monday night. It was not satisfactory with regard to Konek, who was very rough and unreconciled. On Tuesday morning he put them through a searching examination in the Confessional, and the result appeared to be extremely satisfactory. Konek's attitude underwent an entire change. He broke down and took a thoroughly penitent attitude, which increased as the time went on. The Blessed Sacrament was administered with the full rites of the Russian Orthodox Church, the service being deeply impressive. The two prisoners received the sacrament together. The Russan priest took no mere official interest in the men, but a deeply personal one. He accompanied Mr. Gordon, Mr. Essery, and I to the jail on Tuesday morning, and through Mr. Gordon sent the telegram to the Russian Consul. The reply came last night about 8.30 o'clock to the effect that after considering the facts, the Minister of Justice felt unable to make any change in Bahri's case. The telegram was founded upon statements made in the confessions of the two men, and it was particularly to convince Bahri that everything possible had been done for him. He had felt that he was unjustly treated. Mr. Gordon visited him to assure him that everything possible had been done for him, and that things were not so unreasonable as he believed.

DEVOUT TO PICTURES OF CRUCIFIXION.

"I had a long interview with the men last night. From my experience with young Henderson, I was able to comfort them in regard to what was before them. They had visions of prolonged agony. They expressed themselves as thoroughly resigned, and said they had no hatred or hard feelings against any person. The attitude of Konek continued to be pronouncedly different. Both men were devout in their prayers and acts of religion. I had used largely pictures. The Russians are accustomed to them, and very reverent, especially toward the crucifixion of our Lord, and His prayer in Gethsemane. Bahri was able to understand the prayers. Konek not quite [illegible] in Russian the prayers I recited in English. I offered to remain with them all night if it would be of comfort to them, but they said it was unnecessary. I left them quite calm and peaceful.

"I was with them again this morning inside their cells, and found them in a similarly satisfactory condition, though in deep dejection, as might be expected of men in that position. I conducted devotions which had been suggested to me by the Russian priest, and I took Bahri's arm as we went outside. They were both strongly urged to keep up their courage and fortitude, and they were successful in doing so.

BAHRI SAID GOOD-BYE.

"On the scaffold I held the picture of the crucifixion of Christ for them to kiss, and was repeating 'Father, into Ty hands I commend their spirits' when the end came. Bahri said 'Good-bye all' under the cap. 'God be with you,' I repeated. I didn't hear Konek say anything.

COMMENT ON METHOD OF EXECUTION.

"My comment on the execution is that while I have the deepest respect for the laws of the country, I am more and more convinced that this means of taking the lives of our fellowmen is not in keeping with our Christian civilisation, and that some other way might be found soon. It was done this morning in the most merciful way possible under the present system."

Canon Davidson remarked that any criminal class could not realise the mental tortures the two prisoners had suffered in the suspense that followed the rejection of the appeals of their lawyers for clemency, and for that reason the chief effect of hanging might not be the deterrent it was commonly regarded.

BAHRI KISSED FLOWERS FROM ALTAR.

Canon Davidson was distressed by the execution of Bahri. "I cuoldn't see a trace of criminal nature in him in all my visits," he said. "We had given up hope for Konek. Bahri was the finer type. There was a vast difference in their characters. I don't know that I should continue in this way, but I believe I owe it to Bahri to disclose a little incident that will illumine his nature. We prayed for both men at St. John's Church on Sunday, and I brought them some of the flowers that were on the altar. I told Bahri by word and sign that they had come from the altar in the church, and I forgot them until this morning when I went into his cell. He picked the flowers from beside his pillow on the bed, kissed them, and said to me, 'These are the last flowers I will ever see in my life."

Canon Davidson's eyes were full of tears as he recalled this touching little revelation of the finer strain of Bahri's individuality.

The carnations and green sprigs were faded, but some of their perfume remained. Bahri gave them to him before the procession to the scaffold began, and Canon Davidson carried them home with him.

HAVE NO HOME TIES.

Asked as to whether he had learned anything of the relatives and homes of the two prisoners, Canon Davidson said that Bahri believed his father to be on his way back to Russia. "Tell my father I am very sorry," was his last message. His mother died five years ago, just before the war started. Both men had signified that there was little use in writing to relatives. Their home ties seemed to have been broken, and the two young men were adrift even before coming to this country.

THE WEATHER

The thermometer is doing some acrobatic performances to-day. The lowest last night was 5 below zero, at which figure it stood also at daybreak. Later it went down to 9 below, and at noon it had risen to 3 below. Conditions are in formation that will probably mean a low figure to-night.—W.P.

ONTARIO WILL BECOME NORMAL AFTER SESSION

LAST OF THE WAR MEASURES WILL BE REMOVED.

(Canadian Press)

TORONTO, Jan. 14.—Next session of the Legislature will see Ontario back to normal in the matter of Legislation. The desire manifested by the British and Dominion governments to get away from war conditions and return so far as possible to peace conditions is being reflected in the Drury government. The former Provincial Treasurer McGarry had removed the war tax of one mill on the dollar payable by all Ontario municipalities to the Provincial government. The only other step necessary to bring Ontario's laws back to pre-war footing is the repeal of the Moatorium Act. This step will without doubt be taken during the next session of the Legislature which according to Premier Drury should assemble about the middle of March. It is possible but not likely that the act may be repeated before that time by Order in Council. It is understood however, that the present intention of the government is to refrain from amending the act at the next session. This would have to be done to retain it in force for another year and in absence of such amendment the act will automatically expire thirty days after the conclusion of the session.

The act was originally passed in 1915 and is designed to protect all in Ontario whose lands are mortgaged and who owing to war conditions were unable to meet the mortgage payment when it became due. No action can at present be taken in this Province to foreclose or sell or take possession under a mortgage or to enforce judgment or obtaining leave of court so to do.

One of the arguments used to bring about the purchase of Alaska by the United States was that it would be a good source for ice for the Pacific Coast.

OFFICERS ELECTED AT MEETING OF PETERBORO HORTICULTURAL SOCIETY

MR. E. E. BRUMWELL RESIGNS AS SECRETARY-TREASURER OF THE SOCIETY—ALLEGES INDIFFERENCE ON THE PART OF THE MEMBERS.

At the annual meeting of the Peterborough Horticultural Society held last evening in the Board of Trade rooms the officers elected for the ensuing year were:

President—Alex Weddell.

1st Vice-President—Dr. E. J. Middleton.

2nd Vice-President—W. H. Young.

Directors for two years—H. Butler, W. J. Kennedy, W. Stocker, E. J. Searight and F. Ivy. For one year—R. M. Glover, T. E. Bradburn, K. Simpson, J. Saunders and John Smith.

The appointment of the Secretary-Treasurer was left to the directors of the Society.

Three Classes.

In resigning the post of secretary-treasurer, which he has held for the past year, Mr. E. E. Brumwell spoke of the indifferent manner in which the members of the society turn out to the meetings and the difficulty confronting the secretary in getting a small gathering. A meeting costs the society for advertising one dollar for each man who attends. He asked if the community at large would lose much if the society disbanded at the present moment. The members of the Society were, he said, at present divided into three classes, the enthusiastic horticulturists, these who have a hazy idea of what the Society mean and pay their fees automatically, and the last class who paid their dollar to the society as an investment. He concluded by a reference to the amount of time the secretary is forced to spend upon the distribution of options.

Doing Good Work.

Mr. E. H. D. Hall objected to Mr. Brumwell's reference to the waning influence of the Society and stated that its influence is being felt throughout the city in the growing neatness of lawns and flower beds and the appearance of the city in general and suggested that Virginia creeper should be planted by the Society at the abutments of the Smith street bridge to cover the unsightly appearance. He also suggested that some ferns should be planted in Victoria Park to cover the stone pile where the fountain once stood.

President's Report.

In his report of the work of the past year, the President, Mr. Alex. Weddell, referred to the fact that the membership of the society, 341, has increased during 1919 and that the balance in the bank, $110.51, is slightly larger than in the previous year, due to the closing of the Park account. During the year the activities of the Society had largely been confined to the distribution of the bulbs. He also referred to the difficulty of the Society in getting the members to attend, and to the fact that the entrants in the competitions are practically identical year after year. In conclusion he suggested that the Horticultural Society should send a representative to the Board of Trade Park committee.

Earlier Date.

It was suggested by members present that the judging of the gardens should be done in an earlier month than August, a number of the members contending that the gardens look their best in June. This was objected to on account of the fact that some of the amateur gardeners would no doubt allow weeds to grow after the judging. The matter was left until a later date. It was suggested that the improvement of Inverlea Park offered limitless opportunity for the Society in spite of the old Dennison house, which has been more or less neglected. "If the society is to be a big thing it must break new ground," Dr. Middleton concluded.

Appointed Delegate.

Dr. J. E. Middleton was appointed delegate to the Ontario Horticultural Society meeting in Toronto in February.

THE GOVERNMENT HOUSE SHOULD BE SOLD, DECLARE MEMBERS OF THE U.F.O.

CLAIM IT IS NOT NECESSARY TO HOLD LAVISH RECEPTIONS IN A PALACE COSTING OVER A MILLION DOLLARS.

(Special to The Examiner.)

TORONTO, Jan. 14.—"We are not getting our money's worth."

"The cost of Government House is excessive."

"The farmers of Ontario favor getting rid of the place because of the lavish expenditure connected with it."

"It is not necessary for the Lieut.-Governor to hold these big receptions like the one on New Year's Day."

"This Government House should be sold. A smaller and less costly one should serve the purpose just as well."

These are the opinions expressed by U.F.O. members of the Legislature with whom the Examiner got in touch with refernce to the question of abolishing Government House. Some had not made this an issue in the election campaign, but all were agreed that a smaller residence would be much better suited for Ontario's needs.

Voice Of The People

OUR RIGHTEOUS JUDGMENT.

Dear Sir: I have just finished reading the account in the Examiner of the terrible sufferings of the Armenians and I must write the train of thought which it has started in my mind, and how I feel about it all.

My first thought was that God was beholding all this terrible and needless suffering and He also sees what?—the terrible waste of money on dress and many needless luxuries by many of us who call ourselves Christians. May God forgive us, for our sins are great.

We read in our Bibles that judgment is to begin at the house of God, and we may well tremble as we face the fact. Let us all ,as many as read these lines, myself included, stop and think soberly on these words, and also the words spoken by Jesus on one occasion—words so terrible that it seems that the gentle Saviour could not have uttered them. But He did. And can we wonder any more at the terrible words with the vision before one's eyes as portrayed for us by the relief officer who visited Armenia. "I was an hungered and ye gave me no meat, thirsty and ye gave me no drink; sick and ye visited me not," etc, and the final summing up of this inhuman treatment: "Depart ye cursed into everlasting fire prepared, not for you, but for the devil and his angels."

May God save us all from such a fate as this and wake us up before it is too late. Yours very truly.

Mrs. A. B.

Editor the Examiner.

Sir—During the last weeks of December there seems to have been made some effort on the part of several of the colleges and universities to ascertain the whereabouts of men, who had passed through the halls of learning and located throughout the continent. This to keep up the college records in regard to graduates.

Enquiries were made at Peterborough to know of the whereabouts of Peterborough men, both in professions and in general occupations as well. Information was supplied as far as possible. If those making enquiry, in future will consult with Mr. Delafosse, at the Public Library, he no doubt will allow access to the fyles of the local papers which are conserved in the basement. Enquirers will find in the issue of the Review for July 31, 1903, and of the Examiner for July 30th, 1903, a very full list of over 400 Peterborough men who are abroad from the old home town.

It may be remarked that the date is far distant. That may be so, but there isn't anything better to consult. Of course there have been movings, and changes but even so, the clue may be followed up, where necessary.

Respectfully,
F. H. DOBBIN.

Ends Stubborn Coughs in a Hurry

For real effectiveness, this old home-made remedy has no equal. Easily and cheaply prepared.

You'll never know how quickly a bad cough can be conquered, until you try this famous old home-made remedy. Anyone who has coughed all day and all night, will say that the immediate relief given is almost like magic. It takes but a moment to prepare and really there is nothing better for coughs.

Into a 16-oz. bottle, put 2½ ounces of Pinex (50 cents worth); then add plain granulated sugar syrup to make 16 ounces. Or you can use clarified molasses, honey, or corn syrup, instead of sugar syrup. Either way, this mixture saves about two-thirds of the money usually spent for cough preparations, and gives you a more positive, effective remedy. It keeps perfectly, and tastes pleasant—children like it.

You can feel this take hold instantly, soothing and healing the membranes in all the air passages. It promptly loosens a dry, tight cough, and soon you will notice the phlegm thin out and then disappear altogether. A day's use will usually break up an ordinary throat or chest cold, and it is also splendid for bronchitis, croup, hoarseness, and bronchial asthma.

Pinex is a most valuable concentrated compound of genuine Norway pine extract, the most reliable remedy for throat and chest ailments.

To avoid disappointment, ask your druggist for "2½ ounces of Pinex" with directions and don't accept anything else. Guaranteed to give absolute satisfaction or money refunded. The Pinex Co., Toronto, Ont.

BITRO-PHOSPHATE IS GOOD FOR THIN NERVOUS PEOPLE

A PHYSICIAN'S ADVICE.

Frederick S. Kolle, M.D., Editor of New York Physicians' "Who's Who," says that weak, nervous people who want increased weight, strength and nerve-force, should take a 5-grain tablet of Bitro-Phosphate just before or during each meal.

This particular phosphate is the discovery of a famous French scientist, and reports of remarkable results from its use have recently appeared in many medical journals.

If you do not feel well; if you tire easily; do not sleep well, or are too thin; go to any good druggist and get enough Bitro-Phosphate for a two weeks' supply — it costs only fifty cents a week.

Eat less; chew your food thoroughly, and if at the end of a few weeks you do not feel stronger and better than you have for months; if your nerves are not steadier; if you do not sleep better and have more vim, endurance and vitality, your money will be returned, and the Bitro-Phosphate will cost you nothing.

PRESENTATION TO MR. EDMUND DAWSON

RECIPIENT IS SUPERINTENDENT OF BENSFORT SUNDAY SCHOOL.

On Thursday during the course of a social evening held under the auspices of the Bensfort Methodist Sunday School, the Superintendent, Mr. Edmund Dawson, was called to the platform, and the following address was read by Miss Robb, and the presentation of a beautifully bound hymn book and Bible was made by Jean Finnie.

Dear Mr. Dawson,—

We, the members of the Bensfort Methodist church Sunday school School come together at this the first meeting of the New Year. We are pleased that God has spared us all to labour again in the vineyard and we know how cheerfully you have at all times filled your position as leader of our Sunday school, sacrificing your personal intereats in its welfare. You have indeed proved the motto that "Faith without works is void."

We now ask you to accept this gift—not as a remuneration but as a memento of our love and regard for you. We one and all join in wishing you a joyous New Year, and trust that you may be long spared to labor with us.

Signed on behalf of the Sunday School.

Mr. Dawson was taken completely by surprise but replied in an appropriate manner, thanking the teachers, officers and members of the Sunday School for their hearty co-operation.

A short programme was given including a trio by Misses Viola Nurse, Beryl Wood and Velma Nurse; a reading by Rev. Mr. Leigh, and a duet by Misses Jean Finnie and Marjorie Emberson.

A sumptuous lunch provided by the ladies, concluded a pleasant evening.

A Coated Tongue? What it Means

A bad breath, coated tongue, bad taste in the mouth, languor and debility, are usually signs that the liver is out of order. PROF. HERMETER says: "The liver is an organ secondary in importance only to the heart."

We can manufacture poisons within our own bodies which are as deadly as a snake's venom.

The liver acts as a guard over our well-being, sifting out the cinders and ashes from the general circulation.

A blockade in the intestines piles a heavy burden upon the liver. If the intestines are choked or clogged up, the circulation of the blood becomes poisoned and the system becomes loaded with toxic waste, and we suffer from headache, yellow-coated tongue, bad taste in mouth, nausea, or gas, acid dyspepsia, languor, debility, yellow skin or eyes. At such times one should take castor oil or a pleasant laxative. Such a one is made of May-apple, leaves of aloe and jalap, put into ready-to-use form by Doctor Pierce, nearly fifty years ago, and sold for 25 cents by all druggists as Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets.

WHAT AND WHY IS

Group Insurance?

It is an inexpensive means of insuring the lives of all your employees individually by a single small premium.

It involves no medical inspection and it costs about 75 cents a month for each $1,000, of insurance carried.

It has arisen from the desire of business firms to do something substantial for their employees, and so promote goodwill and avoid constant changes in the payroll.

It has been widely adopted by far-seeing industrial executives.

"Peterborough Presents Possibilities Unsurpassed."

WEDNESDAY, JANUARY 14, 1920.

THIS MORNING'S TRAGEDY.

Whatever may be the individual opinion on the question of capital punishment, the people of Peterboro as a whole are saddened and made sick at heart by the double tragedy enacted at the jail this morning. Even those who are not usually carried away by sentiment have felt the depressing affect of the execution of these two young foreigners, influenced perhaps by the impression that in the case of Bahri at least, there was some doubt as to whether or not his share in the occurence of last June merited the fate which he met on the scaffold. The facts that he was convicted by a jury after being ably defended and that afterwards the evidence was reviewed by the Department of Justice who would find no reason to change the original sentence do not seem to have succeeded in convincing the majority of the people that his execution this morning was a just punishment. The whole affair has been a depressing chapter in the history of the county. If it could be asserted that to-day's double hanging would put an end to murder and to robbery under arms, then terrible as it was this morning's tragedy can at least be defended on that ground. But will it?

THE UNION BANK'S PROGRESS.

Complete evidence of the further progress of the Union Bank of Canada is given in the 55th annual report for the year ending November last, showing aggregate assets of $175,000,000 contrasted with $153,000,000 a year ago, an increase of $22,000,000 or 14.23 per cent. This impressive further strengthening of the Bank's position unquestionably will be accepted with satisfaction by the shareholders.

An important feature of the statement is the building up of the Reserve Fund to a total of $5,500,000, the increase of $2,000,000 within the twelve month period having been made possible by the allocation of $218,830 from current profits and the application of $1,781,270 premium from the $3,000,000 new capital stock issue, which was fully subscribed.

Profits for the year were $932,256 showing an increase of -108,682.

Total deposits of $135,496,514 compare with $127,242,698 last year, interest-bearing deposits totaling $84,376,709 represent an increase of $15,939,219 or 23.29 per cent., which is particularly significant as indicating the increasing disposition of the public to heed the banking campaign based upon national necessity for continued thrift and economy.

Current loans of $86,529,156 compare with $74,021,028 in the previous year show a gain of $12,508,127 or 16.98 per cent. as evidence of the Bank's wish to extend its accomodations to the commercial needs of Canada.

While materially extending its Canadian branch bank system to a total of 390 branches, of which 89 were opened during the year, striking progress was also made in an international way. The organization of the Park-Union Foreign Banking Corporation which is jointly owned and controlled by the National Park Bank of New York and the Union Bank of Canada was rounded out and through this direct agency the Bank has placed itself in a position fully to care for business developing out of Canada's foreign trade. The movement should have an entirely beneficial effect upon the extention of this country's export business.

THE GOVERNMENT HOUSE ISSUE.

Lieutenant-Governor Lionel H. Clarke has only occupied his position but a short time but it has been long enough to bring him more notoriety than the average Lieutenant-Governor has succeeded in gaining during the whole of his term. Hon. Mr. Clarke made a speech the other day in which he protested most vigorously against the idea that Government House should be abolished. In doing so it looks as if the new Lieutenant-Governor has exceeded the right of his official position, rights which are definitely set forth, for he has practically announced himself as hostile to the policy of his advisors, seeing that the United Farmers have taken a strong stand against the maintenance of the present expensive residence of the Lieutenant-Governor. The constitutional point involved, however, Premier Drury announces will not be pressed by the new Government but at the same time the future policy of the Government towards the question will not be changed as a result of Hon. Mr. Clarke's speech. The situation is an interesting one and its development will be watched with interest.

THE APPEAL OF ARMENIA.

The Examiner, believing that the people of Peterboro are willing and anxious to do their share in helping to pile up a worth-while subscription from Canada in answer to the pitiful cry for help that comes from martyred Armenia where thousands of helpless women and children are perishing from starvation, has decided to devote its columns to placing before the people the terrible situation that exists in Armenia and to plead for speedy and effective results. The Canadian National Armenian Relief Association has authorized the Examiner to open a subscription list and to receive donations for this fund and we gladly consent to do so. At the same time, however, the need is so great, the plight of these far-away women and children is so terrible that the Examiner believes that public-spirited citizens should at once form an local Armenian Relief Committee to carry on an intensive campaign. The response must be immediate if it is to be effective.

Armenia is a stricken land. The Turk has done his work so well that there are few husbands or big brothers—only old men and children survive among the males. The facts have been proven beyond the shadow of a doubt and official reports only serve to confirm in every detail the terrible tales of those who have seen. In Britain the Christian churches are co-operating in an effort to relieve the situation and organizations are at work in the United States and in Canada. So far what has been done however falls far short of meeting the need.

Sir Robert Falconer, President of the University of Toronto says: "I shall be glad if any word of mine may be of service to strengthen the appeal of a cause which of itself must come home to every kindly heart. The excruciating and long drawn out agonies of the Armenians are among the most awful tragedies of the war. Among the many other calls upon our present help we must give heed to this pitiful cry.

Only a beginning has yet been made in the campaign. No matter how much may be subscribed the fund is bound to be inadequate for the situation in Armenia is truly desperate.

Peterboro people are urged to send in their subscriptions to the Examiner at once. The need is now, the response must be speedy if the donations are to have effect.

NEWBURN'S SUCCESSOR.

The selection of a good private soldier to succeed General Mewburn as Minister of Militia is the novel suggestion of Turner's Weekly which takes the position that the average private knows more about the army than the average general.

Major-General Mewburn, Minister of Militia and Defence in the Borden Government, has resigned and his place has been taken temporarily by Hon. J. A. Calder says Turner's. Mewburn was one of the few ministers who was not particularly well known in western Canada. His administration of the Military Service Act, the responsibility for which he shared with the Minister of Justice, was not marked by brilliance. For the arrangements for the sudden demobilization of the Canadian Army he must be given some credit, for, in spite of considerable dissatsifaction at the time, it is doubtful if a task of such magnitude could have been handled much better than it was. His activities since the outbreak of peace have not been given very wide publicity, but he is apparently an advocate of a greatly increased permanent force, if not compulsory military service for all citizens. It is, perhaps, in response to criticism of his work in this connection that he has resigned. The appointment of his successor should cause interest. If it were possible to put a good private soldier on the job, good results might accrue. There is little doubt that the average private knows more about the army than the average general. The private saw right at the business end of the war the working out of the plans and preparations of the men behind. The private knows that the Canadian army carried about three times too many officers, and a great many it should not have carried at all. The general of the Mewburn or Hughes type is too apt to get a notion that a war is a good thing to send men to, and a fine opportunity for pretty jobs for a bunch of good-fellows he knew at the club. However, although there is nothing in the constitution against a private becoming Minister of Militia, there is about as much chance of such a thing happening as there used to be of a postal clerk getting a job as postmaster. It isn't done, so there's an end to it. As the privates and N.C.O.'s have now all refused the position, we must offer it to someone else. There are two or three men in the House, whose experiences at the war entitle them to consideration away in front of any stay-at-home general. Major Andrews, of Winnipeg, or Col. Peck, V.C., of Skeena, are both men of ability. They know war and they know soldiers. If knowledge of these things is any use to a Minister of Militia, the Government should not have to go further. If the League of Nations ever amounts to anything more than a whisper in the dark, he may not have anything to do. Here's hoping he doesn't!

MR. CRERAR'S TROUBLES.

Decision of the Manitoba Grain Growers to change their name to the United Farmers of Manitoba coupled with an evident determination to invade the Provincial as well as the Federal political field, reveals existence of an Agrarian schism of first rate significance. Briefly, there are two schools of conflicting political thought within the Farmers' movement. There is the school, to which Mr. Wood, of Alberta, belongs, which believes in provincial parliamentary action, that is to say, in interference in provincial political affairs; and the school of M. T. A. Crerar, which preaches abstention from the provincial field and the concentration of a united Agrarian movement, allied, if possible, with other forces, in the Federal arena, to control Dominion affairs. The adherents of both these schools hold to their opinions with great tenacity. Mr. Crerar argues, and not without force, that all the great issues which concern the farmers—tariff, taxation, agricultural policy, transportation, distribution and production—come solely within the sphere of Dominion politics, and that it would be a mistake of the first magnitude for the Agrarian movement to divide and dissipate its strength in provincial fights where the prizes count for little and the issues are scarcely worth while. And he adds that it will be a political error of fatal consequences if the farmers challenge the existence of Western Liberal Governments, thereby converting into powerful enemies forces which may now be regarder at least as benevolent neutrals.

The reply of Mr. Wood and his supporters is that the Farmers' are already launched upon provincial action. They point to Ontario, where a Farmer Government is already in power, and they say to Mr. Crerar: "You allied yourself with Mr. Drury in Ontario. You spent time and money there in carrying on propaganda against the Hearst Government, and with your aid and sanction, the Farmers of Ontario turned out of office the only Conservative provincial administration Canada had, Why should you apply one rule of conduct toward a Conservative administration in Ontario and an altogether different line of conduct to Liberal Governments in Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta?"—It is a pointed question and when it is asked by former Conservatives, of whom the Agrarian movement contains not a few, it is bound to be embarrassing.

Thus far, indeed, it appears to have held the field. It is an open secret that at the last meeting of the Council of Agriculture, a resolution had been prepared launching a Federal Agrarian party, under the name of the National Reform Party, but for some reason not officially disclosed, but which may be easily guessed, it never saw the light. And now following closely upon the heels of the National-Reform party miscarriage, comes the announcement of probable Provincial action.

The situation is a piquant and interesting one. It reveals for one thing that Mr. Crerar is not entirely master of his own house; that there are undercurrents and intrigues and factions in the Farmer movement as in other parties; and that the much-mooted plan by which an Agrarian-Labor Federal party in Ontario and the West, allied with the Lapointe, so-called progressives in Quebec, should control the next Parliament, is far from achievement of its aims.—Ottawa Journal.

Don't hide your light under a bushel. Use the bushel to cover your faults—if it is big enough.

In accordance with the provisions of subsections 19 and 20 of Section 56 of the Bank Act we report to the Shareholders as follows:

We have compared the above Balance Sheet with the books and vouchers at Head Office and with certified returns from the Branches.

We have obtained all the information and explanations that we have required, and are of the opinion that the transactions of the Bank which have come under our notice have been within the powers of the Bank.

In addition to our verification, at the 29th November, we have, during the year, checked the cash and verified the securities pertaining the investments of the Bank at five other large and principal branches and found them to be in agreement with the entries in the books of the Bank relating thereto.

In our opinion, the Balance Sheet is properly drawn up so as to exhibit a true and correct view of the state of the affairs of the Bank, according to the best of our information and the explanations given to us, and as shown by the books of the Bank.

IS YOUR BLOOD HUNGRY FOR IRON?

Who Should Take Nuxated Iron

Modern Methods of Cooking and Living Have Made An Alarming Increase in Iron Deficiency in Blood of American Men and Women

NUXATED IRON Helps Make Red Blood

The Kind That Puts Roses Into the Cheeks of Women and Forces Strength and Courage Into Veins of Men.

"Is your blood starving for want of iron? Iron is red blood. If you were to go without eating until you became weak, thin and emaciated, you could not do a more serious harm to yourself than when you let your blood literally go hungry for want of iron—iron that gives it strength and power to change food into living tissue," says Dr. James Francis Sullivan, formerly physician of Bellevue Hospital (Outdoor Dept.), New York, and the Westchester County Hospital.

"Modern methods of cooking and the rapid pace at which people of this country live has made such an alarming increase in iron deficiency in the blood of American men and women that I have often marveled at the large number of people who lack iron in the blood—and who never suspect the cause of their weak, nervous, run-down state. But in my opinion, you can't make strong, sturdy men and women by feeding them on metallic iron. The old forms of metallic iron must go through a digestive process to transform them into organic iron—Nuxated Iron—before they are to be taken up and assimilated by the human system. Notwithstanding all that has been said and written on this subject by well-known physicians, thousands of people still insist in dosing themselves with metallic iron simply, I suppose, because it costs a few cents less. I strongly advise readers in all cases to get a physician's prescription for organic iron—Nuxated Iron—or if you don't want to go to this trouble, then purchase only Nuxated Iron in its original packages and see that this particular name (Nuxated Iron) appears on the package. If you have taken preparations such as Nux and Iron and other similar iron products and failed to get results, remember that such products are an entirely different thing from Nuxated Iron."

If you are not strong or well you owe it to yourself to make the following test: See how long you can work or how far you can walk without becoming tired. Next take two five-grain tablets of ordinary Nuxated Iron three times per day after meals for two weeks. Then test your strength again and see how much you have gained. Numbers of nervous, run-down people who were ailing all the while have increased their strength and endurance in two weeks' time while taking iron in the proper form.

SANDRA THE JEALOUS

BY JANE PHELPS

SANDRA REMOVES SOME PICTURES

CHAPTER XIX

Never was anyone so glad to finish a luncheon as I was that day. The man, who had joined us, were about Everett's age. I couldn't fail to see the look of surprise on their faces when Everett had introduced me. I wished I didn't look so awfully young, and that Everett would allow me to wear my hair so that it would make me look older. But when they left us, I forgot all these things in my returned anxiety as to what Everett would say and do about the pictures. I tried to persuade myself that I was in the right, and would insist that I had been.

I talked to myself all the time I was dressing for dinner, and then when I waited for him. I never had learned to hide my feelings, but I had decided to say nothing until after dinner, I had heard that men were more amenable when their stomachs were full.

To my delight he seemed to be in particularly good spirits. He again complimented me on my appearance, and upon the way I had carried myself before his friends. Had it not been for my uneasiness, it would have made me very happy; now I was only pleased it might make him less severe if he should disapprove of what I had done.

It may perhaps seems foolish to attach so much importance to the removal of the first Mrs. Graham's pictures, but if anyone who reads has ever been a second wife, and had done the same thing—or has wanted to do it, they will appreciate how I felt.

I waited until we were having coffee in the library, then I said in as casual tone as I could master.

"You forgot to take the pictures of your—first—wife down, Everett, so I had Richard take them and put them nicely away in the attic. I was sure you would be pleased to have it attended to without annoyance to you.' The last words fairly tumbled over each other so fearful was I that he would interrupt before I could finish.

I had been watching him closely as I talked, and was frightened when I saw how dreadfully white he became. He was livid. With an awful effort, he seemed to pull himself together, as he asked in a voice that took away what little courage I had left:

"You did what!"

"I had—her—pictures put—in—the—attic." This time there was no tumbling of words, I could scarcely drag the reply from my lips.

The stern look I already had learned to dread came in Everett's face, only it was more stern than ever I had seen it before.

"I absolutely forbid you to touch anything in this house without my permission."

Where the courage came from I do not know, but I asked:

"Am I not mistress of the house Don't I have anything to say?"

"No!" he thundered, "You do not!" He touched the bell.

"Go into the attic and get those pictures you took up there to-day; bring them down and hang them where they were before."

"Yes, Sir."

Richard never raised his eyes to me, yet I had caught a look upon his face something very like pity. It made me wild. Even his servants pitied me.

I dared say nothing more. His set face, his severe tone had caused my courage to ooze from me. After a moment's hesitation during which my eyes filled with tears, and I began to tremble at what he might still say, I stumbled from the room Not only did he fail to attempt to stop me; but I could tell by the look on his face he did not know I had left him.

"He is thinking of her" I thought bitterly, and when half an hour afterwards I crawled quietly part way down the stairs, he was in the drawing room looking up at her picture with such a look as I never had seen on his face.

I crouched there shivering and watched him thru the open door. finally his head dropped upon his arms which were folded on the mantle as he gazed up at the lovely face of the women, Leola, and he groaned so despairingly that I quickly ran back to my room, ashamed and afraid to spy upon his misery.

I was not so ashamed the next morning, however, for the minute he left the house, I rushed to his bureau drawers and found that he had taken away the photographs.

To-morrow—Everett Tells Sandra of Leola.

HUSBAND AND WIFE KEEP SILENT FOR 3 YEARS

LONDON, Eng.—What Sir Henry Duke, president of the Divorce Court, terms the oddest separation suit since the seventeenth century has just been dismissed by the Divorce Court.

In the suit Mrs. F. L. Hill sought a separation from G. J. Hill on the grounds of desertion based upon the fact that he had not spoken to her in three years. The evidence showed that the couple lived in the same house. Hill gave his wife $10 weekly and she cooked his meals.

In January last she became ill. Hill called in a doctor, but Mrs. Hill declined to have anything to do with either of them. The court dismissed the action on ground that there had been no complete breaking off or abandonment of the wife by the husband.

Dandruff Soon Ruins the Hair

Girls—if you want plenty of thick, beautiful, glossy, silky hair, do by all means get rid of dandruff, for it will starve your hair and ruin it if you don't.

It doesn't do much good to try to brush or wash it out. The only sure way to get rid of dandruff is to dissolve it, then you destroy it entirely. To do this, get about four ounces of ordinary liquid arvon; apply at night when retiring; use enough to moisten the scalp and rub it in gently with the finger tips.

By morning, most if not all of your dandruff will be gone, and three or four applications will completely dissolve and entirely destroy every single sign and trace of it.

You will find, too, that all itching and digging of the scalp will stop, and your hair will look and feel a hundred times better. You can get liquid arvon at any drug store. It is inexpensive and four ounces is all you will need, no matter how much dandruff you have. This simple remedy never fails.

AL MAMAUX SAYS HE'S "HOLDOUT NUMBER 1."

NEW YORK.—Al Mamaux has put himself on record as "Holdout No. 1" for the season of 1920. It will be remembered that the pitching "Adonis" of the Brooklyn Nationals came to the Superbas from Pittsburg after a lengthy squabble with one Barney Dreyfus. He was full of promise at the time of the transfer and worked hard until he entered the employ of a shipyard concern during the "work or fight" regime. He returned last season and pitched some sterling ball for Your Uncle Robbie.

Success, prosperity, or whatever it may be called, appears to rest heavily on the artist's shoulders. Asked if he had signed his 1920 contract, Al is quoted as saying to a Pittsburg friend:

"No, I haven't, and I won't unless they pay me my price. I will come into my grandfather's money shortly after the first of the year, and I'll be in a position then to tell Ebbets where he comes off."

Health and Happiness

Women of today seem to listen to every call of duty except the supreme one that tells them to guard their health. Home duties, church duties, war activities, and the hundred-and-one calls for charitable enterprises soon lead women to overdo. Nervousness, headaches, backaches and female troubles are the inevitable result.

Philadelphia, Pa.—"I was very weak, always tired, my back ached, and I felt sickly most of the time. I went to a doctor and he said I had nervous indigestion, which, added to my weak condition, kept me worrying most of the time—and he said if I could not stop that, I could not get well. I heard so much about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound my husband wanted me to try it. I took it for a week and felt a little better. I kept it up for three months, and I feel fine and can eat anything now without distress or nervousness. Health and happiness? Yes, I have both now."—Mrs. J. WOERTLING, 2843 North Taylor Street, Philadelphia, Pa.

The majority of women nowadays overdo, there are so many demands upon their time and strength; the result is invariably a weakened, run-down nervous condition with headaches, backache, irritability and depression—and soon more serious ailments develop. Avoid them by taking in time

DOCTOR TOLD HER TO TAKE TANLAC

MRS. HELMER'S TROUBLES WERE OVERCOME AND SHE IS IN BETTER HEALTH THAN IN YEARS.

"Tanlac has done me a world of good and I am enjoying better general health than I have in years," said Mrs. C. W. Helmer, of 1647 Third avenue, East, Vancouver, B.C., recently.

"For a year or more I have had scarcely any appetite at all," she continued, "and just had to force down every mouthful I ate, as the most delicious meal, no matter how well prepared, failed to tempt me, and even the little I managed to eat in this way would cause me intense misery, as it would sour. My heart would palpitate something awful, and it was with the greatest difficulty I could get my breath. My nerves were in such bad condition the least little noise out of the ordinary or any little excitement would completely upset me. It was utterly impossible for me to get a good night's sleep and every morning of my life I would wake up terribly nauseated and would nearly faint away. I was so weak and run down all the time my husband had to wait on me and take care of me just like I was a child. I had a headache all the time, and at times it was so bad I would nearly go distracted. I was also bothered with terrible pains in my back which at times became so bad I would go for days and days hardly able to move out of my chair.

"Seeing so many men and women here in Vancouver were being benefited by Tanlac I decided to give it a trial myself. Before I did however, I called up my physician and asked his advice about taking it, and he told me to go ahead as he believed it to be a good tonic and would do me good. With the good news I started taking Tanlac, and my improvement was simply wonderful. It has completely overcome my stomach trouble. I have a fine appetite and can get anything I want and everything agrees with me perfectly. I haven't had the headache since I finished the first bottle of Tanlac and the pains have all gone out of my back. I sleep good every night and wake up feeling greatly refreshed without the slightest sign of nausea. My nerves are in great deal better condition and are getting better every day and I am sure will soon be all right again. I am glad to say a good word for Tanlac, as I think it a great medicine."

Tanlac is sold in Peterborough by W. B. Warne Drug Co., Ltd., in Havelock by A. C. Denike, in Lakefield by Tanner Drug Co., Ltd., in Fowler's Corners by W. A. Hunter, in Gelert by A. J. Scott, in Westwood by G. Pringle & Son.

FRANCE PAID HALF FOR U. S. ARMY GOODS

TOTAL PROCEEDS WERE $800,000,000, SAYS GEN. CONNOR, STARTING HOME.

ANTWERP—Almost $800,000,000 was realized from the sale of American army stock remaining in France after the departure of the American army, said Brig.-Gen. W. D. Connor, Chief of Staff of the American Department of Supply, who sailed today for America. General Connor said he had estimated the value of the stocks at $1,700,000,000, and declared it would have cost $75,000,000 to take the stocks back to America. The United States, therefore, received a little less than 50 cents of the dollar for the supplies that were sold.

The selling of army stocks was the best thing the American Government could do, the General declared. Had they been retailed in various countries great loss would have been entailed, as the expense would have been heavy. France paid $400,000,000 for stocks it took over, while other Allies and smaller nations purchased supplies for $360,000,000. As an offset against the stocks bought by France, that country undertook to pay damage claims amounting to nearly 1,000,000 francs as a result of American operations in training areas. When the American army went to France it was agreed that farms and buildings used by it in training would be left in the same condition as found. Miles of trenches were dug and buildings were demolished, and American forces were rushed into Germany before the land could be restored to its former condition.

General Connor again emphatically refuted the old story that the French made the American army pay for the trenches it occupied in France.

"The whole truth," he said, "is that the American army has not paid a cent for any ground used or for anything destroyed at the front."

General Connor sailed on the Red Star liner Lapland, which was the first vessel to clear from Antwerp since August, 1914. There were 450 passengers on board, including Henry D. Morgan, American Consul at Brussels, and wife. Just before Mr. Morgan left the capital he was received in a special audience by King Albert.

Large doses of pills for the liver are not as efficient as small doses.

The big dose purges its way through the system fast, but does not cleanse thoroughly.

The small dose (if right) acts gently on the liver, and gives it just the slight help it needs to do its own work, and do it well.

Take one pill regularly, until you know you are all right.

Chilean Visitor Gives Reason for Admiring United States.

SANTIAGI, Chile.—"Why I am Yankophile" is the subject of an article contributed to Ultimas Noticias by a Chilean who has visited the United States. Some of the reasons he gives for liking the United States are:

Because when a person falls down nobody laughs.

When, in the street, a person steps on another's toes, they do not insult each other.

The shopkeepers can leave their deliveries on the doorstep.

People keep in line at ticket offices and have respect for each other's place in the line.

ARRESTS ALLIED MISSION.

Roumanian Officer in Hungary Is Angered by Criticism.

PARIS, Jan. 12. — The arrest of several military representatives of the Allies by a Roumanian officer in occupied Hungary is reported in a Prague despatch through Geneva today.

The message says that the members of a military mission sent by the Allies to the Arad district to inspect prison camps and report on alleged atrocities of which interned Hungarians were said to have been the victims, were arrested by the commanding officer of a concentration camp, who became enraged at the severe criticisms of conditions made by the mission.

No information regarding this incident has been received in diplomatic circles in Paris. It is pointed out, however, that communication with Budapest from this capital has been extremely difficult for some time.

MR. THOMAS TOOMS, M.P.P., ADDRESSES MEETING INDEPENDENT LABOUR PARTY

DEALS WITH ISSUES PRIOR TO AND FOLLOWING THE RECENT ELECTION CAMPAIGN—AN AMBITIOUS PROGRAMME.

An important meeting of the Independent Labour Party was held last night in the Labour Hall to hear a report by Thomas Tooms, M.P.P., on his activities in connection with his duties.

Mr. Peter McArthur, the President of the local Independent Labour Party said he was sorry that there were not more present. "This is our first regular meeting since the Provincial election in which we elected our candidate, Mr. Tooms by a large majority. I think you will be very satisfied with the report given by Mr. Tooms who has been very active and, I think, has not fallen behind his predecessors. Mr. McArthur dwelt on the Federal election that was expected soon and said that they must unite and work harder and begin to prepare now to put their man in by a big majority."

The Independent Labour Party is open to all workers whether organized or not and it is up to us now to increase our membership and incidentally increase our fund to back us up properly in the Dominion election.

The Provincial Member.

"I am pleased to be able to meet some of my supporters this evening and to express my appreciation of the continued support and confidence shown me day by day, said Mr. Tooms by way of peroration. I feel the majority of the people, who perhaps were a little dubious as to my ability are now becoming more convinced that my election to the legislative assembly was at least worth the trial and it is my one endeavour to show them that it has been well worth while and they at least shall have few or no regrets.

History of Organization.

Mr. Tooms gave a short history of the I.L.P. and how it had only been going since January 30th, 1919, and how it had grown from a small beginning. At that meeting a resolution was proposed calling the Minister of Public Works to open up the works in Peterboro to give employment and also that the high cost of living receive attention. One copy was sent to Mr. Carvell Minister of Public Works and one to Mr. Burnham. Both were acknowledged but that was as far as things went, said Mr. Tooms. It showed that we must get our own men in order to enforce our demands."

The Executive.

Mr. Tooms then outlined the growth of the Party from then on. On February 12, the local Party linked up with the Provincial Headquarters. On March 6, the permanent executive was elected for the year. On March 25, Mrs. Sinclair was brought from Toronto to give an address which proved a great attraction and many ladies were present who joined the Party. On April 18, delegates were sent to the Provincial convention and much valuable information was secured by them. On May 13, Mr. Keene of Toronto spoke on "Co-operative Solution of the High Cost of Living." The meetings were adjourned till the fall after that meeting.

First Meeting.

On September 2, the first meeting was held and it was decided to consider running a Labour Candidate for West Peterboro. On September 29, the Labour Party and U.F.O. met and it was recommended that the two parties run a joint candidate. On October 3rd, T. Tooms was nominated as the candidate and the election campaign begun and your candidate was elected.

Mr. Tooms now thanked all who helped him in the campaign and asked for their support in the future.

The member then gave a resume of his experiences as a member of the Legislative Assembly.

Call to Hamilton.

"About one week after the election I was called to a meeting in Hamilton of the Provincial Executive of the I.L.P. inviting the member elect and President of the local who accompanied me at our own expenses, said Mr. Tooms. We were met there by a delegation of the U.F.O. when a committee was formed consisting of Mr. Rollo and Mr. McBride of the Labour Party to confer with a similar committee of the U.F.O. It was not long before, this committee found ways and means by which common ground could be arrived at; both being producers and workers with progressive platforms to work from. It was then decided to adjourn and meet in Toronto.

Gave a Report.

At the meeting in Toronto the unsuccessful candidates, I.L.P. executive and member elect were present, when the committee gave a report of their negotiations with the U.F.O. It was found that there were several planks in the platform of each which were identical and if the Co-operative Government perform one quarter of these identical planks it will have done more good for the people of Ontario as a whole than any previous two Governments.

Were Strangers.

You understand that most of us were practically strangers to each other knowing little of the ability of each person present, but several meetings and conventions followed. I was at them all when we met the Farmers at their headquarters and met Premier Drury.

Well Received.

Labour was enthusiastically received. Mr. Drury announced that on the joining up of forces two portfolios would be given to Labour. One of course would be the Minister of Labour and the other he would announce in a couple of days as he had only been elected Premier by his associates about four hours ago and would have to consider which portfolio would be to the best interests of the Labour Party and the Government.

At a preliminary meeting of the Labour Party it was announced that we would get the Labour portfolio and Mr. Rollo was nominated for leader of the Labour Party and Minister of Labour in the Cabinet as he had been executive head of the I.L.P. of Ontario for several years. Mr. McBride was also nominated he being a prominent figure in the I.L.P. and Mayor of Brandford. Mr. McBride was defeated, Rollo getting the majority vote.

The Fracas.

At the U.F.O. convention Mr. McBride thought the Premier should announce the second portfolio right away. This the premier could not do so Mr. McBride left the room. I had been talking to Mr. McBride previous to the convention in fact we went in together as I advised him not to kick too soon. "Come up and see what they have to offer and then form your opinion," but alas the whole affair so far as Mr. McBride went was unfortunate. Mr. James Simpson got up and apoligised for the conduct of Mr. McBride. The press got it. Mr. McBride resented Mr. Simpson's intereference and the press made political capital out of two men who to my mind wished to advertise themselves a bit. The thing was new. We had been striving for the object of having representatives in the House all our lives, why could not some of them get excited. The Labour men treated the two men with caution and left them to settle it among themselves.

Second Portfolio.

After due consideration Mr. Drury announced that he had decided to cut the portfolio of Lands, Forests and Mines in two. As this portfolio took in our natural resources which are tremendous in the Province of Ontario. Giving the Lands and Forests to the Farmer and Mines to the Labour. Mr. H. Mills of Fort William was named and elected by the Labour group to fill that position because Northern Ontario was not represented on the Government and Mr. Mills had had some experience in the mines.

Natural Resources.

I think that Mr. Drury here has shown a faculty of looking ahead, and of being sincere in his promises of a progressive Government said Mr. Tooms. These two portfolios given to Labour are of great import to the industrial element of society. The charge of one of our most valuable assets of the Province as a revenue producing element. Any thinking man I am sure will agree with me that our mines have not received the attention in the past that they deserved. They were to my mind controlled by a few corporations and combine interests to the detriment of the many. Our copper, nickel and mineral resource more that compare with any other Province in the Dominion and that is letting it down light. I need not relate here the nickle exposure during the war. Now it is to be hoped that with proper Government control they will be worked to the benefit of the Province and community as a whole, that will produce revenue that will assist this Government to finance any of the progressive planks that may be introduced by this progressive Government. Talking of pensions for widowed mothers, the question is asked where is the money coming from?. I would suggest from the efficient working of our natural resources.

Then again the Ministry of Labour and Health naturally will look after the working conditions of the producer and our industrial life.

Given Whole Time.

I may here say that I have given my whole time since my election getting in touch with conditions; educating myself with first hand knowledge I have received every encouragement and assistance from the Government. I have visisted most of the local factories with a Government Factory Inspector who was detailed to me for explanation, etc. Also while in Toronto I visited factories in that city and compared them with local conditions. I had the privilege of making several recommendations to the proper authorities which I am given to understand will in all probability be adopted, and legislation introduced which the factory act does not at present cover. I am not at liberty nor would it be wise to tell you at present what they are, actions and results must speak for themselves

The City Trust.

One thing I did find that the City Trust were somewhat neglectfull in following out the recommendation of the factory inspector with regards to a fire escape in a factory in East City. As this is also recommended by the local fire department I think the City Trust should be held responsible for negligence. I hope they will look into it and see who really is responsible and get it fixed as recommended. I am at present studying the factory acts and while the acts read and appear fine on the face of them there is always the annulling clause such as "except with the permission of the Inspector," and as that permission is always obtainable. This practically makes the Inspector the Factory Act and he therefore has too much authority, I think.

Fishing Inspectors.

After quite a bit of negotiating, I proposed that the Game and Fisheries inspector, overseer, etc., be put on a more efficient basis, paid living wage and part of fines for convictions and so hold the men in charge responsible for efficient service. For no man should be expected to attend to the business on $25 to $200 a year. If we are to have efficiency we must pay the price. I have received communications that my recommendations are being kept for the suggestions contained therein and that the affair is to be put on a more efficient basis in the very near future. This from Hon. Biggs, Minister of Public Works. The Deputy Minister McDonald informed me he was very much in favor of my suggestions.

I have handled numerous individual cases such as compensation and health cases. I am at present negotiating with the Health Minister with regard to the health and condition of shop assistants and clerks in departmental and retail stores. The factory Inspector does not give these much if any attention. I am not sure yet how far the Factory Act protects them.

The Bakers.

I have dealt with the conditions of the bakers and find that the Factory Act meets their requirements but has not been enforced. I find this the case in a quite a few instances and I am informed that it was not pressed in order to meet war conditions and that it was somewhat difficult to get back to normal but pressure is being brought to bear to get the law properly and fairly enforced in all matters.

Ald. Crowe's motion has been presented to the Government. This provides that the Police Commissioners be elected by the people.

I have been in communication with the Medical Associations and Chiropractors with regards to granting license for Chiropractors to practice. I find much in favor and some few difficulties, still under consideration.

Patronage Question.

I might take this opportunity to state that it is the honest and earnest intention of the U.F.O. and Labour Government to cut out the Patronage System said Mr. Tooms. I may safely tell you it is not the intention or my intention either to dismiss or to advocate the dismissal of any Government official so long as that official is giving the district fair and efficient service, and every vacancy must be filled according to merit. I wish this to be plainly understood; it might save a lot of useless trouble on the part of political heelers. Patronage must be cut out so far as possible with good judgment. We hear that we are to get a fair chance to see how we can get along. I very much doubt the sincerity when you see every little money deal being turned to prove unfair dealing.

Mr. Peter McArthur.

Mr. Peter McArthur said that he thought Mr. Tooms had been very active and deserved their hearty support in the future. "I think we know more about the new Government in the last few weeks than the late Government in the last five years. We need men to represent the classes and not the masses."

Mr. McArthur dwelt on the need for better carrying out of the Factory Act. Mr. McArthur urged all the men present to join and come to the meeting to be held in two weeks when the officers will be elected.

Mr. McMurray and Thomas Lane spoke on the need for more organization and the need fr having a Labur man in the Dominion House.

Mr. Ball spoke briefly and urged them to change the name of party to the Democratic Party. What you need is more unity.

Mr. Parliament questioned Mr. Tooms on the Factory Act and Mr. Tooms replied to questions assuring him that matters wuld be righted and said that no more permits would be granted to certain factories to employ girls between 14 to 16 overtime.

Mr. McArthur concluded by urging the members to do all they could to get new members and help the Party along.

THE CALL FROM ARMENIA

BANK MANAGER IN ONE ONTARIO TOWN SPENDS AN HOUR IN EFFECTIVE SERVICE FOR STARVING WOMEN AND CHILDREN IN FAR-OFF ARMENIA--PRESIDENT FALCONER'S MESSAGE--NEWSPAPERS GIVING VALUABLE AID--REQUEST TO SUBSCRIBERS.

The best way to raise money for Armenian relief is by personal solicitation. Mr. A. A. Edsall, manager of the Merchants Bank, Thamesville, gives an illustration of that. In an hour on Monday morning, by calling on people and presenting the case, he secured subscriptions aggregating $250, with more to come.

There must be many trusted citizens in the towns and villages of Ontario with the will to do likewise. They will find the people on whom they trust eager in most cases to help.

The Response of Canadians.

The response of big Canadian hearts to the appeal on behalf of the starving women and children of Armenia continues to be profoundly encouraging. Each day supplies fresh evidence of the splendid spirit which animates the people. Every mail is now bringing its quota of returns from all parts of Ontario. The cry of the far-away sufferers has been heard.

But only a beginning has been made. One stern, and fact cannot be lost sight of. No matter how much the fund may yield it is still bound to be inadequate. The situation is desperate. Vast areas are populated by these homeless, persecuted people. They are dying daily by scores. The relief work cannot cope with this terrible condition—it cannot keep up.

Giving to Save Lives.

Yet tthis fund with thos being supplied by effort in Britain and the United States is enabling the workers on the field to extend and multiply their operations. Every dollar subscribed is doing a real part towards saving human life—the lives of martyred women, the lives of little children. For every dollar is going in its entirety to the cause. It is all going directly and completely for the humanitarian purpose for which it is given.

The Examiner again desires to impress upon its readers the overwhelming and immedite character of the need. Under the spur of a great patriotism during the dark days of the great war many Canadians rose to high heights of service and sacrifice. They gave of their strength and of their substance "till it hurt." Is not this another cause in which the measure of giving should be so great that it is felt?

The following local subscriptions have been made:

Mrs. A. Burton $10.00
Mr. William Madill $10.00
Mr. C. R. Banks ..... $ 5.00

WOULD MAKE WOMEN FACE NAKED TRUTH

PROF. MACPHAIL DECLARES FAIR SEX WILL BECOME UNSHIELDED BY CONVENTION.

"With the advent of democracy women will be thrust out of the garden which was created for them and they will be compelled to face the naked truth of the world, unshielded by the shelter of convention."

This striking statement was made on Saturday afternoon by Professor Andrew Macphail of McGill University, Montreal, during the course of an address entitled "Women and Democracy," which he delivered before a large audience in the Physics building of the University of Toronto.

"Women in democracy," said Prof. Macphail, "will be ugly women; men will be even more ugly than they are now; worse still the degradation will not be apparent. Democracy is merely a name for a process which strives to destroy the organs and organization of society, which strives to reduce races, nations and families to an unorganized congerie of individual units.

"Democracy is not a form of government. It is a condition out of which some form of government may eventually rise. The man in his cave was the original democrat. Through slow and painful ages he developed a kind of system, striving upwards towards a civilization, resisting as well as he could the unceasing efforts of democrats, liberals, radicals, anarchists, nihilists, to draw him back into his solitary and savage lair.

When democracy has accomplished its perfect work we shall begin again the slow and painful Sisyphus task, in which as in former times, soldiers, brigands, thieves, politicians, saints and kings will play their part after their kind. In the continuing process we shall again pass through another slow age of darkness. Democracy is merely a vain regret for a past and fabled age of perfection which never had any real existence.

"The thing we now name democracy exists at all just because it is living on the past, the United States opens its constitution and we upon our monarchy. The kingship has virtues only as part of the system out of which it arose. When the system fails the king fails and with him perishes the whole fabric of politics and of society. Few women have a direct interest in politics. All women have a vital interest in society and the aggregate of society is civilization. Men revert to the cave with incredible ease. For four years millions of men lived in holes in the ground with the utmost of comfort as long as their few primitive wants were supplied. Whilst women were absent the men were not conscious of any lack. The rise from savagery is always governed by the needs of the women, and the beauty of civilization was created by her display. The woman is innately conservative but all her conservatism will be swallowed up in democracy.

England no Democracy.

"Any system stands as a system as a chair stands on four legs, although it may remain for a time upon three by virtue of its old stability. England is acclaimed as a democracy, and as a proof of its success. England never was a democracy, is not now and never will be until England is no longer England. England carries on by reason of its old monarchial inertia. All that is good is old.

"A few years ago a prince came and walked the earth. Anyone of sensibility recognized him at once for the Bonnie Prince come again, with his ancient Stuart face and eyes and mien. He was the soldier son returned from the wars as his father was the sailor home from the sea, and Victoria the mother of men. And yet this paragon, this progeny of kings from the time of Alfred, with hailed as a 'democrat.' A democrat is not like that at all. Confusion of mind and folly of speech could go no further. The real democrat is Lenine with his Mongolian guard, Tammany with his braves or Marat at the head of his Sans culottes.

MICHAEL BAHRI

There on the hill, while the morning glow
Of the sunbeams kiss the virgin snow,
Silently, sadly, cold and slow
Youth and Bahri moves to die.

There on the hill, while the coming day
Glides over the snow, like a child at play,
Looms the scaffold, cold and gray
Where Bahri pays the toll.

There on the hill, in the iron hold
Of the law, relentless, cruel and cold,
Youth, and name, and life are sold
To a custom born in hell.

You're young, my boy; 'tis hard to go,
So many voices, sweet and low,
Calling over the sea and the snow,
Calling, calling for you.

Mother and home, and native hills,
And singing birds, and ripling rills,
While youth and love your bosom fills
All calling, calling you.

And you must go by a rugged path,
But the "Man of the Cross" trod the way of death
And the debt of sin, He paid for us both—
Young man, line up with Him.

I've stood for the "old flag, firm and true,"
And cheered and sang "The Red, White and Blue,"
And if she failed to shelter you
Don't blame the Flag. Farewell!

Gently bury the stranger dead,
He's paid for the blood another shed,
But I must write on the slab at their head,
"Please do not blame the Flag."

NEW CANDIDATE FOR PRESIDENCY

Special to Examiner.

PARIS, Jan. 14. — Paul Deschanel was suddenly thrust forward as a candidate for the presidency of the Republic in the Chamber of Deputies last night, seemingly by a spontaneous impulse on the part of the members of the Radical Socialist group.

The candidacy of M. Deschanel promises to liven up the Congress of Versailles which will meet on Saturday to elect a president, and the expected walk over of Premier Clemenceau may not materialize.

Immediately after M. Deschanel had been re-elected President of the Chamber a large number of deputies led by former Premier Briand, Edouard Herriot, Camille Le Noir and Andre Le Fevre shouted "Now to Versailles."

M. Deschanel's acceptance is expected to force Premier Clemenceau to announce whether or not he is a candidate.

COALITION GOVERNMENT

VISCOUNT HALDANE'S OPINION OF BRITISH POLITICS.

(Canadian Press.)

LONDON, Jan. 14.—Although the Coalition Government is losing seats in Parliament and the "handwriting on the wall" is against it, nevertheless, it cannot be turned out, because there is nobody to take its place," declared Viscount Haldane, former Lord High Chancellor, at Glasgow yesterday. He asserted that he did not believe either the Labourites, the Liberals, or any other party was likely to come into power in the near future, and that the change in Government could not be brought about until strong united opposition to the Coalition regime could be formed. Such an opposition, he argued, could be established only by the formation of a great progressive party composed of Labourites and Liberals.

His work done in a flash, Ellis ordered the guard to march, and the tragic procession, the police in their great coats, the clergymen in his flowing gown and the two seemingly unsentient foreigners stripped to their braces, turned through the door to the inclined approach to the scaffold. A bitter cold wind blew in from the north over the jail wall, and the morning sun was still far over in the east.

Canon Davidson walked beside Bahri, holding one arm. Two constables were beside each prisoner, Dr. Young and Dr. Morgan and Mr. Essery remained just outside the door.

While Canon Davidson recited prayers and exhorted both the condemned men, Ellis didn't waste a moment. The black caps, like soft pillow covers, were dropped over the men's heads and tied with pieces of string. Ellis stepped back and pulled the lever, and the trap door clattered down against the props. The murder of Phillip Yanoff had been expiated according to the demands of the law. Immediately the black flag was flung up in the place of the Union Jack.

The lower front of the scaffold was boarded up. Only the front of the upper section was open. Some of the guards said that Ellis had sprung the trap almost before they were aware of it. The executioner a moment later caught the two ropes and swung them outward as he stretched his arms.

"Both necks were broken," he announced, with a trace of that professional skill that is reflected in his ready recollections of past performances.

Coming down the cleated platform Canon Davidson was trembling and very pale. "There should be some better way, surely our civilization can find a better way"; he was speaking as if to himself.

"Be careful, don't slip," Mr. Ellis called out behind him.

Juries Called.

The doctors took charge of the bodies at once. They were cut down in ten minutes, but Mr. Ellis emphasized the fact that the two deaths had been instantaneous. The bodies were carried back into the corridor and laid on the floor. Dr. Greer opened two formal inquests about nine o'clock. The bodies were viewed and the usual verdicts, in substance, that Thomas Konek and Michael Bahri had come to their deaths through the exigencies of the law, were officially recorded. A proclamation announcing the deaths of the two men by hanging was part of the expected last details of this public exaction of the capital penalty.

Given Christian Burial.

Rev. Canon Davidson conducted the funeral service in the jail yard. The graves had been previously dug a few short paces from the scaffold. One of the guards said that Konek noticed them and said "graves," but Bahri had been advised by Canon Davidson to shut his eyes as soon as the procession started. He saw nothing until he reached the scaffold.

Canon Davidson took the full burial service with the regular ritual of the Church of England. He made the following brief statement: "These men, our brothers, have received a Christian burial as members of the Holy Catholic church in full communion with the Russian Orthodox branch of the church, as was their rigthful due."

Bahri's Flowers.

One of the night guards reported that Konek ate a part of the guard's lunch during the night. Bahri had eaten scarcely anything for three days. Both men spoke but little. Bahri showed the guard the flowers from the ladies of the Chancel Guild of St. John's church.

"These are my wedding flowers," he remarked, with an effort to smile. "Everything looks fine," he remarked.

"What do you mean?" asked the guard.

"The door and the bars and everything look fine, because they are the last things I'll see in this world."

In the same spirit of resignation and courage, both men walked to their death. A heavy pallor was on their faces. Bahri's open mouth added a blankness to his expression that was observed when he was on trial. Their steps never faltered in those swift less than three minutes. Bahri's knees trembled as he reached the top of the approach, but he was physically weak from the strain of the past week and his loss of appetite.

The Crime Recalled.

The crime, which was expiated in full with the execution of Konek and Bahri this morning, and the imprisonmen for life of the three other perpetrators, Sam Zaluski, Phillip Martinuque, and Alex Rotinski, was committed in the workmen's bunkhouse at the Ontario Rock Company's quarry three miles from Havelock, between the hours of three and four o'clock in the morning of Sunday, June 22nd. According to the evidence at the trial it was planned by Konek and Bahri. Chance threw Zaluski into it. He was walking down Yonge street about 6.30 o'clock on Saturday evening, June 21st, when he met Konek, who proposed the trip to Havelock, saying that he had a friend who had worked at the quarry and was familiar with the place. That man was Bahri, who had stayed at the quarry only eleven days in the preceding April, from the 10th to the 21st.

Konek told Zaluski to wait for him in a pool room on Queen street, near University avenue. Going there later in the evening he met Bahri, Rotinski and Konek. Quite casually they played pool, and Konek again discussed the Havelock job, explaining that the workmen were Bulgarians. The evidence revealed the fact that the fous men at length set out for the North Toronto station, but arriving there they discovered that it was withdrawn on Saturday nights.

Martinuque Drawn In.

Retracing their steps Konek apparently thought of Martinuque and sent Zaluski to look for him. By that slight twist of fate and circumstances, Martinque was drawn into the expedition. Zaluski located him in a pool room at the corner of York and Queen street, told him Konek wanted him, and both departed for the Union station. There Martinuque saw Bahri talking to a man named Tom, whose identity was not revealed during the trial. Martinuque didn't know him.

Practically nothing of the antecedents of Konek's confederates or of himself was brought out in evidence. Frequenters of pool rooms they were, but no information was brought out as to where they lived or how long they had been in Canada, or any of the other conditions of their lives that might be utilized with profit by the authorities in dealing with illiterate foreigners who, ignorant of Canadian ideals, and lacking education, are virtually admitted to Canadian citizenship.

Zaluski said he had known Konek only three weeks and Martinuque just one month. Whatever acquaintanceships may have existed among the gang, they could not have been strong. A recent illustration is afforded by a statement of the police that the three men, whose sentences were commuted, hurried from the jail without a parting word of sympathy or farewell to the two unfortunates they were leaving behind to face the gallows.

Told of Plans.

If any of the members of the gang were in doubt about the object of their railway journey, they were enlightened when the train neared Peterborough. At Havelock Bahri took charge and led the way to the bunkhouse at the quarry in Belmont township. After walking several miles, Bahri announced that the quarry was nearby. They rested on the roadside and ate a lunch. Some one produced a bottle of whiskey, which was passed twice around the gang.

Proceeding, they quietly approached the long shack where the Bulgarians were sleeping. The screen door was opened and Konek led the way upstairs. Bahri brought up the rear. All of them had masked themselves with handkerchiefs. Three carried revolvers and two had flashlights.

Said He Had Tripped.

Konek had just reached the top stair, the rest of the gang stealthily climbing behind him, when his revolver discharged. He afterwards explained to his companions that he had tripped on the last stair, and, stumbling, involuntarily pressed the trigger of his automatic pistol. But there was another statement that he had fired to arouse and frighten the Bulgarians. Whatever happened, the bullet fatally wounded Phillip Yanoff, who was sleeping in the bunk nearest the stairway and to one side of it.

Bahri sent Zaluski down to the door to keep watch in the chance that the report of the pistol might have been heard nearby. In the meantime the rest of the gang flashing their lights and revolvers made the rounds of the bunks searching for money, watches and other possessions of the Bulgarian laborers.

Yanoff cried for water and some one struck him on the head. The room was in an uproar with the shouting of the intruders and the exclamations of their surprised victims.

Yanoff's belt was cut from his body, rifled of its bills and was picked up next morning outside the shack. It was stated that Yanoff was carrying $400 and had been advised to put the money in the bank. When the gang pooled their booty after they had run away from the place, it was Bahri who had borne off the $410 in a hat.

The subsequent round-up of the gang at the Indian River station by County Constable Whibbs, the C.P.R. agent, J. W. Riseborough, the first picking up of their trail by Steve Bradley, foreman of the camp, and Constable Williams of Havelock, all the rest of the story, including the hiding of the money, guns and flashlights in the Indian River station were fully detailed at the trial.

The Juries.

The two juries, with Dr. Greer presiding, were composed of the following, nine in one and eight in the other:

H. Shurter, T. Wilson, G. H. Duncan, Gus Sawers, Geo. Stenton, J. Howden, P. Alexander, T. Sproat, A. Laidlaw, C. Snider, Geo. Elliott, J. T. C. Lang, F. Bartlett, A. Webb, E Truman, Geo. Stevenson, A. G. Roberts.

WANT A CHANGE IN PRICE BOARD

(Canadian Press.)

OTTAWA, Jan. 14.—The re-constitution of the Board of Commerce was urged on the Government to-day by a delegation representing the Retail Merchants' Association of Canada.

The delegation asked that the Board should be so remodelled as to consist of "a consumer, a producer, a manufacturer, and a chairman of judicial experience." In this connection, the delegation suggested the retention of the present chairman, Judge Robson. They also asked that the price-fixing activities of the Board should cease.

The proceedings were brief, Sir George Foster promising full consideration of the representations made.

He said that the appointment of the Board was an attempt to settle the prevailing unrest resulting from the increased cost of living. The Board might not be a perfect organisation, but he felt that it was doing its best.

DENIES STORY.

Special to Examiner.

TORONTO, Jan. 14. — Denial was made by G. E. Sewell, the U.F.O. member for North Norfolk, that Premier Drury is to run in his constituency as stated in the newspapers this morning.

"I have not been approached in the matter of resigning my seat," he said "and I have no intention of resigning."

The premier made no statement this morning regarding the matter.

A SPECIAL TRAIN LIKELY FOR FRIDAY'S GAME HERE

The Lindsay Hockey Club is endeavouring to arrange an excursion here on Friday night for the big game between Lindsay and Peterborough intermediates—a game that will have much to do with the group championship. In any case there will be a flock of Lindsay fans here for the battle, which is considered as the season's feature.

Both teams will be in the pink of condition, and as the weather outlook promises good ice, there is every reason to expect a game that will be lightning fast from start to finish. Lindsay's team have won two easy victories over Cannington since they met the Petes and will be in much better shape than they were last week. They realize that they will have to win here in order to equalize the group race, and they are coming down with their strongest team, determined to come through with a win. The game is called for 8.30 o'clock.

The Peterborough team will practice to-night at 7 o'clock, and a full turn-out of players is requested.

TWO FAST GAMES IN THE CITY LEAGUE SERIES

There will be two games in the City Hockey League series to-night, and with a perfect sheet of ice ready the fans should be given a good night's sport.

The two losing teams of last week, the Business College and the Belmont Club, who meet in the first game, have both strengthened their line-ups for to-night's game and they promise to provide a hard battle.

In the second game the C. G. E. Tool-room and the Canadian Woollens will come together. Both won handily, last week and with their strongest line-ups in action to-night, the game should be a fight from gong to gong. Both teams have former O. H.A. stars on their line-ups

BRINTON CARPET WON THREE GAMES

Last night in the Business Men's League, in second round, at the Water street alleys, the Brinton Carpet started off with three straights against the Pastimes. The Pastimes were short of Sullivan and King. The Brinton Carpet bunch rolled a nice single of 965 and three games of 2,658. Carroll was high man with 614, Anderson 538. For the Pastimes Miller was high with 526.

To-night De Laval meet the Centrals, and a good game is expected, as both teams are rolling strong.

WATCH YOUR STEP

"Watch Your Step," Irving Berlin's international syncopated musical success, coming to the Grand Opera House soon is a fast, snappy musical comedy, built on conventional lines, but with plenty of humor in the dialogue and with twenty odd catchy songs and dances interspersed.

There will be a specially selected cast of clever performers and the large well-drilled chorus consists of twenty-four beautiful girls, all handsomely gowned.

"MASTER MASON" is the big man's smoke—the tobacco made to suit a real man's idea of a pleasant and satisfying smoke. Cut at will, fresh from the plug, with all the natural moisture and fragrance of the choicest tobacco retained.

SITUATION IN RUSSIA

(Canadian Press.)

LONDON, Jan. 14.— Russian Soviet troops which have reached Balai station, almost 400 miles east of Taiga, will be aided by Chinese Bolsheviki, according to a Moscow despatch, quoting advices from Cheliabinsk. It is said the Chinese will operate in the "coastal region." The Bolsheviki expect soon to encounter Japanese forces sent to Eastern Siberia, and a Moscow despatch states that Soviet forces will not "undertake any aggressive action calculated to provoke a collision." It says, however, "that the menace of Japanese and of Entente vessels in the west will compel Soviet authority to devote a great part of its forces to military purposes." While Polish and Lettish forces have driven ahead along the north-western Russian front and have forced the Bolsheviki to retire at a number of points, their offensive is said by Moscow to be "merely local."

A VICTROLA FOR 1920

The opportunity is yours to get whatever you may want in a Victrola, and what better company in the home in this New Year than the Victrola and an assortment of timely records. The choice comes from a small sized Victrola to something that is really sumptuous in its construction. Some very beautiful Victrola instruments are made these days. These you will find attractively displayed in the handsome Victrola Parlours of Ye Olde Firme of Heintzman and Co., Limited, George and Hunter streets, Peterboro.

MYSTERIOUS ELLIS A STRANGE TYPE

Arthur Ellis the hangman has been such a mysterious and baleful figure in the minds of many citizens is of dapper type, under the medium height with corresponding weight He looks anything but the rough and brutal part the public has vaguely endued him with. He wears glasses with a gold ear guard, a neat doubled breasted coat, and with all an air that is suggestive of the average business man, but not the manufacturing magnate class. His face is a trifle florid, and he appears to have a habit of rubbing his hands together. He is brisk and alert, and has worn a round lamb or dog skin cap with the peak caught up in front. Whatever the public may think of his means of livelihood and his mental bent that fits him for it, they would be surprised at a first glance in the realization of how wide their conjecture had missed its mark. And any comment as to the swiftness of his methods is of course to be utterly reprobated.

FIDDLERS THREE

Delightfully melodious and with a touch of romance in its story, "Fiddlers Three," heralded as a success of no uncertain quality comes to the Grand tonight only.

It is seldom that a play so quickly reaches the height of popularity as has been accorded this modern operetta, but it has much to commend it above the musical plays of the present. It has a story of interest and charm that is pleasantly remembered and a cast of players that brilliantly interpret its lines and sings its score. Tavie Belge, the prima donna, has a voice of rare quality, volume and freshness and sings with an understanding and melodious sweetness seldom heard in light opera, or more popularly termed today, musical comedy. Tom Dingle the nimble comedian with his rollicking fun, Edna Mayn with her graceful dancing and dainty personality, Thomas Conkey with his excellent baritone voice, Katherine Clare Ward Horace Sinclair, Ethel Dwyer, Marius Rogati, Gilbert Clayton, Layman and Kling with their sensational dancing, and the Class A-1 beauty battalion, bring a finish touch to the comedy that makes it as pleasing and acceptable as anything that has been seen on the road in many years.

FAIR AND WARMER

"Fair and Warmer," Avery Hopwood's celebrated farce which has kept New York in a hub bub of excitement and laughter for one year, and which has had its fame spread for it by thousands of out-of-town visitors and by hundreds of out-of-town newspapers whose New York correspondents have recommended it without reserve, will be presented by Spaeth & Company at the Grand on Wednesday eve., Jan. 21.

This extraordinary farce, which broke all records both as a moneymaker and as a laughmaker in its year's run at the Harris Theatre, is said to be the very finest and funniest thing Avery Hopwood ever wrote, which, concerning the author of 'Seven Days" and "Nobody's Widow" is very fulsome praise. It will be presented here by an excellent cast of farceurs.

"THE GREATEST THING IN LIFE"

ANOTHER GRIFFITH ENTERPRIZE.

David W. Griffith's remarkable picture, "The Greatest Thing in Life," which is being shown at the Allen Theatre to-day and to-morrow, is a wonderful photoplay, both in the high quality of the acting and the superior direction and photography it evidences. Dainty Lillian Gish and Robert Harron have the leading roles and the support is in every way excellent.

Mr. Griffith tells with that superb mastery of which he is capable what the Greatest thing in Life is. It is a picture that can rank with the best shown here at any time.

Heart Disease and Nerve Troubles Sweep the Country

Probably at no period in the world's history have heart and nerve troubles been so prevalent as they are to-day.

The heart can't stand the stress and strain of this busy, bustling age, and the care and worry, the anxiety and activity of business life constitute a serious drain on the nervous system.

The business of this work-a-day world goes with such a rush that the stoutest hearts and strongest nerves break down under the strain.

On the first approach of any breakdown of the system Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills should be taken. The reconstructive power of these pills on the heart and nerve system is simply marvellous.

Mr. W. A. Wright, Hopewell Ave., Ottawa, Ont., writes:—"After suffering for some time with my heart, I consulted a number of doctors, but got no relief. However, I read what Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills had done for others, who had the same symptoms and thought I would give them a trial. Believe me, six boxes cured me completely. I am feeling fine now, and can attend to my work every day. I can recommend your pills to any one suffering as I did."

Price 50c. a box at all dealers or mailed direct on receipt of price by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

OBITUARY

GEORGE ISBISTER.

Word has been received by Mr. Andrew Pearson, 196 Charlotte street, of the death of his brother in law, Mr. George F. Isbister, who was killed in a falling building in Winnipeg.

Mr. Isbister will be remembered by many of the older citizens of the city, where he resided until some 20 years ago when he went west, and where he and his brother conducted a bakery business at the corner of McDonnel and George streets.

During the last eight or nine years Mr. Isbister has been in the contracting business in Winnipeg, with his brother Lewis, and in all probability was working in the building when the fatal accident occurred.

Mr. Isbisters' parents are both dead but he leaves one brother, Lewis, of Winnipeg, and five sisters, Henrietta and Elizabeth of Winnipeg, and Mrs. Pearson, Alice and Jennie, of Peterboro.

Further particulars as to the unfortunate accident, and the funeral arrangements, will be announced later.

HAS EXCEEDED HIS FUNCTION

OPINION OF ONE OF BEST CONSTITUTIONAL AUTHORITIES.

(Special to The Examiner.)

OTTAWA, Jan. 14—John S. Ewart, K.C., one of the foremost constitutional authorities in the Dominion when interviewed by The Examiner regarding the speech of the Lieut.-Governor Clarke at the Rotary Club, said:

"If correctly reported, he has stepped far outside his functions as Lieut.-Governor. No doubt the constitutional usages are properly laid down by The Examiner when it says that when a Lieut.-Governor differs from his advisers upon a question which he thinks to be vital, he must either accommodate his views to theirs and accept them, or he must dismiss them and get other advisers who will accept responsibility for these views."

"The only amendment that it is necessary for me to make would be the limitation to the question which he thinks to be vital. In all questions involving Governmental policy, it is necessary that the Lieut.-Governor should act in the way set down in the passage quoted. For example, I would not be disposed to regard the closing of Government House as far as a vital matter, and certainly not one which could be described the greatest calamity to Toronto and the Province that could be imagined. On the contrary, I should regard it as a matter of importance altogether insignificant as compared with other questions with which the Governments of the present day have to deal; but whether it be regarded as a vital question or one of little importance, the Lieut.-Governor must accept the opinion of his constitutional advisers or take the responsibility of dismissing them. Above all things, he has not the right to make a public appeal in support of his views on a question upon which a difference of opinion between them and his professional advisers may exist."

INSTALLATION AT THE NASSAU LODGE

The annual meeting of No. 1 District was held in the Orange Hall, Nassau, on Tuesday evening, 13th January, a large representation of the different Lodges of this district being present. After the general routine of business was transacted, an important function of the evening was the election of officers for the coming year, resulting as follows:

Dis. M.—Bro. Roland Bradfield, No. 457.

Dep. D. M.—Bro. Neil Porter, No. 2,440.

Dis. Chap.—Bro. J. J. Cunningham, No 457.

Dis. Rec. Secy.—Bro. W. G. Bartley, No. 321.

Dis. Fin. Secy.—Bro. J. C. Waldie, No. 321.

Dist. Treas.—Bro. C. Kitney, No. 321.

Dis. Dir. of Arm.—Bro. W. J. Kirk, No. 457.

Dist. 1st Secy.—Bro. J. S. Young, No. 2440.

Dist. 2nd Secy.—Bro. W. Lockie, No. 2440.

The newly elected officers were then duly installed by Past County Master Bro. J. C. Waldie, who, as an experienced brother, performed his duties in a very satisfactory manner.

The newly elected officers were then called upon for short addresses, which were very instructive and interesting and well received by all members present.

Special mention might be made of Bro. Bartley, who last evening was elected to office for the twenty-first time. Bro. Bartley has filled the office of Dist. Rec.-Sec., during this long term without an opponent, and is still as young in heart as when first elected.

Bro. Kitney is also an old officer, and performs his duty with pleasure.

After the addresses were delivered, the Lodge was closed in due form, after which all present sat down to a well received banquet, and brought a well spent evening to a close by singing the National Anthem.

JAPAN FEELING AGAINST INTERVENTION IN SIBERIA

TOKIO, Jan. 13.—A strong feeling is growing in Japan against intervention in Siberia. An important Cabinet meeting has been held, at which the Siberian question was fully thrashed out. Although there has been official announcement, it is well known that Japan is disinclined to embark on an adventure to quell the Bolshevists in the Far East.

NEW YORK STOCK MARKETS

(United Press.)

NEW YORK, Jan. 14.—Most leading issues showed fractional increases at the stock market opening here to-day. U. S. Steel opened at 106 1-2 unchanged. New York Central at 69 off 1-4. American Locomotive at 99 3-4 off 1-2. Mexican Petroleum at 203 off 1-2. U. S. Rubber at 130 unchanged. Studebaker at 105 1-2 off 1 1-8. U. R. Stores at 92 1-4 off 3-4. Pan-American at 98 off 1-4. Republic at 114 off 1 1-8. Crucible at 206 off 4 1-2. Baldwin at 114 1-4 off 1 1-8.

The Standard Oil Company of New York to-day advanced gasoline prices one cent a gallon to 26 1-2 cents wholesale.

Renewed bear aggression succeeded in impressing most of the active industrials in the first half-hour.

Steel Common was pushed down to 106 1-8, Baldwin 1 1-4 to 114 5-8, and U. S. Rubber 3-8 to 129 5-8. American Car and Foundry was unchanged at 138, and American Locomotive also resisted the general downward trend. Bears hammered the stocks all around the room, prices breaking from 1 to 7 points before the close of the first hours.

General Motors broke 7 points to 312 1-2, American Woollen 5 to 150 1-4, Crucible 5 to 204, Trans-Continental 4 5-8 to 26 3-4, Mexican Petroleum 5 to 198 1-2, Republic 2 7-8 to 112 1-4, U. S. Steel 5-8 to 105 5-8, U. S. Rubber 1 3-4 to 128 1-4, and Key Stone Tire 1 1-4 to 38 7-8.

In most speculative quarters weakness was ascribed to the prospect of an early increase in the Federal rediscount rate.

Copper stocks gave a good account of themselves.

Prices rallied slightly later. Mexican Petroleum recovered to 200 1-4; U. S. Food Products to 73; American Woollens to 151 7-8; Industrial Alcohol to 108 3-8; and Crucible to 203 1-2.

Upon announcement of an 8 per cent. renewal rate for call money prices again became reactionary, Steel common declining to 105 1-2, a new low for the day.

THE HUNGARIAN TREATY TO BE PRESENTED TO-DAY

PREMIER CLEMENCEAU WILL NOT PERMIT ANY DELAYS—THE ITALIAN CONTROVERSY.

FOREIGN DESPATCHES

(United Press.)

PARIS, Jan. 15.—Premier Clemenceau to-day adopted firm tactics to prevent any delay in bringing about peace with Hungary.

When Count Apponyi, head of the Hungarian delegation, presumably in an attempt to gain time, asked the Peace Conference to advise him whether or not the United States would participate in the signing, Clemenceau sent a sharp reply, warning him against dilatory tactics.

Hugh Wallace, American ambassador, will be present when the Treaty is handed to the Hungarian delegates at four o'clock this afternoon, Clemenceau said.

The Treaty was to have been handed the Hungarians yesterday, but was delayed, presumably because of Apponyi's tactics.

DIVISION CREATED.

(Canadian Press.)

PARIS, Jan. 15. — Just about the time when the Italians seemed likely to agree to the acceptance of the solution to the Fiume question, which has been approved by the British and French Premiers, a division has been created among the Jugo-Slavs regarding the problems involved.

According to the best information obtainable, the Slovene element in the new Slav kingdom is stoutly opposed to a compromise by which Italy would give up some territory apportioned to her on the Dalmatian Coast in exchange for full sovereignty over Fiume, with a strip of land connecting that city with the Province of Istria to the west.

Other elements favour accepting the compromise, but the Jugoslavs of the Serbian Government are determined to reject the proposal.

FORCEFUL ADDRESS AT BAPTIST RALLY

REV. J. C. MASSEE SPOKE OF SIGNIFICANCE OF LORD'S SUPPER.

TORONTO, Jan 15.—The great significance of the Lord's Supper formed the subject of a forceful address delivered by Rev. J. C. Massee, pastor of the Baptist Temple, Brooklyn, New York, to a well-attended meeting held in Massey Hall under the auspices of the Toronto Association of Baptist Churches. Meetings were the first of a series which are to be held each afternoon and evening in Massey Hall by the Toronto Association. Having as its prime object the deepening of spiritual life generally the series is in connection with the Forward Movement now being conducted by all Protestant denominations. The speakers include besides Mr. Massee, Rev. Dr. W. B. Wiley of Minneapolis, and Dr. A. C. Dixon, of London, Eng. Dr. Dixon was to have spoken last night, but did not arrive in time.

In speaking of the Lord's Supper Rev. Mr. Massee pointed out that the disciples drank of the sour of fermented wine, which, he said, was a symbol of a life which had passed through death and rendered it incorruptible. He criticized as sacrilegious those reformers who have insisted on the substitution of grape juice for wine as little short of sacrilege as was that mistaken zealot of the past who laid his hand on the Ark of the Lord to study it and was stricken for his presumption."

The speaker alluded to the fact that the ceremony of the Lord's Supper had survived each successive wave of apostacy and controversial argument. He made passing reference to the various doctrines relating to the ceremony and declared that looking through them all there was seen in the rite a vital ministry and a tremendous quickening of spiritual life.

Mr. Massee expressed himself at variance with any invitation to the Lord's Supper which tended to exclude a single person from the ceremony. He asserted that if he had his way he would fill all the galleries of all the churches to witness the partaking of the sacred elements. The Supper, he said, constituted a memorial to Christ, symbolized the relationship with Him, and provided the greatest test of the spiritual life of the communicant. It contained a challenge to a new consecration.

The service was conducted by Rev. W. F. Roadhouse, moderator of the Toronto Association. Delightful solos were given by Arthur McKee while a large choir led in the song service with which the meeting opened.

DEFENCE PLEA WAS SUSTAINED

Magistrate Payne of Campbellford, gave his decision yesterday in a test case against Dr. Roy Richardson of Norwood, for driving at night in the town without a tail light burning. The case was tried a week ago and the evidence showed that the light had gone out between Norwood and Campbellford and that the light could only be fixed at a garage. The Motor Vehicle Act states explicity that every car must have a tail light burning betwen dusk and dawn but Mr. Wearing contended that under the English authorities the defendant was not liable if he had taken reasonable means to have the light burning The Magistrate in giving his decision stated that after a review of the authorities and a consultation with the Crown Attorney at Cobourg, he had come to the conclusion that the defendent was right in his contention and dismissed the charge.

Marked Contrast

DEATH RATE FOR 1919 IN TORONTO WAS THE LOWEST IN YEARS

Special to Examiner.

TORONTO, January 15. — "In spite of the fact that the influenza epidemic extended into the early months of the year, the death rate from all cases in 1919 was the lowest ever recorded in Toronto."

This announcement by Dr. C. J. Hastings, M. O. H., to the Board of Health to-day, is in marked contrast to the experience of large cities following the influenza epidemic of 1889-90, and 1891, when it was several years before the rate got back to normal.

Toronto's 1919 rate is 27 per cent. lower than the previous year, which was abnormally high, owing to the influenza outbreak.

THE GOVERNMENT REMAINS SILENT

(Canadian Press.)

TORONTO, Jan. 15.—It was stated to-day that the Government has no intention of ignoring the recent utterances of Lieut.-Governor Lionel Clark, in spite of the fact that several interpretations have been placed upon their silence by a great section of the public.

The Government, it was explained, is remaining silent on the subject only because it is a very delicate situation, and they have no desire to further complicate the relations of the Governor.

"The Lieut.-Governor's statements were unconstitutional beyond doubt," was the statement of one member of the Cabinet to-day. "But the Government is anxious that nothing should be done to hinder bringing back into position where he should be."

For that reason, nothing has been heard from Premier Drury or his colleagues. If, however, no public statement is forthcoming at an early date from the Lieut.-Governor himself, the Government is prepared to issue one as to their attitude on the situation.

WAR VETERANS WANT A REPRESENTATIVE LOCAL COMMISSIONER

PETERBORO VETERANS HOPE TO SEE SOME CHANGES IN 1920.

In discussing the Housing Commission appointed by the City Council of 1919, Secretary Whatley, of the Great War Veterans, stated this morning that he and President Muir have decided that a representative and democratic Commission, one which will represent all classes, should be formed of the Mayor, a representative from the Board of Trade, the Trades and Labor Council and the Great War Veterans. The Act calls for a remuneration to be paid to the Commission. Mr. Whatley further stated that the Great War Veterans look for the 1920 Council to make some desirable changes this year.

SUBJECT TO ACTION OF CANADIAN WHEAT BOARD

(Special to The Examiner.)

WINNIPEG, Jan. 15.—It was reported that the action of the Canadian Wheat Board in raising the prices of wheat and flour is prejudicing the export business of the Canadian mills. These subjects are under discussion at a meeting of the Dominion Millers' Association here this week. The Canadian mills are losing the trade with the West Indies, which has been developed with much head work and expense, but with the price they are now compelled to pay for wheat, they cannot compete with the American standard flour and grades of flour. The Canadian Government top high in price for tropical markets.

THE BRITISH EAST BY DR. FREDERICK

INTERESTING ADDRESS AT THE BOARD OF TRADE THIS EVENING.

This evening at 8 o'clock Dr. Ernest V. Frederick will address the Board of Trade on "Oriental Traffics and Discoveries." Much interest is taken in this address by the Board on account of Dr. Frederick's highly creditable record as a special medical and military officer. He had unique opportunities of studying inter-British trade and industry, in which he takes much interest. Dr. Frederick served during the entire period of the war with the British forces, and his travellings covered some 80,000 miles.

The meeting will be in the Council Room of the Board. Attendance is necessarily limited to members and their personal guests. Each Thursday evening is set aside for addresses by members of the Board on subjects directly bearing upon the better industrial and civic development of the city.

George A. Gillespie and W. H. Pretty, C.E., are to speak on January 22nd, and R. M. Morley, of Toronto, will speak on the Ontario Safety League on the 29th.

Dr. Angus W. McPherson, Public Health Officer, has accepted the Board's invitation to speak on the good health of the city on Thursday evening, February 5th.

RAILWAY MEN WILL ACCEPT

(Canadian Press.)

LONDON, Jan. 15.—Delegates of the Railwaymen's Unions have accepted the Government's offer in the settlement of the wage demands made by the employees in the lower grades of the service.

After the close of this morning's meeting of delegates, J. H. Thomas, the general secretary, said:

"The conference has decided, by a very narrow majority, to accept the Government's offer."

Mr. Thomas stated there was considerable difference of opinion among delegates until the last moment, and the result was doubtful. He hoped the men would accept it as an honorable settlement, as it marked a new departure in industrial questions.

SEVENTY KILLED AND ONE HUNDRED WOUNDED—RIOTING WAS RENEWED YESTERDAY.

PUNISH THE GUILTY

(United Press.)

LONDON, Jan. 15.—Rioting was renewed in Berlin yesterday, despatches received here early to-day said.

The military authorities have ordered additional reinforcements to protect the city.

The toll of Tuesday's fighting in front of the Reichstag, it was semi-officially announced, was 41 killed, and 105 wounded. Some eye witnesses, according to despatches, thought the total casualties might be considerably larger.

Despatches received in official quarters here indicated the outbreak on Tuesday was not of a revolutionary nature, although some fear was expressed that revolutionary out breaks might develop.

It was emphasized here that the German government must deal carefully with the situation because of the extreme bitterness attending the various labor agitations, particularly the railway strike.

Was Unexpected.

Tuesday's fatal rioting, despatches to-day showed, broke out with unusual suddenness. A despatch from the United Press correspondent, filed at 12 p.m. Tuesday, just before the fighting started, said tremendous crowds had gathered in front of the Reichstag, but were orderly.

The people gathered in response to calls from their leaders, the correspondent said, but the despatch did not indicate fear of rioting. The Reichstag new police force, armed with machine guns, which, the correspondent wrote, "apparently will find no work to do."

"The crowds are remarkably calm," he said. "Most factories closed at noon, the workers marching in long lines toward the Reichstag building to join in the demonstration against the Workmen's Councils Bill delay."

Within three hours after this despatch was filed, the same "remarkably calm" crowd had turned into a mob which attempted to destroy the Reichstag. The scene of the quiet demonstration had become a shambles, with many killed and wounded.

70 Dead.

A despatch from the United Press correspondent filed at six o'clock said at that time 70 were reported dead and more than 100 wounded. Owing to disturbed conditions in Germany, brought about by the rioting and strikes, the Allies were seriously considering withholding of presentation of lists of German war guilty, whose surrender for trial by Allied tribunals will be demanded, it was learned from authoritative sources.

Demand for the German war guilty at this time, it was said, might precipitate further outbreaks, increasing the danger to the present German government, which the Allies are anxious to have remain in control.

Premiers Lloyd George and Clemenceau, it was emphasized, will not give up their plan for ultimate surrender of the German war duty, but will not insist upon fulfilment of the clause of the peace treaty until internal conditions in Germany become calmer. Government leaders to-day were understood to be reviewing the German situation, with the view to demanding surrender of the German war guilty as soon as internal conditions in the Teuton republic will warrant.

Abandon Plan.

On suggestion, it was understood, was that the allies abandon their plan of trying the accused Germany before Allied courts martial and ask Germany to try them before her own Supreme Court. This scheme, its adherents pointed out, would have the advantage of preventing a German government crisis, and at the same time would serve the Allied purpose of exposing the guilty of the former German leaders to the world.

"We are firm in our determination to punish the guilty Germans," one British authority declared. "Their surrender is as much a part of the treaty as any other clauses. It was signed by the Germans with full realization of its consequences. However, for the good of the Allies we desire to make execution of this clause as easy as possible for the present German government, and we are canvassing every possibility to that end.

The Next Session

GOVERNMENT IS ANXIOUS TO RETURN TO PRE-WAR CONDITIONS

MEET IN MARCH

(Special to Examiner.)

TORONTO, Jan. 15. — The next session of the Legislature will see Ontario back to normal in the matter of legislation. The desire manifested by the British and Dominion governments to get away from war conditions and return so far as possible to peace conditions, is being reflected in the Drury government.

Former Provincial Treasurer McGarry has removed the war tax of 1 mill on the dollar payable by all Ontario municipalities to the Provincial government. The only step now necessary to bring Ontario's laws back to a pre-war footing is the repeal of the moratorium act. This step will without doubt be taken during the next session of the legislature, which according to Premier Drury should assemble about the middle of March. It is possible, but not likely that the act may be repealed before that time. It is understood, however, that the present intention of the government is to refrain from amending the act at the next session. This would have to be done to retain it in force for another year and in the absence of such an amendment the act will automatically expire 30 days after the conclusion of the session.

THE PETERBORO POSTMASTERSHIP

OTTAWA, Jan. 15. — Dr. Roche, head of the Civil Service Commission, stated to-day that the appointment of postmaster for Peterborough, would be finally disposed of in a short time. Dr. Roche intimated that in all probability the position would go to Mr. John Corkery, who is at present assistant postmaster in Peterborough.

QUIT MEAT IF YOUR KIDNEYS ACT BADLY

Take tablespoonful of Salts if Back Hurts or Bladder Bothers.

We are a nation of meat eaters and our blood is filled with uric acid, says a well-known authority, who warns us to be constantly on guard against kidney trouble.

The kidneys do their utmost to free the blood of this irritating acid, but become weak from the overwork; they get sluggish; the eliminative tissues clog and thus the waste is retained in the blood to poison the entire system.

When your kidneys ache and feel like lumps of lead, and you have stinging pains in the back or the urine is cloudy, full of sediment, or the bladder is irritable, obliging you to seek relief during the night; when you have severe headaches, nervous and dizzy spells, sleeplessness, acid stomach or rheumatism in bad weather, get from your pharmacist about four ounces of Jad Salts; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast each morning and in a few days your kidneys will act fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to flush and stimulate clogged kidneys to neutralize the acids in urine so it is no longer a source of irritation, thus ending urinary and bladder disorders.

Jad Salts is inexpensive and cannot injure; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink and nobody can make a mistake by taking a little occasionally to keep the kidneys clean and active.

The first air-brake patent was taken out by Westinghouse in 1872.

MY HEART IS FULL.

My heart is full of love for lovely things—
Bursting of buds and blossoming of bells:
Primroses drawn across dark woodland dells
In lanes of light; and all the tangled green
Of fossing elms blown in a leafy screen.

My heart is full of love for lovely things—
Rillets that laugh, gay lakes that dance and run,
And musing lakes too serious for fun;
And seas that mourn upon some lonely beach
Yearning a love forever out of reach.

My heart is full of love for lovely things—
The baby bird afraid, yet poised for flight:
The hint that hides somewhere in subtle night:
The robin trying once again his song
For that elusive note he's sought so long.

My heart is full of love for lovely things—
A child's laugh tremulous with tears; deep eyes
Of lover's lost in love's most dear surprise . . .
And when the day dawns dark I turn the hours
And snatch a golden joy from visioned flowers.

—Clara Maude Garrett.

BEST YEAR FOR P.E.I.

Co-operative Dairying Brought Excellent Returns.

(Canadian Press.)

CHARLOTTETOWN, P.E.I., Jan. 15.—That Prince Edward Island last year was a land flowing with milk and honey is evident from the reports submitted at the 25th annual Association here. It was the best year in the history of co-operative dairying; [illegible] million pounds of milk were supplied to the cheese and butter factories, an increase of six million pounds over 1918. The net value to patrons of cheese manufactures was $367,000, an increase of $140,000, and of butter, $380,000, with the same increase.

Stomach and Liver Trouble

Once the liver fails to filter the poisonous bile from the blood, there is a clogging up and poisoning of the whole system which causes many troubles to arise. Therefore, upon the liver, more than any other organ of the body, depends the general health.

Carelessness and neglect, and oftentimes wilful disregard of nature's laws cause the bowels become constipated, the liver inactive and the stomach upset. To bring the system back to its normal you should take Milburn's Laxa-Liver Pills. They liven up the liver, get the bowels back to their proper condition and tone up the stomach.

Mrs. G. L. Cackett, Enchant, Alta., writes:—"I have used Milburn's Laxa-Liver Pills and have found them good for both stomach and liver troubles. I have told others about your valuable medicine and they have used them with good results.

"They are also good for headache."

Milburn's Laxa-Liver Pills are 25c. a vial at all dealers or mailed direct on receipt of price by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

60TH WEDDING ANNIVERSARY OF MR. AND MRS. JOSEPH C. BARNARD

A very pleasing social event took place at the home of Mrs. Porter S. White, 511 Stewart Street, on Monday January 5th when Mr. and Mrs. Joseph C. Barnard celebrated their sixtieth wedding anniversary.

The occasion was made more interesting by a quite numerous family re-union, many of the immediate relatives being present. Mr. and Mrs. Barnard are life long residents of Peterboro county, having lived in South Monaghan up to the time when they removed to Peterboro, 22 years ago. Their country home would be remembered by many people as one of hearty hospitality, and they made hosts of friends. This was well attested to by the great number of callers who came during the day to pay their respects and the many who telegraphed or telephoned their congratulations. Rev. and Mrs. J. R. Webb greatly assisted in making the occasion a pleasant one by their presence throughout the entire day. Rev. Mr. Webb also closed the day with prayer, and at the request of Mr. and Mrs. Barnard, the singing of their old favorite hymn, "The Christian's Home in Glory." Representatives of the Murray street Baptist Church congregation were Dr. J. A. Morgan and Mr. Joseph Wearing.

WILL DISBAND EVERY MILITIA UNIT IN CANADA

COMPLETE CLEANING OF MILITARY SLATE FIRST STEP IN CREATION OF NEW FORCE.

The first step in the reorganization of the Canadian active militia is taken in the publication Saturday of an order laying down the general lines which will be followed in bringing the new force into being. The order is not concerned with details and gives no indication of the policy to be pursued in the matters of naming units, but it provides for the disbandment of every militia unit in Canada—a complete cleaning of the slate—and the immediate creation of the new force. "The rank and file being automatically discharged," says the order, "the commanding officer has a clear field for re-engagement in suitable ranks, and vacancies for new men of overseas experience, not former members of the unit."

Visited All Districts.

For some time past, a committee, of which Major-General Sir W. D. Otter, was chairman, and Major-Generals W. G. Gwatkin, Sir Edward Morrison, and Brigadier-Gen. A. G. L. McNaughton members, have been considering the question of reorganization. They have visited all the military districts of Canada, and it is understood that they have made recommendations with regard to the working out of the plan outlined in the order issued today. Today's order which is signed by Major-General E. C. Ashton, Adjutant-General, was recently passed by Militia Council.

It provides that a commanding officer, preferably with overseas service, will be selected, after due consultation with the old officers of each regiment, both overseas and Militia, to command the new unit. The new commanding officer will prepare a new slate of officers, with due regard to war service, previous military service, and qualifications, and will forward to headquarters recommendations for all officers on the strength not included in the new cadre. On receipt and approval of the above, a general order will be issued disbanding the regiment as of a certain date, for the purpose of reorganization. "This disbandment," says the statement, "will clear the situation, render free action possible in making new appointments and adjusting seniority, and will force decisions in the case of all officers on present strength who are not receiving appointments to the reorganized units, by transfer to another unit, appointment to the Corps Reserve, or to the Reserve of Officers, Canadian Militia, as otherwise, they automatically cease to be officers of the Active Militia."

"Peterborough Presents Possibilities Unsurpassed."

THURSDAY, JANUARY 15, 1920

A MERITED TRIBUTE .

The citizens of Peterboro generally will unite in congratulating Rev. Canon Davidson, rector of St. John's church upon his appointment by the Bishop of Toronto as Archdeacon of Peterboro, succeeding Venerable Archdeacon Warren who in turn succeeds Rev Canon Cody as Archdeacon of York. The promotion of Rev. Canon Davidson as one of the three archdeacons in the diocese is a high honour for the rector of Peterboro and is a merited tribute to the zeal and energy which he has displayed at all times during his long service. That he has been singled out by the Bishops at Toronto for this important promotion should be a source of satisfaction to his many friends in Peterboro who will look upon it as a recognition of faithful work on behalf of his church and of humanity.

CENTRALIZED EXECUTIONS.

After the depressing effect of yesterday's double execution Peterboro people are in a mood today to thoroughly endorse the suggestion of Mayor Mowatt, M.P., of Parkdale that in so far as Ontario is concerned the carrying out of the death sentence on all condemned prisoners should take place in the Penitentiary at Kingston. If capital punishment is to continue these is no reason why the gloom and distress that an ecutiop is to be commended in the should not be confined within the grim walls of the Penitentiary, instead of having many towns and cities upset during each year. On all counts the centralization of executions is to be commended, in the matter of expense alone there is sufficient cause for the adoption of the Mowatt plan, for the cost of extra guards and all the other expenses that the counties have to meet would be avoided if condemned prisoners were removed immediately after their trial to the Penitentiary to await the carrying out of the sentence there.

THE ARMENIAN FUND

Peterboro was stirred to its depths by the legal killing of two young foreigners yesterday; yet the story that comes from Armenia, where thousands of women and children are daily dying from starvation is far more horrible than yesterday's execution. The reports of conditions in Armenia are so terrible that it would be almost impossible to credit them, were it not that the personal narratives of those who have observed the horror for themselves, are confirmed by the official reports.

Thankful is the Examiner to be able to say that there has already been a response to its appeal on behalf of the suffering women and children of Armenia. A number of citizens has sent in donation,s appreciating the greatness or the need and the necessity of immediate action. That is the point that the Examiner wishes to drive home to its readers—that assistance must come quickly if the aid is not to be too late. Every day's delay means the death of more innocent victims; on the other hand every donation may mean the saving of life. The people of Peterboro are urged to give every dollar that they can spare for this fund for Armenia's need is greater than that of any of the countries stricken by the war. No newspaper recital of the situation in the stricken country can begin to adequately portray the utter horror of the conditions for no description could equal the awfulness of the suffering of the people.

Donations given today will be of much more service than next week. Send in your subscriptions quickly to the Examiner.

THE METHODS OF PATRONAGE

That there is any ground for suspicion of crookedness, or even of undue exercise of the patronage privilege, in connection with the purchase of motor trucks by the provincial public works department, is highly improbable. All the same the ventilation of the incident in the press is likely to do good, for it shows that there is room for improvement in the methods employed by the department in the purchase of supplies.

Hon. F. C. Biggs, minister of public works, explains that the $100,000 order for these trucks was issued in the usual way, after the customary routine had been followed. "It has not been the practice of my department," he explains, "to advertise for tenders. I have not been able to trace anything that would show tenders were ever advertised for."

The explanation is not satisfactory, though it is perhaps excusable. Mr. Biggs cannot be expected to make all desirable changes in the conduct of his department within a few weeks of his taking charge. But he should consider that he and his colleagues and their supporters have been bitterly criticizing the manner in which public business has been conducted by the old-party governments and promising to make a clean sweep of fossilized methods—to pull the machine out of the old ruts and set it going on a better path. To plead, as a reason for doing business in an objectionable way, that that is the way it has always been done, is not in harmony with the reforming spirit with which Mr. Biggs and his farmer colleagues went into politics and took office.

Without any wrongful motive firms and agents may be secretely invited by departmental officials, acting under instructions from the head of the department, to submit tenders. But that is one of the methods adopted in the distribution of political patronage, which the Drury cabinet is pledged to abolish. It has the appearance of evil, and the Drury government should avoid the very appearance of evil if they would escape suspicion. Let them advertise for tenders for all supplies.—Hamilton Herald.

CRITICIZING THE GOVERNMENT.

The Farmers' Sun grows a little peevish because several incidents that have occurred recently in connection with the new government have been given considerable prominence in Ontario newspapers.

"Last week there was a furore over the Middlesex registrarship," says the Sun. "This week there is a tempest in a teapot over the purchase of motor trucks by the Hon. F. C. Biggs. There is evidently a wholehearted desire on the part of the Party Press to embarrass the Drury administration. They carefully point out the former political associations of every individual that transacts business with the Government and then proclaim from the housetops that he used to be a dyed-in-the-wool Grit or a hide-bound Tory or that he lives in a Minister's riding or is acquainted with his mother-in-law's second cousin or some other dreadful thing. The Government is "carrying on," and will continue to do so in spite of the opposition of old-time party papers."

The Sun must get used to criticism. The party of which it is the official organ is now in power, and must expect its actions to be judged in the light of the platform upon which it appealed to the people. One of these was the abolition of patronage, and the Sun should not be surprised that there has been comment on the awarding of a motor truck contract without any tenders being advertised for, particularly when it appears that the man who got the contract is a constituent of the Hon. F. C. Biggs, and that the transaction was a profitable one.

During periods of commercial depressions pennies accumulate in the treasuries, but when trade revives they flow out rapidly.

FAT LADY IS TOO BIG TO GET IN WITNESS BOX

MONTREAL, Jan. 15.—When Emma Ruza, the fat woman, who was one of the attractions at the museum, 95 St. Lawrence, was called as a witness in the case of Leon Gervais, it was found she could not get into the box which has a floor space of one square yard, and the entrance to which is 30 inches wide. She tried it sideways without success, and was about to attempt it at another angle, when the boards began to creak ominously and the Court hurriedly decided to hear her evidence from the floor. Though she weighs 350 pounds her voice was that of a child. Julia Clarke, a tatooed woman, also gave evidence.

The case is one of alleged assault by the police on Leon Gervais in the course of a raid on the museum because a three-card game was, it is alleged, was being carried on there.

In evidence, a witness referred to "a young lady," and the girl pointed to herself, exclaiming with a laugh, "I am a young lady."

When sentenced to three months' imprisonment, she laughed.

SANDRA THE JEALOUS

BY JANE PHELPS

EVERETT TELLS SANDRA OF LEOLA

CHAPTER XX

"Another proof of guilt," I thought as I realized the pictures were missing. "Why it was like a fiction story!" I was sure I never had read one quite like it. There ran thru my mind even then that if I had to leave Everett, I would be ashamed to go home. Ashamed to face all the boys and girls who had known me all my life. What an awful thing for me. Only seventeen! and my life ruined.

Then such anguish went thru me that I nearly fainted.

Dinner time came at last, and with it came Everett. He looked tired and talked but little. I thought dinner would never end. At last we were seated in the library before the fire with our coffee. I moved my chair so that I could look at him, and then when we were alone I asked without preamble:

"Who is the lovely woman whose pictures are in your bureau-drawers, Everett?" My voice trembled a little in spite of all I could do.

He gave a perceptible start.

"What pictures? And what were you doing in my things?"

"Mother always tidies dad's chiffonier so I thought I would do the same for you." I answered the last question first so that I might gain time to steady my voice a little. "The pictures were of a beautiful woman. On the back of one it said 'From Leola to Everett.' What an odd name, Leola," I repeated.

Something very like a groan broke from Everett.

"As well now as some other time," he said in a low voice, but I realized he was talking to himself; that he had not meant me to hear. I said nothing, but waited, every nerve in my body quivering with excitement.

"Sit over there." He pointed to a chair where he could look at me, but where it would be impossible for me to see his face.

Reluctantly I obeyed.

"I meant to tell you before. It is your right to know. But you were so young that I waited a while hoping you might become accustomed to me and so better able to understand what I am going to tell you."

He waited so long that I thought he had changed his mind, and stirred uneasily. I was all a-thrill with the wonder, the something akin to fear of what was coming; the story my husband was about to tell me.

He took from his pocket the two pictures I had mentioned. He looked at them, then opened a drawer in a little table at his elbow and laid them in it.

"Yes, Leola is an unusual name; and she was an unusual woman. She was my wife. We married when I was thirty, she was twenty-six. I was jealous. She was imprudent and would brook no restraint. We quarreled constantly. Yet —I loved her," his voice trailed off dreamily for a moment as if he had forgotten me, "and she loved me. But she was strong willed," his voice cold and calm again, "and so was I. Our fierce love-making was interrupted by fiercer quarrels—always because of some indiscretion of hers, and because of my jealousy which she aroused. I was rich, she was a brilliant woman. Society laughed at her indiscretions, calling them eccentricities. She knew this and it made her careless—careless of herself, and of me."

Again he waited what seemed an unconscionable time before he went on while I waited breathless, forgetting it was my husband who was talking, thinking only of the story he was telling me.

"One day she met a man who seemed to attract her more even than others had done. I accused her and she only laughed. My impression was confirmed when one day I found him making love to her. She was laughing, sure, of her fascinations and careless that she hurt him, as she was indifferent to my anguish. That night we quarreled worse than ever before. We both said cruel bitter things—I shall never cease to hear them yet. I know now I knew then, that Leola was good and true. In my heart, I never doubted her."

To-morrow—More About Leola.

WHAT AND WHY IS

Group Insurance?

It is an inexpensive means of insuring the lives of all your employees individually by a single small premium.

It involves no medical inspection and it costs about 75 cents a month for each $1,000 of insurance carried.

It has arisen from the desire of business firms to do something substantial for their employees, and so promote goodwill and avoid constant changes in the payroll.

It has been widely adopted by far-seeing industrial executives.

REDUCES VALUE OF SILVER COINS TO THWART THEIR SALE AS BULLION

CANADA'S SILVER WAS WORTH SO MUCH THAT IT WAS DISAPPEARING FOLLOWING HIGH PRICES FOR BAR SILVER.

The silver content in Canadian coins is greatly reduced by an order published in The Canada Gazette, which states that "on and after January 1, 1920, the standard for silver coins of the currency of Canada shall be that of one thousand parts of weight; eight hundred shall be of fine silver and two hundred of alloy."

The former standard was 925 parts of fine silver to 75 of alloy, and at that rate Canadian and British silver coins had the highest silver content of those of any country. The U.S. silver coinage contains 900 parts silver.

Sir Henry Drayton, Minister of Finance, stated that this would bring Canadian coinage to the same level as that of many other countries, and would check any melting of silver coins for the sale of silver. With the rise in the price of bar silver to such an extent, many Canadian silver coins had been disappearing from circulation, and it was a practical certainty that they were being melted down and the metal sold as bullion.

Asked if the unfavorable exchange rate had any bearing on the matter, Sir Henry replied that it had none. People in the United States refused to accept Canadian coinage, he said, so the exchange rate had no effect whatever.

CUT THIS OUT

OLD ENGLISH RECIPE FOR CATARRH, CATARRHAL DEAFNESS AND HEAD NOISES

If you know of some one who is troubled with Catarrhal Deafness, head noises or ordinary catarrh cut out this formula and hand it to them and you may have been the means of saving some poor sufferer perhaps from total deafness. In England scientists for a long time past have recognized that catarrh is a constitutional disease and necessarily requires constitutional treatment.

Sprays, inhalers and nose douches are liable to irritate the delicate air passages and force the disease into the middle ear which frequently means total deafness, or else the disease may be driven down the air passages towards the lungs which is equally as dangerous. The following formula which is used extensively in the damp English climate is a constitutional treatment and should prove especially efficacious to sufferers here who live under more favorable climate conditions.

Secure from your druggist 2 ounce of Parmint (Double strength). Take this home and add to it ½ pint of hot water and a little granulated sugar; stir until dissolved. Take one tablespoonful four times a day. This will often bring quick relief from distressing head noises. Clogged nostrils should open, breathing become easy and hearing improve as the inflammation in the eustachian tubes is reduced. Parmint used in this way acts directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system and has a tonic action that helps to obtain the desired results. The preparation is easy to make, costs little and is pleasant to take. Every person who has catarrh or head noises or is hard of hearing should give this treatment a trial.

PRESBYTERIANS OF SPRINGVILLE HELD ANNUAL MEETING

The annual meeting of Springville Presbyterian Church was held in the Church yesterday afternoon and not withstanding the severe weather a good attendance of members were present.

Rev. G. I. Craw, pastor presided gave the session report explaining the forward movement as now before the church.

Reports were received from the many organizations: Sunday School, Christian Endeavour, Ladies Aid, Auxiliary, Mission Band, Treasurer, all of which showed great activity during 1919. The Treasurers report given by R. A. Robertson revealed that the response made by the congregation to the different appeals for financial support was the most generous in the history of the church, and closing the year with the substantial balance of over $600.00.

Messrs. Brude Elliott: Ira Robson: Alex. M. Laing and Walter Brown, were elected to the Board of Managers.

The auditors for the coming year are W. J. Laing and J. F. Clarke.

A decision was reached regarding the new hymnal and same will be introduced to the congregation in the near future.

The congregation looks forward to even a greater year in 1920.

A grand concert will be given in the church on Friday evening January 16.

ENJOYABLE SOCIAL ST. JAMES' CHURCH

TWO SUNDAY SCHOOL CLASSES TOOK PART.

A very enjoyable tea was given in St. James' Methodist church last evening by two Sunday school classes —the "Cheerful Workers" and the "Gleaners," to the members of the congregation.

Mrs. J. N. Welbourn and Mrs. Thos. Brown, the teachers of the entertaining classes, welcomed the large gathering and the guests seated themselves quite informally for a social hour.

The musical and literary programme was excellent. Rev. Mr. Chapman, the pastor, presided. The following was the programme:

Address, Mr A. S. Prest, S. S. Superintendent.
Selection, Orchestra.
Trio, Nellie Payne, Marion Lambton and Max Sanders.
Solo, Master Ashton Fife.
Duet, Misses Violet Cuffe and Verna Manley.
Recitation, Mrs. Nicholls.
Trio, Mrs. Bonney, Mrs. Hill and Mr. Welbourne.
Piano solo, Miss Stuart.
Recitation, Mrs. Barton.
Selection, the orchestra.
Solo, Miss Florence Emmerson.
Recitation, Ashton Fife.
Trio, Nellie Payne, Marion Lambton and Max Sanders.
Duet, Mr and Mrs. Barton.
Trio, Mrs. Bonney, Mrs. Hill and Mr. Welbourne.
Chorus, "The Gleaners' Bible Class."
Solo, Mr. Barton.
Selection, Orchestra.

A beautiful autograph quilt, the product of "The Gleaners" was exhibited and sold, realizing a goodly sum for the class funds.

The doors to the tea-room were then thrown open showing the prettily decorated tea tables.

The class members were most hospitable throughout, making this unique "get-acquainted" tea a splendid success.

How To Keep Age Lines and Wrinkles Away

Don't forget that the woman who smiles will have a skin more free from wrinkles than the woman who frowns. When wrinkles begin to appear it is a good plan to bathe the face once a day for awhile in a harmless solution made by dissolving an ounce of powdered saxolite in a half pint of witch hazel.

This is remarkably effective in erasing the hateful lines, not only because of its astringent action which tightens the skin and irons out the lines, but also because of a helpful tonic effect which improves capillary circulation and nerve tone. There is nothing beter for flabby cheeks or chin. Be sure to ask the druggist for the powdered saxolite.

THE UNITED CHURCH SERVICES

The Call of God to the Churches of To-day.

The united services between George street Methodist and St. Paul's Presbyterian churches will be continued to-night and Friday night. The Rev. R. J. M. Glassford, who has been conducting the meetings, will speak both evenings. Parents are requested to plan for a large attendance of the young on Friday evening. Mr. Glassford had to speak at a Forward Movement service last night in Prescott. In his absence, the Rev. R. Pogue conducted the service and spoke on God's call to repentance as given by the prophet Hosea in the 14th chapter of his prophecy. Israel was God's covenant people and might well stand for the church of God to-day. Like Israel the people of God to-day frequently heed the siren calls of the world and turn away from fellowship with God and the service of God. The message of God through Hosea to sinning Israel is His message to His back-sliding people to-day. He said: "O Israel return unto the Lord thy God." God longs for the restoration of His people. He knew the loss to them of life in the far country. They lost His fellowship, His love, His peace. There is no peace to those who are living in sin. His call is a call to return. It is a call to the prayerless to become prayerful, to the thoughtless to bcome thoughtful, to those who have neglected the Word of God to begin to read it, to those who have failed in their duties to the sinful and the needy to devote themselves in service to others. It was a call, not so much to reformation as to restoration, restoration to the favor and love and service of God. To all such God makes a three-fold promise in this chapter. He says first: "I will heal their back-sliding." Second, "I will love them freely." Third, "I will be as the dew to Israel." Of this last promise the speaker said: "What a copious fall of dew would be to the tender crops during a long drought, that God's love will be to the souls that are parched and weary and homesick. To return unto God is to return unto love and home."

To the Members of the Association:

The Executive Committee beg leave to present the following report for 1919:

The year has been uneventful as far as the local Bar is concerned. In March Mr. C. P. Widdifield, who after his return from the front, returned to his practice with the firm of Gordon, Widdifield & O'Brien, was appointed City Solicitor, and is now practicing alone.

During the summer, Mr. J. F. P. Birnie, who was associated in practice with Mr. R. R. Hall, entered into partnership with Mr. W. H. Wright, of Owen Sound.

The library has now been furnished with a new, up-to-date catalogue, which makes it one of the best Law Libraries in the Province.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

F. D. KERR,
President.
JOS. WEARING,
Secretary.

The following officers were elected for the year 1920:
President: Ozias Laplante.
Vice-Pres.: S. T. Medd.
Treas.: J. F. Strickland.
Sec. and Librarian: Joseph Wearing.
Trustees: E. H. D. Hall, G. N. Gordon, R. R. Hall.

ACTIVITIES AT THE Y.M.C.A.

The annual meeting of the Y. M. C. A. will be held next Monday evening, Jan. 19th, at 7 o'clock. Supper will be served for those who care to take advantage of it, and the members of the Business Men's Gymnasium Class are urged to plan to stay through for the annual meeting. The Board of Directors' meeting will be held immediately at the close of the annual meeting.

The National Convention of the Young Men's Christian Associations in Canada is being held in Toronto next week, January 20th to 22nd. Two of the outstanding features of the convention will be the sessions on Wednesday evening, when Charles R. Towuson, the International Secretary for Industrial Work, will speak, and on Thursday evening, when the gathering will be addressed by John R. Mott, general secretary of the association movement. Peterborough should be well represented at the convention on account of the fact that it is being held in Toronto.

A wrestling class has been started for senior members, scheduled for Monday evenings at 7 o'clock. Mr. H. B. Cowan is in charge, assisted by Mr. Will Scott. The Senior Class is planning a snow-shoe tramp next Tuesday night, when it is hoped that a big crowd of those who enjoy this splendid outdoor pastime will be on hand with their lady friends. Those of the class who prefer to skate are invited to come to the association afterwards, when a pleasant sociable programme will be arranged.

Wednesday night of next week will be the big night of the City Basketball League, when a double header will be played, the last game being between the Belmont Club and Cressman's. This game will practically decide the championship, and great interest is being taken by all the fans.

The largest single piece of ambergris known to whaling annals weighed 780 pounds and sold for $100,000.

Mothers!
NEVER NEGLECT WHOOPING COUGH

Many mothers make the mistake of thinking that whooping cough is not of serious importance, but unfortunately this mistake often leads to the neglect of this dangerous child's disease.

Never neglect whooping cough, for it may be followed by some serious lung trouble.

Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup is highly recommended by mothers everywhere for the relief of this trouble. It will clear the clogged-up air passage of the mucous and phlegm that has collected in in this way bring on the "whoop" which bring the so-much-sought-for relief.

Mrs. Francis Burlingham, New Gate, B.C., writes: "This spring three of my children took the whooping cough, and they had it so bad I thought they would choke. I was getting pretty worried when my sister wrote me, telling me to try Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup. I sent for some right away, and, believe me, I will never forget how it worked. I will always have it in my house."

There are many imitations of Dr. Wood's on the market. Get the genuine when you ask for it. It will pay in the end. Put up in a yellow wrapper; 3 pine trees the trade mark; price 25c and 50c. Manufactured only by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 15.—Poland is the only bulwark against Bolshevism, said eGneral Bliss, who appeared before a committee to discuss the proposed loan of $150,000,000 for food relief in Europe. THE BANKRUPT SALE AT SIMMONS' FUR STORE

SLASHING THE PRICES ON ALL FUR GOODS AND LADIES' READY-TO-WEAR.

A most unusual opportunity has presented itself to our citizens by the announcement made in to-day's issue of the Bankrupt Sale which opens tomorrow at the Simmons' Fur Store, in the Arcade Market Block, George street. At the Assignee's sale held last Monday, the stock of fur muffs, stoles neckpieces, and ladies' winter coats, dresses and winter millinery, was sold to Mr. H. Simmons at the phenomenal low price of thirty-seven and a half cents on the dollar. This low figure naturally affords an unusual opportunity for remarkable bargains to the public. The entire stock is now offered at prices that should create bumper sales. When an opportunity like this comes to Peterborough there should not be any hesitation with those who have such needs to be supplied. The goods have all been reticketed with prices that tell the tale of bargains.

Mr. Simmons is confident the public will be quick to see that anything like present labelled prices could only be made possible through the unparalleled low price paid for the stock. 1d-11-1w4.

A REVIVAL AT MARK'S CHURCH

The services continue each evening with increasing interest. On Tuesday evening the pastor was assisted by the Rev. Mr. Chapman, of St. James' church, who gave a most inspiring address.

Rev. Mr. Thomas of George street church will address the meeting this evening and a powerful meeting is anticipated. There will be a song service, commencing at seven-thirty o'clock. A hearty invitation is extended to all to be present and enjoy the meeting.

Use Cocoanut Oil For Washing Hair

If you want to keep your hair in good condition, be careful what you wash it with.

Don't use prepared shampoos or anything else, that contains too much alkali. This dries the scalp, makes the hair brittle, and is very harmful. Just plain mulsified cocoanut oil (which is pure and entirely greaseless), is much better than anything else you can use for shampooing, as this can't possibly injure the hair.

Simply moisten your hair with water and rub it in. One or two teaspoonfuls will make an abundance of rich, creamy, lather, and cleanses the hair and scalp thoroughly. The lather rinses out easily, and removes every particle of dust, dirt, dandruff and excessive oil. The hair dries quickly and evenly, and it leaves it fine and silky, bright, fluffy and easy to manage.

You can get mulsified cocoanut oil at most any drug store. It is very cheap and a few ounces is enough to last everyone in the family for months.

THRIFT WEEK, JANUARY 17TH TO 24TH.

Starting on Saturday of this week, January 17th, the Young Men's Christian Association will observe through its 2500 branches located in all parts of Canada and the United States a "Thrift Week" for the purpose of setting forth the advantage of making a budget, keeping a record of expenditures, having a bank account, taking out life insurance, making a will, owning a home, paying bills promptly and sharing with others.

The local Press has very kindly consented to co-operate with the Peterborough Y.M.C.A. in presenting to the citizens generally the series of articles which have been carefully prepared in connection with the Thrift Campaign, and each day during the week a different phase of the camp question will be considered.

The slogan of the week and of the economic programme of the Y.M.C.A. is "Master Money Matters or They Will Master You."

The Semi-Annual Lonely Sale of Men's Clothing

Straight-Forward Reductions on Coats and Suits

A year ago to-day an advertisement similar to this one appeared, announcing the Semi-Annual Lonely Sale of Men's Clothing. It brought many people to our Clothes Shop. We can divide them into two classes — those who came prepared to purchase, for they had patronized this sale before, and those who had not and were curious. We satisfied their curiosity, and we venture to say that they will be on hand again, for they know that the reductions are genuine. Remember the Semi - Annual Lonely Sale is not the sort of event that tries to overbalance your judgment with such assertions as "Hurrah! Prices Were Never Lower."

Its values are real because the garments are the last of their kind (hence the name Lonely) after a season of busy selling.

Many men have been waiting for a drop in price. It has come, but only while this Semi-Annual Lonely Sale is in progress. Unfortunately any permanent reduction is impossible, for production does not meet the demand. So this old-established sale of ours again offers opportunities to reduce your clothing expenditure. The man with foresight will take advantage of this lapse in the high cost of clothing and purchase not only for his present but also for his future needs. This event commences to-morrow morning, and will continue throughout the remainder of the month, and, as usual, first buyers will have a wider and more select range to choose from.

APPOINTMENT IS A HIGH HONOUR FOR CANON DAVIDSON

BECOMES ARCHDEACON OF PETERBORO AFTER LONG SERVICE IN THE CHURCH---HAS BEEN RECTOR OF PETERBORO SINCE 1890.

HIS OVERSEAS SERVICE

Yesterday it was announced that Rev. Canon Davidson, rector of St. John's church had been honoured by the Bishops of Toronto by being appointed Archdeacon of Peterboro, a splendid tribute to his work in the city. The news was gratifying to Rev. Canon Davidson's many friends.

The new Archdeacon of Peterboro was educated at Trinity College School, Port Hope and at Trinity College, Toronto, from which he graduated with the degree of M.A., in 1884. He was ordained deacon in Holy Trinity Church, Toronto, after the priesthood in St. Paul's Cathedral, England, by Archbishop Temple. Canon Davidson was then appointed missionary in Sunderland, Ont., and after serving there for some time returned to England where he received two years practical training at Teddington, a suburb of London.

He then returned to Canada and became incumbent at Colborne, leaving there he came to Peterboro in 1889 as curate at St. John's during the illness of the rector, Rev. J. W. R. Beck. In December 1889 at the request of the congregation he was inducted as rector on Jan. 12th, 1890, filling that position up to the present time.

In 1904 he was appointed Rural Dean of Northumberland, serving for three years during which he systematically visited the deaneries. In 1909 he was appointed Canon. He has twice preached before the Synod of Toronto, the last time in 1919.

Rev. Canon Davidson was appointed Chaplain of the 57th Regiment, Peterboro Rangers in 1896 and is now the third Chaplain in seniority in Canada with the rank of Honourary Major. In 1915 he was chosen as Chaplain of the 93rd overseas battalion, accompanying the unit to England. He was then appointed Chaplain of the Ontario Hospital at Orphington and afterwards of No. 3 Canadian Stationary Hospital in France. He was recalled to Peterboro after two years service as the result of an urgent message from the congregation of St. John's.

His appointment is one whom his many friends will congratulate him.

THE CALL FROM ARMENIA

MINISTERIAL ASSOCIATIAN PROTESTS POSSIBILITY OF "UNSPEAKABLE TURK" AGAIN SECURING DOMINATION IN ARMENIA ---TERRIBLE CONDITIONS DESCRIBED BY CABLES FROM SCENE OF SUFFERING---PEOPLE PERSECUTED FOR THEIR ADHERENCE TO CHRISTIANITY.

At the meeting of the Methodist Ministerial Association held in Toronto, after conside ration of the Armenian situation, a committee, consisting of Revs. Dr. S. D. Chown, General Superintendent; E. B. Lanceley, President Methodist Ministerial Association; Dr. W. H. Hincks, and Dr. W. R. Young, was unanimously appointed to draft a resolution dealing with the matter.

The following is the report of the committee adopted yesterday:

"Owing to the failure of the United States' Government to ratify the Treaty of Peace, and which failure has removed the powerful influence of the great Republic in the settlement of the Near East question;

"And owing to the reports that have come to us through the Press and other sources as to the possibility of reinstatement of Turkey as an autonomous power in Europe, which involves Turkish control over Armenia;

'And recalling the recent bloody persecution of the Armenians;

"We the members of the Methodist Ministerial Association, would emphatically protest against any such reinstatement of Turkish rule as would make possible a repetition of the unspeakable atrocities of the past in relation to Armenia.

"Our country gave of her best in men, some fifty-five thousand of whom laid down their lives on the field of battle, and our people made heroic sacrifices and contributed millions in money to destroy any form of despotism that would interfere with civil and religious liberty in all parts of the world.

"We would respectfully urge on other religious bodies, our Universities, our Empire and Canadian Clubs, our Boards of Trade, the Daughters of the Empire, and all similar organizations to unite in a similar protest.

"And further, that we would respectfully request our Provincial and Dominion Governments to join with us in this protest, and to urge upon his Majesty's representative in this Dominion to forward our protest to the Imperial authorities."

Population in Desperate Straits.

Here are excerpts(from telegrams just received from Armenia. They carry their own appeal:

"The entire population of the Caucasus, consisting of two and a half million, is in desperate straits on account of the shortage of food, business paralysis and political agitation.

"The streets are lined with shivering beggars. The cold, bleak winter increases suffering. Armenian refugees are barefooted, and their clothing consists of bits of sacking wrapped around their emaciated bodies. Tiny children wear ony the shreds of filthy rags, and crouch on the streets, numb with cold, whimpering with pain. Often they are compelled to fight off the pariah dogs, which, driven by hunger, attacks any diving thing. Relief workers are gathering in the helpless who are too exhausted from the cold to even crawl for aid. Our workers every day come across dead bodies in corners where the poor people have dragged themselves seeking shelter from the wintry blasts."

Hunger Knows No Armistice.

"All along the railroads the freight cars are packed with refugees, massed together in an effort to keep warm. These cars drift back and forth from one place to another. They might be called death trains; it is a hopeless journey. Each new stopping place, these refugees find, is worse than the one before. At every railway station we see hundreds of starving refugees, huddled together and vainly hoping for a train to take them to some better place. There is no fuel, no coal, no food, only dreadful anticipation. Peace may come elsewhere in the world, but hunger knows no armistice."

They Are Christians Who Suffer.

Not for a heathen land is the plea made; not for .. wandering savage tribe, but for a nation that embraced the Christian religion centuries before the continent of North America was discovered, and a nation that, in spite of persecution the like of which the world has never known, has stood true to the Faith. Massacred, outraged and pillaged again and again by the unspeakable Turk, the people of Armenia still claim the name of Christian.

The Turk has done his worst. The Armenian girls, the most beautiful, the most industrious and the most intelligent of all the peoples that made up what was once the Ottoman Empire, have been torn from father and mother, brother and sister, and forced by thousands into his harem. Thousands have escaped, but with the brutal tattoo marks disfiguring their faces and proclaiming to the world their degradation.

The Appeal For Help.

And now they are starving. Dare men and women who call themselves Christians refuse to offer a helping hand? Is it possible to remain untouched? Can such an appeal go unheeded?

Send all gifts to Mr. W. H. Dunsford, Manager of the Peterborough Branch of the Bank of Commerce.

Subscriptions for the Armenian Fund may be left at the Bank of Commerce.

DRAFT EVADERS PAY $77,744 TO QUEBEC TREASURY IN FINES

STILL SOME COUNTIES TO HEAR FROM AND OTHERS TURNED MONEY OVER DIRECT TO FEDERAL AUTHORITIES.

QUEBEC, Jan. 15.—Judging by the amount of fines paid by draft evaders who were brought to court in Quebec Province their number must have been quite large, according to official figures that were given to the Quebec Legislature by the Hon. L. A. Taschereau, Attorney-General, who was answering questions asked by Mr. Arthur Sauve, Leader of the Opposition.

With reports from rural courts as yet incomplete, the total of fines paid in by draft evaders in the Province from June, 1918, totals the sum of $77,744. This only covers such cases as were reported to the Provincial Treasurer, said Mr. Tascheseau, and there still remain to be heard from in this connection, the following counties—Bonaventure, Gaspe, Matane, and St. Hyacinthe.

These figures do not include, either, the sums paid in fines by draft evaders belonging to the counties of Hull, Chicoutimi, Joliette, Kamouraska, Montmagny, Pontiac and Richelieu which reported their fines directly to the Federal Government at Ottawa.

HOW THE MONEY WAS EXPENDED

Appendend is the report of the treasurer, Mr. E. E. Brumwell as presented at the annual meeting of the Peterboro Horticultural Society held on Tuesday evening.

EXPLAINS OBJECT OF ASSOCIATION

On learning of the Mercantile Association, Mr. T. S. Wood of the Business Men's Protective Association interviewed Secretary Fraser at the Board of Trade and explained the objects of the association he represents.

The object of the association is the co-operation of exchange and legal services throughout the country.

The headquarters of the Association are located in Vancouver, B.C., of which Mr. Wood is general manager.

It was explained to Mr. Wood that the Mercantile Association was at present organizing to give a similar service to its members and a preventive measure has been adopted which will minimize considerably the necessity of such service.

Mr. Wood was assured that the Mercantile Association had no reason whatever to doubt his integrity or that of his Association.

Owing to the interest already shown by the merchants in the development of their association, Mr. Wood has deferred the solicition of members in Peterborough for his association.

CASTORIA

Fletcher's Castoria is strictly a remedy for Infants and Children. Foods are specially prepared for babies. A baby's medicine is even more essential for Baby. Remedies primarily prepared for grown-ups are not interchangeable. It was the need of a remedy for the common ailments of Infants and Children that brought Castoria before the public after years of research, and no claim has been made for it that its use for over 30 years has not proven.

What is CASTORIA?

Castoria is a harmless substitute for Castor Oil, Paregoric, Drops and Soothing Syrups. It is pleasant. It contains neither Opium, Morphine nor other narcotic substance. Its age is its guarantee. For more than thirty years it has been in constant use for the relief of Constipation, Flatulency, Wind Colic and Diarrhoea; allaying Feverishness arising therefrom, and by regulating the Stomach and Bowels, aids the assimilation of Food; giving healthy and natural sleep. SCIENCE PROVES THE DANGER OF BLEEDING GUMS

Medical science proves that unhealthy gums cause various ailments. People suffering from Pyorrhea (a disease of the gums) often suffer from other ills, such as rheumatism, anaemia, nervous disorders, or weakened vital organs. These ills have been traced in many cases to the Pyorrhea germs which breed in pockets about the teeth.

Four out of five people over forty have Pyorrhea. It begins with tender and bleeding gums. Then the gums recede, the teeth decay, loosen and fall out, or must be extracted to rid the system of the infecting Pyorrhea germs.

Guard your health and your teeth. Keep Pyorrhea away. Visit your dentist often for tooth and gum inspection, and make daily use of Forhan's For the Gums.

Forhan's For the Gums will prevent Pyorrhea—or check its progress—if used in time, and used consistently. Ordinary dentifrices cannot do this. Forhan's will keep the gums firm and healthy, the teeth white and clean.

SAVE THE OLD SHOES

A campaign to be launched by the National Shoe Retailers Association of U.S., estimated to save $300,000,000 by repairing all the old shoes.

Retail Shoe dealers are to be urged, not that new shoes be purchased, but that Old Shoes be dug out of the closets and repaired.

It is said that there are "millions of shoes in the closets of the nation, that, with a little repair, they can be made perfectly serviceable. If people will get out these old shoes it will reduce the shoe bills from more than $1,000,000,000 to $700,000,000."

What is true of the U.S., is true of Canada and of Peterborough. I am splendidly prepared to Repair all kinds of Old Shoes. Dig them out of the Closets and bring them here for a first-class job. We don't call it Shoes, we Repair them.

ANOTHER BIG JUNIOR GAME HERE ON MONDAY NIGHT

The Peterborough juniors have finished the first round with the Lindsay Midgets in great fashion and will start the next home-and-home series with the same club with the comfortable margin of four goals. Goals count on the four games, so that the young Petes are well ahead at the half-way mark. They were beaten by the narrowest possible margin last night after a ding-dong battle, and their showing in the first O.H.A. game that any of the local kids have played away from home was magnificent.

The Lindsay juniors will be here for the third game of the series on Monday night and every fan in town should be out pulling for the Petes. Those who saw the last game here are still talking about it and it is a safe bet that none of them will be absent on Monday, while hundreds of other fans who passed up the previous game will be on the job.

The intermediates, after a lay-off of over a week, start another offensive of three games in five days, commencing with the battle with Lindsay here to-morrow night. On Monday the Petes go back to Lindsay for the third game, and on Wednesday Cannington will play here.

TWO GOOD GAMES IN THE CITY LEAGUE PLAYED LAST EVENING

BELMONT CLUB AND C.G.E. TOOL-ROOM EACH WON A GAME.

The first game last night in the City League series between the Business College and Belmont Club, provided a lively battle for the fans from the first ring of the bell. The final score 9 to 8, give the Belmont one to the good, but the Students claim one of the Belmont goals should be disallowed. The teams lined up as follows:

Business College		Belmont Club
	Goal
Daynard		Darling
	Defence
Campbell		Head
Anderson		Murray
	Right Wing
Field		G Gillespie
	Left Wing

	Substitutes

The Second Game.

The second game, between the C. G.E. Tool-room and the Canadian Woollens, was a lively fixture from start to finish. The final round-up gave the Tool-room 6 and the Canadian Woollens 3. At the end of the first period the score was 3-0, at the end of the second 4-3. The line-ups were:

C.G.E. Tool-room		Can. Woolens
	Goal
George Butcher		Legros
	Centre
A. Butcher		Williams
	Defence
Helson		McMartin
Duggan		Tudhope
	Right Wing

CARPET BOWLING CONTESTS WERE A GREAT SUCCESS

FIRST AND SECOND ROUNDS WERE PLAYED OFF LAST EVENING.

SCOTLAND 46 TO 21 POINTS

A return visit of the Sons of England to the Woodmen of the World Hall last evening to play the Caledonian Club in a bowling match, resulted as follows:

First Game—Rink 1.

Scotland 15, England 4.

First Game—Rink 2.

Scotland 10, England 4.

Second Game—Rink 3.

Scotland 10, England 8.

Second Game—Rink 4.

Scotland 11, England 5.

The games were well contested and the decisions very close until the finish, when England would drop right away, thereby giving Scotland a substantial margin of 46 points to 21.

C. C. Bowling Tournament.

The finish of the first round of the Caledonian bowling tournament resulted as follows:

French 15, Thomson 4.
Veitch 15, Naples, senr. 9.
Haddow 15, P. McArthur 8.

The second round resulted as follows:

Hendry 17, Petrie 4.

All the rest got byes and run into the third round.

The third round will be played on Wednesday, 21st January, and all competitors are requested to be on hand at 7.30 prompt.

Notes.

'Twas an awfa nicht for Bill Tamson when he fell down to Bob French.

Bob Veitch and Naples, senr., had a very exciting time, as the score indicates, in spite of the fact Naples was picked as winner.

The oldest player playing was Peter Mc thur and if Peter had a little more practice he could beat any man in the tournament. Of course, he challenges any man to "chetkers."

After making such a good showing in first round Bill Petrie was defeated by Bob Hendrey by the score of 17 to 4 in the second round.

A GREAT GAME ASSURED WHEN LINDSAY COMES TO BROCK ST. RINK TO-MORROW

With fast ice assured for to-morrow's intermediate battle with Lindsay, there is every reason to look for a ding-dong struggle A win for Peterborough in this game will give them a clear two-game lead in the group race, while a loss will tie the two teams. With so much at stake, and with the old-time rivalry between the two teams, the game should be about the fastest of the season, and will attract a record crowd to Brock street rink.

The Petes had their final workout for the game last night and will have no excuses to offer if they are beaten to-morrow night, as they are apparently in good shape and ready to go the distance. The line-up will be about the same as in the Lindsay game, with the following players in line: Murray, P. Thornton, Halpin, L. Rose, Cherrett, Jackson, Evans, Harry Thornton. Lindsay have McPhee on the defence instead of Pete Spratt, with the lanky Flavelle alongside of him and Coombs, Carew and McElroy as the regular forward line. The Scugog gang will be accompanied by a big crowd of rooters and it will be a real oldtime night at the Brock street ice box.

JUNIORS' GREAT SHOWING IN GAME AT LINDSAY; HAVE LEAD ON ROUND

Peterborough's game little bunch of juniors have come through the first round with the Lindsay Midgets in grand style. Last night they played their first away-from-home game and were beaten 7 to 6 in Lindsay after a fast and hard fought battle that was in doubt until the final bell. The Petes have a lead of four goals on the first two games played and should add materially to it on Monday night when the third fight between the two clubs will be staged.

Last night's score should have really been a tie, for one of Lindsay's goals was scored after the timer's bell rang to end the second period. Referee Jacobi, however, failed to hear the gong and Lindsay found the nets before he stopped the play.

The Petes got away to a good start, outscoring Lindsay 3 to 2 in the first period.

The Midgets, got going in the second session, getting three goals while the Petes were blanked. In the last period the Petes came through with three counters, while Lindsay were getting two.

It was fast and exciting hockey from start to finish, with Lindsay inclined to rough it considerably. Chris. Bergoine played a nice game in the nets for the Petes, while Sheehan on the defence and Collins and Foley on the forward line were always prominent. Garnett, the big defence man, and Bell at centre, were Lindsay's best.

The teams were:

Referee—Jacobi.

Laugh When People Step On Your Feet

Try this yourself then pass it along to others. It works!

Ouch ! ? ! ? ! ! This kind of rough talk will be heard less here in town if people troubled with corns will follow the simple advice of this Cincinnati authority, who claims that a few drops of a drug called freezone when applied to a tender, aching corn stops soreness at once, and soon the corn dries up and lifts right out without pain.

He says freezone is an ether compound which dries immediately and never inflames or even irritates the surrounding tissue or skin. A quarter of an ounce of freezone will cost very little at any drug store, but is sufficient to remove every hard or soft corn or callus from one's feet. Millions of American women will welcome this announcement since the inauguration of the high heels.

MUSIC AND DRAMA

FIDDLER'S THREE

Every factor that tends to make a successful music comedy was to be found in "Fiddlers Three" which delighted a large audience at the Grand last night with its charming music, clean-cut comedy and sprightly dancing. The operetta which possessed a plot that was much more logical and substantial than the average musical production gave many opportunities to a large and capable caste to shine. It served to introduce Tavie Belge, the Belgian prima donna who sang the leading feminine role in magnificent voice and whose clever acting was not marred by the quaintness of her accent. Associated with her was an excellent company. Tom Dingle an eccentric dancer whose steps were novel as they were clever provided most of the comedy and Sam-u-el Wrigglesberry from Pyreatone, Mass., he was genuinely funny. Horace Sinclair gave an amusing characterization of an English lordling. The hero was Thomas Conkey, an actor of charming personality and the possessor of a splendid baritone voice which was used to great advantage. Miss Edna Morn sang and danced delightfully.

Among the specialities that delighted the audience were a whirlwind dance by Layman and King, a swiftly moving acrobatic dance that was enthusiastically applauded and a violin solo by Mr. J. Rabiroff that earned an encore.

Alexander Johnston has given "Fiddlers Three", a score of unusual charm "Can it Be Love", "One Hour Sweetheart, With You", "As the Flitting Swallows Fly" and other numbers were delightful while there was genuine humour in "It was All on Account of Nipper" and "Just a slip of the Tongue."

FRIENDLY ENEMIES

The presentation of "Friendly Enemies," the famous comedy success at the Grand on Saturday January 24th for an engagement of matinee and evening, under the direction of A. H. Woods, will be the most notable dramatic event of the season. In fact, not in many years has a play come to this city with so tremendous a reputation or with so sensational a record of success, as "Friendly Enemies." This play has won the approval of the entire English-speaking world. Not only was it a sensation in New York, Chicago, Philadelphia, and practically throughout the length and breadth of the United States but an equally great hit in the British Isles. This splendid dramatic masterpiece of comedy pathos, of tears and love, of seriousness and fun, will be presented at the Grand with a notable company.

PREMIER DENIES IT.

TORONTO, Jan. 15.—Premier Drury gave absolute denial to the report from Ottawa that he will announce this week the resignation of Hon. W. E. Raney, Attorney-General. On the contrary, the Premier declared that Mr. Raney's resignation was altogether unlikely.

"At present there is no thought of Mr. Raney resigning," stated the Prime Minister. "There is nothing to the report."

"It is news to me," replied Mr. Raney. "Such action has not been considered by the Cabinet. It is out of whole cloth."

While the present mind of the Government is that Mr. Raney is not to resign, nevertheless his resignation is a possibility. It is said that writs may be issued for the Premier and Minister of Agriculture, while the efforts to find the Attorney-General a seat are continued.

All things might come to the man who waits—if starvation didn't get there first.

His many friends will be pleased to know he has reached such high standing in his examinations.

DO NOT ANTICIPATE A COAL SHORTAGE

SUPPLIES OF ALL KINDS ARE COMING TO THE CITY.

Notwithstanding the Fuel Controller's warning to lay in a supply of coal several of the coal dealers in the city interviewed to-day agreed that there is no need for panic on the part of the consumers in the city as practically all of them have enough on hand for the balance of the winter.

"I think the Fuel Controllers knowledge of the coal situation is a bit vague", said Mr. Robert Hicks. He contended that all the larger coal companies with the better grades of coal are able to ship all the coal demanded. He himself has what he calls an old standard stock; for the first time in four years having a full assortment of D. L. and W. Coal. Barring railway blockades and strikes he stated that a full supply of the best quality of coal will be obtainable between now and April the 1st.

Certain Sizes.

At Taylor's coal yard it was stated that certain sizes of coal are coming through very satisfactorily but that there is a possibility of a shortage of nut coal which is more used than any other coal during the winter. It was stated however, that no serious shortage anticipated of any kind. Referring to the high prices of coal the company said that they are unable to obtain all their supply from the regular companies and consequently must buy from independent companies.

At Fitzgerald's it was stated that the prospects are fair and that no shortage is feared but that a lot must still come to fill the demands in Peterboro. One condition which militates against a serious shortage is the fact that practically all factories in the city had laid in their supply early in the year.

He was also sent to Europe by the Canadian Government to make a special study of matters pertaining to Canadian agriculture. Dr. Robertson gave an interesting address which was much appreciated by the club.

The speaker was introduced by Mr. G. O. Cameron, who remarked that the club was honoured in having Dr. Robertson in its midst.

Dr. Robertson said that he was sorry that he had delayed the luncheon but it was something that could not be helped.

"I am here," he said, "to tell you of some of the things that occurred overseas both before and after the armistice was signed that affect Canada. I will tell you of some of my experiences," said Dr. Robertson.

"In the spring of 1918, when the food situation was so grave, our government sent me overseas to look into the conditions there So I went to Europe to get some pointers to help us in our campaign. I travelled through England, France and Italy and found that all the nations had great esteem for Canada, which was won by the fighting qualities of our boys in France, and those nations look to Canada for great things."

The Canadian Army.

Dr. Robertson spoke of the effective work of our army in France, because the four divisions worked together. He spoke of our great record in munition making and our record in sending food supplies to Europe. In 1916 Canada furnished 40% of the wheat that went to Europe, said Dr. Robertson. He said that our Red Cross had made a great name for themselves not only in their work for the Canadians but in helping the other allies.

Food Situation.

"I found the food situation entirely changed over pre-war conditions." He spoke on the government control of the entire food situation and said that Germany was the only country that broke down under the system because it was corrupt there. He dwelt on the great change brought about by the armistice and its effect on Canadian exports.

Dr. Robertson spoke on the present system in Europe whereby the government holds the prices up with one hand in order to urge on the producer and pulls them down with the other to bring them within reach of the consumer—"that is the government pays more for goods than it sells them for and bears the loss."

"The British government buys cheese for 50c a pound and sells it for 36c." said Dr. Robertson.

Chance to Make Money.

"We do not understand what conditions are like there. Food is very scarce. Now is a good chance for Canadian business men to make money, and do a good humane service as well. Europe needs food, and will need it for some time."

He dwelt on the need for economy and saving if we were to save our country. "We do not feel the pinch of the cost of war yet, for we have been borrowing the money."

Dr. Robertson said he had seen the cost in France—800,000 of our men sleeping in Flanders fields. And the monetary cost we could not conceive.

"As a going concern we are bigger and better and more ready to go ahead than before the war," he said, and concluded by urging all the men to work together and pull together, and we would come through all right.

Mr. G. O. Cameron, on behalf of the Club, thanked Dr. Robertson, and said his only regret was that more had not heard his message.

The luncheon closed with the singing of the National Anthem.

VOL. XLIV—NO. 13 PETERBOROUGH, FRIDAY, JANUARY 16, 1920 PRICE TWO CENTS.

Peace Conference Features Revealed By Dr. Robertson

A MODERN INTERPRETATION OF FAITH—THE HIGH COST OF LIVING AND OTHER PRESSING PROBLEMS.

A new interpretation to go forward was received by the ladies of the city in the forceful address delivered by Dr. J. W. Robertson at a meeting of the Women's Canadian Club held yesterday afternoon in the Public Library. The speaker introduced his address by what he called a study from the slides in the slide box of his memory, and through this gave the audience some remarkably clear word pictures illustrating the characteristics of the people Canada had as allies during the war, and impressed his audience with the greatness the Allies displayed which hitherto had been unappreciated. In speaking of the impression we in Canada have of the frivolity, gaiety and lack of depth the French have, Dr. Robertson told of the fact that 100,000 people uncomplainingly moved out of the city of Paris, taking their chance of finding a home to live in elsewhere to clear the roads for the food for the army.

Wrong Impressions.

Speaking of the wrong impression Canada may have drawn, that the French are artificial or "sissy," Dr. Robertson described a scene behind the lines, where he saw 4,000 French soldiers just out of the trenches, ready to go on leave, walking about the street with arms encircling their comrades' necks. With all the manifestation of affection, which might be condemned, the boys' coats still bore the mud of Verdun.

Dr. Robertson, throughout his word pictures, impressed the fact that the Allies are everlastingly grateful to Canada for her help, particularly in Red Cross assistance.

Winning Power.

He continued, by a review of the lessons the war has taught the world in the actual adequate organization and the right leaders who are best fitted to be up for the good of the Dominion. He dwelt at some length on the modern interpretation of "If ye have faith," which, he said is "the winning power of a big idea." This he said was what carried the war to a successful close. If, he said, we as Canadians can cling to the big idea which won the war, we can come to a time of more than nominal peace.

High Cost of Living.

Speaking of the high cost of living, which, he said, threatens the foundation of society, he told of the privations the world generally is experiencing and of the need of more workers in the producing class. Continuing, he spoke of the fact that as a result of the war in Canada, each family is assessed approximately $100 a year more. Our price is being paid in cash—the price overseas is paid in rows of crosses, twisted limbs and devastated lands.

Peace Conference.

A feature of the address was the remarkably clear picture Dr. Robertson drew of the Peace Conference; the people who were there, and the place in which it was held. Three big ideas, he said, dominated the whole Conference, namely, Never again, Germany shall pay to the utmost, and better conditions of the ordinary masses. In speaking of the responsibility which rests upon Canada in working out the latter idea, he urged all to keep the soul on top.

Words of Appreciation.

At the conclusion of Dr. Robertson's address, Mrs. W. R. Morris, Mrs. R. Harstone and Miss Dickson said a few words of appreciation for the splendid address. Mrs. James Kendry, who occupied the chair, said it constituted a rare treat. A solo, "Winter Lullaby," by Mrs. A. L. Amys, was greatly appreciated.

BIG THREE SEND LETTER TO HOLLAND

HIGHER PRICES FOR POTATOES

LATEST COMMODITY IN PETERBORO TO TAKE A JUMP.

Mr. Walter Oke, wholesale fruit merchant, stated to-day that he sees no prospect for a lower price on potatoes than that which is being asked at present—$3.50 a bag wholesale.

The reason for the rapid advance, he said, is due to the early frost, which resulted in hundreds of tons of potatoes being left undug in the fields in the West, principally, while the rot which destroyed a large percentage of the New Brunswick crop also boosted the price.

The review of the fruit market from the Dpartment of Agriculture refers to practically all Western crops as being destroyed by the unusually cold weather of October.

CANADA IN GRIP OF A COLD WAVE

HIGHER TEMPERATURE IS PROMISED IN SOME LOCALITIES.

Canadian Press:

TORONTO, Jan. 16.—Practically all Canada, with the exception of the Maritime Provinces and British Columbia, to-day were in the grip of real Arctic weather, embittered at most points by cutting east-northerly winds. From Edmonton to Quebec the temperature records ranged from 7 to 46 below zero at 8 a.m.; Toronto producing a higher mercury and White River, Ontario, holding its record as being the coldest place on the Continent on the weather map. British Columbia and Chinook favoured Calgary were just under or above freezing point to-day, and the Maritimes were promised a taste of the cold weather to-morrow. Probabilities promise some moderation in the weather in some divisions, notably Ontario, but as a rule the continuation of the zero spell is expected throughout all Canada, excepting the extreme West.

A GOOD BILL AT GRAND THEATRE

VAUDEVILLE ACTS WERE WELL RECEIVED—THE PICTURES.

While the audience at the Grand was not large last evening, those who braved the bitter cold were amply repaid in the splendid programme which was presented. The four big vaudeville acts, the Powell Troupe, tight wire artists of unusual merit, Rae and LaPorte, in a novelty act which was distinctly a novelty; Amedio, the famous accordionist, and Lydston and Emmerson in the fashion plates, the latter a very unusual presentation, were keenly appreciated and considered among the best acts ever presented at the theatre.

The feature picture, "The Woman Michael Married," starring Bessie Barriscale, proved thoroughly enjoyable and intensely interesting, and the beautiful star, who appeared at her best in the leading role, was supported by an unusually splendid cast. Added to the vaudeville and feature picture, a Charlie Chaplain comedy was presented on the unusually generous and meritorious programme.

THE WEATHER

The temperature last night was down to 28 degrees below zero. This is the lowest figure that has been reached since the last week of 1917, when 27 below was recorded on two mornings.—W. P.

ODESSA CAPTURED.

(Canadian Press.)

BASLE, Jan. 16.—Odessa, the chief Russian port on the Black Sea, has been occupied by the Bolsheviki according to newspaper despatches received here.

BOLSHEVIK SUCCESSES

ATTENTION OF THE BRITISH DIPLOMATS IS FIXED ON THE FAR EAST.

GETTING WORSE

(Canadian Press.)

LONDON, Jan. 16.—The attention of the British people is fixed on the Near East, where the recent Bolshevik successes have carried the Red Russian armies almost up to the threshold of India, Persia, Mesopotamia, and Asiatic Turkey.

Cabinet members and chiefs of the British Army and Navy are to-day in Paris conferring with Premier Lloyd-George on military and naval matters in connection, it is believed, with conditions in South-western Asia.

Apprehension was aroused by the issuance of a semi-official statement yesterday, pointing out the situation that has arisen through the collapse of General Denekine's army in Southern Russia and the Bolshevik penetration of Trans-Caspia.

Not only was it admitted that the menace from the Bolshevik invasion of the Near East was very real, but it was pointed out that internal conditions in Persia, Turkey, and Afghanistan were threatening.

In Mesopotamia, too, the British are forced to contend with difficulties arising from racial dissensions.

It was said that the Soviet advance that captures the Crimea would make the Black Sea virtually a Russian-Bolshevik lake.

WINNIPEG PAPERS SUSPEND TO-MORROW

PAPER CONTROLLER HANDS IN HIS RESIGNATION.

(Canadian Press.)

(Canadian Press.)

OTTAWA, Jan. 16.—Resignation of R. A. Pringle, controller of newsprint and book paper, it is understood, will be in the hands of Sir Henry Drayton, Minister of Finance, this afternoon. When seen by the Canadian Press he refused to discuss the report, but intimated he might have a statement to make late in the day.

TWO-SPAN STEEL BRIDGE IS AGAIN IN MINDS OF ALDERMEN

HAVE BECOME UNEASY ABOUT FOUNDATION FOR EASTERN PIER, THE EXCAVATION FOR WHICH WAS RECENTLY STOPPED—MR. BARBER HAS NO DOUBTS.

Mr. Frank Barber has no doubt about the solidity and suitability of the subsoil in the excavation for the east pier of the long concrete span of the Hunter street bridge, Ald. Hamilton told the Examiner to-day on his return from Toronto.

The subject was not discussed at any length for the reason that Mr. Barber was about to leave for Montreal when Ald. Hamilton called at his office.

In the meantime the reports that the contractor has failed to strike hardpan or rock at a considerable distance below the level at which Mr. Barber had estimated it, have set some members of the council to thinking of an alternative two-span steel bridge. According to their opinion a deeper and wider foundation pit might undermine the adjoining arch already erected. They are anxious to avoid any considerable expense in what might prove fruitless digging for rock with expected alterations in the plan, lengthening of the arch and other possible alterations in the plan, lengthening of the arch and other possible effects.

Mayor McIntyre stated last night that he was satisfied that Ald. Hamilton as chairman of the Bridge Committee, would handle the situation with promptness and foresight. Nothing much, however, could be done until a definite statement was received from Mr. Barber.

Ald. Hamilton said this afternoon that he wished to interview Mr. Townsend before seeing Mr. Barber again. Ald. Gainer has sugested to the Mayor that if there is any possibility of serious difficulty that might necessitate the abandonment of the concrete arch and the choice of one of steel, the council should be informed at once. Supplies for the concrete arch, such as the gray granite finish, were arriving, and it was recently suggested that an inventory of future purchases be obtained from the engineer in order that it might be secured early and before the market advanced any higher. The steel bars for the arch are all in storage here and other material is on hand.

The uncertainty that has arisen out of the cessation of the work and the reports of soft soil in the lower strata of the excavation, has created new anxiety for the council.

SPECIAL MEETINGS DRAW TO A CLOSE IN ST. PAUL'S CHURCH.

The Rev. Mr. Glassford will preach again to-night in St. Paul's Church. This is the last of the special week-night services. He is remaining over the Sabbath, and will preach both morning and evening. He will also address the Sabbath School scholars in the afternoon.

The attendance last night was affected by the extremely cold weather, but as the church is warm and comfortable, this should not interfere with the attendance at this closing night's address. The members of both churches participating are urged to turn out in large numbers to-night.

WINDSOR FIRE BRIGADE DEMAND MORE PAY.

WINDSOR, Jan. 15. — The City Council will shortly be called upon to deal with another demand by the members of the Fire Department for more pay. The present minimum salary is $118 a month, and the men asked for a 22 per cent. increase, which would bring their monthly pay up to about $...

Alderman Hooper, the Labour representative in the Council, urges the immediate increase, but he has been prevailed upon to await the return of Mayor Vinter from a short vacation, when the matter will be taken up.

TO-NIGHT IS PROHIBITION "EVE" IN GAY NEW YORK—A VALEDICTORY.

CHRONIC THIRSTS

(United Press)

NEW YORK, Jan. 16.—To-night is "Prohibition Eve" in New York. The comparatively wet prohibition law which has prevailed here since July 1 will be succeeded at 12.01 a.m. to-morrow by the complete aridity of constitutional bone dryness.

Far sighted and long pursed drinkers plan to stage to-night a party from which history will be dated. The party is expected to extend from one end of the city to the other, in every cafe, cabaret restaurant and hotel were diners are permitted to drink anything they bring to the table themselves. Many cabarets will have special entertainments.

Simultaneously, persons with a chronic thirst who have not completed their personal supplies of alcoholics are expected to make an eleventh hour rush on liquor establishments and wind up their shopping for the long drought.

SOCIAL HELD LAST EVENING

The D. O. E. held an entertainment in the S. O. E. Hall last night. These entertainments are growing in popularity, and deservedly so, as a good time, free from all formality, is always assured. A special feature, which met with very hearty applause, was the act put on by the 9 point 2 Troupe of returned soldiers, all members of Park Street Baptist Church. In this sketch, life in the trenches and in the Y. M. C. A. huts is splendidly portrayed, and met with such success that the ten members of the troupe had to promise to repeat the performance in the near future. Another pleasing act was the graceful dancing of Misses Odoke and Tyrer. A very enjoyable evening was spent, and after refreshments, games were played until late in the evening.

AN EPIDEMIC OF LETTER WRITING

[Yesterday and to-day there has been an epidemic of letter writing relating to the culminating chapter in the lives of Thomas Konek and Michbahri. GENERAL STRIKE ATTEMPT FAILED

(Canadian Press.)

BERLIN, Jan. 16.—Attempts of the radical labor leaders to provoke a general strike yesterday as a protest against the shooting of the mob which stormed the reichstag building on Tuesday, failed completely. At one p.m. the inner city presented the usual aspect. In many large industrial plants there were sharp clashes between Majority Socialist leaders who opposed the strike and Independent Socialist and Communist agitators. Gustave Noske, Minister of Defence, announced drastic penalties would be inflicted upon any who attempted to interfere with those protecting public utilities.

EXPLANATION IS NOT REASSURING

LIEUT.-GOVERNOR CLARK FAILS TO IMPROVE SITUATION.

(Special to The Examiner.)

TORONTO, Jan. 16.— Opinion in political circles to-day it that Lieut.-Governor Clark has not improved the situation as a result of his reply to Premier Drury, published to-day, with respect to his utterances before the Rotary Club of Toronto upon Government House. The Lieut.-Governor's blame upon newspaper reporters of being misinterpreted is not entirely reassuring. All three morning papers had reporters at the Rotary Club meeting at which the Lieut.-Governor spoke, and it is singular that their reports of the Lieut.-Governor's utterances are substantially the same in so far as they relate to his observation that nothing would please the Soviets or Red Bolsheviks more than to abolish Government House, which seems to be known in history as the birth of the new world. This decision is to be taken in the name of the States adhering to the covenant of the League. It will be the first decree of all free nations leagueing themselves together for the first time in the history of the world to subsitute right for might."

The United States.

Referring to the failure of the United States to accept the League, Bourgeois said:

"The task of presiding at this meeting and the inauguration of the greatest International institutions should have fallen to President Wilson. We respect the reasons which still delay the decision of our Washington friends, but we express hope these soon will be overcome and a representative of the United States will occupy a place among us.

"The Council's work then will assume that definite character and that particular force which should be associated with our work.

Closing his address the French leader said solemnly:

"With eyes fixed on the distant future but without feet on the solid ground of political and social relations, we will create a world in which [illegible] develop a spirit of justice and a desire for peace."

Premier Lloyd George and Viscount Gray arrived late, entering the room some time after the ceremony had been started.

President Bourgeois immediately recognized them, greeting the Viscount as one of the fathers of the League. Grey replied he considered it the greatest honor to be present on the occasion of the League's organization.

"THE PERFECT LOVER" AT THE EMPIRE NEXT MONDAY

Can you imagine a man being a perfect lover—a man whose charms are so wonderful that no woman can resist them—a man whom women will lavish with affection and riches just to get one smile from him—can you imagine that kind of a man? If you can't, go to the Empire Theatre this coming Monday, and before the first reel of "The Perfect Lover," Eugene O'Brien's first Selznick Picture, is over, you will not have to imagine. You will know and understand why women went out of their way to gain the favour of Brian Lazar, formerly a poor artist, whose work was later sponsored by Mrs. Byfield, the wife of one of the wealthiest men in New York. He supplies them with the [illegible] to love their husbands are too [illegible] give them. But he gains no happiness or good from this method of living.

A wonderful story, beautifully told and exquisitely acted, that will thrill and charm you is the gripping tale of Brian Lazar. Eugene O'Brien is certainly "the perfect lover," and he will thrill you with his love scenes as he did in the days of yore. Be sure and see "The Perfect Lover."

WILL WITHDRAW.

PARIS, Jan. 16.—A number of Senators and deputies will request President Poincare to stand for re-election as President of the French Republic, and Premier Clemenceau announced to-day that he would withdraw his candidature. He asked his supporters to vote for Poincare.

INITIAL MEETING CONVENED THIS MORNING IN THE FAMOUS "CLOCK ROOM"—THE OPENING ADDRESS.

OBJECTS OF LEAGUE

(United Press.)

PARIS, Jan. 16.— The League of Nations became a reality to-day. Its first session convened at 10.35 a.m. in the famous "clock room" of the French Foreign Office. Leon Bourgeois, President of the French Society for a League of Nations, and President of the French Senate, presided.

Bourgeois delivered the opening address, followed by Earl Curzon of Great Britain, Secretary of the State for Foreign Affairs.

Immediately after the session convened, Bourgeois was elected temporary president. The League of Nations has been allotted several distinct tasks," President Bourgeois said in his opening address. First is the practical execution of the clauses of the Treaty of Versailles. Then the constitution provides International organizations for regulation, economic and social life that will form the foundations for the era now opening. Fitally there is the International regulation of labor conditions to insure the welfare of the workers and social peace towards which already much has been accomplished."

The President then took up the questions which the Council must settle immediately under the terms of the peace treaty and the League covenant.

Other Members.

"Organization of the League will not be complete until an assembly of all States come together," Bourgeois continued. "Among the States involved to join within two months after the treaty of peace became effective, Spain, Argentina, Paraguay, Chili and Persia already have accepted.

"Even if the League thus remains incomplete until a later date, to-day's meeting nevertheless bears the characteristics of a solemn moment. It will go down in history as the birth of the new world. This decision is to be taken in the name of the States adhering to the covenant of the League. It will be the first decree of all free nations leagueing themselves together for the first time in the history of the world to subsitute right for might."

The United States.

Referring to the failure of the United States to accept the League, Bourgeois said:

"The task of presiding at this meeting and the inauguration of the greatest International institutions should have fallen to President Wilson. We respect the reasons which still delay the decision of our Washington friends, but we express hope these soon will be overcome and a representative of the United States will occupy a place among us.

"The Council's work then will assume that definite character and that particular force which should be associated with our work.

Closing his address the French leader said solemnly:

"With eyes fixed on the distant future but without feet on the solid ground of political and social relations, we will create a world in which [illegible] develop a spirit of justice and a desire for peace."

Premier Lloyd George and Viscount Gray arrived late, entering the room some time after the ceremony had been started.

President Bourgeois immediately recognized them, greeting the Viscount as one of the fathers of the League. Grey replied he considered it the greatest honor to be present on the occasion of the League's organization.

LEAGUE OF NATIONS, ETC.

Secret Diplomacy.

Earl Curzon, who spoke following President Bourgeois, emphasized the necessity of doing away with the old secret diplomacy.

The success of the International Labor conference is a good augury for the future of the League," Curzon said. 'It especially demonstrates the power of debate in one field of International action.

"The peoples of all countries now have learned foreign affairs are their vital concern and are demanding with ever increasing existence that International obligations be not contracted behind their backs.

"Their eyes have been opened to the necessity of co-operation between all nations, but they insist this co-operation be in the open.

"Another and more important result we may hope for is that the habit of mutual confidence will automatically cause armaments to disappear."

Leon Bourgeois was elected honorary vice-President of the League. Next the Council at the conclusion of the Council's first meeting. The session adjourned at 11.50 a.m.

A Protest.

(Canadian Press.)

PARIS, Jan. 16.—The Council of the League of Nations received its first formal protest almost before it came into being with to-day's initial session. The protest was from the envoys of elected government of the Irish republic against "unreal English simulacra of an international League of Peace."

With the exception of the United States' representative all members of the Council called for by the covenant of the League were present when the meeting was called to order. M. Bourgeois, in a speech predicted that January 16, 1920, would go down in history as the date of the birth of a new world."

London was selected as the city for the next meeting of the Council.

EASTERN HABITS AND CONDITIONS SUBJECT OF INTERESTING ADDRESS

DR. E. V. FREDERICK ADDRESSED THE BOARD OF TRADE LAST EVENING —TRADE JEALOUST.

Dr. E. V. Frederick who addressed the Board of Trade last evening was most cordially received by the Board. His reception and most interesting address was an excellent beginning of the series of meetings to discuss practical development in Peterborough.

In the course of his talk Dr. Frederick described the peculiar circumstances by which he had been brought into very close contact with the native people of many parts of the Orient, and how one used the information in buying and selling.

In the matter of language, one can now travel in Egypt, Arabia, all round Africa, in Mesopotania, India, the East Indies, China and Japan, with only one language, English, but its necessary to have the knowledge of French, Arabic, Hindustani and Russian, also of the peculiar habits of the bazaars to be able to hold ones own in trading.

The difference between the Orient and the Westerner are as great as black and white in their ideas of what constitutes an honorable bargain, the price depending not on the value of the goods but the skill and endurance of the seller, and as an example told how he had bought 14 scarabs for 30 cents for which the same merchant had asked $30 for one.

Trade Jealousy.

Much of the trade jealousy existing between the Germans, Japanese and British in the Orient was due to what the British regarded as unsportsman-like methods of trade by the Germans and German jealousy because they were compelled to speak English in order to trade with even the South Sea Islanders.

In the matter of buying, there are great opportunities for the Canadian merchant under a system of organization and co-operation.

Before the war Germans were buying Persian Lamb skins at 10 cents each and selling them to Canadian furriers at $7.50. It will be many years before the supply of Persian Lamb skins is large because the flocks have all been eaten up by the starving people of that part of the world and the high price of food. While the allowance of a British officer for food in other places was 1 shilling, 9 pence a day, in the Persian Lamb skin country it was 1 pound a day. Lamb skins which were selling in Canada at $25 could be bought in the bazaars at 25 cents each.

Oriental rugs he believed would go down in value to the original buyers because of the starving condition of the rug making peoples and the many valuable family treasures which were formerly unpurchasable will come into the market, but that it will not alter the price, as the wealthy householder, for the purpose treasure these like the De Beers do diamonds and will hold them at their real or enhanced value.

There are two classes of Oriental rug makers, the individual shepard, working in the mountains, and the factory systems in use in Kermanshak Tabriz, etc., where a whole school of children will work on one rug designed and financed by an American or German firm.

Prison Rugs.

In the same system come the prison rugs of India. Rug making is one means the governments use to make the prisons pay.

But these rugs are almost off the market due to the German firms having been wiped out, the death by starvation of many of these rug makers, the uncertainty of financing far ahead into the future, (for many of these rugs take years to make) and the high price of wool.

So intense was the hunger among some of these Persian hill tribes that the children came and picked the grains of oats out of our army horse manure.

In the metal trades there is a great opening in Mesopotania for the maker of gas engines, water pumps, irrigation machinery, plows and gas driven farm implements.

Whether it is a desert or the greatest garden in the world depends on water; water depends on engineering, and at the Anglo-Persian oil works is the ready supply of fuel to run them all.

The farmer of the east from Greece to China depends on the old wooden plow of 2,000 years ago. He scratches the surface of the ground four times, but now the agricultural institutes of the British government is teaching him that one deep plowing with a steel plow will do the same with less labour.

Now the demand for American plows in India is so great that it cannot be met.

The influence of the religion of the Oriental on trade is very great. It effects the tobacco trade, the rug trade, the leather trade, the railways and metal trade, also it is the main influence in the silk trade and production of silk embroidery and fancy work.

In China they have no worry over out fall sewers like they have in Peterboro. Their sanitary system pays a revenue to the city.

There is a lesson for Canadians to learn in studying the nations which have disappeared from the page of history. Mesopotania once the wealthiest, most civilized and densely populated plain in the world is now almost a desert. All have disappeared—Why? the reply is water. Some day the Canadians may be a extinct nation—Why the reply will be fuel. Trees, trees everywhere and not a stick to burn. The fuel problem is the most serious one in our national struggle for existance. All others are merely the embellishments of civilization. In Canada fuel is the sine qua non of existance.

In Peterboro we are surrounded by more forests than almost any other Canadian city and yet if a Russian in Pennsylvania, says he will not dig coal for us or a Swedish railway man says he won't bring it to us we must perish with cold.

We need a fuel commission in Peterboro, made of the biggest brains we have in the city who will always have for us one winter's supply of fuel ahead otherwise we may one day be like other peoples of the earth—an extinct race.

LONG PRISON TERM FOR POKER PLAYER

JUDGE HELD HE ENCOURAGED BOOKKEEPER TO STEAL FROM EMPLOYERS.

TORONTO, Jan. 15.—Of the opinion that Benjamin Evensky, convicted of receiving during a game of poker $6,000 which he knew was part of $10,000 Alexander Gray had stolen from the Walker House, where he was bookkeeper, had encouraged Gray in his crime, and in so doing was a greater offender than Gray himself, Judge Coatsworth, in the Sessions yesterday sent Evensky to the penitentiary for a term of five years.

Evensky was staggered by the sentence, he doubtless having figured that his punishment would not be greater than that given Gray, which was three years.

J. A. Curry, K.C., who pleaded for leniency, argued that if had not been established that Evensky won the money from Gray, as the others who sat in at the game of stud-poker might have won the money direct from the defaulting bookkeeper, and Evensky in turn won it from the others.

That Evensky did win at all counsel denied and produced the prisoner's bank book to show that there had not been deposits which would indicate he had won large sums from anybody. In any event, counsel argued Evensky should be dealt with more leniently than Gray, but His Honour could not take that view of the situation.

Could Hardly Walk Without Resting

When you go to a physician to be examined for any heart trouble one of the first questions he asks is: "Are you short of breath?"

Now, when the heart becomes affected there ensues a feeling of "a choking sensation; a shortness of breath, palpitation, throbbing, irregular beating, smothering sensation, dizziness and a weak, sinking, all-gone feeling of oppression and anxiety.

On the first sign of the heart becoming weakened or the nerves unstrung Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills are just the remedy you require. They regulate and stimulate the heart and strengthen and restore the whole nerve system.

Mr. Stephen Crouse, East Clifford, N.S., writes:—"I suffered for five years with heart trouble. I could hardly walk from the house to the barn without resting as I used to get so short of breath. Doctors could not help me. My wife told me to get a box of Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills and I felt better after taking them; three boxes made me quite well. I am now helping my son to work the farm, and can truthfully say I feel like a different man."

TRIAL OF CAILLAUX MAY BE DELAYED AGAIN

PARIS, Jan. 16.—The struggle over the presidency of the Senate which developed in that body today made it appear improbable that the case of Joseph Caillaux, former Premier of France, charged with intriguing to bring about a premature and dishonorable peace with Germany, would be called for trial before the Senate, sitting as a high court, before late this evening, if at all today.

It had been planned to bring the ex-Premier into the Senate Chamber ting as a high court, before late this afternoon.

Paris despatches of Tuesday indicated that when M. Caillaux was brought before the Senate he was expected to demand an immediate trial, but that it appeared probable the trial would be postponed until January 27, or possibly until the change in presidents of the republic

ICE HAS BULGED ON LOWER SOUCOO.

A rather curious phenomena has been reported from Pleasant Point.

Starting at the last lighthouse at the mouth of the river, running directly to Pleasant Point and thence across to Bald Point, the ice, without breaking, has bulged up in somewhat the shape of the roof of a house, probably due to expansion.

This ridge is in some places twenty or thirty feet in height, and only in one or two places can it be crossed at all.

"Peterborough Presents Possibilities Unsurpassed."

FRIDAY, JANUARY 16TH, 1920.

A PRAISEWORTHY EFFORT.

In an effort to bring the city and county municipal governments into closer friendship and to reach a better understanding, between the two bodies, Mayor Brisco of Chatham in his inaugural address outlined a plan that he proposes to adopt and that might profitably be used in other districts. "It is my purpose" he announced, "to try and bring the county council and the city council closer together both in business and social ways. What is of interest to the county of Kent is also of interest to us and vice-versa. As soon as possible I will appoint a committee from this council to work along these lines as I believe both these boards in the past have been working too far apart in the past for mutual benefit." What is true of Kent County is equally true of Peterboro County. There has not been the co-operation and the friendly relationships between city and county that are necessary if the best results are to be obtained. The local council might well take a leaf out of Chatham's book and appoint a similar committee to endeavour to create more friendly relationships between the governing bodies of the city and county.

A PITIFUL APPEAL.

No tragedy of the war was greater than the situation in Armenia; no appeal for help is more pitiful than that which comes from the homeless starving women and children of that devastated country. To think that while Canadians are living in the midst of plenty there are thousands of innocent victims of the war dying for want of a crust of bread is an appalling feature of the tragedy. Those who can, out of their means help to relieve the situation have a heavy responsibility before them and the Examiner on behalf of the Armenian Relief Committee urges them to do what they can to help and to do it at once. Never was there greater need of haste in a campaign of this kind than in the present effort. It is today that assistance is wanted; not next week, or next month. The cold fact is that hundreds of Armenian women and children are perishing every day because there is not enough money in the hands of the relief workers to provide the food that alone can save them.

Peterboro has already begun to answer the call and it has been a pleasure to record the subscriptions that have so far been received. But much more is needed at once before this city can be said to have fairly recognized its duty in this crisis. There is a subscription list at the Examiner Office. If you can help do so now.

A NEW ORDER.

The Special Committee which last year dealt with the question of the re-establishment of Canadian soldiers made numerous recommendations to the Government, based upon the evidence they had heard during the inquiry. The Government has not shown any great eagerness to act upon these suggestions, so that the announcement that advances are to be made to ex-service men for equipment and education is of interest as indicating the possibility that other recommendations of the committee may eventually be carried out. The new order provides that a disabled soldier who has received retraining through the vocational branch of the S.C.R. may be given a loan up to the amount of $300 to enable him to secure tools and equipment that may be necessary to enable to follow the occupation for which he has been retrained. As usual there is considerable red tape about the schema. The applicant is requested to prove that he is unable for financial reasons to secure the equipment he needs and two responsible business men must sign his application. After that the paternal Government buys the tools and equipment for him. The soldier is not to be trusted with any money, and must execute a chattel mortgage in favour of the Department.

There is provision made for a second class under the new loan system. A returned soldier suffering from a disability who has not received vocational training but whose pre-war education has been interrupted by his war service may secure a loan not exceeding $200 to provide for the resumption of his school or industrial training.

THE HOUSING QUESTION.

A new aspect is placed on the Housing question by the intimation that the scheme has expanded so rapidly that the Province is facing the question of whether it would be better to provide the additional funds that will be required or to putan end to the system so far as the Ontario Government is concerned. The matter is of great interest to the people of Peterboro as the newly appointed Housing Commission in this city has begun to work on the plans for this year's operations—plans that will be of little avail if the Drury Government decides that it is time to call a halt to the expenditure that will be involved. The situation has been caused by the fact that so many municipalities have adopted the Housing Scheme that Ontario's share of the $25,000,000 Federal housing grant has already been exhausted, in spite of the fact that the City of Toronto which have been expected to receive a large share of the fund, decided to operate independently. Every dollar of the $8,500,000 of Ontario's slice of the Federal grant has been pledged to the different municipalities who have already entered into the scheme. In the mean while many new applications for appropriations have been received and the sum so far provided will be utterly inadequate to take care of these later requests. The result will be that unless the Federal Government can be persuaded to provide further loans, the Drury Government will either have to do so or bring the scheme to an end.

It will be one of the questions that will have to be settled at the coming session of the Legislature and municipalities who are anxious to take advantage of the housing policy should not lose any time in pressing their claims upon the Government. The U.F.O. cannot be expected to be enthusiastic over a policy which only indirectly concerns them and unless the municipalities affected put their strongest case forward the whole housing scheme is liable to be abandoned. In that case Peterboro would not have a chance to benefit from the plan that has been successful in the municipalities that were enterprising enough to take advantage of the provisions.

THE CANADIAN ELECTOR.

"There will be in the next election more disinterested and patriotic voting than ever was possible under the old two-party system."—Winnipeg Free Press.

And why?

We suppose one answer of the Free Press might be that an elector will have more choice of vote among a multiplicity of parties. But why will more choice make a man a more disinterested and more honest voter?

Will a man who did not vote in a disinterested and patriotic way when he was a Liberal or a Conservative vote better because he calls himself a member of a Farmers' party?

Or because he calls himself a member of a Labor party?

Or because he calls himself a Socialist or a Communist?

Why will a voter become a better voter when to his other sins he adds subordination to an avowed class vote or extremist vote?

The Conservative party claims to represent all classes of the people. The Liberal party claims to represent all classes of the people. Is not that a better foundation for general public support than any foundation of class?

The Farmers' party claims to represent the farmers especially. The Labor party claims to represent labor especially. Why will anybody's vote for a farmer candidate or a labor candidate be a better vote in the interest of all classes of the people than a vote for a Liberal candidate or a Conservative candidate?

Is it supposed that human nature changes in a man because he calls himself a farmer politician or a labor politician rather than a politician of the Conservative stripe or the Liberal stripe? If politics are necessarily evil because they offer chances of personal gain or personal advancement to a few among many voters, and so possibly include some corrupting influence, in what respect will the chances of personal gain or personal advancement be less open or less tempting to members of a Farmers' party or a Labor party than to members of any other kind of a party, or do less harm? "There is no new thing under the sun" saith the prophet, "the thing which is, it is the thing which shall be," and human nature is in the category. We need not look for a change in a man's integrity or patriotism because he changes his party designation.

A good many newspapers in Canada are taking the superficial view the Winnipeg Free Press illustrates, but we venture to think that either of the general parties, one advocating public progress with caution, the other advocating public progress even with risks, but neither professing to speak for any single class of the people, has a better basis in equity than any party can have which is based upon the feelings of some special class of the community, and will probably give a more just and a better government; and that the rank and file of such a general party are likely to give disinterested and patriotic votes in a general election in a larger proportion than members of any party based upon the more or less selfish interests of a single class of the community.

Such an idea as that which the Winnipeg Free Press suggests is based consciously or unconsciously upon the notion that the Conservative or Liberal parties in this country mean nothing except rival organization working to obtain the spoils of office by hook or crook. Even if such were the case, no guarantee exists that any party based upon class will not prove to be just as greedy for the spoils of office, and as unscrupulous, with the worse thing added of being greedy and unscrupulous in behalf of a particular limited class. But the Liberal and Conservative parties do not represent such a mean aim. They do represent vital principles. Sometimes the differences between the two parties in practical issues have seemed vague, but always behind the two organizations has been the basic difference that, as we have said, one of these parties is founded upon the gospel of progress with care and conservation, the other upon the faith of progress with fearlessness and liberalism. And we think that the mass of the voters of Canada can more safely trust their public welfare to either of these great historic parties than trust to any party promoted by any single class of the community, and can vote with at least as much disinterestedness and patriotism for either of them as for any class party.—Ottawa Journal.

THE CALL FROM ARMENIA

LIST OF PETERBORO SUBSCRIBERS:

There is one cry that touches the hardest heart and never fails to bring a response. It is the hunger-cry of little children. And nowhere in the world is it sounding louder to-day than among the cold, rugged mountains and on the bleak city streets of poor, stricken Armenia.

Two hundred and fifty thousand of them, left orphans by war, massacre and starvation, have wandered over the barren hills digging for roots and herbs, picking up bits of grass and thistles to satisfy the awful hunger-cravings that gnaw at their empty, famished stomachs.

Hundreds upon hundreds of them search the city streets for a stray crumb, while the cold winter wind pierces through their rags, until, at last, unable to stand more, they crawl away to some hidden corner and there lie down, never more to rise.

Of the 250,000 orphans, the schools and orphanages have taken in 50,000, and unless help comes soon the other 200,000 must perish.

"There is No More Room."

Scenes beyond description are witnessed daily around these orphanages. The children, knowing that there is refuge within, literally besiege the doors in a vain attempt to be admitted, only to be told that every room is filled to capacity already. And all through the night the starving parish dogs prowl around outside. Sometimes a little child, too weak to defend itself against the famished dogs, has been found by the roadside, or in some dark alley, with arm or leg gnawed off, the frail, thin ribs standing out almost bare against the skin of its little naked skeleton. Is it any wonder that urgent appeals are being sent for food and clothing to save the 200,000 that are still left?

And For the Babies—Death.

And the babies! What weak, pitiful little cries they give! Is there no milk to be had, no way of saving even them? No, none. A little longer and they will be gone. Death alone can alleviate their misery, and to death they must be given.

No mother will turn a deaf ear to such an appeal. The thought of her own little ones, well clothed, warmed and fed, will be sufficient to open her heart to these Armenian orphans, these starving babies; and she will not only want to do what she can herself, but she will urge her moneyed friends to give liberally that the death of 200,000 homeless wanderers may be averted. It is the one cry to which no true Canadian will be indifferent.

'I was an hungered, and ye gave me meat; I was thirsty, and ye gave me drink; I was a stranger, and ye took me in; naked, and ye clothed me; I was sick, and ye visited me." "When?"

"Inasmuch as ye have done it unto one of the least of these, My brethren, ye have done it unto Me."

"Pure religion and undefiled before God and the Father is this, to visit the fatherless and widows in their affliction."

Samaritan—Or Levite.

Here is a nation that has fallen among thieves. Its people have been left stripped and bleeding by the wayside. The question therefore arises: Will it be possible for Canadians, like the priest and Levite, to pass by on the other side? Or can they do otherwise than bind up the wounds, clothe the naked body, and supply the life-giving food? How can they help acting the part of the good Samaritan toward this sister nation? The widows and orphans of a martyred people await their visitation. Food, clothing and shelter are the immediate necessities. Canadians have them. Are they then going to do unto others as they would have others do unto them were they in a like condition? It is a solemn obligation. Let each one answer for himself.

OFFICE CLEANERS' PAY BOOSTED TO $2.25 DAY.

New Schedule Dates Back to July 1, 1919.

OTTAWA.—There is great joy among the Government office cleaners over the announcement that from July last they will receive $1.25 per day. About 900 women are affected, all of whom will receive 25 cents back pay from July, and $1.25 per day for the future.

It is also emphasised that those who wish may do their office cleaning after office hours instead of early in the morning.

From the first of the year the charwomen were cut down to 35 and 40 cents an hour, where before they had received $1.00 per day. Through the Civil Service Federation the hardship worked on the women was brought to the attention of Senator Gideon Robertson, to whose sympathetic consideration doubtless the recent action is due.

"I think," said Lazy Lorenzo, "that if they did away with work altogether it would put an end to these 'ere strikes."

A slow horror dawned in Lazy Lorenzo's eyes.

SANDRA THE JEALOUS

BY JANE PHELPS

EVERETT TELLS SANDRA OF LEOLA

CHAPTER XXI

"From that time we quarrelled constantly," Everett went on in the same repressed tones. "Yet often after our fiercest quarrels we would give voice to our love for each other just as fiercely. Leola was the most beautiful woman I ever have known. Also, the quickest to take offense. She could not brook restraint. Instead of trying to prevent my jealousy, she laughed at it, and deliberately did things to arouse it. Things I—no man in love can endure with calmness. But Leola was just as proud as she was reckless. I threatened to divorce her. We had been at the seashore for several weeks. That night she ran away and was not found for hours. But that we kept secret, no one knows she was a suicide—no one but me.

"I beg you will not speak to anyone here of her—Leola. We were not living here when it happened. I had taken her away some time before in the hope that she would be kinder to me. I have intended to tell you of her, but I cannot talk of her calmly even yet—so I waited."

That "yet" hurt me. I had felt a certain relief when he said she was dead. But—he still loved her, or—did he? I must find out.

"Leola was twenty-eight when she left me—nine years ago," he added after a few moments—"it seems like yesterday," again he seemed to be unaware of my presence as he said the last few words.

I could keep still no longer. This Leola had been dead nine years, yet he still grieved over her. I gathered my courage to ask:

"If you were so unhappy with her, why did you want to get married again, why"—

"Unhappy!" he interrupted, again seemingly forgetting to whom he was talking, "I never shall know what it means to be happy"—

This time it was I who interrupted.

"Why did you marry me?" I asked excitedly. He was hurting me too dreadfully.

"Yes—you have a right to ask that too. I was attracted to you from the first. You are very like Leola in coloring. She had just that wonderful hair—that you have. But I had no thought then of marrying again. But you seemed to like me, to enjoy being with me. I saw the simple way you had been brought up. The kind of parents you had. You would be a wholesome woman. You had none of the diabolical fascinations some women possess. But you would make a good wife and mother. I want such a wife and I want children. If you are what you promise to be we will be happy together. Now please leave me alone. I am very tired to-night—I have had a hard day. And this has been hard for me as well as for you. Before you go there is just one thing I want to say. Never as long as we live, together mention—her to me again. I have been perfectly honest with you; have told you all there is to tell. Never speak of what I have confided to you if you value my—love," he had hesitated just a second before the last word. "Now good night."

I was dismissed. Yet at the moment my principal feeling was one of compassion for the man who sat before the grate fire, who had covered his eyes with his hands when he stopped speaking, and who had seemingly forgotten that I existed.

The revulsion came when I reached my room. It was still early and bed seemed a far possibility. My brain was seething, boiling with what I had just heard. I must think, think.

One thought seemed to stalk more boldly than the rest thru my mind: "Everett still loved that beautiful woman who once had been his wife—that Leola." Young as I was I realized the passion in his voice when he spoke of her. Never had it been there for me. But I was his wife! No one, not even Leola could take that from me. And he was a widower so could rightfully marry me. My mind fairly reeled with thoughts that pressed down upon it. But it was not until worn out by my emotion, sick at heart because altho he was my husband Everett loved a dead woman; that that reason for his marrying me came over me in all its—to me—stark unloveliness. He had married me because he thought I would make a good wife and mother. How dreadfull not because he loved me; but for those other reasons. He didn't think me attractive enough to make him jealous if I did have hair like her's, like Leola. I tore at my heavy braids until I hurt myself so I was obliged to stop or cry out with pain. pain. I hated my hair! I would have it dyed, or I would cut it off! It was because my hair was like hers he had been attracted to me. He didn't love me at all. He never had.

I do not think that up to that night in the library when he told me of his love for Leola that I was at all in love with Everett. I had admired him, been flattered by his attentions and his gift to. But now there suddenly dawned the thought that I love him at the same moment I decided that he care nothing for me. It was torture.

Long afterward I knew that Everett had not quite realized how cruelly he had told his story. Not in the words perhaps, but in the tones of his voice, and in his almost whispered words when he seemingly forgot that I was his wife. That he was talking to me—that I had married him and couldn't get away, but must bear whatever he chose to put upon me to bear. And I must bear it alone. Neither to him or to anyother could I speak of what I felt sure meant entire ruin to my life, my happiness.

"If he only had told me before we were married," I groaned, then realising that had he, I never should have married him. And he wouldn't have had a "good wife and children."

To-morrow Sandra Rebels.

When The Day Is Over

When the household cares and the worries of everyday life have dragged you down, made you unhappy, and there is nothing in life but headache, backache and weary, turn to the right prescription, one gotten up by Dr. Pierce fifty years ago.

Everything growing out of the ground seems intended for some use in establishing natural conditions. Dr. Pierce, of Buffalo, N. Y., long since found out what is naturally best for woman's diseases. He learned it all through trusting those agents of cures. The result of his studies was a medicine called Doctor Pierce's Favorite Prescription. This medicine is made of vegetable growths that nature supply intended for backache, headaches, overlapping pains, irregularities, inflammations, and for the many derangements common to women in all ages of life. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is made of lady's slipper root, black cohosh root, unicorn root, blue cohosh root and Oregon grape root. Dr. Pierce knew, when he first made this standard medicine, that whiskey and intoxicants and injurious acid as he had always kept them out of his medicines. Without this take this alone would greatly help. But in Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription they get nothing equals women's tonic and they get nothing equals women's tonic and they get nothing equals women's tonic and

RICHARD HALL & SON LIMITED

THE POOR CHURCH

By J. E. MIDDLETON.

"Our church will not be able to do much for the Forward Movement," said a Toronto man. "There are no wealthy members, active or inactive. Many of the most devoted folk are widows, or retired elderly couples, with a fixed income. They find the high cost of living uncommonly burdensome, and will be unable to give more than their usual contributions."

A few questions elicited the fact that the burden of the church finances was borne by about one hundred families. Yet the membership represented over three hundred families, and if the adherents were counted, the total might reach four hundred.

Let us devote ourselves for a moment to some simple arithmetic. Suppose three hundred of the four hundred families should resolve to have a small part in the Forward Movement by contributing the minor and unimportant sum of thirty-five cents a week, for a year. There is no family too poor to make such a pledge even in these times. The result would be an income of $105 a week, or $5460 in the year. Let it be supposed also that half of the other hundred families could be separated each from twenty cents a week. That would be another $500. Thus this "poor" church would be able to meet the emergency of the day by the handsome sum of $6,000, probably the full amount of its allotment.

It is not the rich men who maintain the churches, not the large subscriptions which send the Gospel abroad. Church finance is based on the regular and systematic fifts of small contributions. The requirements of today, due to the dislocations of war, can be met without the slightest difficulty if every one who profits by the ministrations of religion will give the church a fair deal. It is unfair to imagine that because Salvation is free, a church can be maintained on wind, or on the placid good wishes of a non-contributing majority.

HOT ELECTION.

Tweed had a very hot election contest for the reeveship, Dr. H. C. Kindred defeating ex-Reeve C. B. Rollins by a vote of 195 to 178. The Doctor faced the election with a charge that he couldn't qualify, but such evidently did not deter the majority of the ratepayers from their choice. Before moving to Tweed, Dr. Kindred was Reeve of Havelock and Warden of Peterborough County.

THIS WEAK, NERVOUS MOTHER

Tells How Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Restored Her Health.

Philadelphia, Pa.—"I was very weak, always tired, my back ached, and I felt sickly most of the time. I went to a doctor and he said I had nervous indigestion, which added to my weak condition kept me working most of the time—and he said if I could not stop that, I could not get well. I heard so much about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound my husband wanted me to try it. I took it for a week and felt a little better. I kept it up for three months, and I feel fine and can eat anything now without distress or nervousness."—Mrs. J. Wozniak, 2842 North Taylor St., Philadelphia Pa.

The majority of mothers nowadays overdo, there are so many demands upon their time and strength; the result is invariably a weakened, run-down, nervous condition with headaches, backache, irritability and depression—and soon more serious ailments develop. It is at such periods in life that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound will restore a normal healthy condition, as it did to Mrs. Wozniak.

WAS NEVER HUNGRY LIKE OTHER FOLKS

EVEN SIGHT OF FOOD WAS DISTASTEFUL TO THIS VANCOUVER MAN—FEELS FINE, NOW.

"My three years of troubles have left me since I began taking Tanlac, and I feel as fine as I ever did in my whole life," was the statement made recently by A. J. Trimnell, a well-known ironmoulder, who lives at the Burrard Rooms, 324½ Powell Street, Vancouver, B.C.

"I had indigestion so bad that everything I ate disagreed with me and caused so much gas to form that I felt like I was going to choke," continued Mr. Trimnell. "My heart would palpitate so bad that I could almost hear it beat, and I would get so dizzy at times I could hardly stand on my feet. I was never hungry, and a few mouthfuls would be all I could eat, and many a time the sight of food would make me deathly sick at my stomach, and I had to leave the table without ever sitting down. I had pains in my back just over my kidneys, and they were so bad I had to quit work at times and rest. I had severe headaches that nearly drove me frantic, and I was so nervous and restless that many a night I could get only a few hours' sleep, and then it was broken and irregular.

"During these years I tried many different medicines, but nothing ever helped me until I started taking Tanlac. Well, it put me on the right road, and from the very beginning my improvement has been steady, until I have been restored to perfect health. I have a splendid appetite, and no matter what I eat, I digest it without any trouble at all. I am not bothered with dizzy spells or palpitation any more, and the pains in my back have disappeared entirely. I don't have any more headaches, and the nervousness is all gone; in fact, I haven't an ache of any kind. I am sleeping sound all night long, and I have so much more strength and energy that I feel like my old self again. You can put me down for Tanlac, because I am going to boost it every time I get a chance."

Tanlac is sold in Peterborough by W. B. Warne Drug Co., Ltd., in Havelock by A. C. Denike, in Lakefield by Tanner Drug Co., Ltd., in Fowlers Corner by W. A. Hunter, in Gelert by A. J. Scott, in Westwood by G. Pringle & Son.

There Is Nothing So Disappointing As to Find Something Misrepresented

We have never made misleading statements about the Semi-Annual Lonely Sale of Men's Clothing (or any other sale), and that is the reason its popularity increases every year. When we say $35 Suits for $25.90 we are prepared to back it up. We do not advertise immense reductions, for they are not possible in these days when it is difficult to find the sort of good clothing that we always carry. SIXTY MILLION FOR GOOD ROADS

BIG PROGRAMME PLANNED BY THE DRURY GOVERNMENT.

TORONTO, Jan. 15.—Sixty million dollars will be spent upon good roads construction in the Province of Ontario during the next five years, according to Hon. F. C. Biggs, Minister of Public Works and Highways, who returned from Ottawa this morning.

Mr. Biggs succeeded in securing six millions of the Dominion government twenty-five million fund for Ontario. "The amount to be expended on main roads within the next five years is fifteen millions," said Mr. Biggs, six millions of which will come from the Dominion, six millions from the province and three millions from municipalities. In addition to that amount forty-five millions will be expended by municipalities, which will be aided in various ways by the Drury government.

WORLD HAPPENINGS

SMALLPOX INCREASING.

(Canadian Press.)

TORONTO, Jan. 15.—Smallpox is increasing throughout the Province, according to the report of Dr. J. W. McCullough, Provincial Medical Officer of Health, this morning.

Comparing 1,433 new cases reported in December with the reports of 597 received during the first ten days of January, he sees cause for anxiety.

In December there were two deaths from smallpox. So far in January there have been five.

The disease is reported to be breaking out in twenty new counties.

MAYOR KNOCKED DOWN.

(Canadian Press.)

CORK, Jan. 15.—W. F. O'Connor, Lord Mayor of Cork, was attacked by a party of men while returning last night from a meeting of demobilised soldiers.

The Mayor was knocked down and assaulted.

The attack is attributed to his opposition to the election policy of the Sinn Fein organisation.

A DEADLOCK.

(Canadian Press.)

WASHINGTON, Jan. 15.—Democratic Senators, in a caucus to-day, failed to elect a leader.

A deadlock on a tie vote developed between Senators Hitchcock of Nebraska and Underwood of Alabama, and the caucus adjourned, subject to the call of the two candidates.

COMB SAGE TEA IN FADED OR GRAY HAIR

If Mixed With Sulphur It Darkens so Naturally Nobody Can Tell.

Grandmother kept her hair beautifully darkened, glossy and attractive with a brew of Sage Tea and Sulphur. Whenever her hair took on that dull, faded or streaked appearance, this simple mixture was applied with wonderful effect. By asking at any drug store for "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," you will get a large bottle of this old-time recipe, improved by the addition of other ingredients, all ready to use, at very little cost. This simple mixture can be depended upon to restore natural colour and beauty to the hair.

A well-known downtown druggist says everybody uses Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound now because it darkens so naturally and evenly that nobody can tell it has been applied—it's so easy to use, too. You simply dampen a comb or soft brush and draw it through your hair, taking one strand at a time. By morning the gray hair disappears; after another application or two, it is restored to its natural colour and looks glossy, soft and beautiful.

Sunday School Anniversary at George Street.

The anniversary of the George Street Methodist and Grace Schools will be held on Sunday, January 18th. The services for the easing day will be under the auspices of the Sunday Schools, and the committee in charge has been fortunate in securing as speaker for the day, the Rev. C. S. Apologath of Port Hope. Mr. Apologath will address the schools and congregation in the morning and an open session of the school and friends in the afternoon. The evening service will be especially for young people.

The School is asked to meet in classes in the school room at 10.45 a.m. for the morning service, and 2.45 p.m. for the afternoon service. After assembling in classes the school will proceed to the church.

On Tuesday evening, Jan. 20th, the School tea will be served. The Juniors are asked to come at 5.30 and the Intermediates and Seniors at 6.30. Tickets for the tea will be given to the classes at the Sunday afternoon session.

IF you had a sore place, and had to choose between two remedies, one of which went to the sore spot direct, and the other by a round-about way, which would you prefer? Undoubtedly, the one that gets there direct!

That is just the reason for people's preference for Peps for ailments of the throat, bronchial tubes and lungs. Peps get there direct, because they are breathe-able, while remedies which are swallowed only go to the stomach

Dissolve Peps in the mouth, and the vapor which is liberated is carried by the breath direct to the breathing passages and minute air cells of the lungs, destroying all germs, and soothing, healing, and strengthening the delicate membranes.

Once you try Peps you will never use any other remedy for coughs, colds, sore throat, bronchitis, tightness across the chest, night cough, laryngitis or asthma. All dealers 50c. box.

THE WARDEN FOR DURHAM COUNTY

(Millbrook Reporter).

Reeve Maybee of Murray Township was up last week feeling his way regarding the coveted Warden's chair at Cobourg this year, and from all appearances he seems to be the man for the office. Mr. Maybee ran two years ago but did not win, although he was admittedly the man that should have won. Politics stopped the Council then, but now when parties are scrapped and new alignments are being made there is every hope that Mr. Maybee's undoubted ability and his seniority may be recognized. Murray Township has not had a Warden for some years, and all things seem to combine this year to place the Warden's gown on Mr. Maybee for 1920. Besides, he is the best of good fellows.

Seven Hundred White Muslin Under Garments Much Under Factory Prices Selling Starts Saturday

Here is a January sale event that, without any question, means a saving of money to all who take advantage of it. We were fortunate enough to be offered all the factory samples of a famous maker of ladies' and children's white muslin underwear. This maker's goods are sold from coast to coast and are known throughout the trade for their genuine good quality. The factory samples are those he kept in the factory as a standard, and every garment turned out had to measure up to them. These samples are more or less mussed and in some cases slightly soiled from handling, but a visit to the laundry will make them as bright, crisp and fresh as though they just came out of the boxes. Because of the mussed and soiled condition the prices are much below regular on every garment. It will pay you, and pay you well, to buy now for next summer's use. Over 700 garments to sell. On sale Saturday morning on the Ready-to-Wear Floor.

LAKEFIELD BAPTIST CHURCH WOMEN'S AUXILIARY MEETING

INTEREST REPORTS PRESENTED VERY GOOD. THE WORK OF THE PAST YEAR.

The annual meeting of the Women's Auxiliary of St. John the Baptist church was held on Tuesday afternoon at the residence of Mrs. Marling, and was well attended.

The reports presented by the various officers indicated progress and growth along all lines; and the president in her address included a reference to the Forward Movement which is under the direction of Mrs. Marling and an energetic committee of ten.

The Recording Secretary reported a membership of 28 with an average attendance of 21.

The Treasurers statement showed the total receipts for the nine months forgoing, to be $117.93. Balance on hand after all disbursements $15.87.

The Literature department, the Juniors and the Babies Branch were all represented as in a healthy state.

The officers were all re-elected and are as appended:—

Hon. Pres.—Miss Traill.
President—Miss F. W. Atwood.
Vice.-Pres.—Mrs. Trude Walden.
Rec.-Sec'y.—Mrs. Wm. Watson.
Cor.-Sec'y.—Mrs. Waldon.
Lit.-Sec'y.—Mrs. Mahood.
Sec. Babies Branch—Mrs. White.
Treasurer—Mrs. Stevens.
Supt. Juniors—Mrs. Archbold.
Dorcas Committee—Mrs. Mahood, Mrs. White and Mrs. Barker.

A very interesting address was given by Miss Fanny Northcott on her work in China amongst women and children. Owing to the great scaracity of doctors her services as a trained nurse often led her far into the medical and surgical field and to further equip herself for this phase of her duty. She proposes to take a special hospital course before returning to her Chinese field. Miss Northcott depicted the life of women and girls in China as bleak and miserable beyond our conception. At birth the "female of the species" is so unwelcome that often she is thrown in the river or otherwise put to death. She is betrothed in childhood to a man she seldom sees until her marriage day. She then enters the home of her husband's parents, and is a slave in the life of her husband's sister-in-law under the domination of her mother-in-law who is the head of the household, next in authority to her husband. It can readily be understood that the future of such a bride is not rosy.

Miss Northcott explained that parents can buy a wife for their son if they so desire, the price paid being anywhere from $300.00 to $900.00 according to the charms of the girl and the financial resources of the purchaser. She exhibited several household gods, describing their various powers and the forms in use when worshipping each; she also described foot-binding and showed some of the shoes worn by women. Foot-binding she stated, causes the most intense suffering and often leads to gangrene which necessitates amputation of the toes. The speaker displayed several wedding garments, made by the bride-to-be, and worn only on her wedding day. These garments were of rich and beautiful materials, with a most artistic blending of colours and tints and exequisitely embroidered.

The patience, skill and talent necessary to the production of such loveliness are an index of what these unfortunate women would be capable of doing under happier conditions. Nothing can emancipate these suffering creatures but the knowledge and acceptance of Jesus Christ as their Saviour, but of this they cannot know except we tell it out among them, but so many Christain women are needed to carry the message while so far, so few have been sent! The door is wide open to the missionary in China. It is our part to enter as our Master has bidden and tell of His blood shed for the redemption of the world.

A vote of very sincere thanks was tendered to Miss Northcott for her inspiring address.

COPPERS SCARCE IN NORTH COUNTRY

(Secial to The Examiner.)

IROQUOIS FALLS, Jan. 16.— So scarce has small change and in particular coppers, become in the north, that the Abitibi Power and Paper Co. has posted a request to all its large force of workers to re-deposit silver and coppers in the bank as soon as practicable after they are received. The notice read: "There is a growing scarcity of coins, and owing to the difficulty in securing enough for the big payroll of the Abitibi mills, it may be necessary to stop giving out coppers at all.

45 DEGREES BELOW SOON.

The Huntsville Forester's weather prophet predicts that the coldest days of this month will see the mercury down to 45 or 50 degrees below zero. Further, "the coming summer will not be so dry as in 1919, and much better for the farmer. All indications point to an early spring. Lumbermen will be wise to get their logs out before the 1st of March. Farmers should be careful not to plant their potatoes on low land."

Let us hope that 45 and 50 degrees is meant for Huntsville only.

THIN, NERVOUS PEOPLE NEED BITRO-PHOSPHATE

Weak, thin people—men or women—are nearly always nervous wrecks; thus conclusively proving that thinness, weakness, debility and neurasthenia are almost invariably due to nerve starvation. Feed your nerves and all these symptoms due to nerve starvation will disappear.

Eminent specialists state that one of the best things for the nerves is an organic phosphate known among druggists as Bitro-Phosphate, a five-grain tablet of which should be taken with each meal. Being a genuine nerve builder and not a stimulant or habit-forming drug, Bitro-Phosphate can be safely taken by the weakest and most delicate sufferer, and the results following its use are often simply astonishing.

By strengthening the nerves, weak, tired people regain energy and vigor; thinness and angularity give way to plumpness and curves; sleep returns to the sleepless; confidence and cheerfulness replace debility and gloom; dull eyes become bright, and pale, sunken cheeks regain the pink glow of health.

CAUTION—Bitro-Phosphate, the use of which is inexpensive, also wonderfully promotes the assimilation of food, so much so, that many people report marked gains of weight in a few weeks. Those taking it who do not desire to put on flesh, should use extra care in avoiding fat-producing foods.

A BIG CROWD TO SEE TO-NIGHT'S HOCKEY MATCH

The manager advises that the reserved seats for the Big Lindsay-Peterborough Intermediate game at Brock Street Rink have been snapped up indicates a huge crowd for the battle. It is looked upon as the big game in the Intermediate group, and every fan in town will be on hand when the bell rings, while Lindsay will have a bunch of rooters on hand. The game is called for 8.30 o'clock, with the ice of course in lightning fast condition.

The Lindsay team will line up with O'Loughlin in goal, Blaville and McPhee on the defence, Coombe and Carew on the wings, and "Lefty" McElroy in centre. Art Lipsett, a Peterborough boy, and Mills will be the subs.

The definite Peterborough line-up will not be known until to-night. Cherrett, who got a bad cut in the face from being hit by the puck in Monday's practice, may be an absentee, while Ray Bass, who has been out of the game since he hurt his ankle in Belleville three weeks ago, may be seen in action. He has been out at the last three practices.

A great deal depends upon the result of to-night's game, for a Lindsay win means that the group will be tied up, while on the other hand, the Petes can get a big lead by a victory.

STILL FIGHTING OVER JUNIOR HOCKEY SCORES

There is still a considerable controversy over the scores in the two Lindsay-Peterboro games. Lindsay claims that the score in Peterboro was 10 to 6 in favour of the Petes, and at Lindsay 5 to 4 in favor of Lindsay.

On the other hand the Petes claim the respective scores were 10 to 5 and 7 to 6.

As far as the game here is concerned, Mr. W. A. Hewitt, secretary of the O. H. A. has announced the official score as 10 to 5. A local fan wrote the O.H.A. secretary asking for the correct count and the Examiner has the answer, giving 10 to 5 as the official score.

The score in Lindsay was 7 to 6. Referee Jacobi said 8 to 6 at first, and that was the score sent out by Lindsay to the Toronto papers. At that the Midgets were lucky to have a lead in Lindsay at all, getting one goal after time was up in the first period.

It is up to the Petes to get such a margin here on Monday night when the third game of the series will be played that their lead will be beyond the danger of dispute. There will be a record old crowd at the Brock St. rink on Monday for this battle for the plucky fight of the Peterboro youngsters has won the fans and they will be all out rooting for them to tuck the Midgets away.

Official Scores of Junior Games

Examiner, Peterboro.

Sirs,—Please publish the following as official scores:

Jan. 9—Peterboro 10, Lindsay 5.

Jan. 16—Lindsay 7, Peterboro, 6.

W. A. Hewitt.

The above was received by The Examiner at noon to-day and clears up all controversy in regard to the Lindsay-Peterboro Junior Games. The scores give the Petes a close lead of four goals on the series, with two games to play.

FAIR AND WARMER

"Fair and Warmer" is the piquant title of Avery Hopwood's latest and finest farce, which ran for over a year at the Klaw and Harris Theatres, New York, and for six months at the Cort Theatre, Chicago, and which Spaeth & Company, having met it so busy in response to universal demand, will present at the Grand on Wednesday evening only, January 21st.

Mr. Hopwood's farce tells a merry tale of how two highly respectable and more than averagely domesticated persons, discovering that their respective spouses had tested their patience till it ceased to be a virtue, rose in their righteous wrath and tried to be wicked.

Having little or no experience in wickedness and being hindered rather than helped by what they knew of it, by hearsay, they involved themselves in terrible calamities, while the former naughty members of their families had the righteous indignation all to themselves.

The innocents, meanwhile, having even less knowledge of how to get out of trouble than how to get into it, now their plight increases till it all but obliterates them. It is precisely the sort of task which Avery Hopwood knows best how to put through its paces, putting its finest farcical fervor and giving it his deftest characterization and satirical comedy. One scene, now famous as the Cocktail Scene, was described by the reviewers as the best in the whole history of farce.

"Fair and Warmer" begins in the early evening, stays up all night and concludes by noon of the following day, having in that time dismantled and re-assorted two households, devastated a "Tango Robin" and brought wisdom and repentance to saints and sinners alike. It has not a moment between its curtains when its humorflares or its situations slacken.

Spaeth & Company will present it here with a cast fully designed to give its comic values. Seats on Sale Monday.

NO SPECIAL TRAIN

Yesterday the management of the Intermediate team had to put up a married cheque for $200 in favor of the Grand Trunk before the company would consent to run a special train to Peterborough, Thursday night.

As only 66 hockey fans have so far signified their intention of going to Peterborough on a special, the management decided to drop the idea of a special train.—Lindsay Warder.

THE HEAVYWEIGHT BATTLE WILL LIKELY BE STAGED IN STATES

TEX RICKARD'S OFFER IS AT THE TOP OF THE LIST—FIGHT MAY LAST ONLY A FEW ROUNDS.

United Press:

PARIS, Jan. 18. — The date and conditions of the battle between Jack Dempsey and Georges Carpentier for the heavyweight championship of the world will be definitely settled within two or three days, M. Descamps, the Frenchman's manager, declared today.

Descamps said the bout will take place some time between the first of September and the first of November, and that it probably would be staged in New Jersey or some other point near New York. This forecast followed announcement of an offer from Tex Rickard, the American promoter.

The contract with Carpentier, held by Charles Cochran, the British promoter, expires February 1, according to Descamps. Cochrane, now in New York, says his contract runs well into 1924. I do not believe there is any chance of holding the fight anywhere but in America, said Descamps, who places the offer from Rickard at the top of a list of four series, offers from the United States. While Rickard did not specify any location to Carpentier's manager, he understood the American favours New Jersey.

Descamps does not consider the eight-round law in that State any bar to holding the fight there.

"The fight will be a matter of only a few rounds," he said. "In fact, it will not last more than four. It will be terrific from the first gong. Both men will try for an immediate knock out. It will be a death struggle from the handshake."

While admitting the mathematical chances are fairly even, Descamps said the psychological elements were in favour of his protege, and that he could not conceive of Carpentier's defeat.

The other three points Descamps puts under consideration are from Billy Gibson, for Madison Square Garden; Jim Coffroth, for Tic Juana, and Frederick Torterich, for Georgia. The only worth while offer in Europe, he said, was from M. Theodore, a Viennese sportsman, who proposed to hold the bout in Paris.

Descamps predicted that at least a thousand Frenchmen would go to America to witness the battle. Carpentier leaves to-morrow on an exhibition tour of Belgium.

LINDSAY COMMENT ON WEDNESDAY NIGHT'S GAME

The Lindsay Warder has the following to say of the Lindsay-Peterboro Junior Game:

When we say "a tidy game" we mean that it is a long time since the hockey fans of Lindsay enjoyed such a fine contest of speed, skill and endurance. Both teams uncorked barrels of speed, especially in the second period, when the Midgets swept the visitors off their feet and pestered the Peterboro goalie. However, like the intermediate game with Peterboro, and like the junior game in Peterboro last week, the Lindsay puckisters had difficulty in locating the nets, and many times when they did get the proper range their shooting was wild. Oliver in the Peterboro nets for Peterboro stopped a rain of shots.

The Midgets had the edge on the play for the full duration of play, and had the Lindsay guardian of the nets been up to form the Midgets might have succeeded in overcoming the Peterboro lead of five. Oliver let a few easy ones slip in, and stopped some of the hard ones.

If anything Peterboro had the better-balanced team, with lots of speed a good defence, and a fairly good combination. Lindsay had the play in the Peterboro nets most of the evening, but failed to get a proper focus on the nets. The Midgets had the "pep" and the speed, and were in the pink of condition. They looked team work.

For the visitors Sheehan, the fair-haired lad on the right defence, was the star. He was very effective on defence and offence. Foley (Cap.) on left wing, was also good, as was Colline at centre.

The visitors played a better game than Lindsay, and it was noticed that whenever a defence player went down the ice one of the forwards dropped back to take his place. They also got the puck away fast and followed up close. They saved many a goal by checking back and helping the defence.

OTTAWA MAN IS ALL PRIMED UP FOR A FINISH BOUT.

(Special to Examiner.)

OTTAWA, Jan. 18. — Flushed with his victory over "Irish" John McLaughlin on Wednesday night, Geo. Walker of Ottawa is waiting for the word when he can get back on against Eugene Hurtubise, the Peterboro heavyweight, who issued a challenge to the Ottawa boy this week for a bout to the finish.

Walker is ready for Hurbubise but the latter has not been heard from since his defi was thrown out.

After the match with Hurtubise, Walker will leave for the west after more scalps.

CURLING

(Lindsay Post.)

Lakeview curlers lost the Carew Challenge Cup to Guelph Royals in the first challenge game of the season Tuesday night by a score of 16 to 11. Pat Hayes of Lakeview lifted the trophy from Aberdeen rink last year and successfully defended it against Glanford, but Harry Mahoney's rink from Guelph were too much for him this time.

The conditions of the cup call for a game every five days, and the challenges now in for the trophy are in the following order: Napanee, Hamilton, Victorias, Peterboro, Oshawa, Toronto C. C., Stouffville, Cannington, Campbellford, Brampton, Queens City, Lindsay, Oshawa, Aberdeens, Toronto Granites, Glanford and Lakeview.

In spite of the bitter cold weather, last night's schedule games were played off as usual in the inter-rink matches:

WEEKLY DANCE WAR VETERANS

Great success attended the regular weekly dance held by the War Veterans in their rooms last night. Over one hundred couples attended the affair which was one of the most successful yet held by the veterans whose weekly dances are becoming better known and better attended each week. Excellent music was furnished by Follis and Seymour and dainty refreshments were served at midnight. The dance broke up about 1 a.m.

The second "At Home" of the G. W.V.A. will be held on Easter Monday. Munley's seven piece orchestra from Toronto has been secured for the occasion.

Suffered With Boils Past Five Years

Boils are simply a breaking out of bad blood and anyone who has suffered from them knows how sick and miserable they make you feel. Just when you think you are cured of one another seems ready to take its place and prolong your misery. All the poulticing and lancing you can do will not get rid of them.

While the skin appears to be the cause of the irritation the real disease is rooted in the blood and to get rid of these painful sores it is necessary to get right at the seat of the trouble.

When the blood is purified, cleansed and vitalized by Burdock Blood Bitters, the boils will quickly disappear, your misery is at an end, and health and strength come back again.

Mr. Robert Johnson, Bethany, Ont., writes:—"I have suffered very much during the last five years from boils, having as many as five at once. I tried different remedies without any relief. I was advised to try Burdock Blood Bitters which I did and after taking just one bottle I have had no more boils."

SOME CASES OF SMALLPOX WERE NOT REPORTED OR QUARANTINED

HEALTH DEPARTMENT'S ADVICE TO CITIZENS TO BE VACCINATED WAS LARGELY UNHEEDED—EIGHT HOUSES PLACARDED SINCE NEW YEAR'S—DISEASE HAS NOT BEEN CHECKED.

Between January 2nd and 14th eight new cases of smallpox were quarantined, and according to Dr. McPherson, M.O.H., the situation is not improving. The citizens were advised to get vaccinated, but only a comparative few took that means of protection. Three adult patients are heads of families who will be kept from work for three or four weeks with the consequent loss of wages. One of the men pleaded that he had neglected vaccination, never thinking he would contract the disease which, although not of a virulent type, is a true pox. Only one death from this disease has been recorded, and in that case there were complications that were probably the most fatal in their effects.

Discovered By Chance.

The case was discovered by chance by the Sanitary Inspector, who had visited the house on Aylmer street on the strength of a report of the woman's illness and of overcrowding in the house. He found three families there. The sick woman with her husband and child occupied one room; a man and his wife and three children had another room to themselves, and there was also the woman who had sub-let the rooms to them.

It is generally known that there have been too many cases of smallpox and probably other contagious diseases that have not been reported to the authorities. To mention one of several that have been heard of, a woman whose home is one of those quarantined, became infected while visiting a friend whose child had smallpox, and was under the attention of a doctor who did not report this case; her face is covered with pox and the house is placarded. But the place where, it is stated, she contracted the disease, was not quarantined.

Should Except No One.

This example illustrates how any home is threatened and how the public as a whole is endangered by the failure of attending physicians to see that every case in their care is properly quarantined. While vaccination is urged as a form of protection, citizens who object to this preventive may claim the right of the general protection by a strict and impartial quarantine of the cases that develop. Since the first of the year there have been several days on which two and three smallpox cards have been tacked up, but the discipline of quarantine becomes doubly irksome to those upon whom it is imposed if they have reason to believe that doctors are permitting exceptions, however carefully isolated these patients may be. If the rumors that have been heard were to be quoted they would include stories of smallpox patients attending church in the "scaling stage" and others walking about the streets showing all the signs of it. In these cases it is not alleged that physicians had any knowledge of them, but the persons themselves could have no doubt of what their disease was. In fact it has been asserted by some citizens who were satisfied simply with airing their complaints to friends, that for one reason or another the smallpox epidemic that has been developing in Peterborough since early last spring, might have been checked long ago had there been strict quarantining and police court examples of those who evaded it or condoned it.

The average man cannot afford to be exposed to a contagious disease that will at least keep him from work for a month. And that is only one consideration that calls for co-operation in a combined attack on this disease.

WHAT TO DO WHEN NERVES GO WRONG

A SPECIALIST'S ADVICE

Men and women who suffer from weak nerves, who tire easily, can't sleep, have brain fag, low vitality, general weariness, loss of strength, dulled ambition, lack of will power, or any of these symptoms that so surely arise from poor, unsteady, unstrung nerves, or nerve force run low, should try taking a little Ferro-Peptine with their feals for a few days and note results. This preparation is the greatest ginger-up stimulant and nerve vitalizer ever known for putting the good old "pep," ambition, courage and real vital energy into a tired, run-down and shattered nervous system.

Here is a test worth trying. The next time you feel tired, blue, or when your nerves are fairly crying out, take a Ferro-Peptine nerve tablet. Then wait for just ten minutes, and note results. Ferro-Peptine seems to go straight to the nerve cells and starts work the minute it reaches them. It brings a ten-minute change from that awful dull, weak, lazy, don't-give-a-hang feeling, to brightness, strength, clear headedness and courage. It calms and strengthens the nerves of people who get the "jumps" and fidgets, and gives them poise, power and tremendous reserve energy. Ferro-Peptine Tablets are absolutely harmless, contain no dope or habit-forming drugs, and are always safe, easy pleasant and efficient. All leading druggists in Peterborough and vicinity sell it in large boxes—42 tablets to a package—on an absolute guarantee of satisfaction, or money back.

Simple Way To Take Off Fat

There can be nothing simpler than taking a convenient little tablet four times each day until your weight is reduced to normal. That's all—just purchase a case of Marmola Prescription Tablets from your druggist (or if you prefer, send $1.00 to Marmola Co., 864 Woodward Ave., Detroit, Mich.), and follow directions. No dieting, no exercise. Eat what you want—be as lazy as you like and keep on getting slimmer. And the best part of Marmola Prescription Tablets is their harmlessness. That is your absolute safeguard.

THE LATE GEORGE FRANCIS.

On Friday, 2nd January, 1920, Mr. George Francis, of Cannington, after an illness of several months, passed peacefully away at his home in Lindsay, in his 68th year. He had been ailing for some time before giving up work. His illness was cancer of the stomach. He learned his trade as a blacksmith with the late John Holmes, of Cannington. He worked at his trade at Prefferlaw and Cannington and on the construction of the C. N. R., and was considered one of the finest blacksmiths that ever wielded a hammer.

DIVISION COURT HELD IN HAVELOCK.

An interesting case was heard in the Division Court here on Thursday last, when V. J. Chaplin, of Trent River, sued the Belmont tax collector for damages for seizing a quantity of hay for taxes. The suit was defended by the Township Council, and the Judge found that the complainant had not received any tax bill, although he had received a registered letter, which was supposed to contain that document, and which the tax collector swore he had enclosed.

Judgment was awarded Mr. Chaplin for $2.00, and costs, which amounted to $5.13. Both parties were represented by counsel.

A STRANGE MANNER OF TRANSACTING PUBLIC BUSINESS

AUTHORITIES REFUSE TO PAY EXPENSES OF RETURNING ROBERT MURDOCK TO HOSPITAL AT KINGSTON.

ACCOUNT IS UNPAID

A strange commentary upon the manner in which public business is transacted is furnished by the story involving a former patient of the Ontario Hospital at Kingston who came in the hands of the local authorities several months ago and in which the Ontario officials seem anxious to "pass the buck" as far as the expenses involved are concerned.

In November last a man named Robert Murdockwas found wandering in a destitute condition and apparently unbalanced mentally. County Constable Archie Moore brought Murdock to Peterboro and it was discovered that he had been a patient in the Ontario Hospital at Kingston.

On communicating with the authorities at Kingston the following letter was received:

Kingston, Nov. 25th., 1919

Re Robert Murdock.

Dear Sir,—In reply to your letter of Nov. 24th., I beg to say that Robert Murdock was a patient in this hospital and has been absent without leave since the 16th., Sept. last. If you will return him to the hospital we will again place him under treatment.

Yours sincerely,
(Sgd.) Edw. Ryan.

A. S. Moore Esq.,
High County Constable,
Peterborough, Ont.

The County Council refused to pay the expenses in connection with returning Murdock to Kingston and Constable Moore consulted Mr. J. H. Burnham, M.P., asking who would guarantee the expenses. The Federal member remarking that the Government authorities would undoubtedly settle the account, personally guaranteed the expenses.

However when the account was sent in the following reply was received:

Kingston, Dec. 24th., 1919.

Re Robert Murdock.

Dear Sir,—As the time you took charge of Mr. Robert Murdock he had been discharged and was not in any wise therefore a ward of the hospital, nor had the hospital any responsibility in connection with him, and you were so informed by telephone when you took charge of the patient. The hospital is therefore not responsible for your account, or for any expenses in connection with re-turning the patient to the hospital.

Yours sincerely,
(Sgd.) Edw. Ryan.

Archibald M. Moore, Esq.,
Constable,
Peterborough, Ont.

Mr. Burnham then communicated with the Ontario Government receiving the following reply:

Toronto, Jan. 13, 1920

Re Robert Murdock.

Sir,—Your letter of the 8th inst. addressed to the Hon. the Attorney General of Ontario has been handed to me for reply.

We have already taken the position and have notified your client, Moore that we did not authorize him to recapture this ex-patient, who had returned to the Status of a private citizen. We did not want him at the Hospital at Kingston. If we established a precedent allowing any constable to arrest a citizen and deliver him to a Hospital for the Insane it would be one that we could not defend and one that we could not defend and one that would lead us into all kinds of difficulties.

Your obedient servant,
(Sgd.) W. W. Dunlop,

Inspector of Prisons and Public Charities.

J. H. Burnham, Esq., M.P.,
House of Commons,
Ottawa, Ont.

P. S.—I return letters from Dr. Ryan who holds the same opinion.

GAS IN THE STOMACH IS DANGEROUS

Recommends Daily Use of Magnesia To Overcome Trouble, Caused by Fermenting Food and Acid Indigestion.

Gas and wind in the stomach accompanied by that full, bloated feeling after eating are almost certain evidence of the presence of excessive hydrochloric acid in the stomach, creating so-called "acid indigestion."

Acid stomachs are dangerous because too much acid irritates the delicate lining of the stomach, often leading to gastritis accompanied by serious stomach ulcers. Food ferments and sours, creating the distressing gas which distends the stomach and hampers the normal functions of the vital internal organs, often affecting the heart.

It is the worst of folly to neglect such a serious condition or to treat with ordinary digestive aids which have no neutralizing effect on the stomach acids. Instead get from any druggist a few ounces of Bisurated Magnesia and take a teaspoonful in a quarter glass of water right after eating. This will drive the gas, wind and bloat right out of the body, sweeten the stomach, neutralize the excess acid and prevent its formation and there is no sourness of pain. Bisurated Magnesia (in preference to tablet form—never liquid or milk) is harmless to the stomach, inexpensive to take and the best form of magnesia for stomach purposes. It is used by thousands of people who enjoy their meals with no more fear of indigestion.

FRENCH "TIGER" DEFEATED FOR THE PRESIDENCY

Canadian Press:

PARIS, Jan. 14.—Premier Georges Clemenceau went down to defeat at the hand of his countrymen to-day in a caucus of the Senate of Chamber of Deputies to choose a candidate for the Presidency of the Republic. He was beaten by Paul Deschanel, President of the Chamber of Deputies, who secured 408 votes, while the "Tiger" had 389 cast in his favour. Senators and Deputies are generally of the opinion that Clemenceau means Clemenceau's elimination from public life, he being neither Senator nor Deputy. His friends are already searching for another candidate, as President Poincaire is reported to have refused to accede to the demand of the deputation that he be a candidate for re-election. Never before in the history of the French Presidential elections has so many attended a plenary caucus, 881 out of 894 being present.

The Easiest Way To End Dandruff

There is one sure way that never fails to remove dandruff completely and that is to dissolve it. This destroys it entirely. To this, just get about four ounces of plain, ordinary liquid arvon; apply it at night when retiring; use enough to moisten the scalp and rub it in gently with the finger tips.

By morning, most if not all, of your dandruff will be gone, and three or four more applications will completely dissolve and entirely destroy every single sign and trace of it, no matter how much dandruff you may have.

You will find, too, that all itching and digging of the scalp will stop instantly, and your hair will be fluffy, lustrous, glossy, silky and soft, and look and feel a hundred times better.

You can get liquid arvon at any drug store. It is inexpensive, and four ounces is all you will need. This simple remedy has never been known to fail.

THE PIANO WORTH WHILE

It is poor economy to buy a piano because there may be a slight difference in price vetween one piano and another. A good piano will last a lifetime. The pianos of Ye Olde Firme of Heinzman & Co., Limited, have in many cases been handed from generation to generation. They are built to last a lifetime, besides possessing a distinctive tone, touch and power, that has made them favorite with great artists the world over. It should always be a pleasure to visit the warerooms at George and Hunter streets, Peterborough.

Voice Of The People

Dear Sir: I feel that the citizens owe a debt of gratitude to the Rev. Canon Davidson for his manly and Christian action in the trying ordeal of attending the two unfortunate men who were executed. Geo. Ball.

$500 FOR RETURNE SOLDIERS.

To the Editor, Daily Examiner:

Dear Sir,—I see in the various papers that the Government has decided to give the sum of $500 for returned men to start in business. I also see that they want this sum repaid in five notes without interest payable in five years. It is extremely gratifying to see that the Govt. is beginning to realize the fact that others besides farmers are willing to become useful business citizens of the Dominion, but why on earth they still persist in asking for repayment is beyond comprehension; in my opinion they should only be too glad to give this money free to any who really intend to use it for this purpose, as when the business is flourishing it would put an end to the constant asking of further gratuity money. But to improve this matter a little I believe it would be a more satisfactory arrangement for the soldier to put in his request for whatever business he may feel he is capable of handling, to the government, and they send a capable representative to purchase the necessary implements to start this man and see that he is well on the way to success, by financing him with a loan of say $500, payable each year on a percentage basis according to the profits realized by the business. The plant the man desired would be a free gift to repay him for the work he has lost by entering the service, and the $500 would be a loan to carry him over until he had made enough profit to "carry on" himself. Is every man not entitled to the same as the farmer who can get free land and a good sum to start him on. Did not every man stand the same risk when he volunteered his services for the country. War Veterans are urged to back up this matter to their utmost ability.

One Who Would Profit.

A SHAKE UP OF GAME WARDENS

TWO HUNDRED AND TEN WILL BE DISPOSED OF BY ONTARIO GOVERNMENT.

Canadian Press:

TORONTO, Jan. 8.—Two hundred and ten incumbents in forty-eight counties and districts of the Provinces will be separated from their present salaries and positions in the employ of the Provincial Government by the wholesale re-organization of the Game and Fisheries Department, which is to be made in the near future by Hon. F. C. Biggs, Minister of Public Works. This small army of employees are for the most part game overseers and deputy wardens, and their total annual salary runs up to almost $[illegible],000 a year. All of them give only a part of their time to the Government, and their salaries vary according to the amount of work they do and the extent of territory they cover. Three [illegible] part-time employees are all to be relieved of their positions, and in their place will be appointed less than 40 permanent game officials, who will be expected by the Government to give the whole of their time to the enforcement of the Game and Fisheries Laws of the Province.

YARD FOREMAN BADLY INJURED

WAS CAUGHT, BETWEEN FREIGHT CAR AND BRICK WALL.

Joseph Meagher, 372 Rubidge St., yard foreman of the Grand Trunk, was painfully injured yesterday afternoon at 2.30 o'clock, when he was caught between the side of the car he was switching in the C.G.E. north yard and the wall of a neighboring brick building.

He was removed to St. Joseph's Hospital in Comestock's ambulance, and it was found that several of his ribs and his left arm had been broken. After undergoing an operation this morning, he is making satisfactory progress towards recovery.

SITUATION IS SERIOUS

(Canadian Press.)

LONDON, Jan. 16.— The impression prevailed here to-day that in the conference at Paris of Premier Lloyd George, Winston Churchill, Walter Hume Long, Baron Beatty and Field Marshal Sir Henry Wilson, it would be decided to send a British force to Persia. The Persian government has requested Great Britain to state what assistance can be given Persia in event of a Bolshevik invasion and what defensive action by Persia would accord with the British policy. An unconfirmed report from Berlin says that Enver Pasha, former Turkish War Minister, who was recently crowned king of Kurdistan, has been in Berlin, and has proceeded to Asia Minor. This raises a question of whether he was trying to enlist the support of the German extremist elements in carrying out co-operation between the Turks and Bolsheviki.

BOARD KEEPING WATCH ON POTATO PRICES.

TORONTO, Jan. 13. — That the Board of Commerce is keeping a watchful eye on the increase in potato prices, was the assurance given by Mayor Duncan yesterday morning. "The Board some time ago made preliminary investigations of the potato situation," he said, "and in view of the information then gained it is in touch with the situation now, and is making a further investigation."

"Will a probe be held?"

"We are looking into the matter fairly, but have not yet got all the material."

AFTERNOON TEA HELD IN LAKEFIELD

PROGRESSIVE EUCHRE PARTY HELD IN THE EVENING.

LAKEFIELD, Jan. 14.—The Ladies' Auxiliary of the G.W.V.A. held an afternoon tea on Thursday afternoon in the Veterans' rooms. In spite of the extreme weather there was a splendid turnout, principally of the fair sex. The gratifying sum of $34 was realized and the committee in charge deserves full credit for their efforts. Mrs Mahood was in charge and was assisted by Miss Hilliard, president of the Auxiliary, Mrs. W. W. Leonard, the secretary-treasurer, Mrs. (Capt.) Marling, Mrs. Chappell, Mrs. Sabatino and Mrs. Stenner.

In the evening they gave a progressive euchre party, which was so successful that it is more than likely another will be held in the near future. There were eleven tables of cards and a number of lookers-on. The first prizes were won by Miss Doris Burgess and Mr. Joseph Lemay and the consolation prizes by Mrs. Stuart and Miss Graham.

The card party netted $28.50 and was in charge of Mrs. Harry Stuart, assisted by Mrs. Burke, Miss Hilliard, Miss Kennedy, Miss Hampton and Miss Ogilvie.

This is the initial effort of the Ladies' Auxiliary and was such a great success that they will feel encouraged to continue.

Annual Meeting.

The Girls' Auxiliary of St. John's church held their annual meeting on Wednesday night at the home of Mrs. Marling. Reports were read and the following officers were elected:

Honorary President — Mrs. (Rev.) H. A. Ben Oliel.

President—Mrs. T. B. Marling.

1st Vice-President — Mrs. (Rev.) Archbold.

2nd Vice-President—Miss Watson.

Secretary—Miss Ogilvie.

Treasurer—Miss L. Smith.

Dorcas committee—Misses Watson, Smith and Wood.

The branch has sent one good box to an Indian mission school in the northwest during the past year, and is at work on another. The cash balance on hand of $37 is the largest that they had at the end of their year. They have made plans for a bigger and better years' work and the attendance justifies the greater expectations.

MEMBER OF 93RD ARRIVES HOME

Corporal T. H. Brooks, an old Peterboro boy, and a former member of the 93rd Battalion, has returned to this city after a long service in the army. Corporal Brooks is one of the last, if not the last, members of the unit to return home.

Corporal Brooks went overseas with the 93rd Battalion, but was invalided home from England and returned to Canada about 2 years ago.

Since then he has been stationed at Queen's Military Hospital, Kingston, but the hospital has now been taken over by the Soldiers' Civil Re-establishment.

A change in staff was then made, all the men in charge before being discharged.

When questioned by the Examiner on the change in the system Corporal Brooks said he thought it would be better to have the hospital controlled by the S.C.R.

SAYS TOO MANY MARRIAGES TAKE PLACE IN THE HOMES.

TORONTO, Jan. 13.—So many marriages are taking place in the homes rather than in the churches, as was once the custom, according to Bishop Reeve, who assisted the rector, Rev. C. A. Seager, in the unveiling of a window at St. Matthew's Anglican church, First avenue, Sunday morning, and was the preacher at the service.

"I am sorry to see that so many marriages are taking place in the homes instead of in the churches. It was not so in my day, here is no good for it," declared Bishop Reeve. "Young couples should come to the House of God to be married in His sanctuary and obtain help for the commencement of married life."

ANNUAL MEETING OF ALL SAINTS' SUNDAY SCHOOL

The annual meeting of All Saints' Sunday school was held on Tuesday evening with the rector, Rev. R. B. Grobb, in the chair. Excellent reports were read from the various departments, showing the Sunday school to be in a flourishing condition.

The secretary's report showed that the averaged attendance, including the summer months, was 273, while the average attendance for the year was 300.

The treasurer's report indicated a very creditably balance on the right side.

A discussion of the Forward Movement gave promise of still better things, indicating a plan for making the movement felt in every phase of the work.

A happy incident at the close of the meeting consisted in the presentation of a library clock to the Rector on behalf of the teachers and officers. Mr. C. E. Sisson, in making the presentation, read a short address, to which Mr. Grobb replied, expressing his surprise and appreciation of the beautiful gift and of the kind thoughts, which prompted it.

THE CALL FROM ARMENIA

ENCOURAGING MESSAGES OF SYMPATHY AND CO-OPERATION RECEIVED FROM PETERBORO CITIZENS—PATHETIC CABLE DESPATCHES DESCRIBE TERRIBLE CONDITIONS AND BEG FOR IMMEDIATE AID.

Peterboro, Jan. 16th, 1920.

To the Peterboro Examiner.

Dear Sir;—Please find enclosed $2.00 for the little Armenian girls in memory of my own dear little girl who is in the safe shelter of our Saviour's fold.

Mrs. A. J. B.

APPEAL TO CHRISTIAN AMERICA.

Armenia is starving—starving to death. Messages of the most urgent character are being cabled to the Christian nations. And the one great cry is, "Bread! Give us bread!" To exaggerate is impossible. Conditions are beyond exaggeration.

Hon. James W. Gerard, Chairman of the American Committee for the Independence of Armenia, has issued the following appeal to Christian America to save Christian Armenia:

"Two hundred thousand Armenians fought in the ranks of the Allied and associated armies. One million Armenian men, women and children have been slaughtered by the Turks because of their fidelity to the faith and cause of America. And now, at this the most critical juncture of our history, Christian Armenia makes its supreme call to Christian America. If we permit the Armenian people to be exterminated, the Christian Church will be dishonoured for ever. An Armenian State in Asia Minor is bound to be a decisive factor in the task of civilizng the people of Near and Middle Asia, and it is also the best guarantee against the dangers of Pan-Islamism and Pan-Turanianism. Christian Armenia will be a watch-dog of Christian civilization in the East. We must save her."

A SCENE BY THE WAYSIDE.

Yet, while the Peace Conference has been in progress and men have been seeking to settle political differences, a great and noble Christian nation has been perishing before our eyes!

"Another little child," declares The Literary Digest, "has shrivelled up and died. The mother, creeping back, gaunt and cold, from the desert, has put down the thin little bones with those that strew the road, so many miles. And has sunk down beside them, never to rise again. Only a little child, and a mother, out there on the bleak Armenian road—but what is that Voice the cold winds bear to the ears of our souls—'I was hungry, and you gave me no meat—I was naked, and ye clothed me not.' Yes, and not only a hundred nor a thousand, but two hundred and fifty thousand of them crying, 'I am hungry! I am hungry! I am hungry!' "

A CABLE FROM THE CAUCASUS.

Word is cabled from the Caucasus: "It is impossible that the loss of 200,000 lives can at this date be prevented, but the remaining 500,000 can possibly be saved.

"The Armenians are dying so fast from starvation and disease that the grave-diggers fall exhausted at their work."

Think of it! There are 700,000 of them, we are told, in need of food and clothing at once.

The Examiner is assured that the need is as stated—desperate in the extreme.

"FOR HEAVEN'S SAKE, HURRY!"

The following cable has come direct from Armenia:

"No bread anywhere. Government has not a pound. Forty-five thousand in Erivan City without bread. Not a dog, cat, horse, camel, or any living thing in all Igir region. Saw refugee woman stripping flesh from dead horse with bare hands to-day. Another week will score ten thousand lives lost. For Heaven's sake, hurry!"

Can you picture it? Dogs, cats, horses, camels—gone. All gone. Every living thing—all eaten. And multitudes still starving. Can we allow [illegible] the means of bringing bread? Dare we turn deaf ears to such an appeal?

WHAT JOHN BULL IS DOING.

Thank God, the civilized world is slowly but surely awakening! The British nation is placing ships again, and even airplanes, at the disposal of the relief agencies. And these are carrying thus upon tens of food as rapidly as possible to those that are still alive.

Where John Bull leads Jack Canuck is proud to follow. A young Dominion that has proved to the world its power to sacrifice during the various appeals of the war period will not fail a Christian nation in this her hour of travail and death.

ARMENIA'S TRAGIC POSITION.

Calls for help come from other nations, but these at least have Governments to fall back upon. Armenia has not. That is the difference. The appeal from Armenia is to all nations. She is dependent upon the charity of the world. This is our opportunity as well as our privilege.

The Examiner has satisfied itself that every dollar contributed will go without delay to the relief work for whirh it is given, that it will be carefully administered, and that not one cent of it will be deducted for organization expenses.

Send your donation to The Examiner, or leave it with any bank in the city. "He who helps quickly, helps twice."

But for the financial assistance rendered by the Government in 1919, the cheese industry could not have carried on.

REVOLT IN THE CIVIL SERVICE IS SPREADING TO ALL DEPARTMENTS

EXPERTS AND SPECIALISTS ARE LEAVING THE SERVICE OF THE GOVERNMENT.

(Special to The Examiner.)

OTTAWA, Jan. 17.—The revolt in the Civil Service is spreading, and its ratifications are reaching into most of the departments and branches. Re-classification has few friends, and the opposition to it is militant against efficiency and discipline apart entirely from the serious fact that "experts" and "specialists" are leaving the service in disgust because of the lack of prospects.

Much of the time of the rank and file is being wasted in protests, open or veiled, against the various objectionable features, or imagined, of the re-classification.

The service is in an unsettled and discontented condition, to say the least.

One of the fundamental objections appears to be that the re-classification was done by experts from Chicago, and that it was based upon the form of constitution and government in the United States. In that country the executive is appointed, not elected. In Canada the executive is elected, and is responsible for the work of the officials of the various departments; but under the new re-classification and the system by which it is applied, neither the Minister nor their deputies have any say in matter of appointments, promotions, or dismissals. The Minister is responsible for the acts and work of the employees of his department; but he has no say as to who shall be appointed, promoted, or dismissed. The Civil Service Commission is supreme.

Representatives of the Civil Service have met and passed a resolution requiring that re-classification be not applied, having, after consultation by the Commission with the deputies of departments and heads of branches decided that this resolution be submitted to the Government.

It is claimed against the re-classification that it was made on the basis of normal conditions, and that normal conditions may not return again for many years.

WOMAN COUSIN OF FLORENCE NIGHTINGALE WOUNDED AND ROBBED ON BRITISH RAILWAY

LONDON.—Miss Florence Nightingale Shore, a second generation cousin of England's "Lady of the Lamp" and a sister of Brig. Gen. Offley B. Shore, who is now in California, lies at death's door from wounds inflicted by an unknown person while she was travelling by train from London to Bexhill.

Miss Shore, who followed the profession of her great namesake and did distinguished nursing service during the war, is about 50 years old. She was seen off at the station by a woman friend, who said that the compartment in which Miss Shore sat was entered just before the train started by a young man. When the train arrived at Lewes, Miss Shore was found in an unconscious condition, with a wound in her head. Her money and railway tickets had been taken.

A great sensation has been created by the outrage, both because of the personality of the victim and the fact that the English system of compartment carriages is in present times peculiarly dangerous.

Miss Shore has not regained consciousness since the attack, and so far no clue has been found to the supposed assailant, the description of whom, issued by the police, is vague.

WAR VESSELS ARE DAMAGED

AUSTRIAN FLEET HAS UNDERGONE A SECOND "SCAPA FLOW"—PARTS WERE REMOVED.

PRISONERS MISSING

(Canadian Press.)

GENEVA, Jan. 17.—The Austrian war vessels, which, under the terms of the Peace Treaty, must be handed over to the Allies, have undergone a second "Scapa Flow," according to a telegram received here from Turin.

The despatch states that the Allied Naval Commission, which recently arrived at Cattaro, confirms the first reports that the Austrian fleet had been seriously disabled.

The Austrians were said to have removed the principal parts of the machinery of the ships, rendering them incapable of navigation, only the hulls remaining in good condition.

The fleet includes one battleship, three large cruisers, and various smaller craft.

The Austrians are declared to have acknowledged the damage, but to have blamed the Czecho-Slovaks and the Jugo-Slavs.

Repairs will require several months' work.

DISEASE DECLINES UNDER PROHIBITION

Death Rate From Many Ailments Shows Decided Decrease in Detroit.

DETROIT, Jan. 18.—As a result of prohibition deaths from alcoholism in Detroit during 1919 showed a decided decrease, only fifteen being recorded from this cause, as against forty-three in 1918, 136 in 1917, and 119 in 1916.

Indirect results of prohibition, according to Dr. Henry F. Vaughan, Health Commissioner, have been a noteworthy decrease in diseases generally characterized as complications of chronic alcoholism and in the deaths due to accidents from falls, firearms and machinery.

The death rate from pneumonia, which frequently is a complication of [illegible] has decreased to 429 per 100,000 [illegible]. The tuberculosis death rate for last year is also the lowest in the city's records, 100 per 100,000 of the population. The waning of alcoholism, it is shown, has had a decided effect in bringing about the decrease in this disease.

Nine years ago, before the inauguration of the pig club movement in the southern United States, most of the hogs in that section were of the razor-back variety.

MUNICIPAL GOVERNMENT WAS THE SUBJECT.

Mr. G. N. Gordon addressed the High School Club at the Y.M.C.A. last evening on "Municipal Government." Mr. Gordon briefly traced the development of municipal government in Britain up to the present day, and then outlined the municipal system and the powers and duties of the various municipal bodies. He illustrated his talk with frequent allusions to Peterboro's city government and remarked upon the unique position which the City of Peterboro held in the Province will regard to its City Trust.

Vote of Thanks

Mr. Gordon's talk was greatly appreciated and a hearty vote of thanks was moved by Mr. G. H. Roper, mentor of the Club.

FINANCE COMMITTEE MET THE CITY TRUST COMMISSION WITH DISASTROUS RESULTS.

AN OVERDRAFT

A meeting of the Finance Committee of the Council was held in the committee room at the City Hall yesterday afternoon at 4 p.m.

The meeting was held in order to confer with the City Trust Commissioners who were represented by Messrs. Richard Hall, E. A. Peck, J. J. Hartley, A. Stevenson, E. H. D. Hall, Vincent Eastwood and W. H. Moore.

Ald. Turner, the chairman spoke of the object of the meeting which was called to give the Finance Committee an opportunity to discuss with the City Trust the surplus of about $30,000 which he believed existed over and above the interest and sinking fund.

"Through good management you have accumulated this surplus and as the city needs the money for its work this year we could see no reason why it should not be diverted to the city revenue.

"Made for this generation, it should be used for this generation," said Ald. Turner, and we wish to get the legislature give us power to divert it back to the city if that power is needed.

Mr. W. H. Moore's reply descended like a bolt from the blue on the heads of the Finance Committee who were no doubt figuring how they would spend the money which appeared already within their grasp.

"There is no surplus." Mr. Moore continued, and read a report to show that they were behind $100 this year.

O.T.R. Mortgage.

Needless to say the Aldermen were surprised at the turn affairs had taken. After much discussion between the members, the question of the mortgage the City Trust Fund holds against the Grand Trunk came up but there was only three or four thousand dollars due the Trust from the G.T.R. The question of redeeming the debentures also came up and both Ald. Phelan and Mr. W. H. D. Hall

Financial Report.

Ald. Turner said that at any rate it might be better to have the Peterboro Act changed so that if a surplus did exist it could be diverted to the city's use. There is one more matter said Ald. Turner and that is we wanted to get a financial report from the Trust so that the Committee could see just how it stood. Mr. Moore said that such a report was every given year to the Council.

"Well then its just a case of educating the chairman," said Ald. Turner, smiling. After the City Trust officers left the meeting began.

Ald Hamilton moved, seconded by Ald. Gainey that a statement as to the debenture debt and the debenturing to be issued this year be prepared by the City Clerk for the next meeting.—Carried.

It was moved by Ald. Phelan, seconded by Ald. Morrison that the committee have power to sell debentures during the year.—Carried.

A letter was read from the City Development Commission asking for a grant for stationery and other items was read. It was moved and carried that $20 be granted them.

Several minor matters were brought up and were left over [illegible] five o'clock the Committee adjourned

URIC ACID IN MEAT BRINGS RHEUMATISM

Say a Little Salts in Water May Save You From Dread Attack.

Rheumatism is easier to avoid than to cure, states a well-known authority. We are advised to dress warmly; keep the feet dry; avoid exposure; eat less meat, but drink plenty of good water.

Rheumatism is a direct result of eating too much meat and other rich foods that produce uric acid which is absorbed into the blood. It is the function of the kidneys to filter this acid from the blood and cast it out in the urine; the pores of skin are also a means of freeing the blood of this impurity. In damp and chilly cold weather the skin pores are closed thus forcing the kidneys to double work, they become weak and sluggish and fail to eliminate the uric acid which keeps accumulating and circulating through the system, eventually settling in the joints and muscles causing stiffness, soreness and pain called rheumatism.

At the first twinge of rheumatism get from any pharmacy about four ounces of Jad Salts; put a tablespoonful in a glass if water and drink before breakfast each morning for a week. This is said to eliminate uric acid by stimulating the kidneys of normal action, thus ridding the blood of these impurities.

Jad Salts is expensive, harmless and is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia and is used with excellent results by thousands of folks who are subject to rheumatism. Here you have a pleasant, effervescent lithia-water drink which helps overcome uric acid and is beneficial to your kidneys as well.

SAVE THE OLD SHOES

A campaign to be launched by the National Shoe Retailers Association of U.S., estimated to save $200,000,000 by repairing all the old shoes.

Retail Shoe dealers are to be urged, not that new shoes be purchased, but that Old Shoes be dug out of the closets and repaired.

It is said that there are "millions of shoes in the closets of the nation, that, with a little repair, they can be made perfectly serviceable. If people will get out these old shoes it will reduce the shoe bills from more than $1,000,000,000 to $700,000,000."

What is true of the U.S., is true of Canada and of Peterborough. I am splendidly prepared to Repair all kinds of Old Shoes. Dig them out of the closets and bring them here for a first-class job. We don't cobble Shoes, we Repair them.

Change for Examination in 1920.

Those writing on Normal Entrance and Pass Matriculation examinations in 1920 will answer the same question papers according to a circular sent out by the department of Education. Hitherto, although the curriculum for Normal Entrance is almost the same as that of Pass Matriculation unless the pupil tried both examinations at the same time, there would be separate question papers. Now there will be one only and matriculation students will try the same examination as normal entrance students except that they have the additional subject of French. Upper School examinations are being standardized in the same way.

GREY HAIR CURE.

LONDON, Eng. — Two war-time friends, who had met for the first time since the armistice in a London hotel, greeted each other heartily. They were soon deep in reminiscences, but one did not seem at ease. He kept casting puzzled glances at the sleek black hair of his companion.

At last his curiosity became too much for him. "I say," he remarked, "is my memory playing me tricks, or —wasn't your hair the least bit grey when I saw you last?"

"Certainly," replied the other; "in fact, it was pretty completely so."

"Oh, so then you——" He paused.

"Not a bit of it," said the second man. "Never ever used a hair restorer. Worry and strain in the army turned my hair grey, and a year of soft 'civvy' life has turned it black again."

A doctor states that such cases are by no means impossible.

A WOMAN'S VIEW OF "MY LADY NICOTINE"

WINNIPEG, Jan. 16.—"Let men smoke. It makes them easier to get along with and helps them to think," said Mrs. Luther Holling, President of the Women's Civic League, here. She hoped women would "stop smoking to straighten out the tangle men's smoking and thinking had caused in world affairs." One local tobacconist declared ten per cent. of his customers were women.

Mothers! NEVER NEGLECT WHOOPING COUGH

Many mothers make the mistake of thinking that whooping cough is not of serious importance, but unfortunately this mistake often leads to the neglect of this dangerous child's disease.

Never neglect whooping cough, for it may be followed by some serious lung trouble.

Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup is highly recommended by mothers everywhere for the relief of this trouble. It will clear the clogged-up air passage of the mucous and phlegm that has collected in in this way bring on the "whoop" which bring the so-much-sought-for relief.

Mrs. Francis Buckingham, New Gate, B.C., writes: "This spring three of my children took the whooping cough, and they had it so bad I thought they would choke. I was getting pretty worried when my sister wrote me, telling me to try Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup. I sent for some right away, and, believe me, I will never forget how it worked. I will always have it in my house."

There are many imitations of Dr. Wood's on the market. Get the genuine when you ask for it. It will pay in the end. Put up in a yellow wrapper; 3 pine trees the trade mark; price 25c and 50c. Manufactured only by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

"Peterborough Presents Possibilities Unsurpassed."

SATURDAY, JANUARY 17, 1919.

"GIVE US BREAD."

The great cry from Armenia is "Bread! Give us bread." The whole population is starving to death. The terrible nature of the situation cannot be exaggerated. Read this telegram from the Caucasus:

"It is impossible that the loss of 200,000 lives can at this date be prevented, but the remaining 500,000 can possibly be saved. The Armenians are dying so fast from starvation and disease that the grave-diggers fall exhausted at their work."

Peterborough has already made a good response to the appeal, but more, much more, must come from this city. If you can help there is a subscription list at the Examiner.

THE UNEMPLOYMENT FUND.

Is the Federal Government's Unemployment Fund for returned soldiers accomplishing the objects for which it was created? Among ex-service men the answer to this question would be in the negative. Most of them, rightly or wrongly, believe that the only man who benefits by the scheme is the returned soldier who ran through his gratuity and has neither work nor money when he applies for assistance. The thrifty soldier who went to work as soon as he could find employment, saved a portion of his gratuity and perhaps invested in a Victory Bond, cannot secure any assistance even if he is unable to find employment at the present time. It is presumed that he must cash his bond and spend the proceeds to live on before he becomes eligible for a portion of the grant. The fault is not of course with the local officials, who are only following the regulations as laid down and they have no other alternative.

"PASSING THE BUCK."

As usual, when somebody makes a speech that gets him into trouble, the newspapers are being made the scapegoats in the agitation that has followed the celebrated address of Lieutenant-Governor Clarke on the Government House question. In answer to a letter from Premier Drury, calling attention to the reports of Hon. L. H. Clarke's speech in the newspapers and to the interpretations which might be placed upon them, the Lieutenant-Governor hastens to inform the Premier that the reports "were not wholly accurate," and that "comments thereon have, I fear, created an erroneous impression and attributed to the motives altogether absent from my mind when I spoke." The explanation will no doubt be accepted by the Government, and furnishes an easy way out of the difficulty. Hon. Mr. Clarke and others who feel called upon to make speeches on public matters would do well to consider carefully the import of what they intend to say and be prepared to stand by their remarks, no matter what objection may be raised to the tone of their addresses. Making the newspapers the "goat" is a convenient subterfuge, but it cannot be worked too often.

SALUTARY LESSONS.

Some particularly timely, pointed and salutary lessons which the Canadian public should carefully "read, mark and digest" are embodied in the addresses delivered by the president and the general manager of the Canadian Bank of Commerce at the annual meeting of the shareholders on Tuesday, January 13.

Sir Edmund Walker, the president, warns us that unless closer attention is given by capital and labor to the production of merchandise of various kinds "we may lose all that victory seemed to secure of indulging in the discussion of countless theories, many of which aim at the disintegration of society, all should be co-operating in one ideal—the restoration of order and the improvement of social conditions," so that the happiness of the greatest number may be secured. He acknowledges that clearing house and trade returns show higher figures in money, but draws attention to the fact that it is not because production is on a higher scale, but "because we think in terms or dollars and not of merchandise," and are thus "living in a fool's paradise."

The need of increase in production was manifold. In the first there was no other way by which the rising curve of prices could be turned downward, a point which led Sir Edmund to remark that "that man who does not do his best at his particular job is not merely helping to barricade the only pathway that will lead us out of our troubles but he is helping to raise, or to maintain, the cost of the necessaries of life for his own family."

Production, he intimated, has also a close relationship to the country's ability to liquidate its financial obligations, which as a result of our efforts in the war, were now enormous. The public debt, for instance, would at the end of March next amount to $1,950,000,000, while the annual interest charges on our foreign indebtedness now amounted to $190,000,000. "This debt," Sir Edmund declared, "we can only pay by an excess of exports over imports or by new borrowings," and naturally the only way we can increase exports is to increase production, in order that the surplus available for the purpose may be made as substantial as possible.

Then there is the abnormal condition of exchange to be taken into account. As the General Manager, Sir John Aird points out, the low value of the pound sterling is due to a surplus of bills receivable as compared with bills payable, caused, in turn, by the fact that our sales to Great Britain have been much in excess of our purchases therefrom. The low value of the Canadian dollar, as compared with the American dollar is, on the other hand, due to the unfavorable balance of trade with the United States, which has created a scarcity of bills receivable as compared with bills payable. Still another factor in the unfavorable situation has been the credits we have granted France, Belgium, Greece, Roumania, and Great Britain for manufactured goods, much of the raw material for which we had to pay for cash in the United States, as a contributing reason Sir John strongly urged the purchasing of Canadian-made goods and the limitation, as far as possible, of the importation of merchandise from the United States.

We have by inference and illustration of what wise and efficient business management can accomplish in the experience of the Canadian Bank of Commerce during the past year. That bank, like all other banks in Canada, is finding it increasingly difficult to maintain its net earnings even at a moderate ratio in keeping with its assets. True, the net profits for 1918 at $3,074,892, were the largest in the history of the bank, but as Sir John Aird, the general manager, shows the increase of 7.9 per cent. over the previous year was less by 1 per cent. than the gain in assets, thus clearly indicating that the net surplus of earnings is the direct result of putting into practice these sound underlying business principles which the executive officers of the bank desire to see applied to industry in general throughout the country.

As a result of the sound business principles applies, the Canadian Bank of Commerce not only increased its profits during the year, but strengthened its position as well. It did a bigger business than usual, as is demonstrated by the fact that its deposits increased by $40,446,000 and its commercial loans by $20,837,000, but, as Sir John Aird in his address to the shareholders it reduced the note circulation by $1,556,000, thus to that extent assisting in the deflation of paper currency, one of the contributing causes of inflated prices. On the other hand, the bank increased its cash on hand by $1,390,000 and its quick assets by $16,892,000, while in total assets it made a gain of $39,333,000, and now, as a result of its stronger position, together with the fact that it already occupies most of the promising fields in the Dominion, Sir John Aird was able to inform the shareholders that "we purpose turning our attention to the foreign fields," a decision which will of course facilitate Canadian Manufacturers in the development of export trade.

AN EXPLANATION NEEDED.

The case of Robert Murdock, the correspondence in which was published in yesterday's papers, is one that demands an explanation from someone in authority. This man, a veteran of the South African war, who was wounded in the head, sustaining injuries that accounts for his present condition, was wandering around the northern part of the county in a destitute state. It was ascertained that he had been a patient in the Ontario Hospital at Kingston, and Dr. Ryan of that hospital in a letter to the County Constable here, stated that Murdock "was a patient in this hospital and has been absent without leave since the 16th of September." The official added, "If you will return him to the hospital we will again place him under treatment." Murdock was therefore taken down to Kingston and returned to the hospital, the constable's expenses having been guaranteed by Mr. J. H. Burnham, M.P., who assumed that the account when presented would be paid by the authorities.

But it was not paid. Dr. Ryan who wrote in November and asked for the return of Murdock saying that he was a patient absent without leave, writes again on Dec. 24th to state that at the time the man was taken in charge he had been discharged, 'was not in any wise therefore a ward of the hospital," and that the hospital is not responsible for the expenses incurred in returning the patient. This view is confirmed by the Inspector of Prisons and Public Charities for Ontario, who declares that "we did not authorize him (the constable) to recapture the ex-patient, who had returned to the status of a private citizen."

There is something wrong with the system somewhere. What is a constble to do if he finds a man wandering around in an irresponsible condition? If he comes in from another district the county and city authorities are not responsible for any expenses in his case, and apparently the provincial authorities are equally ready to disavow any obligation. Is the man to be allowed to drift around until he dies by the wayside or perhaps murders somebody in an outburst of homicidal insanity? What other alternative but to let him do so is there for a constable whose salary is too small to allow him the luxury of returning at his own expense to hospitals for the insane men who obviously should be there.

In this particular case a man who had fought and bled for the Empire was involved. It is apparent that he was either discharged from hospital in a condition that should have resulted in his being kept there or that he was an absentee without leave. In either instance the Provincial authorities would seem to be liable for the financial cost of his return. But the authorities hasten to shake off any obligations.

The whole case obviously requires more explanation than has so far been vouchsafed.

Here's What You Get for $1365 (PLUS WAR TAX) in the New GRAY-DORT

Flowery language never improved a motor car. We leave it to the Gray-Dort to interest you. We ask you to study the Gray-Dort, part by part, in comparison with any car costing several hundred dollars more. We give you here some of the Gray-Dort features. You cannot find another car which offers you all, or even many, of them, unless you pay much more than the Gray-Dort price. Which doesn't seem sensible, does it?

Yet there is not a feature of the Gray-Dort which your car should be without—not one which you can really afford to do without.

New Features Place the Gray-Dort at the Head of Light Cars—and yet the Price is Only $1365 plus war tax

Automotive engineering raced ahead during the year. Gray-Dort policies call for peacetime values. In this new car these two meet.

You'll find here a bigger gasoline tank—and placed in the rear for good looks and convenience.

A much heavier steering gear than is usually considered for a light car—but it is demanded by the Gray-Dort reliability rule. And it does give easier steering.

Like cars costing $2,000 and up, the new Gray-Dort has side curtains opening with the doors.

The emergency brake is on a lever—as in big cars.

Your first ride as a passenger in the rear seat will impress you with the roominess of the Gray-Dort.

[illegible] the driving compartment will give you the same impression because the cowl is shorter—and smarter.

Many long, narrow louvres give almost a Rolls smartness to the new Gray-Dort hood.

The top, hand-tailored along new lines, is entirely becoming.

You will find many more refinements in the Gray-Dort—refinements which you will not find in other light cars—and every one means many dollars added to the value of the Gray-Dort.

MANY THOUSAND GOOD GRAY-DORTS PRECEDED THIS CAR

These betterments, important as they are, must not overshadow the basic fineness and reliability of the Gray-Dort.

Building Europe's highest-priced motors, gave Gray-Dort engineers their experience. The Gray-Dort motor has a big bore and a long stroke. The crankshaft is many pounds heavier than on any other light car.

A big, cellular-type radiator insures ample cooling. The husky rear axle is built where we can see it built—in Chatham. The long springs are built here, too.

The Gray-Dort is a good-looking car. Next year, the year after, for many years, you will be proud of your Gray-Dort. And to back up this beauty of line is an unmatched beauty of finish. For 60 years we have been developing fine finishes for vehicles. Only long-trained craftsmen can produce such a finish.

Gray-Dort production has been doubled for this year. But it will probably not meet the demand for Gray-Dort cars. We advise you to see the Gray-Dort now.

PRICES

The Gray-Dort 5-passenger car, finished in Gray-Dort green and black, and with standard equipment, is $1365 f.o.b. Chatham. War tax extra.

The roomy 2-passenger roadster is the same price.

THE GRAY-DORT SPECIAL

For the man who wishes something a little extra in his car, we have built the Gray-Dort Special. Maroon body, with brown rayonite top. Plate glass rear window. Gipsy curtains. Rookie tan wheels. Motometer. Tilting steering wheel. Real leather upholstery. Mahogany instrument board. Just the touches which lift this car out of the ordinary. $150 extra on the standard.

AND THE ACE!

The Gray-Dort Ace—the most beautiful light car of to-day. Sapper green body with handsome California top to match.

Trouble lamp and bull's-eye flashlight. Electric cigar lighter. Rear-vision mirror.

Plate glass windows. Oversize cupped tread tires. This is the [illegible] man who does not wish to pile up a tremendous operating cost. $255 extra on the standard.

"GIVE US BREAD."

The great city from Armenia is "Bread! Give us bread." The whole population is starving to death. The terrible nature of the situation cannot be exaggerated. Read this telegram from the Caucasus:

"It is impossible that the loss of 280,000 lives can at this date be prevented, but the remaining 500,000 can possibly be saved. The Armenians are dying so fast from starvation and disease that the grave-diggers fall exhausted at their work."

Peterborough has already made a good response to the appeal, but more, much more, must come from this city. If you can help there is a subscription list at the Examiner.

THE UNEMPLOYMENT FUND.

Is the Federal Government's Unemployment Fund for returned soldiers accomplishing the objects for which it was created? Among ex-service men the answer to this question would be in the negative. Most of them, rightly or wrongly, believe that the only man who benefits by the scheme is the returned soldier who ran through his gratuity and has neither work nor money when he applies for assistance. The thrifty soldier who went to work as soon as he could find employment, saved a portion of his gratuity and perhaps invested in a Victory Bond, cannot secure any assistance even if he is unable to find employment at the present time. It is presumed that he must cash his bond and spend the proceeds to live on before he becomes eligible for a portion of the grant. The fault is not of course with the local officials, who are only following the regulations as laid down and they have no other alternative.

"PASSING THE BUCK."

As usual, when somebody makes a speech that gets him into trouble, the newspapers are being made the scapegoats in the agitation that has followed the celebrated address of Lieutenant-Governor Clarke on the Government House question. In answer to a letter from Premier Drury, calling attention to the reports of Hon. L. H. Clarke's speech in the newspapers and to the interpretations which might be placed upon them, the Lieutenant-Governor hastens to inform the Premier that the reports "were not wholly accurate," and that "comments thereon have, I fear, created an erroneous impression and attributed to me motives altogether absent from my mind when I spoke." The explanation will no doubt be accepted by the Government, and furnishes an easy way out of the difficulty. Hon. Mr. Clarke and others who feel called upon to make speeches on public matters would do well to consider carefully the import of what they intend to say and be prepared to stand by their remarks, no matter what objection may be raised to the tone of their addresses. Making the newspapers the "goat" is a convenient subterfuge, but it cannot be worked too often.

SALUTARY LESSONS.

Some particularly timely, pointed and salutary lessons which the Canadian public should carefully "read, mark and digest" are embodied in the addresses delivered by the president and the general manager of the Canadian Bank of Commerce at the annual meeting of the shareholders on Tuesday, January 13.

Sir Edmund Walker, the president, warns us that unless closer attention is given by capital and labor to the production of merchandise of various kinds "we may lose all that victory seemed to secure of indulging in the discussion of countless theories, many of which aim at the disintegration of society, all should be co-operating in one ideal—the restoration of order and the improvement of social conditions," so that the happiness of the greatest number may be secured." He acknowledges that clearing house and trade returns show higher figures in money, but draws attention to the fact that it is not because production is on a higher scale, but "because we think in terms or dollars and not of merchandise," and are thus "living in a fool's paradise."

The need of increase in production was manifold. In the first there was no other way by which the rising curve of prices could be turned downward, a point which led Sir Edmund to remark that "that man who does not do his best at his particular job is not merely helping to barricade the only pathway that will lead us out of our troubles but he is helping to raise, or to maintain, the cost of the necessaries of life for his own family."

SANDRA THE JEALOUS

BY JANE PHELPS

SANDRA REBELS.

CHAPTER XXII

I clenched my hands, I commenced to sob. I wouldn't be a good wife, and I wouldn't have children; he had no right to love that other woman, that Leola, when I was his wife. In my distress I forgot that he would be angry if he found me in tears. And gave full vent to my feelings He was in the room before I had heard him.

"What are you crying about?" he asked, "Does your head still ache?"

The idea that after he had talked to me as he had just a little while before he could ask me what I was crying about. I just didn't answer at all; I only cried the harder.

"You will make yourself ill," his voice was not quite so kind.

"What made you marry me when you didn't love me? You don't love me now!" I stormed . I wanted to say "when you love that other woman," but didn't dare.

"I certainly shall not love you if you do not stop crying," his voice stern with displeasure. "I thought I told you I disliked a crybaby."

As I tried to control myself I wondered if Leola never had cried If she had always laughed on that was the reason he love her so.

Suddenly there came to me once again my foolish bragging speech to Ros e Grandon: "He is crazy to marry me."

He might have been. Surely all his gifts and attentions looked that way. But now I knew why he wanted to marry me. Then I thought it was because he loved me. Now I knew it wasn't. A good wife and children, how I wished he hadn't said that, that he had pretended he married me for love. She Leola was dead. It wouldn't have hurt him and I wouldn't have been quite so miserable even after I knew of her if he had let me go on thinking he had loved me.

I stopped sobbing. Then to my surprise Everett leaned over the bed and kissed me softly.

"Be a good little girl and go to sleep. You'll spoil your looks unless you do."

Before I could say a word, he had left the room and closed the door. He had not answered my question, neither had be contradicted me when I had declared he didn't love me. But someway his kiss, his sudden gentle speech comforted me, and utterly worn out I soon slept.

Once more he had gone to the office without kissing me good-bye. I realized when Hetty brought my coffee, and told me that Mr. Graham said I was not to be disturbed.

"You are worrying ma'am. I feel very sorry I told you anything."

"You needn't feel sorry Hetty. Mr. Graham told me all about it, and it wasn't half as bad as I imagined. I didn't know she was dead."

"You thought"—she hung her words in air, horror in her tones.

"I thought she had divorced him or something; that maybe he was a bigamist. I don't know what I thought! I only know that we must not talk about it because I gave him my promise not to. But I felt so lonely, so alone and forlorn that on one pretext and another I kept Hetty with me until Mrs. Gray called her She was young too, if she was a servant, and a dainty, pretty girl also About eleven o'clock the telephone rang. It was Everett.

"Meet me at Lipman's— a large fashionable shop—at three o'clock. I saw a coat in the window I admired and if it is becoming I want it for you." He did not wait for an answer, but immediately hung up.

How arbitrary he was. He had not asked me if I had any plans, or if I could meet him. He had simply ordered me to be there. I didn't care if it were to do something nice for me. I would insist that he stop treating me like a child . I surely felt old enough these last few days—"Methuselah had nothing on me," I thought as I sighed heavily, so heavily that Mrs. Gray who had just come up stairs asked if I was sure I felt able to get up.

I assured her that I was all right, and repeated Everett's message to her.

"Your husband is very generous. Not many girls marry men who are so free with their money."

"Money isn't everything," I said sententiously. I had heard dad say that.

"It is a good deal, my dear. Not that I think it is everything, but there are few things in life that a competence, the ability to gratify ones desires does not help. At least having pretty clothes and a beautiful home helps to take your mind from other things which may not be so pleasant. Mr. Graham's taste is exquisite. I am sure the coat will be a lovely one. Rest a little longer so that you may look fresh and rested when you meet him."

"Why should I care how I look when he doesn't love me," I grumbled after she left me, but I nevertheless did as she had suggested, and remained in bed until nearly time for lunch.

I did look rested. Better than I had looked for days. And when she told me so, she added: "Mr. Graham will be pleased."

DR. PULKINGHORN NOT IN ACCIDENT

But One of His Cars and Driver Were.

Dr. Pulkinghorn draws attention to an item in last night's Examiner, in which it was stated that he collided with the Charlotte street gates at the G.T.R. crossing.

It is incorrect inasmuch as it was his driver and not Dr. Pulkinghorn himself who met with the accident.

Isn't This True?

When you "feel mean" — dull, tired, nervous, bad digestion, no appetite—

Don't you find out, afterwards, that your bowels were not acting freely and naturally?

Due, of course, to a liver gone on a strike.

ACTIVITIES IN SALVATION ARMY

EFFORTS WILL BE MADE TO ASSIST IN DEVELOPMENT OF CHILDREN.

In order to assist in developing the children in every city along the right lines spiritually and morally the Salvation Army throughout the Dominion has formed a chain of young peoples associations which step by step look after the growing children from the cradle to years of discretion. The young peoples associations which are established in Peterboro commence with the Cradle Roll which strives to enroll every infant and from the time of enrollment each little one is kept tabulated by the society. Following this stage the Primary Classes take the tots of four and five years of age in hand and with the aid of pictures, etc., teach them the primary truths of the scripture. The Directory Class held at 11 a.m. each Sunday instruct the growing child by a series of questions and answers on the Bible. The Company Meetings on Sunday afternoons when the children are put into graded classes put forth a definite effort to win the growing child to Christ. At the next stage the Band of Love a weekly meeting is held for children of ten years of age when they are required to observe a pledge vowing to observe the decencies of life in the matter of abstaining from drink, smoking, swearing, etc. The Young Peoples Legion looks after the child of over ten years of age and classes give instruction tending to form proper ideals both morally and spiritually. For the boys of over ten years of age the Life Saving Scout of the World looks after the mind the body the soul and the Spirit of Service. A similar organization has been formed for the girls of over ten years of age and it is imperative that members of either should attend Sunday School of some denomination. The final stage in the Young Peoples work is the Corps Cadet Brigade in which the members all over fourteen years of age are prepared to undertake a course of Bible study and corps training with a view of self improvement.

All young people are urged to link up with any of the branches.

THE THRIFTY SCOT.

For two long years Jock had been courting Maggie. One evening, after a silence of nearly an hour, Maggie said shyly:

"I'll gie ye a penny for ye thochts, Jock."

"Weel," replied Jock, with sudden boldness, "I was just thinkin' hoo fine it wud be if ye were to gie me a bit kissie."

She complied demurely, and again there was a long silence until Maggie timidly ventured. "What are ye thinkin' about noo, Jock? Anither?"

"No, na, lassie," was the reply. "I was just thinkin' that it was about time ye were payin' me that penny for ma thochts."—The Tattler.

REPRESENTATIVE TO VISIT PETERBOROUGH

The Manchester Guardian has sent a special representative to Canada to make an intimate study on the ground of Canadian resources and the opportunities for inter-British trade relations. A letter was received yesterday by the Board of Trade from Mr. L. E. Irwin, now in Toronto, who announced by circular the intention of his newspaper to give wide spread publicity to Canada in a series of specia articles. He asks for information about Peterborough.

The Board in writing Mr. Irwin expressed high appreciation of the enterprise of the Manchester Guardian and promised all the help it could give to Mr. Irwin in getting a comprehensive view of Peterborough's present nad prospective position.

The City Administration and the Board of Trade will collaborate in preparing the discriptive matter from an industrial stand point with a view of attracting appreciative interest on the part of British capital in the City's development.

Suggestions by citizens who are interested in this subject, addressed to City Clerk Armstrong or to the Board of Trade, will be appreciated.

SCHOOLS BAR "SHYLOCK."

Youngstown, Ohio.—Asserting that the characterization of Shylock in Shakespeare's "Merchant of Venice" tends to incite race prejudice, the board of education of this city has barred the study of the famous drama from the schools.

The action of the board was taken at the request of the Anti-Defamation Society, a Jewish organization. Jewry in general has for a long time been waging a campaign here against plays and writings which tend toward bias and bigotry in the characterization of racial problems.

Easy to Make This Pine Cough Remedy

Thousands of families swear by its prompt results. Inexpensive, and saves about $2.

You know that pine is used in nearly all prescriptions and remedies for coughs. The reason is that pine contains several peculiar elements that have a remarkable effect in soothing and healing the membranes of the throat and chest. Pine is famous for this purpose.

Pine cough syrups are combinations of pine and syrup. The "syrup" part is usually plain sugar syrup.

To make the best pine cough remedy that money can buy, put 2½ ounces of Pinex (50 cents worth) in a 16-oz. bottle, and fill up with home-made sugar syrup. Or you can use clarified molasses, honey, or corn syrup, instead of sugar syrup. Either way, you make 16 ounces—more than you can buy ready-made for $2.50. It is pure, good and very pleasant—children take it eagerly.

You can feel this take hold of a cough or cold in a way that means business. The cough may be dry, hoarse and tight, or may be persistently loose from the formation of phlegm. The cause is the same—inflamed membranes—and this Pinex and Syrup combination will stop it—usually in 24 hours or less. Splendid, too, for bronchial asthma, hoarseness, or any ordinary throat ailment.

Pinex is a highly concentrated compound of genuine Norway pine extract, and is famous the world over for its prompt effect upon coughs.

Beware of substitutes. Ask your druggist for "2½ ounces of Pinex" with directions, and don't accept anything else. Guaranteed to give absolute satisfaction or money refunded. The Pinex Co., Toronto, Ont.

FRIENDLY ENEMIES

A. H. Woods, the famous theatrical manager, whose production of "Friendly Enemies," the international comedy success, will be presented at the Grand on Saturday, Jan. 24th for an engagement of Matinee and Evening, recently returned from a trip to London where he presented "Friendly Enemies." The success of the play in the English capital is now a matter of history. During his stay there Mr. Woods met the King and Queen of England and the Queen of Roumania.

Mr. Woods' introduction to these personages occurred during the opening performance of "Friendly Enemies" at the Haymarket Theatre.

"Friendly Enemies" was the first play which the King saw after the signing of the armistice," says Mr. Woods, "and I was eager to see how he would respond to it. He laughed continually and every time he laughed his dress shirt struck the railing of the box which was evidently none too clean. With every bump a stripe of dust remained on the shirt so that at the end of the play the royal breast looked like a zebra."

At the end of the performance, Mr. Woods went to the King's box and asked him how he liked the play.

"Very good, sir," said the King.

"Have a cigar," said Mr. Woods.

"Thanks," said the King.

MR. W. I. CHISHOLM AND MR. R. LEES DISCUSS NEW SCHOOL SYSTEM

INTERESTING MEETING WAS HELD IN WARSAW LAST EVENING.

In the interest of Consolidated Schools, which have been developed to unlimited benefit in different localities, Mr. W. I. Chisholm, formerly of the Normal school staff, and Mr. R. Lees, County School Inspector, addressed a large and keenly interested audience last evening in the town hall of Warsaw. Mr. Chisholm outlined the general principles of the proposed schools, the Government plans and the provision for grants, while Mr. Lees spoke on the local situation, regarding which school sections would be effected and the cost to the community. It was clearly demonstrated how in the bringing together of four or five of the school teachers better schools and better teaching facilities might be outlined. The method of bringing the children to the centralized schools would be vans. This would undoubtedly assure better attendance inasmuch as under the present conditions children attending any of the schools are frequently prevented from attending due to weather conditions.

Appoint a Committee.

At the close of the addresses it was resolved to appoint a committee to carry on an investigation to see what further steps it would be wise to take.

MR TOOMS' SUGGESTION HAS BEEN ADOPTED

The announcement of the shake-up in the Fish and Game Inspection Service by which the 210 officials who only serve part of their time in this work, will be replaced by 45 full-time officials, is an important one. The plan was suggested by Mr. T. Tooms, M.P.P., to the new government, following a number of articles in the Examiner last fall on the necessity of an improvement in the protection of fish and game. It is the biggest reorganization work that the Drury government has yet effected.

DROUGHT IN THE UNITED STATES

CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENT IN EFFECT TO-DAY.

(Secial to The Examiner.)

WASHINGTON, Jan. 17.—Prohibition was the law of the United States to-day. The constitutional amendment making it illegal to manufacture, sell or give away liquors or beverages containing more than one half of one per cent. alcohol, went into effect at midnight last night and to-day violators faced prosecution under one of the most drastic laws ever promulgated to fit a crime other than a felony. Officials were anticipating innumerable tangles to be unravelled, but because of linking up with State and local authorities of the enforcement machinery they felt matters had been greatly simplified. One of the greatest problems confronting them is that of the disposal of large quantities of distilled liquor remaining in bonded warehouses. The final fate has not been determined so far.

GIRLS DISAPPEAR FROM THE CITY

FIFTY POSITIONS WAITING AT THE LABOUR BUREAU.

"The girls in the city appear to have disappeared," Mr. H. Robinson of the Government Employment Bureau, told the Examiner to-day, stating that the demand for female help both in the factories and as domestics is larger than ever and practically no placement can be made. With a waiting list of over 50 positions open, only one applicant appeared for a position during last week and was placed in a factory.

THE PERFECT LOVER

From the time when she first wonders whether her nose is shiny as the boy with the pink tie and the vaselined hair who lives next door passes by, the quest of every woman is for "the perfect lover."

Some are fortunate they find him. Others, after many years of fruitless searching, come to the conclusion that "there ain't no such animal." But, whether they are successful or not in their search, all depends upon their version of "the perfect lover." The man Anne considers the most wonderful "thing" that ever happened—an ideal lover—Mary wouldn't look at. She frankly admits that she wouldn't walk to the corner with him if he asked her. He usually does not ask her.

There are no definite physical requirements for "the perfect lover." He may be tall or short, blonde or brunette, have brown yes or blue eyes, but he must know how to make love. "The perfect lover" is the man whose hand-clasp thrills you, whose kisses burn and make you think you are living in another world, whose eyes pierce your very soul—the man who can make love so wonderfully, so divinely, as to make you forget all material things. "The perfect lover" is not the virile type, the "cave-man" whose arms grasp you so tightly that your skin is blue and bruised when he lets you go and your very bones ache, nor is he the soft, mushy man who gently pets you and treats you like a nice, sweet kitten—but the man who strikes the happy medium. He is the man who knows when to hold you very tight and press his lips to your in burning, fiery kisses, so that you imagine yourself some ethereal being floating on the clouds and sipping the nectar of the gods; he is the man who knows when to gently pet and caress you, to kiss your eyes and your hair, and lull you to sleep with his soothing touch and honeyed words; he is the man who knows when to sympathize with you, when to laugh with you, when to dance with you, and when to dine with you. He is "the perfect lover"; the man no woman can resist, the man women go out of their way to please, the man women worship.

Can you imagine any more perfect lover than handsome Eugene O'Brien? You know how attractive he is—you have seen him make love on the screen so wonderfully that you almost fell out of your seat in your enthusiasm, and you know the following of women he has. Mr. O'Brien is certainly "the perfect lover," and wise people have cast him in a role which gives him a wonderful opportunity to portray his talents. He will be seen in his first Selznick Picture, "The Perfect Lover," on Monday, Tuesday, and Wednesday at the Empire Theatre.

FAIR AND WARMER

One of the reasons why "Fair and Warmer" the Avery Hopwood farce classic which Spaeth & Company will present at the Grand on Wednesday, Jan. 21st, after its year-run at the Eltinge and Harris Theatres, New York was a record-breaker for making laughs and making money, was that Mr. Hopwood had devised a strikingly dramatic and coherent story as the basis of his farce situations.

The first act opens on a family disagreement between Mr. and Mrs. Bartlett, married two years, because Mrs. Bartlett likes parties and Mr. Bartlett thinks his place is the home. There enters an ex-suitor of Mrs. Bartlett, who cajoles her off to the opera with him. Mr. and Mrs. Jack Wheeler, meanwhile, have arrived with the notion that they had been invited to dinner on that night. They are discovered to be as sadly ill-assorted as the Bartletts, except that it is Mrs. Wheeler who is overly domestic and Jack who pines for a spree. A deft scene or two and presto! Mr. Bartlett and Mrs. Wheeler are left alone, facing the fact that they are not only deserted, but have been deceived. They vow a revenge. Although they have no fondness for each other they agree to sit up together till the errant spouses come back, who, finding them thus compromised, will be abashed by their own wickedness and will reform.

As the clock winds over towards the wee small hours, the two innocents can hardly keep awake, and, having heard that drinks were great for keeping a party going, they begin to mix and drink all the fearsome brews that ignorance and a cellaret can provide.

What happens by the time the wanderers return makes a marvelous scene. What happens when, instead of being penitent and abashed, they are outraged and threaten the extreme penalty of the law, makes another quite as good. The explanations which don't explain, and the circumstantial evidence which tightens with every coil, very nearly wreck the two households. And even at the very happy end, Mr. Hopwood ties it off that a husband who is really better than he should be is virtually impossible to reform.

How I Cured My Rheumatism

BY PETER SAVALA

I threw away my crutches in seven days, in two months, I was a well man—and I have never had a twinge from rheumatism since. This is what the remedy, which I obtained from my uncle in Greece, did for me.

I went home to Greece crippled, broken in spirit—sick. I returned to this country in two months, absolutely free of every trace of rheumatism.

The whole story of my life in America—how I became crippled with rheumatism and how I found the treatment which uprooted the disease and drove it out of my body—I will gladly tell you FREE.

It makes no difference how swollen or distorted your joints may be; how severe the pain; or how discouraged you are; I feel sure that I have the means of helping you to find relief in a few days and a lasting cure in just a few weeks.

Send no money. Just write me personally. Say:—"Tell me how you cured your rheumatism, and how I may cure mine." Address your letter or post card to Peter Savala, 59 St. Peter St. D. 109 Montreal, Que.

10 Years of Eczema —A Sample Cured Her

Are you reading the weekly Canadian letters, telling stories of suffering from skin diseases and how cure was effected?

Here is part of a letter from Mrs. Henry Harvey, Black Lake, Que. Write her if you desire.

"Ten years of eczema on the face. Treated unsuccessfully by doctors. A sample alone of D. D. D. cured me, etc."

The proof of the pudding is in the eating. When a prescription for skin disease has letters of cure and endorsement from nearly every city and town in the Dominion, surely it is enough to convince the most skeptical.

Relief from itching torment is immediate. Just try one bottle of D. D. D. today on our positive guarantee. $1.00 a bottle. Try D. D. D. Soap, too.

SHELL-SHOCK PATIENT LOST AT BROCKVILLE

Got Off the Train on Way to Halifax and Can't Be Found.

BROCKVILLE, Jan. 16.—"Somewhere in Brockville," a shell shocked returned soldier absent without leave from Toronto Military Hospital, with a ticket for Halifax, N.S., and without other clothing than his uniform, "minus great coat," is wandering. Meanwhile, an escort from Military Headquarters in Kingston, summoned to attend to the veteran, is searching for him without success. The man left a passenger train here early yesterday morning, was later recaptured, but escaped a second time.

GEORGE DRISCOLL SAYS MONTREAL WANTS FIGHT

MONTREAL, Jan 14.—George P. Driscoll, general manager of the new Canadian Theatres Corporation, has begun negotiations with Georges Carpentier and Jack Dempsey with a view to holding the world's heavyweight championship boxing match between these two heavyweights in the vicinity of Montreal. In making this announcement today, Mr. Driscoll pointed out that it was now generally conceded that the fight would not take place in the United States or Mexico, and that Montreal was a place easily accessible to all fight fans. Those in the States could reach it by train, while he felt sure the steamship companies would run special steamers from Great Britain and France to bring the fight followers from these countries.

PRESS ON BOLSHEVIK SITUATION

(Canadian Press)

LONDON, Jan. 17—London newspapers choose for prominence the development in Russian situation most suited to their respective views. Thus the news which advocates with the Bolshevik describes the announcement of the re-opening of trade relations as "Momentous news which on face of it means raising of blockade". The Labor organ, the Herald says if the announcement sincerely means what it says it definitely implies the raising of the blockade. "But," it continues, "the Russian policy of allied governments has been so tortuous, and their deceptions have been so many that it will be well to wait and see". The dominant fact is that the anti-Bolshevik side in the Russian civil war has collapsed remarks the Chronicle. "The best thing now if it could be done would be to obtain satisfactory peace with Russia." The Daily Mail, Telegraph Morning Post, strongly anti-Bolshevik, generally comment on what they regard as a position of extreme gravity for Europe and especially for Great Britain.

The announcement was made yesterday by the Minister of Marine following receipt of the message from the Admiralty.

PRISONERS DISAPPEAR.

(Canadian Press.)

PARIS, Jan. 17.—Thirty thousand Roumanian prisoners in Germany have completely disappeared, according to a telegram from Bucharest to the Red Cross headquarters here.

The Roumanian Government refuses to accept Germany's theory that such a large number might be included among those listed as missing. The investigation is proceeding.

SICK HEADACHES CONSTIPATION

If you have suffered from constipation for years, tried doctors and all the remedies you ever heard or read of, without getting relief, if you have been subject to all the miseries associated with constipation, such as sick and bilious headaches, biliousness, specks floating before the eys, water brash, heartburn, jaundice and the painful, troublesome, internal, bleeding or protruding piles, etc., wouldn't you consider it a blessing to be able to keep the bowels in a good healthy condition and prevent disease getting a foothold on your system.

Milburn's Laxa-Liver Pills are indicated just for this purpose; their regular use relieving the worst cases of constipation.

Mrs. Malcolm McDermid, Cranton Station, N.S., writes:—"I have been sick for a number of years with sick headaches and constipation. I tried all kinds of doctor's medicine, but none did me any good. LADY PINK TOES HAS HER INNINGS

There is no excuse today for women to have ugly, painful corns

For a few cents you can get a quarter ounce of the magic drug freezone recently discovered by a Cincinnati chemist.

Apply a few drops of this freezone upon a tender, aching corn or callus and instantly, yes, immediately, all soreness disappears and shortly you will find the corn or callus so loose that you lift it out, root and all, with the fingers.

Just think! Not one bit of pain before applying freezone or afterwards. It doesn't even irritate the surrounding skin.

Hard corns, soft corns or corns between the toes, also hardened calluses on bottom of feet, just seem to shrivel up and fall off without hurting a particle. It is almost magical.

THE CANADIAN BANK OF COMMERCE

ADDRESS OF THE GENERAL MANAGER AT THE ANNUAL MEETING OF THE BANK

The address of Sir John Aird, general manager of the Canadian Bank of Commerce, at the annual meeting of the shareholders on the 13th inst., will be found of interest. It not only deals with the business of the bank during the past year, which has been the most successful one in the history of the institution, but as well it is a review of the business of the country, and carries with it a splendid message to Canadian business men for the year on which we have now entered. Sir John said:

Contrary to the view expressed last year, that it was unlikely that we should again show such large figures for some years to come, the unexpected has happened, and we have made a new record in both profits and total assets. Undoubtedly, the continued high level of prices for commodities of all kinds has left its mark upon the balance sheets of financial institutions, and while this condition continues it will be reflected in the figures of our own annual statement.

Increased Earnings.

The net profits have amounted to $1,074,000, after a most careful provision for all the doubtful items among the bank's assets. These earnings exceed those of last year by $224,000, a satisfactory increase of 7.9 per cent., but which compares with an increase of 8.9 per cent. in assets. The figures show that the forces which have been steadily reducing the rate of earnings on the services performed by Canadian banks for the public, to which I referred last year, are still actively at work, and it is fervently to be hoped that the keen spirit of competition so strenuously active in many directions, will not active in many directions will not blind Canadian bankers to this tendency of the times. When it is considered that the three million odd dollars that we show as our net profits represent the combined earnings of over 500 offices, and the result of the efforts of a staff of over 4,000 employees, it will be more clearly recognised how measure is the showing in comparison with the vast amount of hard labour and heavy responsibility involved.

The Pension Fund.

We have paid during the year four quarterly dividends of 3 per cent., or 12 per cent. in all, and now that the war is over and we find it necessary to take up our building programme again, we have resumed our former practice and have written the sum of $200,000 off Bank Premises Account. This is perhaps more necessary now than ever, owing to the extremely high cost of all building operations, which has naturally caused us to limit our programme to only the most necessary work. The release of large numbers of our men from military service, and their return into the service of the Bank, has rendered a large increase necessary in the Bank's contribution to the Pension Fund. This is caused by the return of these returned men having lost their absence on military service reached or passed the age of 25, so that the Bank's contribution to the Pension Fund on their behalf begins. When all arrangements are completed and the question of their back payments to the Fund is settled, a further large sum will no doubt be required to adjust the Bank's contributions for the period of their absence. It is our intention to the very near future to have the Fund again actuarially examined with a view to increasing the limit of the pensions awarded. We have also thought it wise, in view of the unsettled condition of the principal foreign exchanges, to set aside the sum of $750,000 as an appropriation for the continuous decrease in the value of our funds and investments abroad. We could, of course, offset this shrinkage by writing up the value of our investments in the United States, but as to realize the increased value we should have to liquidate our business in that country, we have not attempted to adopt such a short-sighted policy. We have also to consider that the exchange situation between Canada and the United States will right itself automatically when the European exchanges become more normal, and we think that the policy we have followed is one that should commend itself to every conservatively managed institution.

Patriotic Subscriptions.

As usual, we ask you to confirm the larger subscriptions we have been called on to make during the year, amounting to the sum of $22,000, almost all on behalf of objects of a patriotic character connected with the war.

There has been a decrease in our note circulation for the first time since the commencement of the war. The decrease is only $1,536,000, but if it is one of the first signs of a check to the inflation of prices, it is not unwelcome. The increase in deposits of $40,446,000 is the striking item of our statement, and it has taken place almost entirely in the more stable item of deposits bearing interest. The decreases in balances due to foreign banks and in bills payable are almost offset by the increase in acceptances under letters of credit, and none of these changes possess any special significance, save only that the increase in the use of letters of credit indicates a revival of foreign trade as a result of the ending of the war.

Increased Cash Assets.

On the assets side of the statement we show an increase of $1,390,000 in cash on hand. The change is more than accounted for by the increase in Dominion notes held, there having been a slight decrease in our holdings of coin. Dominion notes in the Central Gold Reserves are $1,000,000 lower, corresponding to the decrease in our note circulation. There is a decrease of about $1,400,000 in the item of cheques on other banks, which may indicate a slight lessening in the activity of general business, but an increase in bank balances, which leaves the combined total of notes and cheques and bank balances $1,133,000 greater than the figures of last year. There has been an increase in our call and short loans in Canada and a decrease in those elsewhere, the combined effect of all these changes in assets being that our quick or easily realizable assets have increased by $16,892,000, and stand at 49.11 per cent. of our liabilities to the public. Our holdings of Dominion and Provincial Government securities have increased $10,700,000 during the year, largely represented by our share of advances to the Dominion Government, which are being repaid out of the proceeds of the last Victory Loan. Current commercial loans, that is, those current loans not classified as "call and short loans," both in Canada and elsewhere, show considerable increases, amounting to $[illegible]17,000 in all, which may be considered as another welcome indication of reviving commercial activity. We have disposed of the Eastern Townships Bank Building in Montreal during the year, and this accounts for the reduction in Real Estate other than Bank Premises. The increase in Bank Premises Account is due principally to the acquirement of sites for a number of our newer branches, in pursuance of our general policy in this respect. The total of our assets has grown during the year by $39,333,000, or 8.9 per cent., which, under the circumstances, we consider satisfactory.

New Branches.

Throughout the war the Canadian banks abstained, by common consent, from the opening of new branches. Not only was this justified by the uncertainty of the outlook, but the drain upon the manhood of the country for military service was so great that it was only with difficulty that those members of our staff who were left behind were able to cope with the work thrust upon them, even with the assistance of the temporary staff. Accordingly, while the conflict lasted we could do no more than to keep a record of those places which seemed to offer a promising field, with a view to occupying them when the general situation justified such a step. The programme thus laid down has fully employed our energies during the past year, but is fairly well completed, and now that we have occupied most of the promising new fields in Canada that have been brought to our attention, and have protected our business at those points where such action seemed necessary, we purpose turning our attention to foreign fields. In the meantime, the new branches we have opened are, most of them, progressing satisfactorily, and although the initial expenses connected with them are heavy, we look to see them become before long a source of strength and profit.

The Bank's Taxes.

Some years ago, after the outbreak of the war, we took occasion to refer to the subject of taxes paid by the Bank, and advised you that the total was about $650,000. It will no doubt be of interest to you to know that the sum taken out of the profits of the Bank during the past year, and applied to the payment of taxes, was nearly double that amount, or over $1,200,000. We have thought it well to speak thus frankly because the opinion seems to be more or less widely held that banks do not bear their fair share of the burdens of general taxation.

Out of the total of 1,704 officers of this Bank who volunteered for the defence of the Empire, either in the Army or Navy, we have reinstated during the course of the year 996, and have still to hear from 253 of them. We have been glad to welcome these officers back to our service, and will do all in our power to assist them to become re-established in civil life. It is our hope that in the course of a reasonably short time they will find themselves at no disadvantage as a result of the loss in banking experiance which naturally resulted from their absence. The opening of new branches and the expansion of our business have made it possible to take on the staff again all those who apply for reinstatemeit.

Employer and Employee.

An unlooked-for consequence of the war has been the unsettlement of the relations between employer and employed in every walk of life. One of the primary causes of this has been the extraordinary increase in the cost of living, but any one who is forced to grapple with the problems before the employer knows that this can be the cause of only a small part of his difficulties. The deeper and more complex part of them, no doubt, had their origin in that phase of the war, when it took on the aspect of a life and death struggle between the opposing forces. For a time everything had to be subordinated to the turning out of men, munitions, and material for use in the war. The Government became, practically, almost the sole employer, the erstwhile employer acting as its manager or agent to secure the necessary production. Under these conditions the usual balance-weights and counterpoises of business enterprise were lacking. To secure the necessary production was the only thing that mattered; the cost of doing so was a secondary consideration, and any demands made by employees were granted almost before they were asked. Thus new conditions arose, some showing marked improvement over those existing before the war, but others such as are foredoomed to failure if put into practice under the usual conditions of peace. It is, perhaps, too much to ask of either employees or employers that they should at once grasp with a clear mental vision all the far-reaching consequences of these changes. Suffice it to say that the adjustments necessary now that business conditions have become more normal are many and difficult, and involve to the utmost a spirit of fairness and a willingness to compromise opposing points of view on both sides. Speaking for our own staff, both permanent and temporary, they have rendered us loyal service in difficult days, and we have sought to give generous and sympathetic consideration to the difficulties which have been particularly their lot, as salaried men and women, during an extraordinary rise in the cost of living.

The 1919 Victory Loan.

In November last the Canadian Government issued its sixth War Loan, the money being required for purposes connected with the transition from war to peace. The Minister of Finance, Sir Henry Drayton, again asked for a minimum of $[illegible]00,000,000, and the total subscriptions received were $[illegible]96,242,750, almost as much as subscribed to the previous loan. The Minister of Finance, and the country itself, are to be congratulated most heartily upon this new demonstration of the financial strength of Canada. There was a large reduction in the number of subscribers, the total number being 780,532, as compared with 1,140,057 in the case of the 1918 loan, so that the average amount subscribed was considerably larger, being $[illegible]87, as against $[illegible]10. It is interesting to note, as showing the popularity of the Victory Loans among small subscribers, that in the case of the 1917 loan $[illegible]00,000, and in the case of the 1918 loan $[illegible]04,500,000, was issued in $50 and $100 bonds. The corresponding figures for the 1919 loan are not yet available, and owing to the reduction in the number of subscribers the total will probably not be so great, but it is evident that about $300,000,000 of the last three loans has been obtained in this way.

Encourage Exploration.

When adressing you last year I ventured to express the opinion that the Government could afford to grant a small bounty on the production of the gold mines in Canada, with a view to increasing the available supply of the precious metal. This opinion has met with disapproval in some quarters, but I still think that the Government should do something in the matter, perhaps not so much by way of offering a bounty on the gold itself, as to encourage the exploration and development of what are supposed to be gold-bearing areas. Were the same course to be followed in the case of silver, it is possible that the discovery of new fields and the opening of new mines might exercise a very beneficial steadying effect on the price of that metal. The extension of the output of the present mines is, of course, encouraged by the material enhancement in price which has taken place. According to figures made public some time ago, the price per ounce rose during last year from an average of $1.01.12 during the first four months to $1.27.92 in November.

Depreciated Exchange.

The condition of the foreign exchanges is one of the problems with which we have had to deal during the past year, and it is one in which the people of Canada are deeply concerned, as it has a very direct effect upon their economic life. Canada is not alone in suffering from the effects of a depreciated exchange; in fact, it is a condition now familiar to almost every country in the world. The artificial expedients which have been resorted to in order to correct the situation, such as the shipping of gold, the sale of securities and an attempt at fixing exchange rates, are inadequate and may even prove dangerous. The rehabilitation of our dollar can only be accomplished by saving, economy and greater production. It has perhaps become fairly generally known among those who take an interest in the matter that our imports from the United States greatly exceed our exports to that country, and that in the case of Great Britain the reverse is true, our exports greatly exceeding our imports. Therefore, in the case of our trade with the United States there is a scarcity of bills receivable which we can set off against our bills payable to that country; while in the case of our trade with Great Britain the reverse is true, and the bills receivable exceed the bills payable to such an extent that she has been forced to obtain credit from us for many of her purchases of food-stuffs produced in Canada.

Foreign Credits.

There is much more, however, in the situation than this. We have been selling on credit to France, Belgium, Greece, Roumania, and to some extent to Great Britain, manufactured goods, the raw materials of which are largely imported from the United States, and we are called upon to pay for these raw materials in cash. In addition to this, the interest payments on our debt abroad have increased, as well as the heavy shipping charges which have to be paid on water-borne goods. In paying for the raw materials referred to we are forced to use up a large portion of those funds ordinarily available to defray the cost of our normal imports from the United States. The scarcity of United States funds has thus been accentuated by the increased demand, while the source from which we have been wont in the past to make up any deficiencies, that is, the balance due to us by merchants and others in Great Britain, is not now available for this purpose for two reasons: first, that Great Britain is not settling in cash as in the past; second, that such part of this indebtedness as might be made available for the purpose is not now acceptable to the United States as payment, because that country has already a surplus of British debts which she is anxious to realize. If to these factors in the problem be added the effect of increased purchases of luxuries imported from the United States in the present era of free and easy spending, an idea will be obtained of at least some of the main reasons for the present situation.

British Imports.

It should not be forgotten in any discussion of the position of the foreign exchanges as affecting Canada, that so far as imports to this country are concerned the position of the British and Continental exchanges is just as favorable as United States exchange is unfavorable. The difficulty in this case is one of supply. Judging by recent accounts, however, Great Britain is bending all her energies, in spite of labor troubles and other adverse circumstances, to resuming her place as an exporting nation, and now that the difficulty of securing vessel space is decreasing, we shall hope to see a decided increase, in the near future, in imports from the mother country of those goods of which we stand in need, and which cannot be produced at home.

Buy in Canada.

On the other hand, in our relations with the United States we should aim to decrease our imports, especially of those articles which are merely luxuries, or which can be produced equally well at home. The position of exchange at this moment is a lesson that our dollars can be more advantageously expended for a home-made article than for one manufactured in the United States, and it is to be hoped that this practical lesson will not be lost upon our people. Its influence should be strengthened by merchants and importers discontinuing to import for consumption in Canada such unnecessary articles as we have referred to.

To sum up, then, there is no royal road to the rectification of the foreign exchanges. Hard work and self-denial, such as all increase our income as a nation, and decrease our expenditure, are the only sovereign remedies for the disease. Harder work and greater diligence are needed to increase production, and self-denial implies the cessation of purchases of imported articles which are only luxuries or can be produced at home. We doubt, however, whether aught save stern necessity can enforce these conditions upon our people.

LOCAL MARKET.

While most of the Eastern cities are suffering from a shortage of cold storage eggs, in Peterboro the stock is so heavy that one of the wholesale men refused this week to take some off the hands of a local grocer who was overstocked. The price 65c and 70c a dozen keeps unchanged. Regardless of the increased price of feed, the farmers claiming that each hen costs about 4c a day, poultry keeps at the same high level that it has been at during the past few weeks in spite of the fact that the farmers claim they are forced to market the poultry to save feed.

Sugar remains unchanged, selling at $15 a bag. Tea has not taken the predicted rise on account of the heavy stock the grocers laid by. Raisins are comparatively scarce.

Bakers Unfair.

It was claimed by one grocer that in the matter of raising the price of bread the bakers in the city gave the public a raw deal inasmuch as the bakers had laid in hundreds of bags of flour at the price quoted before the recent rise and instead of giving the public the benefit of it, immediately raised the bread prices in keeping with the rise in flour. The grocers claim that they have given the public the benefit of their judicious buying in tea, raisins and sugar.

Potatoes Must Drop.

Referring to the rise in the wholesale price of potatoes, one of the leading grocers said that in a motor tour about the country districts he had found that there are plenty of potatoes for the city in the farmers' cellars which have not been brought in because of the bitter weather and the poor means of transportation. Now that the snow has come sufficiently heavy to make sleighing comparatively easy, when the weather moderates, potatoes will be much easier.

REGULAR MONTHLY MEETING OF THE EAST PETERBORO U.F.O.

LAST MEETING WILL BE HELD IN WARSAW ON FRIDAY AFTERNOON —A PRESENTATION TO MR. ALEXANDER WATTS.

WARSAW, Jan. 14.— The regular monthly meeting of the U.F.O. was held on Wednesday evening last, President Mr. Davis in the chair. Some little business was dealt. Mr. Allan Edwards and Mr. Wm .Davis gave reports of the U.F.O. convention held in Toronto recently. Mrs. Anderson was asked to give a little talk on what she saw and heard at the convention. She had not prepared anything, but said she did not know the farmers were such a good looking lot when she saw a number of them all dressed up.

Mr. Wm. Payne asked leave to say a few words and had some suggestions for resolutions for both the Ontario and Dominion houses of parliament. He also made some remarks on school inspection and on consolidated schools. Mr. David Miller was then asked to say a few words. He spoke of the frequency with which, while in England, he met teachers taking groups of children to different museums and other public places, as well as to see the Canadians of the Forestry Corps. Often three groups of children would come in one day.

Mass Meeting.

There will be a mass meeting in the Town Hall on Friday evening, July 16, when the subject of "Consolidated Schools" will be discussed. Mr. Chisholm will be there, also Mr. Lees and others. Mr. Chisholm will be the speaker of the evening. It is hoped that this meeting will be well attended, that every teacher, every trustee, every parent, every ratepayer of Warsaw and surrounding district will be present.

Women's Institute.

The regular meeting of the Warsaw Women's Institute was held last Thursday afternoon, president in the chair. There was a good attendance. After the usual opening exercises, some business was done. Mr. Robert Moore opened a discussion on improving the appearance of the cemetery, and two ladies were appointed to meet the church wardens and see if something could not be done to have it kept tidy.

Dr. Archibald was unable to come to give the promised address, but Dr. Munro was on hand and gave an interesting and helpful talk on "Consolidated Schools." He urged every one present to be at the meeting in the town hall on the 16th as the speakers there would give details, cost, etc. One reason for consolidated schools is to check the trend citiywards. Many people go there to give their children the advantage of better schooling. Truth, not dollars and cents nor glare is what helps make a good citizen. Young people hate yearnings which must be satisfied.

In Edgerton Ryerson's time, conditions of life were different. Many things, now made in factories, were made at home. Though conditions have very materially changed, there has been no change in the plan of education in Canada. The curriculum has changed but methods are the same. The town had provision for education the country had not. Only about 5 p.c. of country boys ever get to the High school, though the majority of our greatest men are from country homes.

The idea of consolidated schools is to bring education to the country. In the small schools, with one or two pupils in a class, there is but little stimulus. The Doctor quoted from Mr. Putman's articles, especially that of making the county the unit, thus doing away with the great number of trustees, and equalizing the taxes. All teachers would be competent and could be fitted into places where they would do best work. A man should be principal in each school. All the work from kindergarten to continuation classes would be taken up. At present, pupils, teachers and inspectors are handicapped. Experienced teachers would have the responsible positions and there would still be proper places for the inexperienced. What we need is a sound mind in a sound body. Community halls can be built with the schools. There was some discussion on the subject and some questions asked.

Mrs. S. W. Anderson gave a short report of the U.F.W.O. convention which she attended.

There were no sessions of schools in the Warsaw junior school, owing to the teacher not having fully regained her strength.

The Girls' Club met at the home of Mrs. Rogers on Friday afternoon. The next meeting will be in the same place on Friday, Jan. 23rd.

The Superintendent of the Baptist Home Missions conducted the service in the Baptist Church here on Sunday.

There was no service in the Anglican Church yesterday as Dr. Archibold had to be away from Lakefield and his supply thought he was not equal to the long cold drive in the afternoon. Some people who did not know came. There were the usual services in the Methodist Church.

The Presbyterian Sunday School was well attended and at the close of the service Mr. Hawthorne presented Rev. H. Brown with a beautifully bound hymn book for pulpit use.

There were the regular Church services. In the morning the text was: "Behold thou desirest truth in the ward parts".

A Presentation

The members of Mr. Alex. Watts Bible Class and some Sunday School friends met at his home on Monday evening, spent a pleasant time in conversation and games, but the object of the gathering was to present Mr. Watts with an address and a handsome chair and ask him to re-consider his decision to give up teaching the class. The address which was signed by Warsaw Presbyterian Bible Class was read by Mr. John Rowe and the presentation was made by Mrs. Richard Dean.

Though Mr. and Mrs. Watts had been warned that the people were coming, they knew nothing more, as Mr. Watts was quite surprised. He sat down in his chair and remarked that he did not fill it. He gave as for his main reason for wishing to be relieved of the Bible Class, his increasing deafness. He felt he was physically incapacitated for the work of teacher, also of elder. He thanked the class for their thought and appreciation and showed a lamp which had been given him by a Bible Class 25 years ago, also some other such gifts, then told how he and Mr. R. Hawthorne had alternately taught the Bible Class in the old Bible Christian Church on the English line. Told us that when they first tried to organize a S.S. there, only child not, as there were no children. After he sat down (and slipped into his own old chair), everyone present was called upon for a speech, shortly all responded, if only to say they did not wish to see Mr. Watts leave. Mr. E. Hawthorne produced an old minute book in which mention is made of Mr. Watts being a teacher, April 2nd 1871 and said he might as well round out the 50 years and Rev. Brown said he noticed Mr. Watts had slipped into his old chair and he took it as a good omen, that he would slip back into his old place in S.S. The ladies had brought lunches with after refreshments were served and a little more social chat, the company sang "Auld Lang Syne", and went home.

A number of the Young Men of Trinity Church have recently organized A Citizenship Club which meets at 6 p.m. at the church. This Club is open to all who wish to attend its meetings.

Religion Is Patriotism

It is the Root of Personal Righteousness, the Mainstay of Social Order, the Bulwark of International Peace

The Makers of Canada

The earliest settlers in Canada were roused by the Call of the Church to develop a noble and useful citizenship. Young and old were invited to turn their eyes from material things, and to regard the splendor of unseen realities. Knowing that Religion is the only true safeguard of stability in the State, they built Churches, Schools and Colleges, to train men for the Christian Ministry, and in their poverty, and thus directed the course of history in Canada to this day.

The Testing of Canada

Because of such sacrifices, there arose in Canada a public spirit hostile towards all injustice, dishonesty and cruelty. The War tested the moral fibre of the Canadians of a later day. Would they choose material ease and wealth, or would they risk all in defence of freedom and the rights of the weak?

Over 400,000 men voluntarily offered their lives, and endured hardness as good soldiers for the defence of equity and fair dealing in all human relationships, and for the vindication of public right. Nor were the people at home less steadfast. Besides bearing the national cost of the War, they gave voluntarily for the help of the soldiers more than $90,000,000. Canada nobly stood the great trial.

Fight the Good Fight

The Menace of To-day

That conflict is ended. Now comes another test. Not only in Canada, but all over the world, sectional and class struggles for material rewards and for mastery threaten the present basis of Society. The vision of spiritual values gained in the War is in peril of being forgotten. The supremacy of sacrifice, the nobility of service, the reality and glory of the Unseen and Eternal, the promises of Christ; these were the things by which we lived during the War. Now there is great danger that they may fade from view, giving place to selfishness and the love of ease.

The great non-Christian peoples of the world comprise two-thirds of the human race. They are mastering our modern scientific knowledge, and if they remain Pagan may yet turn it to our destruction. Paganism stands for the supremacy of Might, the very ideal we fought and conquered in more than four years of war.

Victory only through Christ

How can we retain the heavenly vision? How can the world be guarded against another attempt to establish the Pagan ideal? Only through the Church of Jesus Christ. There is no other agency or society that has any possibility or hope of bringing about a full realization of the brotherhood of all mankind, and the reign of the Prince of Peace.

What the Church Has Done

All the progress of humanity in Civilization for the last 2000 years has been inspired, directly or indirectly, by the Gospel of Jesus Christ. It has ended slavery, protected life, ennobled women, educated the children and safeguarded their lives, sanctified the home, established schools, missions and charities.

The Coming Era

Victory places upon the shoulders of the Allied Nations the responsibility for directing new conditions to right ends. Canada must do her share.

The Church must prepare to meet the needs of the new day. Old standards of life with old habits of thinking and of giving will be wholly inadequate. We must do in our day what our fathers did in theirs. The hope of the world is bound up with the strengthening and extension of the Church of Jesus Christ.

The World's Need is Spiritual

"I speak as one standing upon the watch-tower, and know what the need of the land is. It is not material, it is spiritual. Get the spiritual, and the material will follow. The wounds of the world are bleeding, and marginal things will never heal them. And that is why I hail any movement which brings the great spirit of brotherhood. The one need of England and France today is the healing and the brotherhood of the Cross of Christ.

—Rt. Hon. David Lloyd-George.
Before the Brotherhood Convention, London, September, 1919.

The Forward Movements

FIVE Christian Communions, Anglican, Baptist, Congregational, Methodist, and Presbyterian, are convinced that the time has come to rouse all Christians to a clearer understanding of their calling and stewardship in Christ, their King. They believe that the Church should be equipped adequately with men and money to enable it to meet the needs and opportunities of the New Day.

These five separate Communions are of one mind as to their belief in God, the Father Almighty, Maker of Heaven and Earth, and in Jesus Christ, His Son, Our Lord. They now declare to their respective constituencies, and also unitedly, to the Canadian people, that the only effective method of making good citizens is by urging men to a more faithful practice of Christianity, by inculcating personal faith in Jesus Christ. They insist that there is no other dependable way of correcting evil tendencies in individual and national life. They call the people to repentance. To all Christians their message is, "Awake, Arise. Fight the Good Fight, For Canada and For the World."

EACH of the Communions named is in the midst of a Forward Movement. Each is seeking by prayer and by earnest effort to accept all its responsibilities. Each is striving to extend its activities in Canada and in Foreign Lands.

Your Church needs your help, but, for naught, you need the help of your Church to learn the difficult art of living wisely and well.

Consult your Clergyman. He serves you and your children. Ask him how and when you can serve in this day of national emergency. Give yourself to the task. Say: "Here am I, send me."

LINDSAY INTERMEDIATES SPRING BIG SURPRISE ON PETES, WINNING BY 5-4

HARD-FOUGHT BATTLE BEFORE BIG CROWD SEES VISITORS VICTORIOUS—SCORE WAS TIED AT END OF FIRST AND SECOND PERIODS AND WAS 4-4 WITH ONLY TWO MINUTES TO PLAY.

PETES WEAK TEAM WORK

The Lindsay intermediates uncorked a big surprise last night when they tied up the group race by walloping the Petes 5 to 4 at Brock street rink, getting revenge for the defeat handed to them in Lindsay last week. In spite of the frigid atmosphere, a big crowd saw the battle, which was as hard fought as the figures show, and was anybody's contest until the final bell. Neither team was ever more than a goal ahead. The score was tied 2-2 at the end of the first period, 3-3 at the close of the second, and with two two minutes to play the count was 4-4, Coombs breaking the tie when he scored on a side shot from a scrimmage, the puck breaking the strap on Murray's skate and sliding into the nets.

The game was over an hour late in starting because of the tardy arrival of Referee "Bill" Box, the famous Dental player, who reached town on the C.P.R. local sixty minutes behind time. The long wait in the cold was tough for the crowd, and Secretary Hewitt's attention will be called to the fact that it is necessary for referees to reach Peterborough on the 5.30 G. T.R. train to be in time for a game. Box lost no time in getting the battle under way, however, and handled it in faultless fashion.

Lindsay won the decision, not only because they outlasted the Petes and got a good share of the breaks as well, but because the forward line checked back much better than the local advance guard. And the Petes helped the visitors by loose work around their own nets— rank carelessness giving Lindsay the last two counters—and by failure to pass the puck when a pass meant almost a sure goal. For the most part there was a total lack of system about their efforts, but it must be admitted they had no luck when their few bits of combination carried them inside, the open net being missed by inches half a dozen times. It is obvious, however, that they will have to get working together or they will have trouble in winning the district, let alone going any further in the race. Individual rushes, coupled with a failure to consistently back check, will not win games against any average team that pays attention to combination and that will come back as fast as they go down the ice.

Lindsay had the advantage in weight, and to give them credit they worked their heads off to win, checking in great style. Coombs at right wing was especially prominent by reason of his consistent back-checking, which made him a thorn in the sides of the Petes all night. Bill Garnet, the junior defence star, was another big factor in the Lindsay victory. His rushing was a feature and he bagged two goals and came close on a dozen other occasions. O'Loughlin performed in stellar fashion in the nets, especially on close-in shots and Flavelle was a very effective defence man. All the forwards rushed well, with the the honors going to Coombs.

For the Petes it is difficult to single out the stars. Murray in the nets, however, deserves a special tribute, for he performed in sparkling fashion. Outside of a long shot from Garnet in the second period, he did not have a chance to stop the other counters that beat him, one going through his skate and another bouncing in off Grover Halpin with Murray all set for the shot on the other side of the net. He stopped a host of drives during the engagement, Pete Thornton was another very effective member of the local squad, his checking saving the situation on many occasions. The rest of the team did some nice individual work, and all were in the limelight at one stage or another, but they fell down both in combination and in shooting, some glorious opportunities being thrown away.

A glaring defect was the habit of trying to stick handle across the month of their own nets with the rubber. The practice gave Lindsay a couple of goals and came near presenting them with a half a dozen more.

It was a great game for the spectators. The pace was fast from start to finish and the result was always in doubt. The teams:

It was a battle from the first faceoff, and Lindsay pressed from the goin, only good checking by Thornton and Halpin and some great stops by Murray saving a couple of goals within the first couple of minutes. Evans drew the first penalty when he was chased for tripping Coombs. After he came back, Halpin hooked Coombs and he was benched. Lindsay were the first to score. Coombs and Carew broke away together and after some nice passing, Carew's shot was stopped by Murray. Coombs recovered behind the nets and skated out unchecked to push the rubber around the post for the first goal.

Garnet was chased for tripping Pete Thornton and while he was off the Petes lost a great chance when Evans and Rose got away together with only Flavelle to beat. Evans refused to pass the rubber however, and Flavelle stopped him. A moment later Halpin threw away a similar chance by trying to go in alone. Finally, however, Harry Thornton evened up the count on a combined rush with Halpin and Jackson.

The score was not tied long, however, for Garnet got away with a nice rush and his shot from outside the defence carromed off Halpin's hip into the corner of the nets for a lucky goal.

Just before the period ended the Petes made it fifty-fifty, when Evans batted in a counter after a pretty rush by Rose, who fooled the Lindsay defence by a fake shot.

Peterborough took the lead early in the secnd period when Rose slanted one past O'Loughlin after a rush by Harry Thornton.

Carew drew a penalty for tripping and while he was off the Petes lost a couple of good chances, Rose and Jackson both missing an open net after the defence had been beaten.

The game was very even at this stage, with both goal-keepers in the limelight. It was Lindsay who finally scored. Garnet going down alone and beating Murray from well out with a low shot to the corner of the nets. It was 3-3 when the period ended.

With twenty minutes to go and the score a tie, the pace was very fast at the beginning of the last session. Pete Thornton was hit by a bullet shot from Coombs early in the period and had to stop for repairs. Rose drew a penalty for bodying Carew into the boards and while he was off Peterborough took the lead, Pete Thornton breaking away and passing to Halpin at the goal mouth and the Petes were in front 4 to 3. The one goal lead at that stage looked big, but Lindsay kept hammering along and when the Petes fooled around their own nets with the puck long enough for Coombs to grab the rubber and drive one past Murray the score was tied again. Then there was a merry battle, with both team striving hard for the counter that would mean victory. Pete Thornton, McPhee, Lipsett and Evans were chased for various offences, but the minutes swiftly passed without a score. Halpin was right inside twice with only O'Loughylin to beat, but failed. With four minutes to go Pete Thornton and Garnet engaged in a fistic combat and a few of the feather-brained fans climbed over the boards. Peace was quickly restored, however, and the two battlers were banished for five minutes, which meant the rest of the game.

Five men aside, the teams tore in for the last four minutes. Two of them had gone when Coombs grabbed a loose puck near the Petes' nets and drive a low one at Murray from the side. The Petes' goaler got his foot in front of the shot, but the strap in his skate broke and the rubber slid through for the winning goal. Lindsay held the Petes safe for the remaining 120 seconds and skated off the ice victorious.

HOCKEY FOR THE P.C.I. STUDENTS

CHALLENGES WILL BE SENT TO COBOURG AND BELLEVILLE.

An endeavor is being made to boom hockey in the Collegiate Institute this winter. At a meeting of the hockey enthusiasts Thursday afternoon it was decided to call a hockey practice in the near future and pick up a team to represent the school. Challenges will be sent to Cobourg and Belleville. High schools, Inter-Form hockey will also be encouraged. The first interform game was played Thursday night when the combined teams of Forms II and V defeated the Form IV team 5 to 4.

Basketball will also soon be under way, though a basketball team has not yet been chosen. A challenge for a series of home and home games has been received from the Cobourg Collegiate Institute basketball team and will be accepted.

JUNIOR BATTLE MONDAY NIGHT WILL BE THRILLER

The Peterborough Juniors, with a lead of four goals on the round, tackle the Lindsay Midgets at Brock Street Rink on Monday night in the third game of the series. The final game will be played in Lindsay next Friday night, the total goals on the four games deciding the round.

Monday's game promises to be another thriller like the two previous clashes between these two teams.

The local youngsters have won a big following by reason of their fine work in the first game, and they can count on a big crowd on Monday night to cheer them on.

The kids came through the buffeting they got in Lindsay in good shape and they are right on edge for the tussle on Monday.

Lindsay are also in good shape, and they are confident of doing much better in this fixture than they did on their previous appearance.

Garnet and Company expect to hold the Petes here on Monday and win the round in the last game at home; but the local youngsters will have something to say about that.

It looks like a great game and a great crowd.

INTERMEDIATES IN LINDSAY ON MONDAY

WILL HAVE TO WIN THERE TO REGAIN LEAD IN GROUP RACE.

The unexpected victory of the Lindsay team last night has upset the beans in the group race. Instead of the Petes having a two-game lead, they find themselves to-day without any lead at all, and with a game in Lindsay on Monday night.

A defeat in Lindsay will put the local gang in second place.

The Petes, however, refuse to discuss the possibility of losing in Lindsay. They beat Lindsay on their own ice-box last week, and in spite of last night's result, claim that they will repeat the feat and take the lead again by copping Monday's fixture.

It will be a real battle—that much can be taken for granted.

JUNIOR TEAM TO PRACTICE TO-NIGHT

The Peterborough Juniors will practice at Brock Street Rink between 6.45 and 7.45 o'clock to-night in final preparation for Monday night's game with Lindsay.

All the regular players are requested to be out.

HANDSOME MEDALS FOR THE JUNIOR TEAM

A local fan has donated a very handsome silver medal to be awarded by a committee, to the player on the Peterborough Junior team whose services are considered the most valuable during the season.

The Junior players should understand that this does not necessarily mean the player who gets the most goals. The man who wins the medal will be the one who is of the most value to the team from all viewpoints.

FARNUM FIGHTS 20 BIG MINERS

GIVES STIRRING PERFORMANCE IN 1918 VERSION OF "THE PLUNDERER."

William Farnum has become famous for his screen fights. In William Fox's 1918 version of "The Plunderer," he lives up to his reputation. The story is that of a youth who is left a gold mine and goes out to work it. He finds that the man who has a claim next to his wants his name. This man uses desperate means to separate the youth from his land. Attempts at murder are nothing to him.

The youth does not bother this man or his aids until a friend of the youth is killed. Then the fight begins. Farnum wades in and swings his mighty arms right and left until he has cleaned up a room of twenty husky miners. It is a stirring moment in a splendid play which has been brought up to 1918 standards by William Fox.

"The Plunderer" will be shown at the Grand Theatre next Monday and Tuesday. It is one of six big successes that Mr. Fox has re-made. The others are "A Fool There Was," "The Clemenceau Case," "The Two Orphans" (all Theda Bara plays); "The Bondman" and "A Soldier's Oath" (William Farnum subjects.)

OXO Cubes should be more used than ever!

Think what OXO Cubes can save you in the course of a year!

For soups, sauces, gravies, savoury dishes and meat-jellies they do all that meat can do, and do it quicker and with less trouble.

Nothing need be wasted—Nothing thrown away.

With OXO Cubes oddments and "left-overs" need not be put aside. They can be created into ideas for the menu—delicious, inviting, and quite inexpensive.

Another point to remember:—

OXO Cubes not only add their own goodness and flavour, but possess the peculiar property of making other foods yield more nourishment than they otherwise would—hence, food goes further when OXO Cubes are one of the ingredients of the dish.

OXO HOT POT.

Peel and slice sufficient potatoes to half fill a large pie-dish, add few small onions, also sliced. Put into cold water, bring quickly to a boil, boil one minute, then drain. Put back in pie-dish with few slices of tomato, season with pepper and salt and flavour with herbs. Dissolve one OXO Cube in ½-pint of hot milk and pour over mixture. Put few bits of butter on top and bake for two hours in moderate oven.

OXO SUCCOTASH.

Take four-fifths of a breakfast cup of dried lima beans, soak one hour or more in cold water; drain, add one quart hot water in which two OXO Cubes have been dissolved. Cook until almost tender. Add little salt and finish cooking. Allow liquid to evaporate before removing from the stove. Add one cup canned corn and a tablespoonful of butter. Reheat and serve.

The little money-savers!

SPECIAL SERMONS AT ST. ANDREW'S

On Sunday evening the minister of St. Andrew's church will give the first of a few sermons on "Fundamental Decisions." He will discuss those great essential decisions which of themselves make and form character. More people are thinking seriously to-day than ever before of how to use their human powers so as to make a real success of life. The young man or woman who feels the worth whileness of life will find inspiration and guidance in these addresses and the mere drifters will perhaps learn that a "good" time and a "big time" has its roots not in drifting but in steering.

MAKE 35 CENTS ON EACH DOZEN OF STALE EGGS

NEW YORK STOREKEEPERS PROFITEERING TO TUNE OF $150,000,000 PER DAY

NEW YORK, Jan. 16.—Because New Yorkers insist on asking for fresh eggs when there are no fresh eggs, the storekeepers of New York are profiteering to the tune of about $150,000 a day.

There has been a great shortage of fresh eggs for several weeks, the greatest since 1915. But there has been about twice the quantity of eggs in storage during December as in the same month in previous years. The retailers and jobbers have been buying the cold-storage eggs and selling them to a gullible public as fresh.

City's Consumption.

From one of the largest wholesalers in the city it was learned today that the average daily consumption of eggs here is 750,000 dozen. Of this quantity during recent weeks 700,000 have been cold-storage eggs and only 50,000 fresh. But does any New Yorker know a grocery store where the quantity of storage eggs on sale is fourteen times the quantity of fresh?

What happens is this, according to the man who knows the trade inside out: Sometimes the jobber, and sometimes the retailer, takes his stock of fresh and storage eggs and picks the best from each of them. These he puts in a separate pile and labels "Choice fresh eggs." The rest "storage" or "superior storage," or anything else his fancy dictates.

The Final Profit.

For the storage eggs today the jobber pays the wholesaler 53 cents a dozen. It costs four or five cents more per dozen to candle them. That makes, say, 58 cents. Add four cents more for the jobber's profit, and the cost to the retailer becomes 62 cents. Giving the retailer 11 cents profit, the eggs should sell for 73 cents.

But not all retailers sell them for 73 cents. Many sell all but a small quantity of them as "fresh" or "strictly fresh" for any price from 90 cents to $1.05. Consequently, they are making on most of their storage eggs a profit of about 35 cents a dozen.

ARE YOU WEAK AND RUN DOWN?

IN THIS CONDITION ONLY A TONIC MEDICINE CAN RENEW YOUR HEALTH.

The condition of being "run down" is one that doctors do not recognize as a disease. The physician of today who gets his training in a hospital where only severe disorders are encountered knows little about it. But those who are run down in health know that it is not a fancied affliction.

The expression "run down," applied to health, means a condition in which all the bodily functions are enfeebled. Appetite fails, the digestion is impaired, the nerves are impoverished, the complexion becomes pale or waxy, there is no animation, but rather worry and mental depression. Fatigue is a constant symptom. No particular organ being affected, you must look for relief to the blood. As it circulates through every part of the body, any improvement in the condition of the blood is quickly felt throughout the entire system. As a restorer of under the difficulties of war time, the blood and builder of weak nerves Dr. Williams' Pink Pills stand at the head of all tonic medicines. Every dose of these pills helps to enrich the blood and strengthen the nerves, and thus the various organs regain their tone and the body recovers its full vigor. Ample proof of this is given in the statement of Mr. William Devine, Gerrard street east, Toronto, who says: "Two years ago while employed as a conductor on the Toronto Street Railway, I became much run down. I consulted a doctor who gave me medicine, but it proved fruitless as I was constantly growing weaker. My appetite completely failed and I fell away in weight until I only weighed 125 pounds. I was sometimes taken with fainting spells, and finally felt compelled to resign my position. I tried what I thought was lighter work, but with no better results. I was growing weaker and weaker. One day a chum urged me to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, but by this time I was heartily tired of medicine, as nothing I had taken did me any good. Finally he bought me a box of the pills, and I could be longer refuse to try them. After a time I felt they were helping me and then I gladly continued their use, with the result that I was finally enabled to go back to my old position fully restored to health. I owe this splendid condition to Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and can strongly recommend them to any one suffering as I did."

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills can be obtained through any medicine dealer, or may be had by mail, post paid, at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

The train was that engaged by Dr. Robertson, who was booked to speak in Peterboro to a meeting of farmers at one o'clock. He arrived four minutes after the hour. OBITUARY

CHAS. S. BOTSFORD

Friends in Toronto received word yesterday of the death in the Canary Islands of Charles S. Botsford, who for over a quarter of a century was engaged in the dry goods business on Queen street west.

Mr. Botsford left two months ago to spend the winter in the Canary Islands. Early in December he was taken ill with nerve trouble, and afterwards contracted influenza, to which he succumbed.

The late Mr. Botsford was a native of Newmarket. When his property at Hackney and Queen streets was purchased by the city he disposed of his large dry goods stock by opening stores in many parts of the Province, including Peterboro, and then retired from business. He is survived by two sons, one a merchant in London, England, and the other a mining engineer in New York, and one daughter, Miss Gladys, living in London with her brother.

The late Mr. Botsford operated a store on George street where the Strand theatre is located.

OUT IN THE COLD.

Mr. Ed. Tighe, at 513 Donegal street, telephoned the Examiner that a real live robin had been around his home for the last two days, and that yesterday afternoon it was sitting at the door step, but flew to a tree when he tried to catch it.

It appears that robins have been in the city and vicinity to a greater extent than other winters, evidently having heard of Dan Wheeler's prediction of a mild winter.

ANNUAL MEETING OF ALL SAINTS' SUNDAY SCHOOL

The annual meeting of All Saints' Sunday school was held on Tuesday evening with the rector, Rev. R. B. Grobb, in the chair. Excellent reports were read from the various departments, showing the Sunday school to be in a flourishing condition.

The secretary's report showed that the average attendance, including the summer months, was 273, while the highest attendance for the year was 396.

The treasurer's report indicated a very creditable balance on the right side.

A discussion on the Forward Movement gave promise of still better things, indicating a plan for making the movement felt in every phase of the work.

A happy incident at the close of the meeting consisted in the presentation of a library clock to the Rector on behalf of the teachers and officers. Mr. C. E. Sisson in making the presentation, read a short address, to which Mr. Grobb replied, expressing his surprise and appreciation of the beautiful gift and of the kind thoughts, which prompted it.

BRING THE CITIES NEARER TO FARMS

AUTOMOBILES ARE ONE WAY OF KEEPING THE YOUNG FOLKS AT HOME.

A certain popular song writer struck a keynote vital to the country's life some time ago when the query was sounded:—"How are you going to keep 'em down on the farm?" The problems involved in that phrase have assumed mountainous proportions.

The dearth of farm help and the migration of young people of the rural communities to the cities is responsible in no small measure for the high cost of all foods and the scarcity of many heretofore abundant products of the farm.

Wartime wages in the industrial centres have naturally attracted the farm hand, but behind it all rest the lure of the city, with its amusements, bright lights and greater educational opportunities. The younger generation will not remain secluded and alone on the farm in the face of this call of the bigger world.

The motor car has accomplished more than any single agent in making farm life more enjoyable and farm folk more contented; it has extended their range of acquaintance and greatly broadened their social life. More farmers are buying cars than city dwellers; some have gone the limit in their efforts to keep the family together.

Chicago claims the distinction of being the mail order centre of the universe.

U. S. Steel opened at 104 5-8 off 1-8, U. R. Stores 86 1-4 up 3-8, Crucible 104 off 1-2, General Motors 310 1-2 up 3 1-2, American Woollen 150 up 2, U. S. Rubber 128 1-4 off 1-4, Marine Pref. 106 1-4 unchanged, Pennsylvania 42 up 1-8, Republic 109 up 1 1-8, Studebaker 103 1-2 up 1-2, International Paper 81 1-2 up 1 5-8, Mexican Petroleum 190 1-4 up 5-8, Southern Pacific 100 up 1-8.

MARKET COMMENT.

NEW YORK, Jan. 17.—An aggressive and very active bear faction was in possession of the Stock Market this week. The efforts of that element were supplemented by an erratic money market, another break in the foreign exchange, and inherent weakness of low grade oils and specialties.

Demand loan rates eased in a marked degree, but time money was scarce almost to the vanishing point, and the attitude of the Federal Reserve Bank bespoke further measures to restrict credits for non-essentials.

A sharp break in secondary oils and some of the miscellaneous specialties which later extended to the high-priced issues, particularly petroleums and motors, was accelerated by the doubtful status of some of these properties.

Standard steel and equipment shares were steady most of the time as a result of the favourable trade prospects and the better labour outlook.

Coppers also improved with other base metals, for which an increased demand and higher price schedules were reported.

Rails yielded none of their long-sustained lethargy, only occasionally taking part in the daily movement, and making no perceptible response to the trend of Congressional legislation, while textile leather and paper issues wer swayed by the course of kindred specialties.

Interesting developments in the international financial situation included an over-subscription to the $500,000,000 Belgian note loan, issued by a powerful banking syndicate, and an offering of Italian Government bonds.

SWITZERLAND PLEASED THAT GERMANS LEAVING

GENEVA, Jan. 16.—An enormous exodus of German subjects from Switzerland to their former homes, most of them deserters from the German army during the war, is noticeable here, following the recent enactment of the amnesty law in Germany.

It has been necessary to double the number of trains to accommodate the rush across the frontier. Swiss newspapers express satisfaction at the departure of the Germans and are calling on the Government to expel some of the notorious German spies, who still are said to remain at Lugano.

LONDON, Eng.—Moulton parishioners are indignant because their vicar, the Rev. C. F. Updell, has banned dances in the church room and has substituted evangelical meetings. Church services have not been well attended, and the vicar says that some of the amusements in the parish have created an atmosphere antagonistic to his spiritual work.

DETAILS OF ALLIED NOTE

HOLLAND ASKED TO DELIVER UP THE FORMER KAISER FOR SUPREME OFFENSE.

AN EXTRACT

(Canadian Press)

PARIS, Jan. 19.—Holland is told in the Allied note demanding extradition of the former Emperor Wilhelm that she will not fulfil her International duty, if she refuses to associate herself with Entente Powers in Chastising crimes committed by Germans during the war. The text of the note sent to The Hague was made public this morning. It informs Holland that the Allied powers have decided to put into execution immediately article 227 of the Versailles Treaty which arraigns Wilhelm for a supreme offense against international morality and sanctity of treaties. Consequently the powers address to Netherlands Government official demand to deliver into their hands the former emperor in order that he may be judged.

One paragraph of the note which is signed by Premier Clemenceau reads "The Powers cannot conceive that the Netherlands Government can regard with less reprobation than themselves, the immense responsibility of the former Emperor.

Taken Matter Up

The case of Robert Murdock, a veteran of the South African war, who was found in a half-starved and demented condition in the north woods, and about whom previous mention has been made in the press, has been taken up by Mr. Thomas Toome, M.P.P. Mr. Toome intends bringing the case to the attention of Attorney-General Raney, and intends to see the Premier before then to see that justice is done to Murdock.

Mr. Toome has been busily engaged looking into the Municipal Act, and intimated to the Examiner that this Act would be more vigorously enforced, and that stores and offices in the business section that had not provided proper lavatory facilities, both for men and women, would be forced to rectify the conditions at once. A lady inspector is expected shortly from Toronto, who will look more closely into these matters, which are so needful of improvement especially in the business part of the city.

INFLUENZA MAY RETURN AGAIN

(Canadian Press)

TORONTO, Jan. 19.—The recall of the dread epidemic of influenza in Toronto is predicted by medical Health Authorities here, if reports that Chicago is nursing twelve hundre cases are correct. Dr. C. J. Hastings, M.O.H., said this morning that since it is not a reportable disease an increase in a number of cases would not be noted until deaths had occurred.

BUFFALO TIMES PLANT DESTROYED

(Canadian Press.)

BUFFALO, Jan. 19.—Fire which started Sunday in the basement of the Buffalo Daily and Sunday Times did damage estimated at $500,000. The fire is of unknown origin. Several presses, the art department, steretopye and mailing departments were destroyed. The damage to the Times plant is estimated at $300,000. The editorial, business and composing departments of the Times were practically undamaged, except for a small loss caused by water. The Times to-day is being issued on the presses of the Buffalo Courier and Buffalo News.

RUSSIANS TOOK THE INITIATIVE

TRADE WITH RUSSIA SUBJECT OF LENGTHY NEGOTIATIONS.

Canadian Press:

LONDON, Jan. 19.—Details of how the Allies are to finance trade with the people of Soviet Russia under the modified Russian blockade have not as yet been announced. It is contended in some quarters that the decision of the Supreme Council to re-open trade condition was not a sudden one but had been the subject of negotiations for months past, and that the initiative in these negotiation was taken by the Russian co-operative societies.

THE CALL FROM ARMENIA

CLERGYMAN, WHO WAS IN ARMENIA LAST SUMMER, SAYS NEEDS OF THAT STRICKEN PEOPLE CANNOT BE OVERSTATED —IN NEAR EAST IS MOST DESPERATE SITUATION IN WORLD, SAYS HERBERT HOOVER—APPALLING NUMBER OF PEOPLE COMING TO RELIEF AGENCIES FOR AID.

The following letter is addressed to The Examiner:
c/o Brownton P. O., 19th January, 1920.

Dear Sir,—Seeing in your paper that you were making up a fund for the relief of the poor, suffering Armenians, I want to donate the enclosed two dollars to help some poor child. My heart goes out to the little ones, as I have two of my own.—Yours, A Mother.

"Inasmuch as ye have done it unto one of the least of these."

Rev. S. T. Bartlett, manager of the Art Department of the Methodist Book and Publishing House, Toronto, last summer travelled through Armenia and saw the condition of the country and the misery of the people as they actually were. Mr. Bartlett took many photographs of persons who had suffered terrible privation under the Turk. Regarding the campaign for Armenian relief, Mr. Bartlett writes as follows:

"On behalf of the many thousands of suffering Armenian Christians of to-day, permit me to thank you for the splendid interest which you are showing in the matter of their relief. Perhaps I am the only Canadian who has had the opportunity during the past year of going through the very heart of Armenia, examining conditions in such centres as Ourfa, Mardin, Diabekir, Harpoot, Sivas, Malatea, Amasia, Tokat, Marsovan, and on to Samsoun on the Black Sea.

"You cannot overstate the dire need that exists all through that country. I saw thousands of little children literally starving, while numberless women roamed homeless and in rags, seeking succour at the various relief depots. The horrors through which Armenia has passed are indescribable, and none of your readers need think that the dire need of the people is overstated. Overstatement in such a case is an impossibility.

"From a purely humanitarian standpoint I think the world never presented a case parallel to that of Armenia, and from the higher standpoint of Christian philanthropy every one of your readers should feel the heart-throb that prompts practical aid for these suffering people."

NEED DISTRESSINGLY URGENT.

Another message that comes from Armenia is through a Relief Commissioner, and one who from his wide experience is well qualified to speak from authority:

"Within the last few months," he says, "I visited in person every relief centre of the operations of the Near East Relief. I was profoundly moved by the terrible needs, the heart-breaking distress of hundreds of thousands of refugees, orphans, and women escaped from Moslem harems. No story of distress and need has been exaggerated. I know of no place on earth where the need is more distressingly urgent and the appeal more heartrending than that which now comes from the Near East. Tens of thousands of helpless children, rescued women and hopeless refugees are absolutely dependent upon us for life. Shall they appeal to us in vain? I do not believe their call will be unheeded."

Mr. Herbert Hoover, after an exhaustive survey of all the countries that have felt the scourge of war, says: "In my opinion, in the Near East is the most desperate situation in the world."

And Col. Haskell, the American High Commissioner to Armenia, says that 800,000 in the Caucasus alone must die from starvation this winter unless immediate and adequate relief is sent.

THE PRIVATIONS OF ONE FAMILY.

In one of the centres a refined, educated, comely young woman, who might have adorned almost any cultured society in civilised lands, was found by a Relief Commissioner miserably clothed, living in a single room with mud floor and walls; in which were huddled her mother and three small brothers and sisters. For four years they had been wanderers upon the face of the earth, covering many hundred miles, from Armenia down across Syria into the borders of Arabia. The husband and father had perished by the way, and a shallow grave had been hollowed out by the weeping group from the sand of the desert, and in it the shattered body was placed. Driven by heartless masters amid scenes of cruelty and horror beyond all power of words to describe, exposed to cold and heat and storm, tortured by thirst, wracked by hunger, for four long years they had toiled on and suffered and hoped.

At last they came to the place where they were discovered, where this slender girl was endeavouring to earn enough to keep the group from dissolution. Without some aid from without this would have been impossible, and the remnant of another Christian home would have perished from the earth. Multiply this incident by one hundred thousand, and you have a suggestion of what your gifts, along with those of others, are doing.

HOW RELIEF IS ADMINISTERED.

It may be of interest to the Canadian people who have so generously responded to the appeal to know just what their gifts are accomplishing and how the relief work is carried on. A cablegram, dated at Constantinople, from Col. Haskell, American High Commissioner for Armenia, makes it possible to give this information. He says:

"At present the funds through the Near East are providing in Armenia sixty-three orphanages, supporting a total of twenty thousand orphans; seventeen hospitals caring for three thousand sick; nine buildings handling twenty thousand clinic cases; two refugee camps caring for about seventy-five thousand refugees; soup kitchens feeding ninety-five thousand destitute.

"In addition, industries conducted employ over five thousand people producing cloth shoes and so forth for relief work. Flour is being distributed by our personnel, which reaches over seven hundred thousand. Practically all the above people would starve this winter without our assistance.

GREAT MISERY STILL EXISTS.

"Notwithstanding all our efforts, great misery still exists. There are many without clothing or shelter. It is hoped that this sad condition will be met and support continued to ensure the carrying on of relief work here throughout the winter. I am sure you will not desert these destitute people, willing, but unable to provide for themselves in the middle of a winter promising severity and untold sufferings."

COULD NOT PART WITH THEM.

General Antranik, who is now in the United States, and whose forces defeated the Turks in one battle in which over 25,000 Armenians were rescued, said to Mr. Koppel of The New York Evening Post Magazine that when some 30,000 refugees clung to the skirts of the Armenian Army for eight months, impeding its movements, he could not turn them away, because, to give his own words:

"I could not possibly give them up. When I heard the cries of the babies and the wailings of the mothers, the sobs of the old men and the groanings of the sick, I could not part with one of them. They were my people, and I had to protect them."

THE SPIRIT OF ARMENIA.

It is this spirit that animates all who are in touch with the Armenian situation. Those who are acquainted with the spirit of the Armenians find their hearts going out in sympathy in spite of themselves. The following incident is typical:

"One day I watched a throng of Moslem fugitives winding down the hill—watched a dying woman who fell by the roadside right within sight of the city—saw her appeal in vain for help to Moslem after Moslem who passed, till two Christians came that way, lifted her tenderly and brought her to our school, where she and several like her were cared for by the willing hands of Armenian women who had suffered measureless wrongs from their Moslem oppressors."

ALL SAINTS' CHURCH OBSERVED EIGHTEENTH ANNIVERSARY SUNDAY

INSPIRING ADDRESSES BY THE REV. J. E. GIBSON—THE EVENING SERVICE.

All Saints' church was filled to capacity at both morning and evening services yesterday, when the eighteenth anniversary of the founding of the parish and the fifth anniversary of the competion of the new church was celebrated.

In the evening Rev. J. E. Gibson, rector of the Church of the Ascension, Toronto, who spoke at all services during the day, preached an eloquent sermon, urging the congregation to lay aside not only their sins but such burdens as temper, pride and laziness, using as his text Hebrews, 12: "Wherefore, seeing we also are compassed about with so great a cloud of witnesses let us lay aside every weight and the sin which doth so easily beset us and let us run with patience the race which is set before us, looking unto Jesus."

The author of the particular passage is unknown, the speaker stated, and the identity of the person who received it is likewise concealed. However, it was probably sent by St. Paul to a small congregation of Hebrews in Alexandra, who for some reason had dwindled into small numbers and become divided. He pictured the receipt of the letter by some member of the congregation and the subsequent effect upon the assembly, eager to drink in such solid teaching and unfearing straightforward rebuke. He pictured the reading of the words 'cloud of witnesses, after which a pause probably followed. There were, he said, probably many present who thought they had done well to lay aside their sins, but the words of the great writer not only mentioned so doing but the laying aside of weights.

Needs of To-day.

There are, he continued, many of us to-day who need the same rebuke. In this age probably more than in any former one many of us have laid aside our sins and are content to have done such. A further duty comes to all to search ourselves for what our particular weight is. Some of splendid morals and splendid intelligence who are an acquisition to the Church of Jesus have the weight of bad temper, of which they speak in a most satisfied way. God never allowed any man to go through life with a bad temper and made no allowance for what might be inherited. The only man who may hope to win the prize either in perfect spirituality or success materially is he who lays aside such a weight.

Again some to-day are useless to the church on account of laziness. The speaker applied this weight to the Forward Movement in which there will be those who will sit back in comfort while their brothers work to the utmost. Pride is a weight which clings to many who seek the kingdom of heaven. Pride in position and which spurns those in a humbler walk of life.

God's Weights.

Again, he continued, some bear the weights God has put upon them. Some are tempted to rebel that God has not given all an equal opportunity and are tempted to shirk the little duty he has to bear. God, however, intends all to have an equal opportunity and for the sake of the common people has placed some weight upon the great. "If any," he said, "to-night carry the weight God has placed upon you be of good cheer. Having carried it truly the prize is near."

The writer of the passage from which the text is taken must, the speaker contended, have been a man who had struggled and who knew the attraction of the good which he speaks of as the face of Jesus. There are many of us who might fall by the wayside without we could discern the face of Jesus, which is sufficient to make us try to the last. Surely with that vision before us the weary having cast aside the sins and weight will be able to win the prize, he concluded.

Congratulated the Church.

Previous to the sermon, Mr. Gibson congratulated the congregation upon the splendid church which they have erected upon the celebration of the eighteenth anniversary.

Afternoon Service.

In the afternoon Mr. Gibson addressed a young people's service, when a memorial shield bearing the following names was unveiled to those of the Sunday school who fell at the front: Leonard Blake, Herbie Edwards, William Hall, Harold Huxley, Harry Lathmer, Grant Lathmer, Claude Manley, Herbert Moore and Crawford Rusk.

MARY PICKFORD IN A CAPTIVATING ROLE

In "Captain Kidd, Jr." Mary Pickford plays another almost-grown-up-young-lady role and well known stage comedy provides her with one of the most delightful characterizations she has ever chosen for presentation on the screen. The screen version of Rida Johnson Young's play was made by Frances Marion, a clever scenarist who has written the scenarios for all of Miss Pickford's recent successes. "Captain Kid, Jr." is being shown at the Allen Theatre today and record-breaking business is assured.

BILL WILL BE INTRODUCED INTO THE HOUSE ON THURSDAY OF THIS WEEK.

A COMMISSION

(Secial to The Examiner.)

REGINA, Jan. 19.—While a complete draft of the bill to regulate the sale of liquor which is to be introduced in the Saskatchewan assembly on Thursday of the week has not yet been made, it is generally understood that the measure will largely embody the proposals which have been made to the government by the Social Service Council and temperance forces of the province. The essential feature of the bill, it is understood, will be a provision requiring all druggists to purchase, in future, all their liquor supplies from one wholesale liquor house, to be designated either by the government or a commission, the appointment of which the bill is likely to provide for.

Administer Act.

The commission, it is stated, is not likely to be a purchasing commission as there is no desire to run the remotest risk of leaving any loopholes for the creation of conditions which obtained in British Columbia under the purchase commission plan, but the commission will probably be given the entire work of administering the act. Among the duties likely to be delegated to the commission are these of regulating the supply of liquor from the wholesale warehouse to the druggists and of checking up the quantities of liquor sold by the druggist with doctors' prescriptions. The intention is that a druggist before securing a permit from the commission for a second supply of liquor from the wholesale warehouse will be required to produce evidence in the form of actual bona fide prescriptions to satisfy the commission that the first order has been used to fill prescriptions and for that purpose only. The government itself will be able to prevent a druggist from evading the regulations by purchasing supplies from other sources through its control of permits.

Must Have Permit.

A druggist is required to secure a permit from the government to sell liquor and it would be a simple matter to cancel such a license or to refuse to renew it where it is shown that a druggist is buying liquor from an unauthorized source. Under conditions existing now it is generally admitted that the bill will have very little value as a preventive of abuse on the part of certain druggists. The return to pre-war conditions permitting the unrestricted ingress of liquor from outside the province direct to the consumer will itself act as a corrective so far as the druggist or traffic is concerned. In the event, however, of the proposed prohibition referendum, forbidding the importation of liquor into the province except for sacramental, medicinal, chemical and commercial purposes carrying, the proposed act to regulate the sale of liquor will have an important influence of a supplementary character. In other words the temperance forces hope by this means to plug the hole which would be left after prohibition had been put into effect. The commission, it is expected, will comprise a personnel of three, and they will no doubt be given very wide powers, though it is stated the extent of these powers has not yet been fully decided upon.

COSTLY BUTTERFLIES.

LONDON, Eng. — Beauty cannot compare with rarity in the view of the collector, but among a number of exotic lepidoptera sold at Stevens' sale rooms, Covent Garden, many specimens provided a combination of both, the result being that the highest recorded price for a butterfly was realized.

This was a male specimen of A. Godmani, from Brazil, which fell to a bidder for $150. The insect is a rare species, never before it is believed, offered for sale under the hammer.

Among British butterflies included in the sale a variety of a male Purple Emperor, captured in 1894 in the New Forest, sold for $80, the approximate value of a typical specimen being about 75 cents.

SCARED TO DEATH.

POTTSVILLE, Pa. — Evidence before City Coroner Henry Dierschedl, showed that Roy Leib, a veteran of the world war, was practically scared to death when he received a shock of electricity which was insufficient to kill any normal man.

Lieb was shell shocked in France, and was much afraid of the electric current against which he had to guard as a lineman of the United Telephone Company. When he came in contact for an instant with a live wire he yelled and although no burns were found on him he was unable to recover from the shock.

Paying Toll for Neglect

Needless exposure to damp and cold frequently result in a derangement of the Kidneys and Bladder.

When these important organs fail to do their duty, various evils arise, such as rheumatism, swollen hands and ankles, stiff joints, lumbago, sciatic neuralgia, stone in the bladder or gravel, excruciating pains in the back and sides, constant headaches, dizziness, specks floating before the eyes, uneasiness of mind without reason, and general debility.

These are signs of serious kidney and bladder trouble, which require immediate attention. The most dependable remedy is found in Gin Pills. They often prevent the operations which constant neglect may render necessary. They quickly and safely relieve congested kidneys, passing stone and gravel, healing and soothing inflamed organs and restoring them to normal. Thousands of letters from people who have been relieved are continually coming to us. Their writers often beg us to spread the good news to other sufferers that Gin Pills certainly and surely will bring the help they need. Send for free sample, or go direct to your druggist or dealer, 50c a box. Money refunded if relief not given.

WATCH YOUR GUMS—BLEEDING A SIGN OF TROUBLE

Medical science knows how serious is the sign of bleeding gums. For it knows that tender and bleeding gums are the fore-runners of Pyorrhea, that dread disease which afflicts four out of five people over forty.

If the disease is unchecked, the gum-line recedes, the teeth decay, loosen and fall out, or must be extracted to rid the system of the Pyorrhea poisons generated at their base—poisons which seep into the system and wreck the health. They cause rheumatism, nervous disorders, anaemia, and many other ills.

To avoid Pyorrhea, visit your dentist often for tooth and gum inspection, and use Forhan's For the Gums. Forhan's For the Gums will prevent Pyorrhea or check its progress, if used in time and used consistently. Ordinary dentifrices cannot do this. Forhan's keeps the gums firm and healthy—the teeth white and clean. Start using it today. If gum-shrinkage has already set in, use Forhan's according to directions and consult your dentist immediately for special treatment.

"Peterborough Produces Possibilities Unsurpassed."

MONDAY, JANUARY 19TH, 1920.

THE NEW PUBLIC BUILDING.

A deputation from Peterborough is to wait upon the Minister of Public Works at Otawa on Wednesday to urge upon the government the immediate construction here of the proposed Customs House and Post Office, an appropriation for which was made before the war. There is no reason why the deputation should not be successful in its mission. The arguments that were sufficient to induce the government six years ago to provide the money for this much-needed building are more potent now than they were in 1914, and should be weighty enough to ensure an early commencement of work. Neither the present post office nor the customs office are adequate for a growing city like Peterborough, and while, owing to the financial condition of the country, it is desirable to exercise economy in public expenditures, yet a new Federal building here comes under the head of necessary public work and should be treated as such. The original appropriation will have to be considerably supplemented, however, if the plans as first adopted are to be carried out.

PROTECTING THE FISH.

Sportsmen are interested in the announcement of the decision of the Drury government to do away with the poorly paid part-time fish and game wardens and to substitute for them forty-five officials who would give their full time to the work. Certainly under the old system an effective service could not be expected of men who were paid a mere pittance and who were game wardens only in their spare time. Full-time officials should be able to provide more protection for the game and fish of the province, although it is doubtful if 45 inspectors are enough to take care of the game fish during the spawning season when the fish pirates get in their deadly work and when most of the harm is done. The Examiner is still inclined to adhere to the opinion that during the spawning season the wardens should be assisted by a number of special officials in order that the spawning grounds shall be efficiently protected.

NEED OF HASTE.

In their response to the appeal from Armenia the people of Peterborough are once more demonstrating that the heart of the city is right. The Examiner is glad to record a long list of donations, donations that are most welcome in themselves and that are eloquent of others that are to come. The result of the campaign so far is most gratifying because we are convinced that the lives of women and children will be saved by the money that Peterborough people have subscribed. The facts are appalling in their tragedy. Already two hundred thousand people have died in Armenia from starvation; at least twice as many more are in danger of the same fate. There is desperate need of haste in getting relief to those who are in peril, and although all over the continent and in the British Isles campaigns are being conducted, there is no risk of overlapping, and there is the fear that unless speed is a factor in the relief work these efforts may be too late. Local citizens, therefore, who are financially able to assist are asked to subscribe at once, either throuhg the Examiner or at any of the local banks.

PROHIBITION AND POISON

Anti-prohibitionists profess to find in the reports of deaths caused by the drinking of wood alcohol an argument against prohibitory legislation. But the bottom is easily knocked out of an argument of that sort.

"See what your dry law does!" says the scoffer as he points to the headlines recounting a growing death list from indulgence in beverages with a poisonous kick, says the Chicago Evening Post. But the scoffer is wrong. This is not the result of the dry law; this is the result of years of licensed liquor selling. The saloon created appetites which are now seek the satisfaction in a quicker poison than it used to provide. The wood-alcohol victim is the product of the days when whiskey was plentiful. Prohibition must be judged not by what it can do for those whose appetites were formed under the old regime—although many of these may be helped—but by what it will do for the rising generation and for generations to come. We cannot eradicate the appetite where it has been acquired, but we can prevent its acquirement by millions of young Americans who will grow to manhood and womanhood in a saloonless land.

To Hold False Teeth in Place Use COREGA

AN ALARMING SITUATION.

With the ratification of the peace treaty with Germany only a few days old, the news that the cables bring from Europe is disquieting to say the least. The summoning to Paris for a consultation with Premier Lloyd George, of Secretary of War Churchill, Walter Hume Long, First Lord of the Admiralty, Baron Beatty, Commander of the Grand Fleet and Field Marshal Sir Henry H. Wilson, Chief of the Imperial Staff is an action that indicates the seriousness of the situation that has been caused by the great military successes won by the Bolsheviki. The Soviets have made themselves virtual masters of European Russia, securing enormous supplies of food, raw materials and rolling stock. Flushed with their victories they are preparing for further conquests.

An attack on Poland and the Baltic States may be the next move and if this campaign were to be successful, it is the opinion of military experts that a general revival of war in Europe would be more than probable. Great Britain is more directly concerned, however by the possibility that the next campaign of the Bolsheviki may be eastward, involving India. In either case the situation seems to be critical.

THE FEDERAL FUND.

The reference in these columns on Saturday to the Federal Emergency Emergency Fund seems to have aroused the ire of Secretary F. H. Dobbin, judging by the tone of his letter which is given below. Why the article should have had this effect upon Mr. Dobbin is a mystery to the Examiner, which had no intention of criticising the work of the local committee and which has, since the first mention of the establishment of the Federal Fund, advocated that the Patriotic Fund officials should have charge of its administration.

Here is the secretary's letter:

The Editor The Examiner:

Sir,—Your editorial reference to the distribution of the Federal Emergency Appropriation in, I think, your issue of Saturday last, when read as you have written, leaves the impression that the ex-soldier who has not spent every cent he has is thereby deprived of sharing in the distribution. May I say to you that this is not so. But what is essential is a review of his present financial income, at the time of application. On thi sit is determined his needs. If he be out of work, and work is offered to him, if he should accept, if at all physically able to take the job. There is reason in all things.

In making your stricture you do not consider how many of applications, possibly declined under the rules, have been helped from other sources. You are going to say that you did not know. That is the trouble. You did not enquire. Didn't give it a thought. Nor did the person who suggested to you the lapses in the general instructions for the distribution tell you of it, either. It is a sample of human frailty that we are all disposed to put forward the worst side of everything, in spirit of indolence that nullifies enquiry. Your writing is a case of point. You will make, or cause to be made, most careful enquiry as to the bona fides of the case of a man accused of selling a bottle of whiskey, and ignore the pertinent facts that would, if known to you, modify your self-attained conclusions. May I say, that it is the things we do not do for which we are blamed, not those we do. It is a familiar axiom of business, that refuse to endorse your friend's note and he never forgets it. Endorse the note and he forgets the service immediately. You are the fellow who has to do the remembering.

The distribution is being done under the instructions of the military administrator, Brig.-Gen. [illegible]. His period of service, his [illegible] efficiency and his sympathy with the ex-soldier should intimate that he has done all he could for the soldier and that the man should share if at all entitled. The rule you refer to is to prevent imposition. I have been told, I do not vouch for it, that in Toronto, where on the first go off the number paid was about 4,000, that the list has been cut down to a little over 800. Being, as I have said, under semi-military direction publicity may not be given, even if such might be helpful. But if you will call at the office, you shall see exactly what is going on, the drift of the distribution that is made both from the Federal and all other Funds, and I am quite sure that you will modify your rather caustic remark that "the local officers are not to be blamed." Who, in Sam Hill, may I ask, is competent to blame. Surely not you, for you do not know.

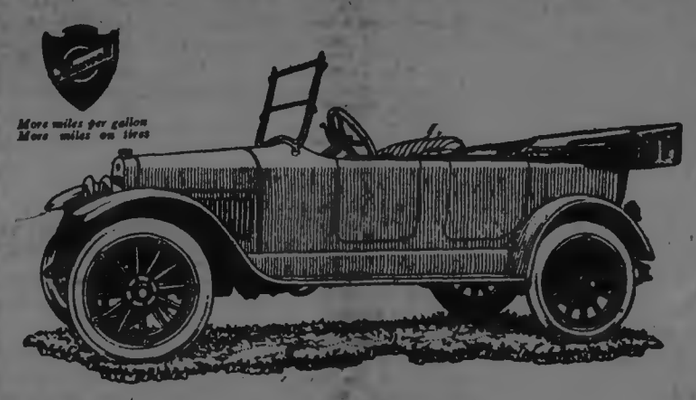
You can, if so minded, do a distinct service by keeping in mind and, if you care to do so, in print, that the committee, Mr. Buller, Mr. Rush, Mr. Stabler, Adjt. Buntin, Mr. Stocker, with Mr. Williams and Mr. Whatley, are not a set of fiends, grouped around a table to gouge and deprive any man of his rights. Far from it. You, or any other man, would willingly trust these men in all the ordinary affairs of life. Why not trust them now? You may, but you take precious good care not to say so, and so create the idea that the committee is animated by the desire to "hew to the line, let the chips fall where they may." I beg to state that the committee is not composed of that brand of wood-cutters.

Come along. Try and be real helpful. When you know, and realize the difficulties of the whole distribution you will appreciate. And then your editorial strictures wil be free from creating an atmosphere that the ex-soldier is not being fairly treated under the rules. One object in the mind of the Cabinet, in placing this distribution in the hands of the Patriotic Fund was, that it was intimately acquainted with the man, (especially if of family), his dependents, his circumstances before taking service, his family condition while abroad and his status in civil life after his return. The committee, in cases, which I need not here refer to, is alowed to exercise some discretion, and I am sure that it will, while not breaking rules, occasionally bend them. That does not hurt the rule. It goes back and is as good a rule as ever.

Respectfully,
F. H. DOBBIN,
Secretary, F. E. App.

The Examiner's article concerned itself with but one point in regard to the Federal Emergency Appropriation—the status of the returned soldier who may have a few dollars in the bank, or a Victory Bond or who owned his own house, but is without employment and unable to get a position. We believe that such men whose thrift is proven by these assets should be eligible for assistance from the government funds until such time as they are able to secure work. It should not be necessary for them to spend the proceeds of their Victory Bond or mortgage their home in order to get a living when there is a government appropriation to help unemployed soldiers and we do not believe that the people of Canada want returned soldiers who have played the game fairly since they came back and who are temporarily out of employment to be practically "down and out" before they become eligible for aid from the emergency fund.

That any such conditions should exist is, as the Examiner said on Saturday, something for which the local committee is in no way responsible. We have every confidence that they will do everything for the returned soldiers that they are empowered to do under the regulations and more, but it is of the regulations themselves that complaints have been made to the Examiner. And it may be here stated that they are not hearsay complaints, but were voiced by men who should be in a position to know whereof they speak.



Fine Metals Have Given Maxwell its Rank

THE substance of which a car is made denotes its quality. The use of fine and strong metals in the Maxwell has won it many, many friends.

It was necessary to make the Maxwell chassis of the very best materials. For its great mission was to transport—in an extremely economical way—as great a passenger load over the same road and at the same speed as the larger and heavier cars.

Thus it was obvious that the Maxwell had to be light. And to make it light the quality metals were used.

Metallurgists, the men who have made the study of metals a science, say that it compares favorably pound for pound with the highest priced cars the world has produced.

But you need not be a metallurgist to discover this "inner goodness" in a Maxwell. Three months will tell; six months will tell you more.

Otherwise the demand for Maxwell cars in five short years would never have grown from five thousand a year to one hundred thousand a year.

300,000 Maxwells on the highways of the world to-day answer most any question you can ask about this great car.

HEAD OF ONE BIG UNION WAS EJECTED FROM TRAIN.

NELSON, B. C., Jan. 16.—Owing to William Potter, president of the Fernie local of the One Big Union, being ejected from the Coal Creek train operated by the Crow's Nest Pass Coal Company for refusal to pay fare, the miners struck and the Coal Creek colliery was idle. A compromise was reached, by which the principle of whether union officials have to pay fares, will be referred to the director of coal operations and in the afternoon the miners were ordered back to work, few obeying the order, owing to the attraction of the municipal rally.

SANDRA THE JEALOUS

BY JANE PHELPS

EVERETT AND SANDRA GO SHOPPING

CHAPTER XXIII.

As I leaned back in the luxurious town car Everett had given me for my very own I muttered:

"What do I care whether he is pleased or not!" Yet I knew I did care, and the fact that a moment after I had made the hasty exclamation, I was carefully examining my face with a hand mirror to see if I really did look well, proved that I did.

Inconsistent, yes. But was ever seventeen consistent?

Everett was waiting for me, although I was exactly on time. He complimented me, saying:

"Many women think ten or fifteen minutes one way or another makes no difference. But a man likes promptness. I am glad you have that virtue among your other ones." It wasn't a very intimate speech; but I was glad he was pleased with me. He then asked that they show me the coat.

The coat was perfectly lovely! A sapphire blue velvet with a sable collar. It was awfully becoming. But I winced when he said:

"I knew it would be! Sapphire is always becoming to people with your coloured hair."

Had Leola worn sapphire velvet too?

I gasped when I knew the cost, but Everett never said a word. Just said to send it as soon as possible. A slight change was necessary in the collar or we might have taken it.

"You were very lovely in it, Sandra," he said when we left the store. Now go and buy yourself some books and magazines. I should like to go with you, but haven't the time."

As he turned away after assisting me into the car, my eyes filled. I couldn't have told just why, but something in his voice, his eyes as he told me I was lovely in the coat, made me think he was sorry for me, and so made me sorry for myself. But I brushed them quickly away and spent an hour selecting reading matter. I wished I knew the kind of books he liked. I must ask, then I could occasionally buy him one.

When he came home to dinner I was curled up on the rug in front of the fire place reading.

"Purring just like a kitten," he said as he kissed me and helped me to my feet. He looked at the book I was reading, then at the others I had bought, and selecting one said he should take possession of it, as he had wanted to read it over since he had read the reviews. I was pleased out of all proportion to the incident. But that he would read anything I had selected, made me think I was not so hopelessly childish as he usually made me feel. I did so want him to treat me like a grown-up.

He took me to the theatre that night, and never said a cross or impatient word. "Perhaps he does love me a little," I said to myself, "and so is sorry for me."

Had I known that for weary weeks and months I was to blow hot and blow cold over the question of Everett's feelings for me I should not have known how to endure my life. But I was of an optimistic nature, and it took very little to encourage me to think as I wanted to think.

It is so easy to fool ourselves if we really try.

Had I known that even then Everett was discovering that I was not as young as he had thought — not a child; but a grown girl, almost a woman. That he also thought me very lovely, with the promise of greater beauty when more mature, it would have comforted me immensely. I did realize in a way that he was rather proud of me. He couldn't hide that. But I laid it all to his taste in dressing me for that was what he did. Although he never objected when I wore one of my simple trousseau dresses in the house, he did object once when I wore one when going to the theatre with him.

"They were all right for Lakeville, and are perfectly appropriate for home wear. But I can afford handsome clothes for you. Why shouldn't you have them?"

I didn't say anything, but I too thought, why not? It was all I did have—what his money bought me. That other woman, Leola, had his love. So I soon developed extravagant tastes. It does not make a woman long when she is given carte blanche to learn the gentle art of spending money. At least I never have met a woman who wasted much time over that particular lesson.

So often when lonely and unhappy because of the thought of Leola I would spend my time in shopping. It made me forget her, aside from the pleasure it gave me. Yet no saleswoman ever recommended a hat, a dress or anything else with the remark that it would be becoming because of my hair, that I did not at once lose all interest in the article I had intended to purchase, and leave the shop empty-handed.

Often and often I wished that Everett had not said that he was attracted to me because I had hair like Leola; the woman who had drowned herself rather than have him disgrace her before the world. The woman I was sure he still loved. Had he not said that I think I could perhaps soon have forgotten and forgiven all the rest; but that rankled, rankled and hurt. As time went on I became more and more in love with my husband, the hurt was sometimes almost more than I could bear.

STUFF SELVES WHEN THEY CAN'T DANCE

FEASTING AND DANCING ABSORB GUESTS OF RIVIERA.

NICE, Jan. 16.—Feasting and dancing are absorbing the attention of Riviera guests this season. The necessities of life are not abundant and there is an actual shortage of sugar, milk and coal, but pate de foie gras, truffles, grain-fed fowls and lobster abound. Everything that is luxurious and superfluous is plentiful.

Dance When Not Eating

In the absence of fuel, visitors are keeping themselves warm by tangoing, fox-trotting and approximating every other variety of terpsichorean exercise, the Riviera having been transformed into a vast dance which absorbs all energies excepting those reserved for feasting.

Ear-Splitting Jazz.

Even the more conservative family hotels that have until now resisted the encroachment of the revellers finally have succumbed, and the most ear-splitting jazz music now may be heard in the corridors of these places by day and by night.

Exorbitant Prices.

Meanwhile the cost of living, influenced by the exorbitant prices paid for choice provisions by hotels and restaurants where the dancers dine and sup, continues to soar.

HANGMEN IN ENGLAND DEMAND PAY INCREASE.

LONDON, Jan. 9.—England's public executioners, the hangmen, want their pay increased, and their claim has been presented directly to the House of Commons by a member of that body. Augustine Hailwood inquired whether the Government knew it was paying the executioners no more than in pre-war days.

A Government representative replied that the matter would receive consideration.

The hangmen recently were deprived of the privilege of taking away the rope with which the criminal was hanged. This reduced one of the sources of their revenue, as the rope could be sold for a good price to curiosity collectors.

GENTLEMAN DEFINED BY BISHOP WELDON

LONDON, Eng.—Bishop Weldon, dean of Durham, attributed the following qualities to a Christian gentleman, whose character and spirit were vitally needed to-day, particularly in industrial disputes: "Such a man could not afford to lie; his life was open, his aspect was clear. He looked all the world in the face. He would not if he could, and could not if he would, play a double part. He would not take an unfair advantage of anyone. His word was his bond. His conscience was his religion. He was the soul of loyalty and integrity. He asked not what he would get, but what he could give. He tried to make the world a little better and a little happier. He was always looking out for a chance to say a kind word or do a kind act, relieve sorrow and inspire hope or lift a lame dog, dry the tears that flowed so freely, and help those who were sad at heart to smile again."

He says the man has been drinking and shot himself. Gillan was a retired member of the Irish Constabulary. He had evidently been dead for some time.

You Can Always Tell a Chalmers By its Uninterrupted Ease of Action

WHETHER you have ever driven a present day Chalmers or not there is one thing about it you cannot help but observe: its uninterrupted ease of action.

Drive alongside of one in traffic or follow one in a country road and you will note a silence, a smoothness, an ease, an effortless action that will command your attention.

This high efficiency in a Chalmers is due to a lack of vibration.

The crank shaft, piston and connecting rods are balanced, both in motion and static, to the fraction of an ounce.

To make doubly sure, Hot Spot vaporizes the raw gasoline into a "cloud" and Ram's-horn furnishes each cylinder with an equal and even "charge."

The result is there are no uneven explosions.

This evenness makes for high efficiency in the Chalmers engine and provides an action that gives a new comfort, a new satisfaction, a new sense of security in a motor car.

Also it means not only better performance but more regular performance, as vibration is the source of most trouble.

Borrow a friend's Chalmers for a few miles, and you, too, will say it is one of the few great cars of the world.

JUDGMENT FOR BOWLER AGAINST VASS AND REDMAN

PLAINTIFF AWARDED $448.49 FROM MRS. REDMAN, OF WHICH SUM MR. VASS IS MADE LIABLE FOR $300, THE VALUE OF THE CAR — STAY OF JUDGMENT ALLOWED.

HIS HONOUR'S FINDING

Judgment in the somewhat celebrated case of Timothy Bowler versus Mrs. Edith Redman and Albert Vass was handed down by Judge Huycke this morning, allowing the plaintiff $448.49 against Mrs. Redman and $300 against Vass, with costs.

Vass's liability of $300 is included in that of Mrs. Redman. In other words, he is liable for $300 of the amount assessed against her.

Mr. R. R. Hall's request for a stay of the judgment was granted for the usual period, and at Mr. Gordon's request Mr. Hatton promised to try to secure the production of the $50 Victory Bond Mrs. Redman had not placed with the Court.

Mr. G. N. Gordon was solicitor for the plaintiff, Mr. Hall for Mr. Vass, and Mr. Hatton for Mrs. Redman.

The written judgment follows:

In this action we have a three-fold claim—1, to recover a Ford touring car or its value; 2, to recover a bank deposit transferred by the plaintiff to Redman on 18th April, 1918, of the amount of $228.49; and 3, to recover $180, being twelve instalments of $15 each assigned pay given to Redman by the plaintiff while he was overseas.

Plaintiff's contention is that he and Redman were engaged to be married early in 1918, that he was drafted to go overseas in the Army, that he was induced and influenced by both defendants to transfer to Redman the car and money, all he owned in the world; that she as his fiancee was to keep it for him and give it back on his return, but that if he did not return it was all to be hers absolutely.

Redman denies the engagement denies all improper motive or influence, says these were all given to her absolutely, that she used and then sold the car, and spent all or nearly all the money.

Plaintiff is a young Englishman, a farm labourer, of nearly thirty, simple-minded, illiterate, and, it now transpires, a victim of mild epilepsy from early life. This has been accentuated by his experience at war and in hospital. His left arm was shot or blown off in November, 1918, and he is now a nervous and physical wreck.

Redman is a clever-looking, strong-minded, and apparently attractive young woman. Vass is her close and intimate friend. She makes her home at his residence when not employed elsewhere. It is now stated that she is a married woman, who has not lived with her husband for many years, and she has a daughter in her teens.

She Promised to Return It.

Plaintiff returned to Canada early in 1919, saw the defendants in May and July, but most of his time has been spent in hospital. He demanded back his property, but did not get it, though he says Redman at first said she would return it all to him, and fixed a date to meet to carry out this intimation. This appointment she failed to keep.

She, in May or June, 1919, sold or gave the car to Vass after spending $80 of the money in the bank for new tires, and Vass, early in July, 1919, sold it to Mr. G. A. Gillespie for $300 in part exchange for a new car.

This was some time after plaintiff returned to Canada, and after both defendants had spoken with him.

The claim for relief was first laid on grounds of conspiracy, but in argument and after proper amendment had been made, was pressed rather on the ground of undue influence, improvidence, and breach of trust.

Amorous Address.

In any view of the case, I think plaintiff entitled to succeed, but base my judgment chiefly on undue influence and subsequent breach of trust. I find the parties were engaged to be married, or plaintiff thought they were. It is true she denies all this, but her letters, two of which are filed, addressed to "Dear Tim", and ending "with love" and "from your sweetheart, Edith," render her denials scarcely credible.

The fact also that she told Mr. O'Brien when the bill of sale of the car was being prepared in the plaintiff's presence to put her down as a widow, and not as a married woman, which she really was, and this is significant. The parties had been acquainted for some months with growing intimacy until 17th April, 1918, when the plaintiff took in his car to Buckhorn for a day's outng the defendant Redman, she sitting beside him, and Vass and Mrs. Vass. They came back in the evening and had supper in a Chinese restaurant in Peterborough all together, Vass paying for the supper, when took place a general discussion of plaintiff's means, plans and business.

That night Vass took, or they went with him, to Mr. O'Brien, a solicitor, Vass doing the talking. The papers could not be drawn until the following morning, where they went again, where the bill of sale was completed absolute in form. There is a contradiction as to whether Vass was there the following day or not. I do not think it mattered, as Vass was there the night before when the transaction was initiated, but if I am to believe Mr. O'Brien, it would be to discredit the defendants and their story. O'Brien says the next day three people were in his office, Redman, Bowler, and another man, who he thinks, but is not sure, was Vass; that "the other man" did the talking, and that someone, not Bowler, when the bill of sale was completed, brought up the question of the money in the bank and its disposition.

Bowler and Redman then went to the bank, and his account there was transferred to her and in her name. If Vass was not there that morning, as he states, there was "no other man," no third party, present, which is wholly at variance with Mr. O'Brien's statement and recollection.

Problem of Defence.

A day or two later the defendant went to Kingston to report for military duty, and soon after went overseas. Finding, as I do, the existence of undue influence almost necessarily present on account of their intimate relationship and disparity of acumen and intelligence, it is incumbent on the defence to establish

1—That the plaintiff was fully aware of the effect and nature of the transaction;

2—That he had proper independent advice;

3—That at the time of the transfer, he was removed from the influence of the donee.

None of these three essentials was shown, but I think quite the opposite. I do not think he realised he was making an absolute grant of the car and transfer of the money. Mr. O'Brien's statement that the bill of sale was being made "without any strings to it," I think, did not appeal to his limited intelligence with his lack of business training and experience. Mr. O'Brien's being paid by the plaintiff did not make him plaintiff's solicitor, for Vass took him there and introduced the subject.

Prefers Bowler's Story.

At the time of the alleged gift he was in the actual presence of one defendant and swayed by her influence. All this is based on my acceptance of evidence on behalf of the plaintiff, but even were it otherwise, and I should believe all the defendants say, I think the whole transaction so improvident, so utterly unfair and one-sided, and the bargain, if bargain it can be called, so unconscionable and unjust that no sane man in his senses would make and no fair man would accept, and even on this finding, should be set aside; but this observation is perhaps unnecessary, as I prefer the plaintiff's version, and in the main accept his story.

The transfer of the car must therefore be set aside, but as it was sold, it must be treated as a conversion of the plaintiff's property at what I must assume a fair value, $300. The car was used one season chiefly by Vass and his family, and not very well cared for. It was urged that I should find a greater value for this reason, but I do not think I should do so.

Abused the Car.

The defendant Redman was at liberty to use the car reasonably, and there was no limitation of her allowing her friends to use it, though I am inclined to think it was abused as well as used.

Defendant Redman I find, therefore, liable for $300, the value of the car.

What about Vass, who acquired and sold the car, receiving $300 for it? Does this inference of undue influence operate against him, too? I think it does.

If it operates against Redman, as I think it certainly does, then it would operate against any volunteer claiming under or through her, and also against any person who claimed under her with notice of the circumstances and the equity thereby created, or with notice of the circumstances from which the Court infers such an equity. See Bainbrigge vs. Browne, 18 ch. D. 188, p. 197.

I hesitate to find Vass purely a volunteer, though I confess to having grave doubts whether he ever paid for it as stated. The evidence of defendants as to such payment was seriously contradictory and unsatisfactory. But Vass certainly had notice, and knew of all the circumstances. I indeed think him a partner in the wrongdoing, the instigator, if instigation was necessary, for I must accept in the main the evidence of the Dunmitts, father and son, and find that some such conversation as they relate took place between the defendants in the winter and early spring of 1918.

Vass, with his knowledge of the whole transaction and taking the car after the plaintiff's return, make him also liable for the value of the car, $300.00.

The money in the bank, $228.40, stands in the same position so far as the defendant Redman is concerned. She spent $80 of it for tires for the car, which formed part of the value for which $300 was received. This sum should therefore not be charged twice, and I deduct it from the $228.49, leaving $148.49.

The plaintiff must have judgment for this $148.49 against Redman, but not I think against Vass. Much of this money it is true was paid out to him, but both defendants say it was used for Redman's purposes. Of this there is perhaps can be no contradiction and I find in Vass's favour as to this item.

The claim for the $180 payments of assigned pay must, I think, be dismissed. The circumstances of this transfer are rather in the dark. Anyway he says he told her to use what she wanted of it and keep the balance for him on his return. She chose to spend it all, and I do not find he placed any limitation or prohibition of her doing so.

It was strongly urged that undue influence does not and cannot arise from the fiancee's relationship. I think it can and does under circumstances as I find them here. Each case must depend upon its own peculiar conditions and circumstances. I have consulted many cases in this matter, those referred to by counsel and others as well, but find all or nearly all the law on the subject set out in the two very old and leading cases: Hugrieum vs. Baseley, (1802) 14 Vesey 273, and Lyon vs. Howe (1867) 37 L. J. Ch. 674.

Judgment will be entered against defendant Redman for $448.49 and against Vass for $300, with costs against both of them.

Good Flour Is Not the Only Essential to Good Baking

The best of cooks insist on proper baking-ware, and "Pyrex" is the answer, for it is transparent and you can turn it about in the oven and see if it is properly done all around. It never chips, flakes or crazes, even after years of service; it cannot rust; it will not burn or discolour, and always stays new. "Pyrex" is favoured for hospital use because it is considered to be the most sanitary baking-ware ever brought into use.

FUNDAMENTAL DECISIONS SUBJECT OF SERMON BY REV. JAMES ROLLINS

FIRST OF A SERIES TO BE GIVEN AT ST. ANDREW'S CHURCH—THE VALUE OF ACTION.

Last evening at St. Andrew's Presbyterian church the Rev. James Rollins preached the first of a series of sermons on "Fundamental Decisions," taking as his text, Joel, 3:14, "Multitudes in the valley of decision."

Rev. Mr. Rollins explained that in speaking of fundamental decisions he had in mind those great and essential decisions which make and form human character. A decision was the power of planning a course of action and then carrying out such a course unflinchingly unless circumstances should arise which would make the decision unwise. Of the decisive man speculation was valuable only in that it might resolve itself into action. The spirit in such a man was in arms.

Value of Action.

A great deal, Mr. Rollins said, depended upon wise plans, but far more on vigorous action. Some people made a little god which they called a beautiful plan, and worshipped it. This was not decision, but speculation and idolatry. A third rate plan and first-rate action would carry farther toward success than a first rate plan and a third rate action. A scheme of life alone was of little value. A beautifully bound scheme of life could be bought for a quarter the price of a box of chocolates. What was needed was action.

Creator of Character.

Decision was the great creator of character. Mr. Rollins doubted if anyone ever attained a good or bad character without some definite action. Man's character was sustained by action and demoralized by inaction. Decision was the backbone of character. It gave stamina, consistency and unity. The end of man was action, not speculation. The Catechism stated that 'The end of man is to glorify God." But one could not glorify God without action. There were decisions which one simply could not get through life without making. They might not be seen clearly, but they must be expressed in action.

Drifting and Steering.

Continuing, Mr. Rollins stated that there were only two kinds of life which were separated by decision. These were drifting and steering. There was no middle course. One must adopt a definite goal or else allow himself to drift. By either drifting or steering one would eventually encounter the storms of life, but the man who was steering was using the current and breeze to suit his purpose, while the drifter was being used himself. Here the speaker again emphasized the fact that practice, not theory was what really counted.

Dominating Moods.

Another way of expressing the two kinds of life was letting one's life be dominated by momentary feelings or by rational purpose. It was a serious thing to give up rational guidance and become the sport of moods. The man for whom it was a sufficient reason to say, "I don't feel like it," was giving up a man's life.

In closing Mr. Rollins reiterated his statement that one could not live without making decisions.

AN APOLOGY

Owing to the exceptional business done in the Annex on Wedday (the largest day in the Annex history) and the extreme cold and heavy snow of the succeeding days, our Annex deliveries were unavoidable delayed. We did everything possible to expedite these deliveries with three motor trucks and one sleigh working constantly to. In spite of this it was Friday or Saturday and in some cases to-day before the Annex parcels were all delivered. We wish to apologize for the inconvenience caused our patrons by this delay.

BETTER SERVICE FOR TOWNSHIP

LONG DISTANCE LINE CUT INTO KEENE BY TELEPHONE COMPANY.

The Telephone service at Keene and the Township of Otonabee has been greatly improved by the fact that the Bell Telephone Company have cut a long distance line into the Otonabee Municipal System switchboard at Keene, which will now be known as a Long Distance Rate Centre and will have direct long distance connection with outside points.

In addition to the above the Municipal System has a private trunk line between their office at Keene and that of the Bell Telephone Co., Peterboro, for the transmission of local messages between their and the Peterboro subscribers.

THE WEATHER

Sunday was a bitterly cold day, due not so much to the low temperature, as to the high wind prevailing. The lowest was 14 degrees below zero, and the highest the thermometer got was 3 below zero. Last night the lowest was 11 degrees below, but the temperature has since moderated considerably.—W. P.

HEART SO BAD

WAS NOT SAFE TO LEAVE HER ALONE

Miss Eva P. Yatem-n, Krugersdorf, Ont., writes: "I feel that I must write and tell you of the great benefit I have received from Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills. About four years ago I was taken terribly bad with my heart, nerves and fainting spells, and was down in bed for about six months. I doctored with two different doctors and seemed to get better although the fainting spells would not leave me. I would take such terrible falls wherever I was, that it was not safe to leave me alone at any time. At last I decided to resort to proprietary medicines, and took several different kinds but seemed to receive but little benefit from them. One day noticing the advertisement of Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills I decided to try them. Before I had taken more than two boxes I could see that they were helping me. I have taken about ten boxes and am almost cured of those terrible spells. I sincerely feel that your medicine has proved a blessing to me and I advise anyone troubled with their heart to try them as I am confident they will find relief."

FIRE WRECKS A GLASS TANK IN TORONTO PLANT

(Special to The Examiner.)

TORONTO, Jan. 19. — The glass tank at the Dominion Glass Works at the foot of Dovercourt road took fire at 8.40 this morning and burst, the hot glass pouring out into the cellar. The frame building took fire from the liquid glass and for twenty minutes the place was a raging furnace. The cause of the fire is said to be due to the Hydro-Electric power going off, which stopped the air cooling fans that are connected with the furnace to keep the heat down, and part of the tank took fire, the bottom dropping out of it and the hot glass pouring out in the basement. Hundreds of employees working on the main floor at the blast furnaces had to leave the building. The firemen flooded the basement with water, there were no explosions as the ingredients used for making glass are non-explosive and the firemen were able to pour water freely on the hot glass.

Inflammatory Rheumatism Cured by B.B.B.

Rheumatism is a constitutional disease, caused by the uric acid in the blood. It manifests itself by pain and lameness attacking the muscles and joints of the body, which often swell and become hot and inflamed.

Anyone who has suffered months after months, and perhaps year after year, with rheumatism, and who has tried remedy after remedy in the hope of relief, and without success, should not give up hope.

Burdock Blood Bitters, by invigorating the digestive organs and eliminating the uric acid from the system, will give prompt and permanent relief.

Mrs. D. Barry, Purlbrook, Ont., writes:—"I feel it my duty to let you know of the great benefit my husband derived from using your Burdock Blood Bitters. He had been suffering for the past two years with inflammatory rehumatism. He tried many medicines but got no better. A friend advised him to take B. B. B. He did so, and after taking five bottles he felt like a new man, and was able to go to work the same as ever."

Burdock Blood Bitters has been on the market for over 40 years. Manufactured only by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

IF BACK HURTS USE SALTS FOR KIDNEYS

Eat Less Meat If Kidneys Feel Like Lead or Bladder Bothers.

Most folks forget that the kidneys, like the bowels, get sluggish and clogged and need a flushing occasionally, else we have backache and dull misery in the kidney region, severe headaches, rheumatic twinges, torpid liver, acid stomach, sleeplessness and all sorts of bladder disorders.

You simply must keep your kidneys active clean, and the moment you feel an ache or pain in the kidney region, get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any good drug store here, take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and is harmless to flush clogged kidneys and stimulate them to normal activity. It also neutralizes the acids in the urine so it no longer irritates, thus ending bladder disorders.

Jad Salts is harmless; inexpensive; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which everybody should take now and then to keep their kidneys clean, thus avoiding serious complications.

A well-known local druggist says he sells lots of Jad Salts to folks who believe in overcoming kidney trouble while it is only trouble.

LIBERAL LEADER REACHES QUEBEC

(Special to The Examiner.)

QUEBEC, Jan. 19. — Honorable Mackenzies King arrived in town yesterday afternoon on his return from the Maritime Provinces. Referring to his tour, the Liberal leader stated that Mr. Lapointe and he had received ovations from the people, and not satisfied to judge by this, they had interviewed local chiefs who had been unanimous in guaranteeing a sweeping victory for the Liberals in those provinces. He attacked the present administration for its incompetence, referring to the neglect of the harbor of St. John for instance, and the lack of representation in the Cabinet of Canada east of Montreal to the ocean. In concluding Mr. King predicted a sure victory in the coming elections and refused to comment on the coming session, which would be ruled by a two-headed government while the chieftain was away.

HOCKEY AND BAND AT BROCK ST. RINK TO-NIGHT

As an added attraction for to-night's big junior game at Brock street rink between Lindsay and Peterborough, the G.W.V.A. band has kindly consented to attend and provide music before the game and in the rest periods, a feature that will be appreciated by the fans.

The game promises to be an exciting struggle. With a four-goal lead from the first two games, the Peterborough youngsters will endeavour to increase their margin considerably to-night, while Lindsay, of course, expect to hold the score down and even to pull the round in the final game at Lindsay on Friday night. The ice conditions will be of the best, and good as was the last game here between the two teams, to-night's fixture is expected to surpass it in interest and excitement. The game is called for 8.30 o'clock sharp.

The Peterborough team will line-up as follows:

Goal—Bergoine.
Defence—Sheehan, Lawson.
Centre—Collins.
Right wing—Jackson.

CANNINGTON TEAM PLAY PETES HERE WEDNESDAY

Peterborough fans are getting hockey in bunches just now, a string of home games fitting in nicely with the cold snap. To-night the juniors play Lindsay, and on Wednesday night Cannington will make their second appearance of the season here in an intermediate fixture, the last home game for over a week. The Cannington crew have been improving every game out, and the contest will be no light lunch for the Petes, especially if their team work is not better than it was Friday night against Lindsay. Cannington showed themselves a game bunch in their last visit here and won the crowd by battling until the last bell. They will be no mean adversaries on their second trip to Brock street rink, and the Petes should not make the mistake of treating them too lightly.

LINDSAY COMPLAINS OF ROUGHNESS IN GAME HERE

The Lindsay Warder says:

In defeating Peterborough on home ice last night the Lindsay Intermediates ran true to form, and showed themselves to be "true blue." The first game played in Lindsay last week was on soft ice, which was a considerable handicap to the last locals, but on the larger and faster ice the Lindsay players showed their calibre by turning the tables on the over-confident Peterborough team.

It was a good game from all angles, and Lindsay won because the boys played the game fair, and were determined to stay on the ice, no matter what happened. In other words, despite the fact that they return home bruised and sore from the unmerciful rough tactics of the visitors, they refrained from resorting to rough work and took their medicine to a man. It was the only way to win! They knew full well that one man in the penalty box would handicap them, and give Peterborough a great advantage on their own ice. "Play up, and play the game," was the motto of the Lindsay boys, and accounts for their great victory.

Lindsay hockey fans are reminded that the return game will be played in Lindsay Monday next and the team is worthy of a much larger support than in the past. The Lindsay street rink should be packed to the doors Monday night to see the return game.

FAIR AND WARMER

Spaeth & Company will present their latest and greatest farce success "Fair and Warmer" at the Grand on Wednesday evening in answer to a tremendous demand from all parts of the country that Broadway's favorite play should be put in tour.

Avery Hopwood, its author, added even to his own fine reputation, achieved with "Seven Days" and "Nobody's Widow," when "Fair and Warmer" first appeared at the Gaiety Theatre, New York, to begin its year-long career as a money maker and a laugh maker; and Spaeth & Company, who made their fame as picking winners with "Within The Law" "Twin Beds", etc., put another notch on their totem pole.

"Fair and Warmer" is the merriest of tales, divulged in three acts of mounting drama and high pitched comedy. It begins with a revelation to two highly respectable and domestic persons, a husband above reproach and below interest, and a wife, a perfect paragon of innocent domesticity, that their respective spouses have been having a time more gay than creditable. The very good pair vow a revenge, and having no experience to guide or warn them, decide on counter-naughtiness as a suitable course.

They discover that getting into trouble is far easier than getting out of it, and that lacking a practised hand, the consequences of trouble are more apt to behave like a boomerang than a projectile. It is in brief, precisely the kind of thing Avery Hopwood knows best how to handle and to interlard with his inimitable shafts of wit and barbs of social comentary.

FRIENDLY ENEMIES

Since the memorable night in March 1918, when President Wilson rose in his box at the National Theatre, Washington and publicly endorsed "Friendly Enemies", that play has been establishing itself as one of the greatest popular successes of all times. It has been playing continously for two years throughout the length and breadth of the United States and the British Isles to audiences that literally cheered in the enthusiasm of their approval. "Friendly Enemies" will be presented at the Grand on Saturday for an engagement of matinee and evening, with a notable company and a splendid production. President Wilson's comment on the play is internationally famous. He said—"All that I can say has already been said most admirably in this beautiful play. All the sentiments I could express have been admirably represented—sentiments that I hope, will soon grip the world." To the President's endorsement has since been added the endorsement of other notable men; the enthusiastic approval of the press of the United States and Great Britain and the applause of millions of playgoers in both countries. The New York Times one of the most conservative newspapers in the United States called the play, "one of the great theatrical properties of the last decade." "Friendly Enemies" will make you laugh and weep almost at the same instant; it will make you feel and it will make you think. A famous critic said "Friendly Enemies" has the laughs of 'Potash and Perlmutter and the tears of 'The Music Master.' No playgoer who is at all interested in the theatre can afford to miss this masterpiece of popular appeal which is making theatrical history.

47TH ANNIVERSARY OF GEORGE STREET SUNDAY SCHOOL

REV. C. S. APPLEGATH ADDRESSED THE SPECIAL SESSION.

George street Sunday school celebrated the 47th anniversary yesterday and Rev. C. S. Applegath of Port Hope, preached at all services of the church, including the open session of the school at 3 o'clock.

At the morning service Mr. Applegath spoke on the Rose of Sharon, impressing his congregation with the fact that Christ should be applied to every phase of life as the rose is applied to each phase. The service was augmented by a chorus of all members of the Sunday school.

Afternoon Service.

At the afternoon service Mr. Applegath spoke of the force of habit, showing clearly how habit binds and the only relief lies in Christ. The address was heard with the keenest interest by the 600 pupils assembled. A feature of the service was the contribution to the building fund by the various classes assembled which, with the $200 contributed by the Ladies' Aid, totalled $1,500.

Plans Prepared.

At present the plans for the proposed new George street Sunday school have been prepared and sketches drawn to give an idea of what the school will be.

Continue Celebration.

A celebration of the anniversary will be continued by a tea of all scholars Tuesday evening, commencing at 5.30 o'clock.

LINDSAY YOUTHS IN POLICE COURT

DETECTIVE COOKMAN BROUGHT IN A QUARTETTE ON SATURDAY.

In this morning's Police Court four young men, who hail from Lindsay, namely, Michael, Joseph and Wilfred Cleary and P. J. Brady, were charged with obtaining goods by false pretences from Flynn's Grocery on Albert Street.

It seems that the young men arrived here several weeks ago and had been living in the late Gunn residence across from the grocery on Albert Street, where they proceeded to deal. It is alleged that they obtained about $60 worth of goods altogether, and after their little adventure they departed to their home town last Wednesday or Thursday. Meanwhile the case had been turned over to the police, and the Lindsay Chief of Police was notified to be on the watch for them, but no steps were taken, and Detective George Cookman went up on Saturday, hired a horse and rig and rounded up the whole gang promptly and brought them here Saturday evening.

The case was remanded till 4 o'clock this afternoon.

$598.87, WITH INTEREST, ALLOWED PLAINTIFF

Judgment for $598.87 with interest at 5% dating from from November 2nd, 1913, together with the costs of the action, was given by Judge Huycke this morning in favour of Mrs. Ethel M. Holmes against the estate of the late George Mather.

Reviewing the case Judge Huycke said that a promissory note had been given by Mr. Mather to Mrs. Mary E. Moorehouse, mother of the plaintiff for whom she was acting, as committee, on Nov. 2nd, 1912, for the amount of $698.87. The signature had been proved. By way of corroboration a cheque for $100 given by Mr. Mather to Mrs. Moorehouse was submitted, showing that there had been some business dealings. Otherwise there was no evidence available and for that reason the question was submitted to the Surrogate Court. Judge Huycke found that the note had not been paid and deducted from the principal of the note the $100 cheque and gave judgment for the balance. Interest has been paid for one year.

"I must hold that there has been sufficient corroboration to allow the plaintiff to recover from the Mather estate $598.87 with interest at 5% from Nov. 2nd, 1913."

Mr. V. J. McElderry was solicitor for the plaintiff and Mr. E. L. Goodwill for the administratrix of the estate.

CHIMNEY FIRE.

An otherwise uneventful week-end at the Fire Hall was marred by one fire only. At 1.49 Sunday afternoon the firemen were called to the residence of Mrs. S. Preston, 296 McDonnel Street, but it proved to be only a chimney fire, which was quickly extinguished, with no damage resulting.

ST. JOHN'S WOMAN GAINED 16 POUNDS

HAD HACKING COUGH AND COULD SLEEP VERY LITTLE UNTIL TANLAC RESTORED HER.

"It's a fact. I have gained sixteen pounds since I began taking Tanlac and I feel better and stronger than I have in years," was the statement made by Mrs. M. Wiseman of 26 James Street, St. John's Newfoundland, in a conversation with the Tanlac representative a few days ago.

"Ever since I was a child I have been in bad health," she continued, "but my condition has never been what you might call serious until the past year, when I began going down hill rapidly. What I ate gave me trouble, and I would have a tightness across my chest that was something awful, and I had a hacking cough that worried me a great deal. I had severe pains through my back, and often terrible headaches would come on me and it seemed I could get nothing that would relieve them. Last fall I had a severe attack of the flu, and when I got up I was in a worse condition than ever, and nothing I took gave me any strength or nourishment. I was so extremely nervous that I was never able to get more than one or two hours' sleep any night, and I lost weight and strength rapidly, and became so weak and run down that I could scarcely get about.

"My son, who had been wounded in France and had come back home in a wretched, nervous condition, had taken Tanlac, and it had restored him to such fine health that I decided to try it myself; and now I can say that it has done the same thing for me. Why, it is a complete surprise to me the way Tanlac has overcome my troubles and put me in such a well and happy condition after all these years. I haven't had a headache since I started taking Tanlac, and the pains through my back have entirely disappeared. The cough is ever so much better, and I am not the least bit nervous or fretful, and I can sleep sound all night long. I am eating anything I want, and I am so hungry all the time I can hardly get enough, and I am getting stronger and stronger all the time, and as I said just now, I have gained sixteen pounds. I just simply feel fine all the time, and I am overjoyed at the remarkable good Tanlac has done me."

Tanlac is sold in Peterborough by W. B. Warne Drug Co., Limited; in Havelock by A. C. Denike; in Lakefield by Tanner Drug Co., Ltd.; in Fowlers Corners by W. A. Hunter; in Gelert by A. J. Scott; in Westwood by G. Pringle & Son.

MR. BAGLEY PLEADED GUILTY TO FOUR CHARGES OF THEFT

SENTENCE RESERVED FOR SIX WEEKS PENDING EFFORTS OF BROTHERS TO MAKE RESTITUTION.

James G. Guise Bagley pleaded guilty in the County Court before Judge Huycke this morning to four charges of theft of sums totalling about $4,009. Sentence was reserved for six weeks in the prospect of making restitution through the assistance of Mr. Bagley's brothers in England.

A fifth charge of having performed a criminal operation was withdrawn, and the accused was acquitted of it. Crown Attorney Hatton stated that he had no evidence on which to proceed with this charge.

Mr. F. D. Kerr, appearing for Mr. Bagley, answered the arraignment on the theft counts with pleas of guilty. Correspondence by letter and cablegram had been carried on with Mr. Bagley's two brothers in the Old Country, Mr. Kerr said, with some hope that they would be able to do something to meet the claims against him.

For some time there were prospects of immediate compensation, but these had disappeared before a letter to the effect that credit that had been arranged for had been withdrawn when its purpose became known. Security to the amount of ten thousand pounds was owned by one brother, but owing to the financial difficulties in England he had been unable to realize anything from it in the emergency. Mr. Kerr received a cablegram this morning announcing that Mr. Bagley's brothers had failed in their efforts to help him. Mr. Kerr expressed the belief that with an extension of time these attempts might be successful.

Mr. Hatton agreed to the postponement of sentence for six weeks, remarking hat no harm could be done. Mr. Bagley will remain in jail.

TONIGHT! YES! YOU MUST!

You Can't Stay Bilious and Constipated. Your Liver and Bowels Need "Cascarets"—No Gripe!

Burn the rascals out—the headache biliousness, indigestion, colds, the sour stomach and misery-making gases—turn them out to-night and keep them out with Cascarets.

Millions of men and women take a Cascaret now and then and never know the misery caused by a lazy liver, clogged bowels, or sour stomach.

Don't put in another day of distress Let Cascarets cleanse your stomach; remove the sour, fermenting food; take the excess bile from your liver and clear out all the constipated waste matter and poison in the bowels. Then you will feel great.

Cascarets to-night straighten you out by morning. They work while you sleep.

DUMMER TOWNSHIP COUNCIL MET

The first meeting of the Municipal Council of the Township of Dummer for the year 1920 was held in the town hall at Warsaw on Monday, the 12th day of Jan., commencing at eleven o'clock in the forenoon.

The reeve and all the members of the council having been re-elected, they duly made their declaration of qualification and office, and pursuant thereto were declared to be the municipal council of the Township of Dummer for the year 1920, as follows:

Chris. J. Darling, reeve, and W. D. Robson, J. J. Crowe, George H. Barr, Edwin R. Hamblin, councillors.

The minutes of the December 15th meeting were read over and signed.

Moved by J. J. Crowe, seconded by George Barr that A. F. Choate and Edward Hawthorne be appointed as auditors to audit the treasurer's accounts for the township of Dummer for the year 1919, and that a bylaw to appoint auditors as aforesaid be now prepared and read a first time.

The aforesaid bylaw was passed in due form and numbered bylaw No. 872.

Moved by J. J. Crowe, seconded by W. D. Robson, that a bylaw to provide for the payment of certain moneys in the township of Dummer during the year 1920 be now read a first and second time and be finally passed on the 15th day of Dec. 1920.

T. L. Payne applied for the office of assessor for the year 1920 at a salary of $125. If the roll is to be as formerly without the addition of the women's names being entered thereon. If the women are to be entered thereon the salary is to be $150.

Moved by W. D. Robson, seconded by J. J. Crowe that the application of T. L. Payne for the office of assessor be now read a first time.

The aforesaid bylaw was passed in good form and numbered bylaw No. 875.

Moved by George Barr, seconded by J. J. Crowe that the claim of Fred Calder, respecting the purchase of the timber on the 6th line between lots No. 19 be transferred to Clarence Watts and that Clarence Watts is to be allowed to occupy the road allowance there until required by a resolution of the council to surrender such claim.

George Lonsberry as the janitor of the town hall, paid over to the treasurer the sum of $32.50 as the amount of the receipts collected by him for rent of the hall, and also presenting his account of $31.30 for his allowance as janitor at 90c per opening.

The question of appointing a janitor for the present yearly term was opened by James Tucker offering to perform the service at 80c per opening. George Lansberry then offered to do it for 75c per opening.

No further bids were made and G. Lonsberry was appointed at his offer.

Moved by J. J. Crowe seconded by Edwin R. Hamblin, that whereas this Municipal Council of Dummer believes that the present system of building and maintaining roads in the town ship of Dummer is not in keeping with the increased demand made on them especially by motor cars on the leading roads, and in view of the fact that the outlook for the future means a greater volume of heavy motor traffic; and whereas that part of the system known as the performance of statute labor does not take into account that such a greater volume of traffic passes over some roads more than others, therefore this council believes that the greater part of all such statute labor should be commuted at such amount per diem as the municipal council may from time to time charge for such commutation; and whereas it has been the custom heretofore to grant certain moneys on roads through commissioners orders and special orders in councils, this council believes that all or as much as possible of such amount should be added to the amount levied in lieu of Statute Labour, and the whole to be a road fund to be expended by one or more overseers, according to any bylaw or bylaws that this council may from time to time pass for the building and maintaining such roads in the Township of Dummer. And be it further resolved that this Municipal Council shall as soon as possible pass a bylaw or bylaws to put in force the intent and purpose of the foregoing resolution.

Moved by J. J. Crowe, seconded by George Barr, that Dr. Munro be allowed $15 for service as Medical Officer of Health for the year 1919.

Moved by J. J. Crowe, seconded by George Barr, that a special grant of $14.50 be made payable to Clayton Jory for repairing a bridge on the 2nd line.

Moved by W. D. Robson, seconded by Edwin R. Hamblin, that the following accounts having been passed by the council, be paid, and that an order be drawn on the treasurer for each:

George Lonsberry, for services as janitor of the town hall, for 1919, $31.30; E. Snider, D.R.O. at Mun. Election, $6; James Hawthorne, poll clerk, $3; Matt. Children Cry for Fletcher's

CASTORIA

Fletcher's Castoria is strictly a remedy for Infants and Children. Foods are specially prepared for babies. A baby's medicine is even more essential for Baby. Remedies primarily prepared for grown-ups are not interchangeable. It was the need of a remedy for the common ailments of Infants and Children that brought Castoria before the public after years of research, and no claim has been made for it that its use for over 30 years has not proven.

What is CASTORIA?

Castoria is a harmless substitute for Castor Oil, Paregoric, Drops and Soothing Syrups. It is pleasant. It contains neither Opium, Morphine nor other narcotic substance. Its age is its guarantee. For more than thirty years it has been in constant use for the relief of Constipation, Flatulency, Wind Colic and Diarrhoea; allaying Feverishness arising therefrom, and by regulating the Stomach and Bowels, aids the assimilation of Food; giving healthy and natural sleep. NO CRIMINAL INTENT SO BLAKE GETS OFF

PLEADS TECHNICALLY GUILTY TO CHARGE OF COUNTERFEITING.

OTTAWA, Jan. 16.—The exceptional circumstances of the charge of counterfeiting Canadian 25-cent pieces against Alfred Blake, 423 Clarence street, resulted in strong pleas for leniency from both the prosecution and defence, as well as Blake's employer, in the Police Court yesterday. Magistrate Askwith said that he thought there was no criminal intent, and when Blake pleaded guilty to the charge, he allowed the prisoner his liberty on suspended sentence under bonds of $2,000 for his future conduct.

Sergt. C. A. Ramsay, representing the Dominion Police, said that a thorough investigation had been made of the case and the facts found in accord with the story published in The Journal on Tuesday, to the effect that Blake in his enthusiasm to excel in his work as a moulder had conceived the idea of making coins. He had not known the seriousness of the act. The facts had been laid before the Crown Attorney, Mr. Ritchie, who signified his willingness that sentence should be suspended in event of the prisoner pleading guilty.

Inspector Joliat, of the city police, said that Blake bore a good reputation in Ottawa and had never been in Court before.

Blake's employer, Mr. F. Menagh, 1021 Wellington street, who has a brass foundry on Pinhey street, said that the accused had worked for him for five years and had always been strictly sober an honest. He had been so successful as an apprentice moulder that Menagh had decided to take him into partnership.

Mr. Rupert Broadfoot, defending, pointed out that Blake had been experimenting in making the imitations, and had given two of them to friends for pocket pieces. This, he thought, was proof that there was no intent to pass the spurious money. The two youths who had been given the coins were in court and said that as soon as Blake had found out that it was an offence to make the coins, he asked them to destroy them. Unfortunately one of the youths had shown the coin to the head of his section in the Finance Department and a complaint had been made.

IF THIN AND NERVOUS TRY BITRO-PHOSPHATE

While excessive thinness might be attributed to various and subtle causes in different individuals, it is a well-known fact that the lack of phosphorous in the human system is very largely responsible for this condition.

It seems to be well established that this deficiency in phosphorous may now be met by the use of Bitro-Phosphate, which can be obtained from any good druggist in convenient tablet form.

In many instances the assimilation of this phosphate by the nerve tissue soon produces a welcome change—nerve tension disappears, vigor and strength replace weakness and lack of energy and the whole body loses its ugly hollows and abrupt angles, becoming enveloped in a glow of perfect health and beauty and the will and strength to be up and doing.

CAUTION:—White Bitro-Phosphate is unsurpassed for the relief of nervousness, general debility, etc., those taking it who do not desire to put on flesh should use extra care in avoiding fat-producing foods.

YOUNG BRITISH WOMEN WILL INVADE AMERICA.

LONDON, Eng. — Girls who were in domestic service before the war, and have been working in the open air, are thinking of the United States now that their war jobs are finishing.

"I have only another three weeks more on this job and then I intend to have a holiday," said one recently.

"Will you go back to domestic service?" she was asked

"Not in this country, thank you," was the reply. "My parents died when I was ever so little and I went into service at 14. I have had enough of service here and I am off to the States as soon as I can get a passport."

"What will you do there?"

"Oh, go into service. Several girls have gone there and prefer it ever so much to service here. They have good wages and every evening and Sunday off. Of course they work hard when they are in the house, but they get liberty. Another thing is that they can go back to their homes when they like. They have their own latchkey."

WELSH ANTIS BREAK UP PROHIBITION MEETING

TON-Y-PANDY, Wales, Jan. 16.—Anti-prohibition demonstrators last night broke up a temperance conference here. The demonstrators entered the hall where Dr. Henry, an American prohibitionist, was speaking, beat a bass drum, played miscellaneous musical instruments, and sang football songs. Dr. Henry finally abandoned the attempt to continue his address.

LATEST NEWS DESPATCHES

Canadian Press:

WINNIPEG, Jan. 19.—The Manitoba Court of Appeal, in a judgment this morning, dismissed the appeal entered by the defence in R. B. Russell's seditious conspiracy case against the verdict and sentence passed by Justice Metcalf. The decision was unanimous, and the defence will be unable to carry the fight to the Supreme Court of Canada on that account. The defence counsel, however, can make application for hearing before the Privy Council in London. No intimation was given as to whether or not this step would be taken.

SURVEY COMMENCED.

Canadian Press:

CHICAGO, Jan. 19.—A corps of six hundred nurses to-day engaged in combat to check the spread of influenza here. Operating from eight dispensaries, the nursing militia began a survey of the city to determine the extent of the epidemic and to aid in relief measures. DENIES RUMOUR OF CABINET CRISIS

MINISTERS WERE OUT OF TOWN OVER WEEK-END.

(Canadian Press)

TORONTO, Jan. 19.— The report in the local morning paper of a cabinet crisis because of a difficulty of finding a seat for Hon. W. E. Raney was branded as "Wild falseation", to-day by every member of the Cabinet at the present time including Hon. R. H. Grant, who is Cabinet Repreesntative on the Committee commissioned to find seats for Ministers who do not as yet represent constitutencies. Report has it that an emergency meeting of Cabinet, was held aSturday night at which a committee headed by J. J. Morrison U. F. O. Secretary, reported to the Cabinet that they had given up in their effort to find a seat for Mr. Raney.

As a result of this, it was reported the cabinet had set Wednesday as the last day upon which they would hold office unless in the meantime a seat was secured for the Attorney General It was ascertained this morning that there was no meeting of Cabinet Saturday night. Of eleven ministers only two were in city at that time. These were Hon. W. E. Raney, whose home is in Toronto and Premier Drury. The cabinet did not meet Saturday either in secret session or otherwise, Hon. Grant stated to-day.

I left town Thursday and did not return until this morning. More over the cabinet has never met upon subject of finding seats for three ministers that work has been left to committee."

"Has committee given up task of finding constitutencies for Mr. Raney?"

"Absolutely no. There has never been discussion, word or thought of such possibility on the part of the Committee."

Peterboro Wants Experimental Farm

THE BOARD OF TRADE AND FARMERS CLUB WILL CO-OPERATE IN THE MATTER.

THE COMMITTEE

The Board of Trade and the Farmers 'Club are to cooperate through a joint committee to enlist the active interest of other bodies and direct the attention of the Provincial government to the importance of establishing the proposed Experimental Farm near Peterboro, because it is undoubtedly the centre for such an institution. This announcement was made to-day.

The Farmers' Club is composed of the following well known men:

F. E. Wilson, Springville, chairman; R. B. Rogers, C. E., Douro, Bruce Savigny and Morley Smithson, Otonabee; Harry Webber, North Monaghan.

President J. J. Turner of the Board of Trade, appointed the following committee:

George A. Gillespie, chairman; T. Barrie, W. R. Breyfogle, E. V. Frederick, M.D., James M. Hamilton.

The two committees are to form a general or centre committee to which others may be added. Mr. Wilson, chairman of the Farmers' Committee, will likely be the chairman of the joint committee.

The intention is to make this committee representative of the several communities of Peterboro County, and also of the various urban and suburban societies, and especially the public school boards of the towns, villages and townships of the county.

The County Council meets this week and will undoubtedly give unqualified encouragement to the project.

The two committees already formed will be called together at the Board of Trade rooms to make plans [illegible]

WARM RECEPTION FOR THE RADICALS

(Canadian Press.)

TERIJOKI, Finland, Jan. 20.—Radicals who were deported from the United States were given an official reception just outside of this village to-day. In the crowd that greeted Alexander Berkman, Emma Goldman and their comrades was M. Zorien, member of the All Soviets Executive committee, who after a brief conference with Berkman, agreed to permit the whole party to enter Bolshevik Russia.

"There is no question they will be welcomed in Russia," said M. Zorien. "We will give them work according to their professions and trades. But first we must provide them with comfortable homes and feed them well."

Madame Gorky, wife of the prominent Russian novelist, said when she met the deportees: "Russia opens her arms to all who are politically persecuted."

FOOD STOCKS ARE AVAILABLE FROM SOVIET RUSSIA

NEW ARRANGEMENTS ARE OF AN ECONOMIC CHARACTER.

(Canadian Press.)

PARIS, Jan. 20.—Elaborate plans for the resumption of commercial relations between the Russian people and Allied nations have been worked out, and it is reported that the Bolsheviki will permit free interchange of manufactured goods and raw materials [illegible] laid before the Supreme Council by Alexander Berkenheim and Constantine Krovopousked of the Foreign Board of Russian Co-operative Union. In an interview Berkenheim emphasized that arrangements had no political character and was merely an economic financial and humanitarian arrangement. Great stocks of wheat, cereals, cattle and flax exist in Russia and in order to arrive at exchange office, these goods, three problems must be met. First, transformation of raw material outside Russia; second, mode of payment to Russian producer, and third, distribution of imported goods to Russian consumers.

"We require in return, farming and agricultural implements," said Berkenheim, "as well as cloth, shoes, locomotives, motors and medical supplies. Ship tonnage must be furnished by the Allies, as Russia's shipping has completely disappeared."

Imports to Russia will be consigned to the Co-operative Union and will be distributed to stores throughout the country. The Union will purchase grain and cereals from peasants, paying in rubles at a fixed rate. Berkenheim was emphatic in stating that the stores were not under the control of the Bolsheviki, and felt sure that a satisfactory agreement with the Soviet government could be made for impartial distribution.

BURNED BY DAMP MATCHES.

LONDON, England.—A curious story of damp matches bursting into flames without any apparent cause, and resulting in the death of a girl who carried them, was told at the inquest. Grace Bartels was employed at a factory and with another girl carried trays of newly-made safety matches to the drying room, where they all ignited. Miss Bartels was fatally burned.

THE WEATHER

The temperature was again very low last night, but owing to the air being so calm the cold was not greatly felt. It will surprise some to hear it was 25 degrees below zero during the night and was only a degree above that figure at daybreak. Last year at this time it was quite mild. No cold weather was experienced from Jan. 13th to the first week in March. This winter up to the present has been more severe than usual notwithstanding the roseate promises of a mild winter given by some would-be weather prophets. — W. P.

WARM THANKS FROM GENERAL SECRET[ARY] RELIEF FOR AID ALREADY RECEIVED—[illegible] AT CONSTANTINOPLE SAYS HELP [illegible] THOUSANDS OF ORPHANS—A [illegible] CHOOSE DEATH RATHER THAN RENOUNCE [illegible]

ARMENIAN PATRIARCH PLEA[DS]

"You have helped our wrecked nation and ed this great work of relief. Your zeal seems [to] the signing of the Armistice your relief workers broken hearts and helped keep alive thousands of your relief workers in these districts inspires surv[ivors] hope of life. There is no work, and much thievery [is] driven to desperation measures by starvation. thousand silk workers in Nukka are idle. They and must join the great horde of homeless, [who] are the ragged, starving, freezing remnants [of] ted by fire and sword and bullet, hunger and their ruined churches and homes in Armenia, of a dying nation and the gloom of a hopel[ess] by the work of the relief agencies must [be]

Let no one imagine [illegible] Christians." They are not. Persecuted [as] worse than death, they still refuse to renounce their [faith] The following incident will bear this out:

It was a few weeks after one of the fearful deportat[ions] Doctor of the Law was sitting in his room, when presently [a] and the death was announced of one of his Armenian neighbo[urs] Syrian desert. She was a wealthy woman, who had started [out] with the rest on the journey of death a few weeks before.

"It is too bad she went," was his response when he heard the news; "but she would not stay. I went to her house that morning and begged her to take her two little children and come to my house. But she said, 'No, I cannot stay. If I should, when the rest are gone, you will make me a Moslem. No, I will not give up my Jesus.'"

HOLD FAST TO THE FAITH.

And that refined, wealthy woman, who had turned her back on safety and life to face such a fate with her Saviour, is typical of thousands of others who have done the very same thing. Ah, yes, they are true to their faith!

And all over Canada the Christian hearts of men and women have been touched by such faithfulness. No wonder they have given liberally. A kindred chord has been struck. Armenia's cry has been heard. But they can do even better yet. It is for a people who have suffered till it has hurt even beyond the possibility of exaggeration. And now they are starving. Shall we permit it? That is for each one to answer for himself.

HOUSES NEEDED IN PETERBORO

"Apparently some of the Drury Government is going to make matters serious for the Housing Commission," said Ald. G. N. Gordon, who was asked for an opinion. Ald. Gordon said that if the Government refused to provide any more money for the building of houses, under the housing plan adopted by the Hearst Government, that the City of Peterborough could not go on and provide the machinery for the building of houses for those men who required them under this plan.

Mr. Gordon said that he was hopeful that the government at the next session would make some provision because it was hardly fair that other municipalities should have the advantage of this plan and Peterborough should not be able to obtain a dollar for this purpose.

SUPREME COUNCIL

PARIS, Jan. 20.—At a meeting this morning the Supreme Council heard the Roumanian Premier regarding the desire of that country to annex Bessarabia. The council informed Voidode that it would take decision regarding Bessarabia after the Roumanians had entirely complied with the Council's instructions regarding the evacuation of Hungary. Marshal Foch informed the Council that the British were unable to send their quota of troops, twenty-five thousand men to the plebiscite area. The marshal recommended that they be replaced by French and Italian troops if necessary. The council will come to decision on the matter this afternoon.

Two Women Were Carried On Army Paysheet as Privates

INVESTIGATION CONTINUES INTO UNITED STATES NAVY DEPARTMENT

(United Press.)

WASHINGTON, Jan. 20.—Rear-Admiral Mayo, who commanded the Atlantic Fleet during the War, was called to testify before the Senate sub-committee investigating Secretary Daniels' awards of naval decorations.

The sub-committee intends to finish this phase of the inquiry before starting a general investigation of the Navy opened up by the sensational charges contained in the letter of Admiral Sims, in which he alleged the Navy Department's mismanagement prolonged the war.

Administration Senators are getting ready to give Sims a severe grilling when he appears before the committee again to testify in the investigation of the Navy. It was reported they were preparing an exhaustive list of questions to ask him on cross-examination, and that he will be required to prove his charges. Otherwise Daniels may institute a thorough inquiry by a Naval Board, as he says he is determined to give Sims' allegations a thorough airing.

The investigation by a Naval Board, while not an actual court-martial of Sims, would be conducted with the idea of making him prove his charges or be branded as having made baseless alegations and thereby stirred up an international commotion.

Sims, it is understood, is preparing to bring forward proofs. Other naval officers will be called to testify.

HYDRO ELECTRIC POWER TROUBLE

ICE CONDITIONS TIE THE PLANTS UP IN NIAGARA DISTRICT.

(Special to The Examiner.)

TORONTO, Jan. 20.—"The shortage of Hydro-Electric power in Hamilton, Toronto and other cities at the present time is entirely due to ice conditions at the intake of the Canadian Niagara Power Company's plant at Niagara Falls," declared Mr. F. A. Gaby, chief engineer of the Hydro-Electric Commission to the Examiner this morning. "The Hydro Commission buys power from the Canadian Niagara Powers Plant and because of the ice conditions we are receiving but twenty-and-thirty horse power less than our usual supply from this plant. This shortage in supply makes it necessary for us to take measures to make the quality of distribution in each centre and we are doing the best we can in that direction. There is no discrimination between Toronto and Hamilton or between one municipality or another in the matter of distribution. Each municipality gets a certain maximum of power figured out on the amount of power which is available for distribution."

"How long are these ice conditions at Niagara Falls, which you say have created a shortage of power, likely to last?" asked a reporter.

"That all depends upon the weather," replied Mr. Gaby. "In the present hard weather we are encountering only the same ice troubles as we have met in other winters when severe weather prevailed. From now on until the end of March we are likely to have trouble with ice at periods. There is no predicting how long the present Hydro power shortage may last, but we are hopeful that with the return of milder weather, the ice troubles will disappear, and we will again be obtaining our full quantity of power for distribution.

INVESTIGATION CONTINUES INTO THE FINANCIAL OPERATIONS OF WELLAND CANAL FORCE.

EVIDENCE HEARD

(Special to Examiner.)

ST. CATHARINES, Jan. 20. — That the extras were not equivalent to the ten cents per day deducted and that the men got only one day's leave in six instead of one day in four, were complaints made by William Norie, at last night's session of the enquiry into the finances of the Welland Canal forces, which lasted till 11 p.m.

Witness joined the 19th Battalion on March 15, 1915, serving with Dalhousie. He swore that the men had never agreed to have the field allowance deducted while he was with them. Questioned by Colonel Burleigh Norie said that he had never complained to the officers as the other men had told him that it would be no use. They all wanted their field allowance but could not get it.

The Pay Sheets.

Sergt. J. H. Doherty swore he did not receive marriage allowance, he stated.

Captain S. A. Dyke, recalled, refuted the statement purported to have been made by him before Col. J. S. Campbell on October 18, 1915, at Niagara Camp that he had been examined in the presence of Col. Belson, and Major Begy. These officers were not present he declared. He denied saying that if the matter became public it would be injurious to the force, neither had he discussed the missing contract with Captain Bradley, as had been reported.

Forgot Everything.

He did not believe that in his previous examination he had made the statement that he would stand behind what he had said to Col. Campbell.

Col. Young—"Would you say you did not make it?"

"Well, I don't remember."

"It seems strange that these words should be put in your mouth by a stenographer."

Sergt. C. H. Wilson, duty sergeant on the canal for two years, told the court that after the first three months there had been dissatisfaction at the Queenston street bridge camp over the retention of the field allowance. The officers had stated at a mass meeting that the men could have the ten cents a day if they wanted it but they would then have to pay for their own lighting, oil for heating, and for cooking purposes. He had received his separation allowance all right."

HER FATHER'S GENEROSITY.

"How did you get on?"

The sweet young maiden breathed the words into her lover's manly ear as she met him at the passage.

He had ben "seeing father" and she wanted to know the result.

"Oh, your father is heartless," said the young man indignantly. "I—I—told him I could not live without you and—"

"Yes, yes," impatiently said the girl. "What did he say?"

"He merely offered to pay my funeral expenses."—London Ideas.

NICHOLLS HOSPITAL HAD ONE OF BUSIEST YEARS IN ITS HISTORY

DURING THE YEAR JUST CLOSED 1455 PATIENTS WERE TREATED—A TRIBUTE TO THE NURSING STAFF—HOW THE MONEY IS SPENT.

The Annual meeting of the Trustees of the Nicholls Hospital, was held yesterday afternoon, in the Dominion Bank Chambers.

There were present:

Richard Hall, Esq., in the chair and Messrs. R. Fair, Dr. Malcolm McCulloch, G. Walter Green, B. F. Ackerman, E. A. Peck, William Madill, W. H. Hill and His Worship Mayor McIntyre.

The Minutes of the last Annual meeting were read and confirmed; after which the Secretary, Mr. John Crane, presented the statement of receipts and expenditures for the year ending Sept. 30th., last.

In reviewing the statement, Mr. Crane pointed out that, while the statement did not show an actual deficit, obligations had been undertaken for repairs, improvements and supplies, which would make the outlay in the new year unusually heavy, and he could not hope to keep within revenue, unless a much larger grant was received from the city.

After some discussion, the statement was referred to the City Auditor.

Chairman's Report.

Chairman and Members,
Nichols Hospital rTust.

In reviewing the activities of the Nicholls Hospital, for the past year I am glad to say that the usefulness and progress of this Institution grows apace. During the year we treated 1,455 patients, as against 1,270 last year, showing that the Hospital is being used more and more by those requiring medical attention—the number of patients treated was the largest in our history.

Since our last annual meeting, our Superintendent, Miss Beamish, has returned from overseas and has resumed her work as Superintendent. This Board may well value the efficient services of Miss Beamish, who possesses all the qualities of a thoroughly equipped nurse, as well as administrator.

I am glad to say that Miss Sanderson, who, during the absence of our Superintendent filled the position with conspicious fidelity and faithfulness, still remains with us as "second in command" and to her the Board is indebted much for her zeal in carrying on so efficiently during the trying days of the war.

Our Nursing Staff is doing excellent service, and we cannot but be proud of the splendid type of nurses, graduating from Nicholls Hospital every year.

This Board has tried within it's powers to meet the demands of those in it's employ, by increased remuneration; but the higher costs for all commodities has been a matter of serious consideration, when every endeavour is made to provide the best dietary possible and generally make for the comfort of all in the Institution.

We have been forced to undertake certain needed repairs, too long delayed. The Hpspital has been redecorated throughout, and presents a much improved and cheerful appearance. The Property Committee, under the Chairmanship of Dr. Malcolm McCulloch, has done this work well and deserves great credit. Changes in the heating system, renewal of a large portion of the shingling and others repairs have cost considerable sums of money, but we believe the ratepayers will cheerfully respond and furnish the means to advance the work of this Hospital.

It is but five years since the new wing was opened, and already there are demands on our accommodation which point to extension before many years are past.

I wish to extend my thanks to the Trustees for their faithful services during the year, and I feel sure I but view your sentiments when I extend to our Medical Staff, our Nursing Staff and employees of the Hospital, our appreciation of their services.

STOMACH ON A STRIKE

"Pape's Diapepsin" puts Sour, Gassy, Acid Stomachs in order at once!

Wonder what upset your stomach—which portion of the food did the damage—do you? Well, don't bother. If your stomach is in a revolt; if sick, gassy and upset, and what you just ate has fermented and turned sour; head dizzy and aches; belch gasses and acids and eructate undigested food—just eat a tablet or two of Pape's Diapepsin to help neutralize acidity and in five minutes you wonder what became of the indigestion and distress.

If your stomach doesn't take care of your liberal limit without rebellion if your food is a damage instead of a help, remember the quickest, surest, most harmless antacid is Pape's Diapepsin, which costs so little at drug stores.

"Peterborough Presents Possibilities Unsurpassed."

TUESDAY, JANUARY 20TH, 1920.

THE EXHIBITION.

In view of the important improvements that are contemplated in the Peterborough Industrial Exhibition this year, the annual meeting of the Exhibition to be held in the Board of Trade chamber to-morrow (Wednesday) afternoon at 1 o'clock, promises to be one of unusual interest. The notices sent out call it "the most important annual meeting the Peterborough Industrial Exhibition has ever held" and undoubtedly that description is not far-fetched. There should be a record-breaking attendance of members and a splendid start made upon the programme for this year. The Exhibition promises to make even greater strides in 1920 than it has in the past few years, and a rousing meeting to-morrow will emphasize the fact that the interest in the Exhibition is widespread.

CALL IT POISON.

The resolution of the Kingston branch of the G.W.V.A. calling upon the Dominion government to exercise stricter supervision over the sale of wood alcohol and of mixtures containing that deadly poison and that all such mixtures be plainly labelled "Poison," is expressing the opinion of the people generally. Deaths from the drinking of wood alcohol by people who are deceived by its name and are ignorant of its deadly qualities, are daily occurrences in Canada and the United States. On Saturday a former member of the 93rd. Battalion, who had come safely through months of fighting with the 1st Battalion in France, died at Kingston from drinking Columbian spirits, or wood alcohol. He doubtless believed that the drug was similar to grain alcohol, and a sudden and terrible death was the result of his mistake. If druggists were required to use a "Poison" label on wood alcohol as they are on other poisons, the danger of such errors would be reduced to a minimum. In spite of the number of fatalities that has occurred, it would seem that there are still many people who do not know that the effects of wood alcohol when taken internally are fatal. Call it "Poison"—it is nothing else.

A DRASTIC LAW.

The prohibition regulations that came into effect on Saturday in the United States are much more drastic than the legislation in force in Canada—so drastic indeed that there is danger of reaction because of the severity of the law. Two per cent. beer such as may be sold anywhere in Canada without a license is absolutely barred across the line. The eighteenth amendment to the United States' constitution, affecting the whole country of course, declares against traffic in liquor with an alcoholic content of more than half of one per cent. and further that no beverage of more than that strength shall be made or kept for privateuse. This will make it illegal to keep home-made wines and cider for domestic use, and the penalties for infraction of this section of the law are heavy enough to make the average citizen tremble. Physicians too, have not the same privileges as they are given in Canada. While prescriptions of liquor are authorized, yet no doctor may prescribe for any one patient more than one pint of liquor per month—a quantity that in cases where the use of liquor is indicated would come far short of the amount needed. The law is so rigid in its provisions, and its penalties are so severe that the United States' prohibition measure is probably the most drastic that any country has attempted to enforce. Canada, from a liquid standpoint, is an oasis compared to the "bone-dry" state of our neighbors.

RENT AND ADVERTISING COSTS.

The responses to a recent questionnaire, sent to retail stores throughout the United States which do a gross business of $1,500,000 upward annually, show that the average rentals are a little more than two and a half per cent. of sales, and advertising expenses about two per cent. The smallest advertising expenditure for the year was that of a Buffalo store, amounting to but 1.08 per cent. of gross turnover; the largest(5 per cent., was made by a Toledo store.

A store with a volume of business of a million and a half a year, on this schedule, would spend $30,000 for advertising. And while this item is in the nature of a fixed expense, properly chargeable to operation, it should not be forgotten that is an expense incurred chiefly in the interest of the customers of a store.

Store advertising constitutes a news service of an indispensable kind for housewives. To the degree to which this store news is made of timely value to the people the volume of sale grows. And as sales are stimulated, and quick turnovers of stocks are made possible, lower retail prices are assured. Therefore advertising operates to reduce the cost of living, not to add to it.

High rentals are usually assumed by merchants with the same purpose in view—to stimulate volume of business through advantageous location. If sound judgment prevails in the choice of a store's home the premium paid in the way of rental cost is also an expenditure in the interest of the customer. Truly, the merchant who invented the slogan, "Quick sales and small profits," spoke with clear understanding of the laws controlling merchandising.—Editor and Publisher.

PROSPERITY AWAITS—ARE WE READY?

Forecasts by gloom-spreaders that business prospects in Canada are not good, and that are long there will be a slump and hard times are not borne out by a circular recently issued by the Canadian Manufacturers' Association.

The circular points out that:

"The Canadian mission in London and the Canadian trade commission in Ottawa are convinced of the future for Canada in export trade, provided our manufacturing facilities enable us to produce the goods in the quantities required and to make deliveries at the time agreed upon.

"Many Canadian manufacturers doing an export business in a large way before the war are strengthening and extending their connections and making additions to their plants to look after current and anticipated business. Many companies not engaged until recently in export business have already found it so satisfactory when properly handled that they, too, are making additions to their plants in order to cater to the special requirements of export markets.

"Branches of United States factories are being established in Canada at the rate of two or three a week, generally with the dual purpose of getting a bigger share than heretofore of Canadian business and strongly entering export markets where goods of Canadian manufacture, by reason of preferences or more economical production, have a better opportunity of finding large sale.

"Despite great accomplishments in meeting the recent demands of the domestic and export markets, the time is now ripe for Canadian industries to make a supreme effort to create a great place for Canada in the world's markets.

"We are assured that orders amounting to millions have been turned away from Canadian plants because though operating at present capacity they were unable to give the required deliveries. Every mail brings further news of opportunities. Every ocean steamer carries business men to Canada to develop trade with overseas markets.

"Providence has endowed Canada with natural resources of great extent and value. Slowly but surely science, energy and enterprise are putting them at the disposal of the industries on a basis that enables them to compete with the raw materials in use in other countries. Properly to make use of these we must look well ahead."

The whole tenor of the circular, however, points out the need of co-operation, constructive organizing and work on behalf of all manufacturers and the workers of Canada, to the end that saleable articles shall be turned out in sufficient quantities and on time, else the business will go elsewhere.

Already millions of dollars of business have been turned away from this country because we have been unable to handle contracts expeditiously.

This is a national problem in which every person is interested.

If hard times are to be averted and prosperity and a full dinner pail maintained in this country no man should be idling along when work is to be done. He should turn his hand to whatever offers, at least until the job he desires comes around to him, which it is bound to do once the commercial machine gets properly under way.

It is pointed out that the business is available; therefore it is Canada's business and "your business and mine" to see to it that every order securable is taken and delivered on time.—Fort William Times-Journal.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

Mr. Rowell says the Dominion government has a definite purpose. Sure, to stay in office as long as possible.

GERMS 2,000 YEARS OLD.

PARIS.—It is a well-known fact that Egyptian wheat, which has for years laid beside mummies in tombs over 2,000 years old, can be made to sprout, but a far more striking fact is announced in a statement made by Dr. Galippo to the French Academy of Science.

Dr. Galippo said that in Egyptian papyrus twenty centuries and more old, he had found living micro-organisms. He cited this as the most remarkable discovery to which his investigations had led, but added that it was equally true of documents dating back, for instance, to the Middle Ages, and to those of more recent

Group Insurance?

It is an inexpensive means of insuring the lives of all your employees individually by a single small premium.

It involves no medical inspection and it costs about 75 cents a month for each $1,000, of insurance carried.

It has arisen from the desire of business firms to do something substantial for their employees, and so promote goodwill and avoid constant changes in the payroll.

It has been widely adopted by far-seeing industrial executives.

A Drop On a Touchy Corn

Instant relief! Then corn or callus lifts off with fingers

Just think! You can lift off any corn or callus without one twinge of pain.

A Cincinnati man discovered this ether compound and named it freezone. Any druggist will sell a tiny bottle of freezone for very little cost. You apply a few drops directly upon a tender corn or callus. Instantly the soreness disappears, then shortly you will find the corn or callus so loose that you can lift it right off.

Freezone is wonderful. It dries instantly. It does'n't eat away the corn or callus, but shrivels it up without even irritating the skin.

Hard corns, soft corns, or corns between the toes, as well as painful calluses lift right off. There is no pain before or afterwards. No soreness or smarting. Women should keep a tiny bottle on the dresser and never let a corns ache twice.

ZAM-BUK HEALED SEVERE CUT

Mrs. J. E. Blatchford of Cornwall, Sask., writes: "My little son cut the end off his finger. As it was such a severe cut, I was going to take him to a doctor, but to the questions to ease the pain, I applied some Zam-Buk. This stopped the bleeding and gave him such relief that he ceased crying and calmed quite at once. I therefore decided to see if Zam-Buk would heal the wound. Next day I replaced the dressing, and continued to do so each day, using nothing but Zam-Buk. Complete cure resulted."

SANDRA THE JEALOUS

BY JANE PHELPS

SANDRA IS RECEIVED BY EVERETT'S FRIENDS.

CHAPTER XXIV

When I had been in Hendon about a month Everett's friends commenced calling on us. Some of them were very nice, others, especially some of the women, I did not like so well. I felt they patronized me. Even if I was younger than any of them they needn't take that tone with me I grumbled to Mrs. Gray with whom I now often talked of things which annoyed or worried me—things entirely unconnected with Everett or what he said or did.

"They don't mean to patronize you I am sure," she had told me. "But you look so young that they probably take that tone unconsciously."

"I shall be glad when I am old enough to be treated like something beside a child!" I sputtered.

"Don't wish to be old my dear Mrs. Graham. We get old fast enough. I don't suppose there's a woman called on you hasn't gone away envious of your youth and beauty."

It was a comforting thought. Some of the women I had apostrophised as "cats!" so now I thought that I would show the "cats" that I was just as attractive as they were—perhaps some people might think me more so, as Mrs. Gray had said.

It was nearing the time for Rose's vacation. I mentioned it to Everett, and said I should like to invite her to visit me if he approved.

"Wait until summer then you can go home and see them all. Let us have this winter to ourselves," had been his answer to my request.

I was terribly disappointed, yet there was something in the way he had spoken that prevented me from insisting; even from asking again.

Until he refused me I did not realize how much I had counted on this visit from Rose Grandon. I felt thrown back on myself, newly lonely, almost as if someone had been there and gone. But I made no complaint. When Everett spoke in that tone, I knew it would be of no use.

I think he sensed something of my disappointment because for days afterward he was kind, and took me out a good deal. But I was scarcely consoled. I had wanted Rose so badly. I had wanted to talk of all the home folks. To chat about anything and everything that came into our heads,—as girls, brought up as Rose and I had been, always do. I longed for a girl of my own age; one that liked the things I liked, and who understood me. But I had soon found that it was not what I liked, but what Everett would allow me to do. But nothing since the night he had told me of Leola had been quite so hard to bear as his refusal to allow Rose to come. Perhaps she was afraid I'd talk to her of Leola. He needn't have been. I shouldn't have broken my promise.

We were invited to a dinner party at the home of one of Everett's friends. A large formal dinner. I loathed the thought of going. They were all about Everett's age; most of them people who had called upon me.

Everett bought me a lovely new dinner dress. It too was sapphire. A soft delicate affair of chiffon and sequins. My shoes and stockings matched exactly. Hetty said I was a dream in it when she helped me dress the night of the dinner. Everett also said I looked lovely. I wore my hair in braids wrapped about my head. I had asked if I might not put it up so I would look a little older and more dignified, but Everett had premptorily refused.

"You can be dignified with your hair as you always wear it. And it isn't at all necessary that you look old. Anyone of them would gladly change places with you."

I wondered if that were so. If women like those who had called on me, stylish handsome women would be glad to go backward and be young again.

"Why do you want to keep me so young?" I pounted.

He did not answer, and boldly I asked:

"Is it because you think you can make me over or because I can be treat more like a child if. I look so young?" the words weren't out before I was frightened.

"Who put that into your head—that I wanted to make you over?"

"Why—no one. It just popped into my mind."

"Come—the car is waiting," he said, as he folded my beautiful cloak, the exact color of my gown, about my shoulders.

In spite of his not replying I knew by his face that what I had said had in some way affected him. I commenced to wonder if he had had that in mind when he married me. Leola had been twenty-six. Nine years older than I was when he had married her. Had he thought because of her willfulness that if he married a young girl he could mould her, make her lose her own personality by absorbing it before she was old enough to rebel? I dismissed the thought as we arrived at the home of his friends but it was to recur again and again in the time to come.

If I had dreaded the dinner before we started, I dreaded it still more when we sat at table. The appointments were exquisite, the food delicious. But I was taken in by a man older than father, while Everett escorted the handsomest, and youngest looking—next to no-one—man there. My escort was heavier than the wine he drank with such gusto, and which I never touched. A rich burgundy which the host was in the habit of serving, and which Everett had told me to let alone. Not that he needed to, I never had touched wine in my life.

You never had a headache when you were well.

To keep well is to keep clean, inside.

To relieve headache, and to prevent it, keep the liver active and intestines and the bowels as regular as a clock.

FROZEN RATS FOUND IN GOVERNMENT SUPPLIES.

LONDON, England.—Frozen rats have been found in carcasses of mutton supplied by the Ministry of Food. This was the startling announcement made on behalf of Arthur Hersant, butcher, summoned for slaughtering forty sheep without a permit. Solicitor Pierron, for the defence, said his client was supplied with Manchurian beef, which was "most awful stuff." He produced a certificate showng that mutton supplied his client by the Controller was unfit for food, was rat-eaten, and frozen rats were found in carcasses of mutton. The magistrate said he believed defendant had acted solely to provide his 8,000 registered customers with good meat, but he had made a mistake, and must pay a fine of $75, with $25 costs.

CHURCH GETS MUSIC AND DANCING LICENSE.

LONDON, England.—To meet the great demand for dancing in his parish, the Rev. John Green, vicar of St. Luke's, New Catton, applied for and was granted at Norwich a music and dancing license for the church hall.

The vicar said that dancing had almost of necessity become part of the social work in the parish. He had a dancing class of one hundred members. It met once a week, and he and his wife were present each night to exercise supervision. The members, however, occasionally wanted a dance in which friends might join in, say at Christmas time, and for this a license was necessary.

His parishioners were of the artisan class, and the fact that they paid fees—$1.25 for twelve lessons from a professional teacher—was real evidence of the demand for this form of recreation.

MERCHANTS ARE MEETING TOGETHER

PLAN TO MAKE PETERBORO AN ECONOMIC TRADING CENTRE.

In an interview with Mr. Frank Whitehouse, the President of the Mercantile Association, he stated that the merchants were meeting together in their various sections rapidly, using as their meeting place the Council Room of the Board of Trade, and he believed that in the near future, the merchants, as a body, would be able to take up several important questions bearing on the development of the retail trade, and make Peterborough the economic trading centre for miles around.

He went on to say, that all the merchants felt that they were dependent upon the buying public for their business, and that they were at the service of their customers, and a good substantial basis for the Buy-at-Home Campaign will assist in developing the retail trade.

TORONTO, Jan. 19.—Entering the home of George Shilton, a railroad employee, after he had gone to work last night, two masked men searched the premises, entered the bedroom of Mrs. Shilton who was asleep with her baby, and binding the woman, threw the mattress and baby to a corner of the room. They made off with fifty-four dollars hidden under a bed. Attempting to bind her hands, a hand was placed over her mouth, and she fainted. No arrests have been made yet.

A COMPLAINT BOX FOR OWNERS OF LOTS IN LOCAL CEMETERY

ANNUAL MEETING OF LITTLE LAKE CEMETERY BOARD—THE DIRECTORS' REPORT.

At the annual meeting of the directors of the Little Lake Cemetery Company held yesterday afternoon in the City Council Chamber the directors elected for the ensuing year were Messrs. T. H. G. Denne, B. Shortly, E. H. D. Hall, W. H. Moore, H. Rush, A. Stevenson, B. F. Ackerman, W. G. Morrow and E. A. Peck. Mr. T. H. G. Denne was re-elected President of the Company and Mr. Arthur Stevenson Vice-President.

Auditors Appointed.

Mr. T. Q. Quartermaine and Mr. F. J. A. Hall were re-appointed auditors of the Company for 1920.

Raised Salary.

On motion of Mr. E. H. D. Hall, seconded by Mr. E. A. Peck the Secretary, Mr. Felix Brownscombe was given an increase of $100 a year. Mr. Hall in moving the increase spoke in laudatory terms of the splendid satisfaction Mr. Brownscombe had given in his work during the past year.

Successful Year.

Mr. T. H. G. Denne stated that the past year was marked by the fact that it was the nearest the Company had ever come to paying expenses.

Complaint Box.

Previous to the Directors meeting a lot owners meeting was held at which a number of complaints were received regarding the upkeep of the lots and flowers pots. It was finally decided to keep a complaint box at the gate of the Cemetery which will be opened by the Secretary.

Directors Report.

The following report was received by Mr. T. H. G. Denne.

Your directors have to report as follows.

The permanent improvements made during the year are set out in the Superintendent's Report submitted herewith and have been in the opinion of the Directors necessary, and have been done in a satisfactory manner by the Superintendent and his assistants.

The receipts for the sale of lots during the year 1919 were $4,278, and $25.00 was expended for the repurchase of lots.

The ordinary receipts for the year 1919 (other than the sale of lots) were $8,537.59 and the payments $6,093.43 leaving a balance of $553.84 which was paid out of the money received from the sale of lots.

The amount paid for wages during the year 1919 exceed the wages paid in 1918 by $506.49 whereas the additional amount received from the care of lots digging graves, greenhouse sales and vault fees in 1919 exceed the amount received in 1918 by $1,248.95. The amount received for interest was $131.57 more in 1919 than in 1918. The increase in wages was occasioned by reason of the necessity of raising rates of wages of all the employees in the Cemetery in order to retain them.

Trust Account.

In addition to the ordinary receipts there has been received on trust account the sum of $700 for the perpetual care of lots belonging to the following estates: Mr. Robert Innes $100, ad Mr. F. C. Taylor $200.

At the beginning of the year 1919 we had a bank balance of $2,242.37, on December t he31st 1919, our bank balance was $1,567.39, showing a difference of $674.98.

Year's Investments.

Our investments this year were as follows: Province of Quebec Bonds $1,730.78, Dominion of Canada War Bonds .8,000, Toronto Harbor Commissioners $4,400.96. Total, $14,131.74.

These bonds were paid for as follows: Sale of Dominion War Bonds (short term) $6,953.42, City of Peterborough debentures redeemed $2,000, cash from sale of lots $1,278, bequests from lot owners $700. Total, $13,931.42.

So you will see we have used all the money received by us this year from general receipts and interest and in addition the difference between our bank balance amounting to $674.98, less $200.32 invested in trust funds or in other words we have expended all our revenue, besides $474.56 for the upkeep and maintenance of our cemetery.

Increased Charges.

The past year we increased our general charges on account of the increased cost of both labor and supplies and even now our tariff is not sufficiently high to enable us to invest the entire receipts from the sale of lots and bequests to provide for the future maintenance of the cemetery in years to come when we will have no lots to sell.

Resignation Accepted.

During the year Mr. E. A. Peck asked to be relieved of the duties of secretary-treasurer and it was with a great deal of regret that the Board accepted his resignation, as he had filled that position with entire satisfaction for more than thirty years.

Miss Curtis, who has been your bookkeeper and assistant secretary for the past three years also resigned her position at the end of the year.

These two vacancies have been filled by appointing Mr. Felix Brownscombe secretary-treasurer, and Miss Jennie Watt bookkeeper and assistant secretary.

I am pleased to be able to report that there is a steady increase in the number of persons who are investing in the trust funds of the company for the perpetual care of their lots and I would like to impress on all lot owners in the cemetery the advantages of entering into an agreement with the company during their lifetime whereby for all time to come no matter whether they are alive or dead their lots will be cared for as they wish.

Signed. T. H. G. DENNE,
President.

Superintendent's Report.

The Superintendent's (Mr. Wm. James') report, outlined the work done during the year. This was read by Mr. Denne, as Mr. James is at present on a visit with friends in the Old Country.

JAZZ BOOM WANES?

LONDON, England.—"You can take it from me," remarked a proprietor of jazz bands, "that the dancing boom is already showing signs of 'petering' out."

"You can take it from me," said the proprietor of a large dancing hall, "this boom is going to last at least five years."

Prophecy is a dangerous business, as these two contradictory forecasts sufficiently indicate. But the proprietor of the jazz bands is in a good position to tell in which direction the wind is blowing. The man he sends out nightly return with gloomy reports.

CALGARY, Jan. 19.—No other deaths than those of Robert Huckvale, Provincial Stock Detective, of Gleichen, and Christopher McBride, homesteader, of Youngstown, Alta., are known to have resulted from the fire which destroyed the Empire Hotel on Sunday night, doing damage estimated at $250,000. Don't Spoil Your Hair By Washing It

When you wash your hair, be careful what you use. Don't use prepared shampoos or anything else, that contains too much alkali, for this is very injurious, as it dries the scalp and makes the hair brittle.

The best thing to use is just plain mulsified cocoanut oil, for this is pure and entirely greaseless. It's very cheap, and beats anything else all to pieces. You can get this at any drug store, and a few ounces will last the whole family for months.

Simply moisten the hair with water and rub it in, about a teaspoonful is all that is required. It makes an abundance of rich, creamy lather, cleanses thoroughly, and rinses out easily. The hair dries quickly and evenly, and is soft, fresh looking, bright, fluffy, wavy and easy to handle. Besides it loosens and takes out every particle of dust, dirt and dandruff.

Asked how he effected the cures, he replied: "I'm not going to tell you. All I will say is that I touch the spot and say Hi, ho, presto! And then they vanish."

COW SAVES COLONY FROM TRAGIC DEATH ON LONE BELLE ISLE

MILK AND BREAD ONLY RATIONS AT LIGHTHOUSE FOR A MONTH AND HALF—KILL COW WHEN HAY AND GRAIN FINISHED.

QUEBEC, Jan. 16—The lighthouse-keeper's cow saved the Belle Isle colony from starvation while it waited relief from starvation while it waited relief from the outside world at the lonely island off the Labrador Coast. As long as there was feed for her, the cow supplied milk, which, with bread, provided the complete menu of the colony for a month and a half. When the cow feed was finished the cow was killed and the beef and bread kept the colony alive until the ship Seal rescued the members of the colony.

"We lived one month and a half on bread and milk, and if help had come some weeks later they would have found the entire colony dead from hunger," said Raoul Bergeron, one of the refugees who reached Quebec with his wife and two children, and William George Wyatt, who was with him at East Point, Belle Isle.

Too Stormy to Hunt.

"The colony," he said, "had been without supplies since last November, when the supply ships failed to reach them because of the ice and storms. Chances of hunting and shooting wild game were lost because of continued storms, and the colony faced starvation against the slim hope that a ship would get through to them.

"Forty barrels of fish which in an emergency might have seen the colony through the winter were washed into the sea by the storms and lost. The gales were the worst in fifty years, and part of the concrete landing station that had been built by the Government at the island was washed away.

Nothing But "Bread and Cow."

"The weather was so bad," said Mr. Bergeron, "that from the first of December there was no chance for the keepers to go out hunting the game which was swept outward to sea. At my station there were four children, and we were worse off than the people at West Point, for we had no sugar, molasses, butter, or meat. In fact, nothing but bread and cow. The fall and winter supplies were supposed to be in by 21st November, but there was no sign of a ship. So our rations consisted of break and milk alone.

"We could have slaughtered the cow, but we knew the children would be better off with milk. And as long as we could keep the cow alive we knew we had food in the milk secured. And we had a reserve in the cow herself when her milking usefulness was over. We were eventually forced to that end. The hay and grain gave out. We had nothing more for the animal which had kept us alive for months.

Killed the Cow.

"So we killed the cow, and then we changed our bread and milk diet to bread and beef. The colony had become unaccustomed to meat, and as a result everyone was sick for six or seven days."

On West Point the colony resorted to more drastic means to keep their milch cows alive. They had plenty of flour and the women baked bread for the cows so that the children could be supplied with milk. They also had salt meat, and fared better than we did. Several barrels of flour were fed to the cattle in bread form.

The two colonies on the island were separated by eleven miles of barren, rocky, trailless land, with numerous deep ravines and many small lakes. The only means of travelling at all was with dog sleigh, and Bergeron made the trip fourteen times. He said it was "pretty hard business making trips over such country on bread and milk."

Praises the Seal.

The morale of the colony kept up wonderfully, although the women were disheartened by the repeated failures of the Aranmore and Montcalm to reach the island. He had great praise for the ship Seal. She is a small ship of some 277 tons, with barely 85 horse-power engines, and yet she fought her way through the ice floes which stopped larger and stronger craft. The members of the colonies were taken by canoes through the icy waters to the steamer.

Never Say "Die."

Asked if he was going back to Belle Isle, Bergeron replied: "One must never say, 'Never no more,' but I'll say as near to that as I decently can."

Wyatt's family, which arrived in Quebec also is now at Mr. Wyatt's son-in-law's home in Quebec city.

The other refugees stayed on Newfoundland. All their belongings are still on Belle Isle, the Seal having taken them off with the east possible freight, owing to the conditions that prevented her going near to the land.

Voice Of The People

Peterborough, Ont., Jan. 17, 1920.

Dear Mr. Editor,—I take great pleasure in informing you that at a dinner held by the 21st Battalion Club in the Empress Hotel last night, a hearty vote of thanks was unanimously passed by the members present, for your hearty assistance and co-operation in the formation of our club.

Without your help, which has so far been given gratis, we would have had a very hard time getting in touch with former members of the Battalion, and it would have been almost impossible to form the club.

Again thanking you, Mr. Editor, I am,

Sincerely yours,
W. M. PERKS, Sec.-Treas.

WOULD IMPOSE DEATH PENALTY FOR SEDITION

Bill Reported to Congress More Drastic Than Palmer.

WASHINGTON.—A measure, bill drafted by the judiciary committee along the line suggested by Attorney General Palmer, and more drastic than that passed by the Senate Saturday, was reported yesterday to the House. It is intended to reach citizens as well as aliens, who are guilty of treasonable activities and would impose death penalty for seditious agitation resulting in loss of life. Disfranchisement or deportation will be provided for persons refusing to testify for fear of incriminating themselves.

REMOVED TO HOME.

James Ferguson of Ida, who has lived all alone since the death of his wife a few years ago, having been found ill and unable to care for himself, was taken to the Home in Cobourg last week. He will have plenty to pay for good care there and will assuredly have that in the Home.—Millbrook Reporter.

CASE ADJOURNED FOR ONE WEEK

YOUTHS AGREE TO MAKE RESTITUTION.

The case of the four young men from Lindsay who were charged with getting goods by false pretences came up before Magistrate Dumble yesterday afternoon at 4 o'clock. Mr. I. E. Weldon of Lindsay appeared for the young men and pleaded not guilty to the charge and asked for an adjournment for a week to give them an opportunity to raise the money. Mr. Weldon said he knew the young fellows personally and they were all good boys and would be here next week to make restitution. Mr. Weldon said he would guarantee their reappearance in a week.

One of the boys said they could raise the money in a week.

The informant, Mr. Flynn did not object as long as he got his money.

"Better give them a chance on their own bail" broke in Crown Attorney Hatton, so the case was remanded till next Tuesday, the twenty-seventh, the young men being let out on their own bail.

"What time," said Magistrate Dumble.

"Well, the train does not get in till noon" your Worship, said the Lindsay barrister.

"I guess the 7.55 is a little early for Mr. Weldon" said the Chief of Police smiling.

"Two o'clock, then," said Magistrate Dumble.

FLYING FROM DRY U.S.

KANSAS CITY, Mo.—Louis St. Clair, formerly a saloonkeeper here, and whose specialty has always been "mixed drinks," is going to move, either to Cuba or Australia after 16th January, and take with him two carloads of Kentucky whisky now stored in Government bonded warehouses. At the present price of whisky the supply is worth about $100,000. St. Clair aplied at the Federal Building to-day for passports for himself and wife and son Osmond.

"I'm going to look over Cuba, and if the possibilities look good, I am going to open an American bar," St. Clair explained. "If Cuba doesn't look good, I'm going to Australia."

St. Clair has been in the liquor business for thirty-five years.

BUILDING HOUSES OF RAMMED EARTH

Editor Builds Sample of a Six-Roomed Bungalow That Proves Pleasing.

In Britain there is now a growing movement to build houses of compressed earth. The cost of an entire house, is roughly, one-tenth that of a similar structure of brick.

A housing expert says that blocks of suitable earth rammed and compressed supply splendid material for the building of houses in rural districts, leaving the bricks and motar for use in the towns, where other materials cannot be obtained.

"Compressed earth," said the expert, "is a new material. Pliny remarks that Hannibal's watch towers were built of it; it has been used for several hundred years in the district round Lyons, and more recently in India, Rhodesia, and Australia. So much favor has it found in South Africa that one of the largest mining corporations has issued an edict refusing to sanction expenditure upon buildings erected in any other material.

"It owes its introduction into this country to the efforts of Mr. S. Loe Strachey, the editor of the 'Spectator.' Mr. Strachey has been experimenting in its uses for four or five years, and has now a smallholder's house and steading of this material erected at Merrow Downs, near Guilford.

"The estimate for the exterior walls of this cottage if built of brick was $1,000. Their cost in earth has worked out at under $100, and the work was completed in less than a month by two men.

"The walls are eighteen inches thick, and seem to be hardening to the consistency of a soft sandstone. They have only been up for about six weeks, but seem already dry enough for the house to be habitable."

The experiment is exciting interest in official quarters, as well as among private persons who have studied the housing problem. Dr. Addison, Minister of Health, Lord Ernie, the late President of the Board of Agriculture, and many others have already visited the new bungalow.

The walls are formed of ordinary loam, tightly rammed between boards, which are bolted eighteen inches apart, until the earth wall is sufficiently hard to permit of their removal. Another course is then erected on top, and so on till the wall has reached the full height desired. A thin exterior layer of cement improves the outside appearance of the dwelling, although this is not essential.

Wooden blocks are inserted in the walls where it will be necessary to fix window frames and doors. Interior walls dividing the room are made from two-inch breeze slabs, composed of a mixture of ashes and cement, which gives strength and lightness.

The six-roomed bungalow has plenty of cupboard space and a bathroom. There is a large cart shed and stables, four pigsties, and a shed for goats.

Owing to the cheapness of the construction of the buildings, which, however, are provided with red tiled roofs, it will be possible to let the holding, which includes about 4½ acres of first-class arable and grass land, at the extremely low rental of $2.54 per week.

FAIR AND WARMER

"Fair and Warmer," the farce classic of its season and of a good ten seasons before it, the finest thing Avery Hopwood ever wrote, and the best money maker, Spaeth & Company ever presented, will be presented by Spaeth & Company at the Grand on Wednesday evening only.

The fame of this rollicking farce of Temperature and Temperament ran over the country within the first six weeks of its spectacular engagement at the Eltinge Theatre, New York, and the demand for it came with increasing avidity from North, East, South and West. The continued appreciation of the New York critics increased the out-of-New York belief that "Fair and Warmer" was all that its sponsors claimed for it, and, if anything, more; so that at the beginning of the present season the Hopwood masterpiece was the most prominent feature of the theatre's prospects. It will be produced here with an ideal company of farceurs.

FRIENDLY ENEMIES

Few plays in theatrical history have created so great and wide a stir as "Friendly Enemies," the famous comedy success which A. H. Wods will present at the Grand on Saturday for an engagement of matinee and evening direct from a year's run in New York City. "Friendly Enemies" is undoubtedly the most emphatic popular success of the last decade. It has been an overwhelming hit not only throughout the United States, but in London and the British provinces. The number of people who have seen it runs into millions, and there is no doubt that millions more will see it before its extraordinary career comes to a close. The play is the work of Samuel Shipman and Aaron Hoffman, both of them among the foremost American playwrights.

Splendid Treatment for Wrinkled, Flabby Skin

She who coddles herself all day in an overheated house and finds her skin flushed and flabby as a consequence, can quickly freshen up for the evening by just bathing her face in a lotion made by dissolving an ounce of pure powdered saxolite in a half pint of witch hazel. She will find this most refreshing. It smooths out the wrinkles and draws in the saggy tissue almost immediately, and the face appears considerably rejuvenated.

The ingredients, of course, are perfectly harmless and no trace of the treatment remains on the skin. Be sure to ask the druggist for the powdered saxolite.

After marriage many a man's eye is opened to the fact that there is more pleasure in pursuit than in possession.

TWO WOMEN WERE CARRIED ON ARMY PAYSHEET AS PRIVATES

Col. Young—"Were any joints taken from the men's quarters to the officers' quarters?"

"Joints were taken from the men's cook house to the house of Smith, the cook."

Col. Burleigh—"Did you give your consent to the withholding of the field allowance?"

"I dont' think that that question ever came up until complaints were made."

Joseph Dobrindt, who served in the 19th for eight months, from October of 1914, at Port Dalhousie and the Falls, and then went overseas, said he got no marriage allowance.

C. H. Hodgins, investigator from the Paymaster General's Department told the court that it had been claimed for Dobrindt.

General Cruikshank—"When did you first know they were paying marriage allowances to men on the canal?"

Dobrindt—"Not till I returned from overseas."

Asst. Quartermaster Sergt. R. L. Smith, said that rations were issued "according to the number of men on the strength and no attention was paid to the men away." He never saw a team for regimental transport.

Col. Young—"At times did you arrange substitution of rations to a greater variety?"

Witness—"Yes."

To General Cruikshanks witness said that he had never heard complaints over the quality of the meat supplied by Swifts. "What do you know about the regimental motor car?"

"I didn't know we had one." —(Laughter.)

He got his marriage allowance throughout. Questioned by Colonel Burleigh, Smith said there were never any serious complaints about the rations at Port Dalhousie. He got value for his ten cents a day. The wife and daughter of Cook Smith cooked for the officers.

General Cruikshanks — "If Mrs. and Miss Smith drew privates' pay, and Smith drew separation allowance they would be doing pretty well.

On the Pay Roll.

Sergt Smith recalled, stated that that the Smith women were carried as privates.

A. N. Payne, a government handwriting expert, with 30 years' service in the Post Office Dept., expressed his opinion that a bill from Bradley and Sons and a letter from the same company, were written by the same person.

A list of unclaimed pay for Sept. 14, signed by Sergt. Turnbull and the entries in the cash book were in the same handwriting.

Lieut. A. A. White was unable to state if he had received field allowance. He left the canal force with a draft to the 4th Battalion as Color Sergeant. Shown a pay sheet he said he received $36.90 credited to him thereon, from August 5 to 21 he got $14.90, representing pay from Aug. 5 to 12, and when the detachment had reached Valcartier he made out another paylist from Aug. 12 to 31.

Pte. W. J. McKee had no complaint to make; he served at Niagara Falls from Oct. 1914, until late in 1918. He and all other married men that he knew received marriage allowance.

John Dick, bugler, was perfectly satisfied with the rations and the extras. He had agreed to the deduction of 10c and a general improvement had followed. Similar evidence was given by W. L. Erskine.

Dollar Day

The Dollar Reigns Supreme!

It Comes Into Its Own To-morrow, From 8.30 a.m. to 5.30 p.m.

If you were the merchant, what would you do on Dollar Day? You would take your fall and winter lines and mark them down for this event, because new spring stocks are arriving at this season of the year, and the other merchandise is marked at clearance prices. Of course there is some merchandise that is not subject to the change of season, but buying in large quantities has enabled us to make substantial reductions that can be had only on Dollar Day.

The Bargain Annex will be open the entire day, and we have prepared a list of values that cannot be equalled elsewhere. There are only a few mentioned in this advertisement, but you will find a variety at prices that are to your liking. Remember, there is double elevator service to the Annex. No. 1, the old elevator, runs direct to the Annex, not stopping at any intermediate floors. No. 2, the new elevator, stops at all floors and the basement.

LINDSAY MIDGETS CUT DOWN LEAD OF LOCAL JUNIORS

SURPRISED YOUNG PETES BY BEATING THEM 7 TO 4 LAST NIGHT—GARNET WAS OUTSTANDING FIGURE IN THE BATTLE, BEING RESPONSIBLE FOR SIX OF THE VISITORS' GOALS—PETES ARE ONLY ONE UP ON THE ROUND.

The great all round work of Garnet, the big defence man, the effectiveness of Bell around the nets and the ability of the whole team to go the full sixty minutes were the principal factors in the surprising victory of the Lindsay midgets over the Peterboro Juniors in an O.H.A. game at Brock street rink last night. Beaten here 10 to 5 on their last appearance and lucky to beat the young Petes 7 to 6 in Lindsay, the midgets went out last night and walloped Peterboro 7 to 4. As a result the local youngsters led on the round has dwindled to one, the score on the three games standing Peterboro 20, Lindsay 19 with the fourth game to be played in Lindsay on Friday night.

Frankly Lindsay earned their victory last night. They checked like flenda, lasted better and were more successful in working in close for their shots. Garnets work, however, was the biggest element in their success and if the big youngster who starred for the intermediates here on Friday night had remained in Lindsay last night the Peterboro intermediates would have probably been beaten worse than they were but the young Petes would have undoubtedly pulled off a victory here. Garnet who alternated on the defence and at centre was easily the best man on the ice. He never let up for a moment and his constant rushing gave his team mates a chance to catch their wind while every time he got away he was dangerous. He scored three goals himself and carried the rubber down for three more, besides checking very effectively on the defence. Bell at centre was Lindsay's next best. He showed a lot of speed and a nice shot and was always there for a pass. Stoddard the cotton-topped left wing was also good, doing especially effective work in the last perio.

For Peterboro Bergoine performed nicely in the nets and Sheehan and Lawson were a good defence, although they made the mistake several times of both going after the puck-carrier with the result that a pass at the right time caught them cold. Garnett and Bell worked this nicely on two occasions in the second period. Both rushed well and Sheehan's dash for a goal in the last period was one of the best individual efforts of the night. In the forward line Collins and Foley were the pick and both worked until they were ready to drop. Jackson was handicapped by a bad knee and Thirnbeck was unlucky enough to get his chin badly gashed before he had been a minute on the ice but came back in the second period after he had stitched up and worked hard. The forwar line did not get working as well as in their other games, and made the mistake of shooting from away out, while Lindsay on the other hand worked in close.

The Petes were never in the front. Lindsay led 2 to 1 at the end of the first period and were 4 to 3 in front at the second rest term. Peterboro tied the score early in the third period and looked as if they might come on and win but the Midgets staged a strong finish that netted them three goals in the last ten minutes. They were all over the Petes at that stage and won on the bit.

Glen Smith the former Dental player officiated. Mr. Smith will be remembered chiefly by the classiness of his attire which included, Derby of the latest design and an immaculate pink shirt. He looked more like a a matinee idol than a referee and incidentally acted more like one too for there were many, many things that escaped Mr. Smith's eyes or at least failed to cause him to agitate the bell He was impartial, however, and neith er team had any advantage as a result of his work.

There was a big crowd of fans on hand and they were as noisy as any gathering heard in Brock street for a long time. The G. W. V. A. band provided music that was greatly appreciated before the game and during the intervals.

The line-up:

The Petes had a shade the better of the argument for the first few minutes, but they were shooting from well out and McClory did not have much difficulty in heading off the drives. Garnet tried hard to get going, but at the go-in the local youngsters held him safely. Finally, however, after McClory had handled a dozen shots from outside the defence, Garnet got away and although his first shot was wide, he got the rubber in a scrimmage and drilled the first goal past Bergoine.

The Petes worked hard to even the count and their efforts were rewarded on a long shot by Foley.

Lindsay soon regained the lead on an individual rush by Garnet who, although closely checked, managed to let loose a weak shot that glanced off Jackson's stick into the nets for a fluky goal.

Thirnbeck came on in place of Johnston, and in less than a minute had to retire with a bad gash in the chin as the result of being struck by a skate when he fell.

Lawson served a penalty for tripping, and after he came back Johnston was chased for the same offence. There was no further scoring in the period.

The second session opened at top speed with both teams cutting loose. Lindsay increased their lead when Garnet got away, drew out the Peterborough defence and passed to Bell, who scored easily.

The Petes got that one back in thirty seconds when Jackson scored on a combined rush. Chambers was penalized and after the face Thirnbeck drew a sentence.

Lindsay doubled the score when Garnet fooled the Peterbrough defence and centred to Bell, a repetition of the same play made earlier in the period.

Just before the session ended, Collins slapped in a goal for the Petes on a shot by Johnston. The play was fifteen feet offside, but Referee Smith missed it. The period score was 4 to 3.

The Petes worked their heads off in the last period to sew up the game and the crowd went wild when Sheehan got away for a pretty rush and beat McClory.

The joy was short lived, however, for Garnet came right back with one of his long rushes and although Bergoine nailed his shot, Bell batted in the rebound.

A little later Garnet went up alone and beat Bergoine, making it 6 to 4, and just before the bell rang Stoddard nicked another on a nice shot from the side. The summary:

First Period.

1 Lindsay, Garnet.
2 Peterborough, Foley.
3 Lindsay, Garnet.

Second Period.

4 Lindsay, Bell.
5 Peterborough, Jackson.
6 Lindsay, Bell.
7 Peterborough, Collins.

Third Period.

8 Peterborough, Sheehan.
9 Lindsay, Bell.

KINGSTON CURLERS RAISE OBJECTION

KINGSTON.—In connection with the Ontario Tankard and District Cup games in the Ontario Curling Association, which commences next Tuesday afternoon, the association came in for considerable criticism owing to their rule that prohibits a curler once playing on a Tankard rink from competing in a District Cup competition.

The opinion freely expressed was that this rule operated only to the benefit of the clubs in Toronto and other large centres, and that the smaller clubs were in many cases prevented from entering the District Cup competition by reason of the fact that some time or other one or more men had played on a Tankard rink, and had in this way been disqualified from playing in any other competition.

The feeling is that this rule should be rescinded, and that curlers should have the privilege each season of electing whether he would play in one or the other competition, or if that was felt to be too wide, a privilege that all curlers who had played but one game in the Tankard should not be disqualified from playing in the District Cup competition.

Most young men are too much infatuated with themselves to be seriously injured in an ordinary love affair.

INTERMEDIATES BEATEN AT LINDSAY BY 8 GOALS TO 4

The Peterborough intermediates dropped to second place in the group race when they were beaten 8 to 4 in Lindsay last night. The Petes got off to a great start, were leading 3 to 0 in the first period and 3 to 1 at the end of that session, but apparently they shot their bolt in that session, for Lindsay came back with five straight goals in the second period, and were in front 6 to 3 at the end of the twenty minutes. The Petes had the better of the last session, but could not beat O'Loughlin, and Lindsay outscored them 2 to 1. The Lindsay team got the best of the 'breaks,' three of their goals carroming in off somebody's stick or skates into the nets, while another struck the end of the rink and bounced in from behind. Murray played a fine game in the nets, and O'Loughlin of Lindsay also starred. A Lindsay despatch says:

Lindsay, Jan. 19.—By playing Peterborough intermediates off their feet in the second period, Lindsay won a fast and exciting game by 8 to 4. In the first period while the visitors were in condition they scored three goals, the locals getting their first counter a minute before time. In the second period Lindsay beat Murray for five straights.

The final period was a bang-up affair and hard fought, with Lindsay on the offensive every minute, and counting twice to Peterborough's once. Both goalers starred.

A feature of the game was Carew's fine head work and stick handling in getting a goal in the last period. Lindsay all played well, while L. Rose for the Peterboroughs was fast and effective. Referee LeSeur was particularly good. Line-up:

Peterborough—Goal, Murray right defence, R. Rose; left defence, P. Thornton; centre, Halpin; left wing, L. Rose; right wing, H. Thornton.

The Peterborough subs were Jackson and Evans.

LNTERMEDIATE GAME HERE TO-MORROW WITH CANNINGTON

The Cannington team will be here to-morrow night for an O.H.A. game with the Peterborough intermediates. The villagers have been improving right along and should make the Petes travel at top speed to hold them off. Peterobrough has to win this game to stay in the running. In order to tie up the group they must beat Cannington here to-morrow night and Lindsay here a week from Friday. To-morrow's game will be the last fixture scheduled for the Brock street rink for nine days, so that the fans cannot afford to miss it. The game is called for 8.30 o'clock.

AUBURN PRACTICE

The Auburn hockey team will practice at the Brock street rink to-night from 6.45 to 7.45 o'clock. The following players are requested to turn out Legro, F. Graham, H. Graham, McMartin, Jackson, Tudhope, Coughlin, Lipsett, Blewett, Rutherford, Mayhall.

(Canadian Press.)

PARIS, Jan. 20.—Disbelief that efforts of the Allies to get former Emperor William out of Holland would prove successful was expressed to-day by Kurt Von Lersner, Germany's chief representative here.

"I am absolutely sure the Dutch government will never surrender the former German Emperor for trial on charges that are not provided for in any constitution, any laws or any treaties regarding extraditions," Baron Von Lersner said.

With regard to the expected demand for extradition of German subjects for trial for acts committed during the war, the German plenipotentiary declared himself certain that public sentiment in every country is against such demand.

No Trouble to Remove Superfluous Hair

(Toilet Tips)

It is an easy matter to rid the skin of objectionable hair or fuzz, if you proceed as follows: Mix a paste with some water and a little powdered delatone, apply to hairy surface and in 2 or 3 minutes rub off, wash the skin, and the hairs are gone. This method of banishing hairy growths is painless and does not mar the skin, but to avoid disappointment, be certain to get real delatone.

Dyspepsia and Business

They Don't Hitch—To Be Fit and Yet Eat What You Like. Follow Your Meals With Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets. No Gas, Sourness, Nor Heaviness of Indigestion.

Business men and women are apt to fall for the peculiar theories advanced by food faddists. But it isn't what you eat but what you digest and assimilate that should command thought and attention. You may eat fried eggs, sausage, ham or bacon for breakfast, and feel tip-top at lunch time if you follow the meal with a Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablet. Or if your stomach is full of gas, sour, or has a gnawing sensation of heaviness instead of the keen sense of appetite, Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets relieve these distresses and introduce you to the next meal or a day's work with a quiet, restful stomach.

Many physicians prescribe these tablets for indigestion, dyspepsia, and other digestive disorders, as they contain harmless properties that work with an alkaline effect just as the stomach does when in perfect health. They are particularly adapted for business men and women, who are often called upon to discuss important business matters at a luncheon or dinner.

Get a 50-cent box of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets at any drug store, eat all you want of what you like with no gassy stomach, no sour, belching, bilious distress, no coated tongue nor heavy, drowsy feeling after eating.

If gasoline prices had advanced at the same rate as crude oil prices, it is estimated that the consumer would have to pay 14 cents a gallon more for his petrol than he does.

FRIENDSHIP

The joy that comes from a true communion of heart with another is, perhaps, one of the purest and greatest in the world, but its function is not exhausted by merely giving pleasure. Though we may not be conscious of it, there is a deeper purpose in it—an education in the highest arts of living. We may be enticed by the pleasure it affords, but its greatest good is got by the way. Even, intellectually, it means the opening of a door into the mystery of life. We cannot truly know anything without sympathy, without getting out of self and entering into the life of others. Many of the chambers of the house of life are forever locked to us until love gives us the key. The divine meaning of a true friendship is often that it is the first unveiling of the secret of love. To love one soul for its beauty and grace is to open the way to appreciate all beautiful and true nd gracious souls, and to recognize spiritual beauty wherever it is seen. To possess the true friendship of another is to have one of the world's sweetest gifts.

Friends are born, not made. At least it is so with the higher sort. Some friendships grow and ripen slowly but steadily with the years. Others may come suddenly, like love at first sight. It is not always the quick attachment, however, that wears best; and that is the reason why youthful attachments are usually fickle.

But whatever be the method by which a true friendship is formed, it seems, on looking back, to have been a movement of necessity. We speak of a man meeting his fate, and we speak truly. It is not that we made the choice, but that the choice made us.

The great difficulty is that the relationship of friendship should so often be one-sided. At least it appears that way. But is it really so? It seems strange that there should be so much unrequited affection in the world. It seems almost impossible to get a completely balanced union. One of the most humiliating things in life is when another seems to offer his friendship lavishly, and we are unable to respond. So much affection seems to go a-begging. So much true friendship seems unrequited. But the glory of life is to love, not to be loved; to give not to get; to serve, not to be served. It may not be our fault that we cannot respond to the offer of friendship, but it is our misfortune.

Some men have a genius for friendship. That is because they are open and responsive and unselfish. Nothing is given to the man who is not worthy to possess it, and the shallow heart can never know the joy of true friendship. Some find it easier than others to make advances, because they are naturally more trustful. We must not be too cautious in displaying our feelings. We are so afraid of giving ourselves away cheaply—and it is a proper enough feeling, the value of which most of us learn through sad experience—but the warm nature is of a higher type than the over-cautious nature, ever on the watch less it commit itself. Friendship which begins with sentiment will not live and thrive on sentiment. There must be service and helpful acts. It is not the greatness of either which gives value, but the evidence it is of love and thoughtfulness. If there has come to us this friendship, if there is a soul to which our soul has been drawn, it is certainly worth while being loyal and true to that one. To sacrifice a tried and trusted friend for any personal advantage or gain or position, is to deprive our own heart of the capacity for friendship. The joy which a true friendship gives reveals the existence of the want of it, perhaps previously unfelt.

'A true friend will never needlessly hurt, but also will never let slip occasions through cowardice, to warn. To speak the truth in love takes off the edge of unpleasantness, which so often is found in truth-speaking. The wound may smart, but in the end we are thankful. Sorrow asks for sympathy, asks to let its griefs be known and shared by another. To have a heart which we can trust and into which we can pour our griefs and doubts and fears is an unspeakable gift.

If we are blessed with such a friend let us treat that friend with courtesy and consideration, give him or her our confidence and trust, and love. To have a friend whom we can trust, and respect, will be to us a source of strength, keeping us from evil, and making us ashamed of the wrong.

An alcohol and glycerine solution rubbed on the glass will maintain a clear vision through a windshield in rainy weather.

Still Doing Great Work For Women

WHAT MISS SIMPSON SAYS OF DODD'S KIDNEY PILLS.

Before Taking Them She Could Not Walk—Now She Can Walk and Work, and She Gives All the Credit to Dodd's Kidney Pills.

Ville Marie, Que., Jan. 19th, (Special.)—One more tribute to the great work Dodd's Kidney Pills are doing for the women of Canada comes from Miss Angele Simpson, well known and highly respected here.

"When I commenced to take Dodd's Kidney Pills." Miss Simpson states, "My heart bothered me so I could not walk.

"Now I can walk and work."

Miss Simpson is not entirely cured yet but so great are the benefits she has received from Dodd's Kidney Pills that she is firmly convinced they will effect a complete cure. She has been a sufferer for eighteen years and underwent four months' treatment in a hospital before trying Dodd's Kidney Pills.

Dodd's Kidney Pills are a Kidney remedy. They relieve the work of the heart by putting the kidneys in shape to strain all the impurities out of the blood. Pure blood carried to all parts of the body means new health all over the body.

SOCIALISTS COME TO EX-KAISER'S AID

ARE WILLING TO HAVE HIM TRIED, BUT RECOMMEND A COURT OF NEUTRAL JUDGES.

BERLIN—The campaign against the extradition and trial of the ex-Kaiser and other war criminals has been re-opened with particular vigor, both in origin and character.

This re-opened campaign is peculiar and significant. The reactionaries have been lying low for some time, and now it is the orthodox Social Democrats who have taken the field. The new movement is started by a prominently displayed article in Vorwaerts from the pen of Otto Landsberg, one of the best known Socialists outside of the Government. He was Minister of Justice in the first constitutional Government after the revolution.

To bring the ex-Kaiser to trial, he declares, would be to make him a martyr and consequently to play into the reactionaries' hands. The result, he goes on, would drive "considerable elements in a broken public like the Germans to turn to what they would then come to regard as the golden days. Neither France nor England would have occasion to show contempt for such a romantic tendency, for the restoration of the Stuarts and Bourbons proves that there were times when the great masses of the French and English peoples had but little understanding of the freedom they had won during the revolutions of the Seventeenth and Eighteenth Centuries."

It is clearly not a mere coincidence that on a day on which the article appeared a meeting of the "New Fatherland Society" was held for the discussion of this question. This society represents the Majority Socialists and other radical elements. It passed a resoluton declaring that no opposition should be made to the trial of the ex-Kaiser, but recommending a court of neutral judges.

This morning several Pan-German journals comment in an "I-told-you-so" vein on tre Socialists' intervention in this question. The Deutsche Zeitung rejoices, saying that it is now clear how much the Socialists fear the awakening of national spirit as a result of the extradition dispute. The Deutsche Tageszeitung represents tre extradition of the ex-Kaiser as only one more humiliation to which the German people is to be subjected in consequence of being ruled by "a Government which has deprived Germany of its honor and means of defense."

Tre Rote Fahne, the Communist organ, comments sarcastically on this harmony between Socialists and Pan-Germans and siezes the occasion to attack the Government as a body "humiliated by the victory and despised by the workers of the whole world."

It is becoming increasingly evident that the extradition question will play a great role in the coming general election as a weapon for the parties opposed to the present Government.

LIVER TROUBLE AND HEARTBURN

All liver diseases of whatever character are diseases of the highest importance and demand close attention.

The liver is the largest and one of the most important organs of the body. Its duty is to prepare and secrete bile, and serve as one of the filters of the body, cleansing it from all impurities and poisons. Therefore when the liver gets out of order it is the starting of trouble in nearly every part of the body.

Keep the liver active by using Milburn's Laxa-Liver Pills and you will have no heartburn, constipation, biliousness, sick or bilious headaches, dull, yellow eyes, brown blotches, sallow complexion, coated tongue, jaundice, catarrh of the stomach, or the painful protruding, internal or bleeding piles.

Mrs. John Kadey, Chipman, N. B., writes: "I have used Milburn's Laxa-Liver Pills for some time and can recommend them to anyone suffering from heartburn and liver trouble. I tried other remedies but they only relieved me for a short time. I always recommend Laxa-Liver Pills to all sufferers as I think that they are a valuable remedy."

Milburn's Laxa-Liver Pills are 25c a vial at all dealers or mailed direct on receipt of price by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

THE MILKY WAY IS THE HEALTHY WAY

DRINK MORE MILK AND USE MORE BREAD IS ADVICE OF PHYSICIAN.

Would you like to be young at seventy?

Would you like to see healthier babies?

Would you like to reduce the cost of living?

Then drink milk—more milk—lots of milk; and eat foods containing milk—custards, ice cream, cheese, etc.

No; this isn't the advice of a reporter. It is the official advice of Dr. E. V. McCollum of the Johns Hopkins' university, and strongly supported by all the medical health officers:

What Doctors Say.

Listen to what Prof. McCollum has to say on this subject:

"It is quite the common thing to meet men and women who appear to be past the age of 70 who in reality are under 50. This is largely due to eating too much meat, pastry and other things pleasing to the palate, but not good for general health building. Such people are suffering from arterio selerosis, which condition would not prevail if they drank more milk and ate more foods containing milk. The child which is denied a liberal supply of milk daily, is not likely to develop into a healthy adult. There is far greater food value in milk and cheese than there is in beefsteak, eggs, bread or any other kind of food. Even at the prevailing high price of milk it is the cheapest and best kind of food one can buy, and its liberal use would tend greatly to solving the problem of the high cost of living. One quart of milk is the equal of one pound of the best beefsteak in food value. Every school boy and girl should drink at least one quart of milk each day. If people would make milk the principal form of daily diet, they would be young at the age of 70 instead of being old and infirm at 50 as so many are."

Milk Way the Health Way

"Milk Way is the Health Way," says Inspector Shain, a food inspector. "In Chicago more money is spent annually by the city in the transportation of milk inspectors than it costs the city of Hamilton to maintain its entire health department. Milk is a nourishing food, not merely a beverage. It is rich in body building substances; it also supplies energy which enables the body to work. The building materials are protein and minerals, such as lime and phosphorus. At no price at which milk is ordinarily sold is it nearly as expensive as other animal foods of recognized value.

Milk is the one food devised by nature for the growth and development of the young. Teachers, doctors, teachers, professional men of all sorts, who bear the burden of a busy, suffering world, may obtain relief from nervous strain by eating bread and milk. The man who labors with his hands can find no better refreshment for his tired body than a supper which begins with bread and milk. It is one of nature's best gifts to man."

Keep the Cost of Living Down.

Let's put aside to-morrow's roast
And eat a meal of hot milk toast.
We'll make the toast of crusts, you know,
And use more milk to make it go.
No waste to toast; we'll eat it all,
'Tis good for people great and small.
Such simple food makes children grow,
And keeps the cost of living low.
Then let us dine on hot milk toast,
In every state from coast to coast.
No one shall hunger, faint or fast
So long as good milk toast shall last.
When we want more we'll promptly say:
"Please pass the hot milk toast this way."

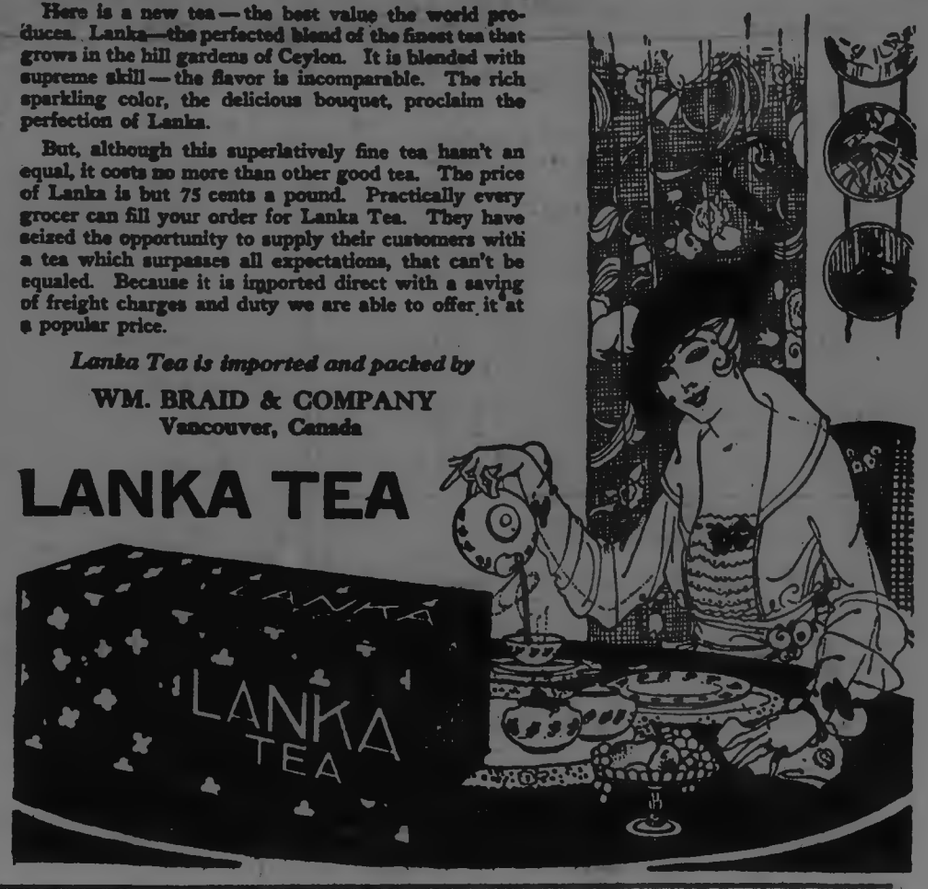
LANKA TEA



PARROT AS WITNESS.

LONDON, England — A green parrot was a witness in a case at the Thames Police Court, when a seaman was charged with stealing the bird from a man aboard the same ship.

Prisoner said he had been under the impression that the bird was his, but having ascertained that it talked, he had changed his mind, as his bird was mute.

When the parrot, in a cage, was taken into Court, Mr. Rooth, the magistrate, said that if it used bad language it would have to be taken out, but the prosecutor addressing it as "Laura," it answered with the same word.

Prisoner again expressed himself convinced that he had been under a misapprehension, and was discharged. The magistrate observed that the parrot left the Court without a stain on his character.

SAGE AND SULPHER DARKENS GRAY HAIR

It's Grandmother's Recipe to Restore Colour, Gloss and Attractiveness.

Almost everyone knows that Sage Tea and Sulphur, properly compounded, brings back the natural colour and lustre to the hair when faded, streaked, or grey. Years ago the only way to get this mixture was to make it at home, which is mussy and troublesome. Nowadays, by asking at any drug store for "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," you will get a large bottle of this famous old recipe, improved by the addition of other ingredients, at a small cost.

Don't stay grey! Try it! No one can possibly tell that you darkened your hair, as it does it so naturally and evenly. You dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the grey hair disappears, and after another application or two, your hair becomes beautifully dark, glossy, and attractive.

ANNUAL MEETING OF THE LOCAL YOUNG MEN'S CHRISTIAN ASSOCIATION

OFFICERS ELECTED FOR THE ENSUING YEAR—FACILITIES FOR THE GREAT WAR VETERANS—REPORTS OF THE VARIOUS DEPARTMENTS.

The reports at the annual meeting of the Young Men's Christian Association held last evening in the Association building indicated that the past year had been the biggest and most successful in the local Association's history and it was predicted that the year 1920 would be even more of a success. The Board of Directors, the staff and the members in attendance expressed their satisfaction with the Association's work during the past year, and the enthusiasm shown prophesied broader activities in all departments for the coming year.

President's Remarks.

The President of the Board, Mr. G. A. Gillespie, in his remarks, stated that all were proud of the showing the Association had made during the year 1919. He had been on the Board twelve or fifteen years and was sure that this past year had been the finest in his recollection. This was not due to the Board alone, though the Association now had the best Board in its history, but the staff and the members were largely responsible. He wished the same could be said for all the organizations in the city, the province and the Dominion. If such were the case we would be much farther ahead in our work of reconstruction.

Attention Paid Veterans.

Mr. Gillespie commented upon the manner in which the returned men had been looked after. As an example, he stated that a returned man had never been refused a room at the 'Y.' Of the seventy members of the senior gymnasium class 60 per cent. were returned men. He felt that the staff had given them the best service and instruction possible.

The building, Mr. Gillespie continued, had been enlarged and the accommodation improved. The organization and co-operation of the staff was excellent. He thanked all for their help and stated that he could not ask for anything better than the work of the staff. He hoped that the year 1920 would be a year of still greater co-operation and success for the Association.

Directors Elected.

The report of the Nomination committee was then read by Mr. C. E. Sisson, recommending Messrs. G. A. Gillespie, Thomas Barrie, R. L. Dobbin and J. E. Smith for re-election to the Board for a term of three yars. The report was accepted and those recommended were unanimously elected.

Report of Finance Committee.

The report of the Finance committee was then submitted by the chairman, Mr. Thomas Barrie, and accepted. The report is as follows:

The Committee on Finances have to present a most satisfactory report at the conclusion of the year 1919. After all liabilities for the year have been met we are pleased to say that a small balance remained to the credit of the Association in the Bank. In addition to this, enough coal to supply the needs of the plant until April 1st is on hand and a few subscriptions, of 1919 which were made payable in 1920 are still outstanding. These amount to approximately $150.00. The balance to the credit of the Association represents largely a surplus from entertainments conducted during the year. These amounts were designed to provide for a memorial to be erected in the near future, plans for which are now being made. This memorial will be in honor of those members of the Association who fell during the great war. In addition to the regular work of the Association, improvements and repairs were made to the extent of $2400. The cost of these have been fully met in the combined campaign in September this year. The amount received from subscriptions this year for current revenue is less than any year for at least seven or eight years, the revenue from other sources having been materially increased. The Association is entirely free from any debt whatever, which is an enviable position considering loss of revenue during the period of the last five years, owing to the fact that a large percentage of senior members were overseas. The problem of the future seems to be that of providing adequate provision for the enlarging work and the addition of an up-to-date and modern swimming pool, the present one being much too small, and impossible to keep in a sanitary condition. Suggestive plans have been presented before the Board of Directors and it is the hope of the Finance committee that it will be possible to proceed in the very near near future with the addition which is so sorely needed.

THOS. BARRIE,
Chairman Finance Committee.

Boys' Work Department.

The report on boys' work by the boys' work secretary, F. G. McNeeley, was then submitted and accepted. It is as follows:

The Boys' Department has a membership of two hundred and thirty and the prospects are bright for a much increased number during the current year. We are to some extent handicapped by having only one main room, but hope by a comprehensive out-door programme to overcome this drawback.

Organized in conjunction with all gymnasium classes, Bible study groups meet once a week to study and discuss the problems of life as they come to each boy and young man. These classes are fairly well attended and tend to promote the right spirit among the coming men of the community. The thanks of the Department are due to Mr. Wm. Hamilton and Mr. Elmer Brown for the services they render in this connection.

The outdoor programme consists mainly of a series of hikes to different parts of the country districts. On these hikes the boys cook part of their dinners and enjoy themselves freely. On Thanksgiving Day last a bicycle trip to Lakefield was arranged for and attended by ten boys. A two weeks' boys' camp is planned for early in July at which the boys who do not ordinarily have the privilege of camping out will be able to do so for a nominal fee and under proper supervision.

By the purchase of a motion picture projector the Board of Directors have solved a large portion of the problem of entertainment. A combined Saturday afternoon hike, supper and movie show will be featured during the remainder of the season.

Group rivalry is being fostered in every way and has been the means of promoting keenest competition between the different classes.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

F. G. McNEELEY,
Boys' Work Secretary.

Physical Department.

The report on the work of the Physical Department by D. A. Loomis, the physical director, was submitted by Mr. H. B. Cowan and accepted. The report is as follows:

In presenting the report of the Physical Department, attention is directed to the splendid attendance recorded in the senior class. This class is in the main composed of returned soldiers and their support, as civilians, is an answer to any who may feel inclined to offer adverse criticism. Though the average of attendance in the Junior Department is somewhat lower than in previous years this may be explained by the fact that greater effort has been expended in the organization and promotion of senior activities. At the same time it is well to note that the Junior School Boys' Class has a very enviable record of 28 real, live, red-blooded boys who are out to each gymnasium session.

The City League Basketball has been revived and great interest has been shown in all the games. A boxing class under the direction of Mr. Gilson was commenced, but had to be discontinued due to the instructor's inability to carry on. A wrestling class has now been formed and meets under Mr. Cowan weekly. The hand ball court is used to a considerable extent though as yet the games have been all individual rather than per schedule.

The social side has not been neglected as the Senior Class Club held a very enjoyable social evening during December, during which the members and their lady friends were invited to the building after a social night, and after making use of the gymnasium, billiard tables and bowling alleys were served refreshments in the main lobby. A snow-shoe tramp is planned for the same class group to-morrow.

The following is the statistical report for the Department:

Oct. Nov. Dec.	En-roll-ed.	No. Class es.	T't Att.	Av.
1. Business Men	35	15	194	13
2. Senior	52	24	471	20

All of which is respectfuly submitted.

D. A. LOOMIS,
Physical Director.

Secretary's Report.

The general secretary, Mr. G. H. Roper's report, was next submitted and accepted. Mr. Joseph Wearing, in commenting on the report, stated that it was highly satisfactory. The report is as follows:

The reports of the various departments have been covered in detail by the chairman or heads of these departments, so that there is not a great deal left to be said regarding the work, without repetition. The staff are grateful to the Board of Directors and all those who have served in a voluntary capacity and their assistance during the past year at which the reports that have been presented to-night would be impossible. We are sometimes in danger of forgetting the importance of the service that the members of the Association may render and rely too much on the staff to plan, promote and carry out the entire programme. If there is any point in which we have been weak during the last year it perhaps is in this, no doubt the staff is responsible not having placed enough responsibility or not having given enough opportunity to the members of the Association to help carry the burden of the work. The staff appeal to the members of the Association in general for support in carrying on the still larger programme during 1920, and if the splendid force within the ranks of the members can be lined up for different service this coming year should be one of the best in the history of the Association. The improvements to the building have made the task of supervision a much easier one and great improvement in discipline has been the result. We were fortunate in securing the services of our physical director, Mr. D. A. Loomis, who has done such splendid work during the last seven months. Mr. Fred McNeely, in charge of the boys' department since September, has proved a loyal and energetic member of the staff. Mr. Bert Hamilton, in charge of the billiard and bowling department, has proved a wonderful help in caring for this department in a most efficient way. The harmony and co-operation among the members of the staff has left nothing to be desired. The services of Mr. and Mrs. James should not be overlooked in this time, and the members who attend the gymnasium classes and afterwards partake of pie, coffee and ice cream, etc., will appreciate Mrs. James' efforts in serving the members in this way. The dormitory men also are grateful for the many kindnesses shown by our janitor and Mrs. James. We must never forget the main object of our work, and it is the earnest wish of the staff that this objective may be emphasized more strongly during the coming year as never before, that is giving the young men and boys an opportunity of deciding the supreme question of their lives in the right way, that is giving their life in Christian service.

Appreciation of Mr. G. H. Roper's Service.

Mr. H. B. Cowan then moved an appreciaiton of Mr. G. H. Roper's service as general secretary. Before Mr. Roper took charge money came in slowly and there was some friction among the staff, but since then all had been changed as if by some magician's wand. Mr. Cowan also complimented Mr. D. A. Loomis, the physical director, and Mr. F. G. McNeeley, the boys' secretary.

The resolution was seconded by Mr. T. M. Richardson, who commented upon the efficiency of the staff and referred to Mrs. Roper's interest and assistance in the work of the Association. Mrs. Roper was not on the staff, but her services had proved extremely helpful.

Mr. Joseph Wearing then stated that he had been about to move such a resolution and suggested that Mrs. Roper be included in Mr. Cowan's resolution.

The resolution, with Mr. Wearing's amendment, was adopted unanimously.

Mr. W. R. Beyfogle.

Mr. W. R. Breyfogle briefly thanked the members for their co-operation. In former years the Association had been subject to many knocks, but this had now been largely eliminated. By making things more home-like it seemed that a new spirit had been infused and the loitering on the steps and other things which had given offence formerly, had been largely put a stop to.

Mr. J. A. Pogue.

On behalf of the members of the Association, Mr. James A. Pogue expressed his thanks to Mr. Roper, the staff, and the Board and stated that never before in the memory of the present members had such harmony existed between the members and the staff.

Mr. G. H. Roper.

Mr. G. H. Roper briefly thanked the members and the Board on behalf of himself, the staff, and Mrs. Roper, and stated that serving in the Association was a privilege.

Get Rid of The Cough That Sticks

Some coughs seem hard to shake off—stick right to you in spite of all you do to get rid of them.

Those are the kind of coughs that are dangerous—that weaken the lungs so that the germs of consumption find a ready foothold.

We know of no remedy that will cure stubborn coughs—coughs that won't let go—like Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup.

It allays the inflammation, soothes the irritation, and heals the diseased mucous lining of the lungs and bronchial tubes.

Mrs. Leo. Allen, Petit de Grat Bridge, N.S., writes:—"Last winter I had an awful cough that kept me in the house for over two months. I tried several cough remedies, but got no relief. I was almost discouraged when a grocer here offered me a bottle of Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup. After taking that one my coughing began to cease. I took two more and they cured me completely."

Get the genuine Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup; put up in a yellow wrapper; 3 pine trees the trade mark; price 25c. and 50c.; manufactured only by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

COW VANQUISHES BEAR.

OLEAN, N.Y.—Domestic won over the wild in a battle between a big black bear and a cow in the barn of George Hollenby, of the Promised Land Road, just east of here. The bear tried to carry off a calf, and the cow went to the rescue of her young. Although severely clawed and one horn torn away, she carried the fight to the bear in such style tath Bruin was forced to give up.

The calf was severely mauled. Bear and cow ofoght a bloody battle. The cow broke away from her fastenings to reach the wild animal, which was picking on the calf in another part of the barn.

What Heintzman Hall Has In Store for Musical Admirers On Dollar Day

Following up the successes of past Dollar Days, Heintzman Hall, Peterborough, again invited shoppers' attention to the advantages offered in their several departments to-morrow. What has been done during the past three years, in volume of business, by this popular musical emporium, is an achievement in Piano and Musical Instrument sales, never before recorded in this district. It counts among the biggest, in dollars and cents, and dwarfs all previous efforts. An organization has been perfected which ranks with the largest city retail musical agencies. All of this success is definite, tangible—success that can readily be accounted for. What will be done in the next few years, under the present organization, is confidently predicted to overshadow even past performances. With the strength, reputation, and guarantees of Ye Olde Firme of Heintzman and Co. at its back, there does not appear to be anything to hamper a still larger increased volume of business.

To-morrow, Dollar Day, at Heintzman Hall, will furnish splendid opportunities for wise shoppers. The stock of new Pianos and Organs is an educational study to the musically inclined. Besides there are the handsome displays of the newest Victor Victrolas and Victor Records and allied supplies. And dollars will have a chance to do double duty in the purchase of second-hand Pianos and Organs, all in good condition.

A liberal discount on all new Upright Pianos with easy terms on Dollar Day sales. Any person buying a $350 Piano will be entitled to 350 Estimating Blanks to Compete for the Purse of Merchants' Prizes.

Note.— For every dollar received in Heintzman Hall on Dollar Day for new or old accounts, One Estimating Blank will be given for competition in the purse of Merchant Prizes.

LONDON, Jan. 20. — Viscount French, Lord-Lieutenant of Ireland, has become a convert to Home Rule, it is asserted in a despatch to the Pall Mall Gazette.

LOCAL PASSENGERS HURT IN A WRECK

BELLEVILLE TRAIN JUMPED THE TRACK WITH DISASTROUS RESULTS.

The most serious wreck that has occurred on the Grand Trunk Railway in this district for some time, took place 2½ miles west of Campbellford, near Godolphin station, at 9.42 this morning, when the Belleville train, No. 98, which leaves here at 8.25, was derailed. No cause for the derailment has been revealed.

Two cars, the baggage car, and the first coach, left the rails and rolled over on their side in the ditch, but the engine and the last coach kept on the track. Six passengers were injured and two of the train crew.

The injured are Mr. John A. Cameron, Stewart Street, face scratched and back hurt.

Mr. J. Macdonald, 290 Charlotte Street, two ribs broken.

Mr. P. Blain, Sherbrooke Street badly shaken up.

Mr. W. H. Darcy, Downie street, shoulder dislocated.

Two Toronto men were also injured.

Conductor McArthur and Baggageman Graves of Belleville, were badly shaken up but were able to proceed with their train.

The track was sufficiently repaired, the engine was coupled to the rear coach, and the injured were taken on to Campbellford, where their injuries were attended to.

The track is being repaired and the derailed coaches salvaged. It is a miracle that no lives were lost in the derailment which is the worst that has occurred in this district for some time.

The statement was made at a conference of Majority Socialists.

For days before the revolution, he said, Germany had proposed to offer the Entente te complete capitulation ohf Germany.

SHOWS NO SIGN OF ABATING—INFLUENZA IN MICHIGAN.

(Canadian Press.)

TORONTO, Jan. 20.—Dr. J. W. S. McCullough this morning, in answer to a question whether, in view of the outbreak of influenza in Michigan, quarantine would be established by the Province of Ontario, said that such action could not be taken under the Health Act.

He said it would be practically impossible to close the Michigan frontier, as the whole life of the southwestern section of the Province would be interrupted.

He could not say whether the smallpox quarantine by Quebec and the United States against Ontario was still justified.

Smallpox in Ontario show no signs of abating he said.

WANT FREIGHT TATIFFS REVISED

(Canadian Press.)

OTTAWA, Jan. 20.—The Board of Railway Commissioners this morning reserved decision in the application of the Canadian Railways for a postponement of the Board's order with regard to the joint freight tariffs.

Last August the Board issued an order instructing the railways to adopt joint tariffs where freight must be shipped over two or more lines, and compelling publication of these tariffs.

Chief Traffic Officer of Board James Hardwell made a report containing the recommendations with regard to the new tariffs which was considered a basis for the order.

The railways this morning asked for a reopening of the whole matter on the grounds that the coming amalgamation of the G. T. R. with the C. N. R. altered the situation, and because certain practical features of the situation had not been considered.

Voice Of The People

To the Editor of The Examiner,—

Sir: It has been my humble wish to do what I could to aid the churches in their mighty effort to throw off materialism, so prominently set forth at present in many ways.

As a contribution to this determined effort to rescue us from the new temptation I ask you to publish the following as an advertisement for one week:

"These five separate communions are of one mind as to their belief in God the Father Almighty, maker of Heaven and Earth, and in Jesus Christ His Son, our Lord. They now declare to their respective constituencies, and also unitedly to the Canadian people that the only effective Method of Making Good Citizens is by urging men to a more faithful practice of Christianity, by inculcating personal faith in Jesus Christ. They insist that there is no other dependable way of correcting evil tendencies in individual and national life. Signed by the United National Campaign representing the simultaneous but independent Forward Movements of the Anglican, Baptist, Congregational, Methodist and Presbyterian Communions of Canada."

CHURCH HAD A NARROW ESCAPE

(Special to The Examiner.)

KINGSTON, Jan. 20. — A catastrophe was narrowly averted in the Methodist church at Hartington Sunday night: Just as service was over, and the sexton was turning out the light the chandelier fell and the oil caught fire. Luckily no person was close by, but members of the congregation filing out of the church acted promptly, and tearing up carpets and matting, beat out the flames and saved the edifice. A number of women fainted and became hysterical.

THIRD DAY FOR WINNIPEG PAPERS

BRIEF NEWS BULLETINS DO NOT ADEQUATELY SERVE COMMUNITY.

(Canadian Press.)

WINNIPEG, Jan. 20.—The third day of the enforced suspension of the local newspapers as a result of the exhaustion of the newsprint supply and the failure of the Fort Francis Mills to continue the normal shipments, brought home with renewed emphasis to-day the important position the newspaper occupies in the life of a community.

The brief bulletin service furnished to the citizens on behalf of the newspapers has not served entirely to allay the spread of the wild crop of rumours of world-shaking events.

STEAMER LOST WITH 49 LIVES

(Canadian Press.)

STOCKHOLM, Jan. 20.—Details of the wrecking of the American steamer Macona, which struck a rock off Nidingen Light and foundered on Saturday night, with the loss of 49 members of the crew, were received here to-day.

One man who was rescued hours later from the rigging, told his rescuers that he was the sole survivor.

One report attributes the disaster to a mine, several of which are said to have been floating in the Cattegat recently.

CANTATA AT TRINITY CHURCH

Trinity Church Choir created a sensation in the presentation last evening of the cantata, "Penitence, Pardon and Peace," by J. H. Maunder, and in the splendid programme by members of the choir presented previous to the cantata. The large audience who were fortunate enough to hear the concert were most enthusiastic in their appreciation, both of the choir as a whole and of the soloists of the evening.

The Programme.

The programme was opened by an organ solo, "Venetian Love Song," by Mr. George King. In this Mr. King displayed to advantage his masterful handling of the organ.

The second number, Emerson's "Sun of My Soul," by a quintette of Messrs. Park, Lee, Turner, Hartshorn and Baldry, was a novelty in the fact that last evening was the first time in years that a quintette has been heard in Peterborough. The beautiful hymn was most artistically rendered; the voices being well balanced. Especially fine work was done by the double mixed quartette in the hymn, "Abide With Me." The personnel of this number was Mrs. King and Miss Given, sopranos; Miss Wilson and Miss Corbett, altos; Mr. Fleming and Mr. Lee, tenors; and Mr. Naish and Mr. Ridyard, bass.

The two male quartettes, Messrs. Park, Fleming, Downey and Skitch, in the hymn, "Lord of My Life," and Messrs. Lee, Turner, Hartshorn and Baldry, in "Perfect Day," were very good. Throughout the programme the male section of the choir sustained the enviable reputation they have already gained.

Mrs. King's solo, "Out of the Depths," was sung with marvellous clarity, feeling and sweetness.

Sullivan's "Yea Though I Walk," by the unaccompanied choir, was magnificently rendered.

The Cantata.

The feature of the programme was the cantata, in which boundless credit was reflected upon the choir leader. Mrs. King, who took the soprano solos, and Mr. Hartshorn the baritone, created enviable reputations for themselves in their rendering of their selections.

The voices of the choir, numbering well over forty, were perfectly balanced, and the variation from the soft pianissimo parts rising up to crescendo was marvellously fine and a revelation of the artistic powers and training of the members. In the closing hymn Mr. King introduced a novelty in having two members of the choir sing from the balcony, to the accompaniment of the choir, who hummed the different verses.

Asked to Repeat.

In all, the cantata represented good music, well rendered, and, at the request of those who heard the programme, it will be repeated in the near future.

ANNUAL MEETING CHRISTIAN MOTHERS

OFFICERS ELECTED FOR THE YEAR —THE REPORTS.

At the annual meeting of the Christian Mothers of St. Peter's held last evening in St. Alphonsus Lyceum which was attended by a large and enthusiastic gathering. His Lordship Bishop O'Brien in a brief and very interesting address encouraged the workers of the Society to still greater efforts during the coming year in the good works of the Society whose objectives are the assisting of local charitable institutions and the aiding in the cause of Catholic Church extension.

The annual report of the finances read by the Secretary Mrs. Law covered nine months work and was very encouraging showing how much might be accomplished by united effort, Mrs. W. O'Brien outlined the work of Church extension during theyear. Mrs. J. Coughlin the President to whose untiring efforts much of the success of the Society is due outlined briefly the proposed future work asking at the same time the co-operation of all and urging all members to attend every meeting. In closing she suggested that a Society with a membership of 200 in the first year might surely extend its activities eo accomplish still greater good. She spoke of the regular business meetings which will be held every third Monday of each month.

Closing Remarks.

In his closing remarks His Lordship expressed further appreciation of the effort of the members and related interesting instances of his visits in the missions in the North country and dwelt at length upon the extent and hardships of the Great West reminding the Society of the benefit their co-operation in the work might be.

Officers Re-Appointed.

The officers of 1919 were re-appointed for the ensuing year. The next meeting of the Society will be held on the third Monday of February.

OF INTEREST TO FARMERS

(Canadian Press)

GUELPH, Jan. 20.—The forty-first annual meeting of the Ontario Agricultural and Experimental Union commenced at the Ontario Agricultural Campaign this morning with Hon. Nelson Monteith of Stratford, presiding. Secretary Lavits reported that during last year co-operative experiments were conducted throughout Ontario in Poultry, Agricultural Botany, Chemistry, Book-keeping and agricultural and survey has been made on subject of farm literature. Owing to great scarcity of labor number of experiments has fallen off actual number being 2468. Through influence thus exerted report contended an increased yield had been secured that had resulted added market values of $134,667,403 on oats, winter wheat and barley. Prof. Toole dealt with the bull campaign and N. K. Ledrew dealt with proposed memorial to be erected at the college.

BORING ON EAST SIDE OF RIVER FOR BRIDGE

Borings are being made on the east side of the river in the excavation for the foundation of the pier for the main arch of the bridge. Mr. Matson of Toronto, who did the original test work for Mr. Frank Barber has been using a hand drill yesterday and today with considerable progress but it is reported that he has not yet struck anything that feels like rock or solid subsoil.

NO INFLUENZA IN PETERBORO

So far Peterborough has escaped any re-occurrence of Spanish influenza, Dr. McPherson, .O.H., stated today. He has not come across any cases in his own practice or had any reported to him.

Eight new cases of smallpox have developed, six last week and two yesterday. No further cases of sleeping sickness have come to Dr. McPherson's notice.

MUSIC AND DRAMA

"THE PLUNDERER."

In no picture shown in the city so far has William Farnum appeared to such advantage as in "The Plunderer," which is being shown at the Grand. The part which he plays, the protector and friend of Dick Townshend, who has recently fallen heir to a mine, was apparently created for him, requiring, as it does, a man of compelling personality and of giant strength. In the story Bill Mathews (William Farnum) and Dick Townshend set out to work the Townshend Mine, and find that almost insurmountable difficulties await both in the enmity of a neighbouring mineowner, who subsequently proves to be tapping their mine, and in the means the mineowner's superintendent uses to even up his hatred for Mathews. Everything ends happily, however, the mineowner making restitution for the ore he has stolen and sanctioning the marriage of his daughter to Townshend.

A Sunshine comedy, which also appears on the programme, sustains the reputation such comedies have created, and embodies a love story of a college girl whose lover is aces with her and deuces with her father, and a band of beautiful Annette Kellermans who are interrupted in their morning dip by a grizzly bear.

HAVE BEGUN WORK ON $20,000 FACTORY

TORONTO COMPANY FIGHTING WINTER CONDITIONS AT ALADDIN GROUNDS.

The Dickie Construction Company of Toronto, who have the contract for the erection of the Aladdin Company's factory are contending with midwinter conditions in their preparatory work.

Sunday's gale filled with snow the excavations that had been made parallel with the Monaghan road. From information received from other tenderers it was learned that the contract calls for a building 100 feet by 200 feet to be erected on nine inch foundation walls, for which part of the trenches had been blasted. The contract price mentioned was approximately $20,000 and this first building is required to be completed by April on a cost-plus basis, with penalties for excess expenditure and delay.

It was stated that this first building will be a one storey structure sheeted inside and out, and that other units will be added to the plant as expansion demands them.

The trial of Warren Hastings, Governor-General of India, lasted from 1786 to 1795.

The cost of establishing the cantonments in the United States during the war ranged from $6,700,000 to $11,300,000 for each camp.

Children Cry for Fletcher's

CASTORIA

Fletcher's Castoria is strictly a remedy for Infants and Children. Foods are specially prepared for babies. A baby's medicine is even more essential for Baby. Remedies primarily prepared for grown-ups are not interchangeable. It was the need of a remedy for the common ailments of Infants and Children that brought Castoria before the public after years of research, and no claim has been made for it that its use for over 30 years has not proven.

What is CASTORIA?

Castoria is a harmless substitute for Castor Oil, Paregoric, Drops and Soothing Syrups. It is pleasant. It contains neither Opium, Morphine nor other narcotic substance. Its age is its guarantee. For more than thirty years it has been in constant use for the relief of Constipation, Flatulency, Wind Colic and Diarrhoea; allaying Feverishness arising therefrom, and by regulating the Stomach and Bowels, aids the assimilation of Food; giving healthy and natural sleep. JOSEPH HARVEY DIED YESTERDAY

WAS A WELL KNOWN RESIDENT OF LAKEFIELD.

LAKEFIELD, Jan. 20.—The funeral took place this afternoon of the late Joseph Harvey, whose death occured yesterday morning. The deceased, who was seventy-four years of age, was born in England, and came to this country in his early youth. For many years he resided on a farm in Burleigh, and while there, helped to promote the establishment of the Holy Trinity Church at Haultain. From Burleigh Mr. Harvey moved to a farm near Young's Point, and about twelve years ago moved to Lakefield. He was twice married. His first wife was Miss Dates, and his second wife, who still survives him, was Miss Minnie Nicholls. Six sons and one daughter are left to mourn his loss. The daughter is Mrs. Allan Church, of South Burleigh. The late Mr. Harvey was a consistent Church worker, and served as Church Warden, both at Holy Trinity Church and at Young's Point. For some years he was superintendent of the Sunday School at St. John's Church, Lakefield.

The other day a man from Havelock came came into the office. He said he had got some of Gallagher's Blood Purifier and Cough Syrup last Fall, and it was the best medicine he had ever used, so hunted us up to get some more. He bought a 50-cent bottle of Cough Syrup and two 25-cent bottles of Kidney Remedy, and was going to get the Havelock merchants to stock the Medicines. Attempt Was Made To Postpone Trials

NEW SURPRISE IN THE TRIAL OF STRIKING STRIKE LEADERS.

THE JURY PANEL

(Special to The Examiner.)

WINNIPEG, Jan. 21.—Sudden attempts by the defence to obtain indefinite postponement of the trials of the seven strike leaders charged with seditious conspiracy, threw a surprise into the Crown camp yesterday afternoon when the case of William Ivens, editor of the Strike Bulletin during the general walk-out of last May and June, came on before Justice Metcalf.

The defence lost the first skirmish when Justice Metcalfe refused to grant a motion for the indefinite postponement based on the grounds that publication of the Court decisions in the Winnipeg dailies of 14th and 15 January in connection with the application for a new trial on behalf of R. B. Russell, had so prejudiced the minds of the public that a fair trial would be impossible at the present time.

Immediately after the Court had refused to grant the motion, E. J. McMurray brought forward a challenge against the entire array of jurors, which, if followed, would effectively bar the trial of the case, at least until a new panel could be obtained.

The effort of the counsel for the defence to induce the Court that the trial should be put over for an indefinite period, drew considerable comment from Justice Metcalfe, who finally disposed of the matter in two words, "No good."

Ward Holland, counsel for the defence, took particular exception to the published report of a statement by Chief Justice Perdue, of the Court of Appeals, which credited him with saying, "No doubt the jury was right in saying that Russell was guilty, whether he escaped on technicality. What was a fact was a revolutionary conspiracy." Holland argued that the edition appears here, having for its object the displacement of the present Government by the Soviet form which would be linked up with the Bolsheviks of Russia. From evidence it appears the plan was to do away with all monarchs, our own included. Metcalfe said he might have given the motion less short shrift had the defence announced its intention of bringing it in time to have stopped the jury panel and witnesses from being brought into Court.

Wants to be Shown.

"If what the newspapers reported had been wrong," he said, "it would have ben different, but this was a Court decision. Courts have to hand down judgments. Judgments are public property." Holland argued that no matter how correct the reports may have been, the conditions would prevent a fair trial, "and if these men can't be given a fair trial—British trial—then they should not be tred at all," Holland declared.

"Well, if you'll show me some cases where it is held that man should not be tried because his co-conspirator has been found guilty," said Metcalfe, "I'll listen to you."

"It's going to be a matter of general knowledge that Russell was found guilty, and these remaining defendants were held on the same indictment."

Two hundred and thirty-one jurors were on hand when the roll was called at the opening of the Assizes.

From these men the jury which will render the decision in the case against Ivens will be selected.

A. J. Andrews, K.C., special Crown persecutor, informed the defence that the Crown would move for the privilege of "standing-aside" the entire panel. Under ordinary conditions the Crown would have the right to accept only 45 jurors without challenge.

One hundred and fifty witnesses have been called in connection with case. Andrews told the Court.

WARSAW HAS FIVE CASES OF SMALLPOX

The first cases of smallpox reported from Warsaw were discovered yesterday in the village. There are five cases in all, and Dr. D. Munro, the M.H.O. for Warsaw, has quarantined them to guard against the spreading of the disease. No cases of sleeping sickness or influenza ave come to light in the village yet.

"BULL RINGS" ARE TO BE ELIMINATED

RESTRICTIONS PLACED ON HORSE RACING IN CANADA.

(Special to The Examiner.)

OTTAWA, Jan. 21.—Racing will be resumed in Canada in the spring, according to excellent authority, and Dr. Rutherford, in his forthcoming report, will embody suggestions in his recommendations which will eliminate the half-mile tracks. The death knell of the half-mile "bull rings" will be sounded.

It is also further stated that there will be a recommendation that no tracks less than a mile in circumference will be allowed to operate, and the tracks will be confined to one in each city. The oldest tracks will, under this ruling, get the preference—Woodbine in Toronto, Blue Bonnets in Montreal, Connaught Park in Ottawa, and the Windsor, Hamilton, and Fort Erie tracks will be retained.

Eighty-two days' racing will be run on the Canadian circuit.

By these drastic changes, it is hoped to eliminate the American interests, which are alleged to have controlled many of the new tracks.

It will be recalled that W. E. Raney, K.C., who conducted the case for the Crown in the recent inquiry, dealt at length with the alleged connection of American gamblers with Canadian tracks. It was shown in the inquiry that these were confined largely to the minor tracks.

It is also stated that a recommendation will be made to the clubs to drop their mutual percentage from five to two per cent.

SIR JAMES GRANT IS SERIOUSLY ILL

FAMOUS PHYSICIAN FELL AND FRACTURED HIS HIP.

(Special to the Examiner)

OTTAWA, Jan. 21.—Sir James A. Grant is at present in a dangerous condition at St. Luke's Hospital suffering from a fractured hip which he sustained when he fell on Sparks street in front of the Russell Hotel at three o'clock yesterday afternoon. He is reported to be resting comfortably but his injuries are regarded as dangerous considering his advanced age. Sir James is 89 years old. Although Sir James took an active part in the politics of Canada he is better known as a physician of worthy distinction. He is one of the few surviving members of the first Canadian Parliament. Sir James was physician to the Governors General of Canada from the time of Lord Monck until 1905. His lecture on "How to live a hundred years" has been highly regarded by the leading medical practitioners. He is also the author of Medical and Hygienic works and is the discoverer of "Abnormal storage of electricity in the human system" and of serum therapy. He advocated electricity for the prolongation of life and attributes his remarkable fitness at his present age to the practice of his teachings.

LABOUR'S RIGHTS

(Special to The Examiner.)

OTTAWA, Jan. 21.—A verbatim copy of the charge of Mr. Justice Metcalfe to the jury in the R. B. Russell case has been asked for by the executive of the Dominion Trades Congress, according to Mr. P. M. Draper, secretary of the Congress.

It is the intention of the executive to carefully study this address to ascertain whether it abridges or interferes with the right of trades unionists to strike. It will be reviewed by the executive, who will then take whatever steps is deemed advisable to protect those in the affiliated membership of the Dominion Trades Congress, Mr. Draper stated. Mr. Draper said that the executive had not been notified yet of the decision of the local labour bodies in Winnipeg to urge the calling of a special meeting of the Congress for the purpose of amending the present labour laws regarding strikes, which action arose out of the charge of Mr. Justice Metcalfe to the jury in the Russell case. Whether such action would be taken he could not say.

"No matter what action the Winnipeg labour bodies took," said Mr. Draper, "we intend going over the points raised by Justice Metcalfe in his charge to the jury to definitely assure ourselves that nothing in contravention of the rights of organized labour is contained therein."

TYRONE POWER TO VISIT PETERBORO

FAMOUS STAR WILL BE SEEN IN "THE SERVANT IN THE HOUSE."

The theatre goers of Peterboro are in for a treat when Tyrone Power, who is one of the most famous actors on the American stage, appears in the Grand Opera House in the play "The Servant in the House" on March 8th next. Mr. Power is a servant in the house in a novelty these days so much so that Mr. Harry Dahn of the Grand opera house, has closed a contract for the well known play of that name in the hope that it will revive some pleasant memories in the households of Peterboro. The big star in this play will be Tyrone Power, whose power as an actor is felt and known from one side of this grey old world to the other.

When Mr. Power in the "Servant in the House," appears in Peterboro on March 8th next, he will be surrounded by a cast of unequalled merit, including many members of the original cast. This is not all. If the theatre goers of Peterboro show any real practical interest in this six-cylinder production more will follow in the following order:

"Martin Harvey."
"Gerald Demaurier."
"Lady Wyndham."
"Robert Lorraine."
"The Maid of the Mountains."
"San Toy."
"Chu Chin Chow."

And last, but by no means least, a revival of the "Geisha."

The Trans-Canada Theatres Limited, of which the Peterboro Grand Opera House is but a link in the chain of theatres stretching from coast to coast, has made arrangements for the output of the largest producers of England and the United States, and it is with this in view that the company has planned to present Tyrone Power in Peterboro, as a means of finding out if the theatre goers of Peterboro are willing to accept and patronize such high-class shows.

POWER TROUBLES ON LINDSAY LINE

THE DIFFICULTY CAUSED A TIE-UP TO PETERBORO.

When interviewed by the Examiner this morning on local power troubles, Mr. H. O. Fisk, manager of the Utilities Commission, said that the trouble had not been caused by anchor ice. He explained clearly that the failure of the power here was due to trouble on the Lindsay part of the line, which runs north from Port Hope to Lindsay. About midway, the line is switched and brought into Peterborough. When the Lindsay trouble occurred, it of course threw the Peterborough line out of commission and a man had to be despatched in a horse and sleight to cut off the Lindsay section.

It is about eight miles to where the switch is and as the roads were all but impassable, it naturally took some time to reach the switch, so yesterday morning the power was off for an hour or so.

To-day the system is working all right, the Lindsay trouble having been repaired.

THE CALL FROM ARMENIA

BREAD AND CLOTHES CHIEF NEEDS OF THE SURVIVING VICTIMS, SAYS DR. C. H. BOYNTON, AFTER AN EXTENSIVE SURVEY OF FAMINE CONDITIONS—NEAR EAST RELIEF SAVES THOUSANDS FROM DEATH.

The total of the contributions received and remitted by The Examiner is $1,001.85. The banks in the city are also receiving contributions, and the amount from Peterborough will be a very creditable one.

"Bread and clothes are the chief needs of the surviving victims of massacre and deportation," says Dr. Charles H. Boynton, who has just returned from an extensive survey of famine conditions in Armenia right up to the foot of Mount Ararat, whose top has in the past four years gazed down upon horrors without parallel even in the many hundreds of years of Turkish domination and misrule. "Shelter," he continues, "comes next, and then education to put the remainder of the Armenian race on its feet and enable the people to maintain themselves without aid as they did before the World War."

TURKS LAY COUNTRY WASTE.

The Turkish forces, in withdrawing from the region of the Caucasus, have taken every bit of food and portable property they could lay hands on. Thus an extra population of more than two hundred thousand refugees has been added to the local community, which would have found it difficult to support itself.

If it were not for the work of the Near East Relief there would be only death in that district. It is these refugees, the men, women, and children, homeless, friendless, ragged and starving, that are the worst problem.

When Dr. Boynton got off the train at Alexandropol the platform was completely covered with men, women, and children of all ages in the saddest plight. There was one group of three small children, one sick, emaciated, and clearly not having long to live, and with their only guardian, a skeleton-like youth of seventeen, their uncle, the only member of their family left alive to care for them.

ONLY FOOD IS GRASS.

He gives a description of another group at "lunch," but what a lunch! They were eating green grass plucked from the field adjoining the station. Grass—and it was all they had to eat, they and hundreds of others in that throng, for the few who had a crust of bread were the hunger aristocrats of the region.

Another terrible sight he witnessed as the train started. Scores of famished, almost naked persons rushed for it in desperation, clinging to the platforms and steps until they were pushed or lashed off by the guards. It was their desperate effort to get somewhere away from where they were, even if conditions would be no better wherever in that starved land the train might take them. It was a hopeless attempt to better themselves, even in the slightest degree, that inspired them.

[illegible] REQUIRED.

These scenes described by an eye-witness, and from an absolutely reliable source. And so The Examiner still sends out its call to the Canadian people to send in their gifts, that such conditions may soon be no more.

PRUDENTIAL EMPLOYEES.

The third day the Armenian Fund opened up, the employees of the Peterborough office of the Prudential Life Insurance Company responded with a donation of $33.00. The following letter accompanied the remittance to Toronto:

The subscribers to this fund, who are employees of the Peterborough office with the exception of Mr. F. E. Kerr, who asked me to forward $5.00 after telling him about what our men had done at the office, are as follows:

Mr. J. I. Allen, $5.00; Mr. R. F. Sedgwick, $1.00; Mr. A. W. Wray, $2.00; Mr. A. Moffatt, $1.00; Mr. J. J. Cocks, $2.00; Mr. W. J. Perry, $5.00; Mr. G. C. Roy, $2.00; Mr. Jas. O'Toole, $2.00; Mr. F. E. Kerr, $5.00; Mr. F. J. Flaherty, $3.00; Mr. W. J. Young, $1.00; Mr. J. I. Fallon, $2.00.—Total, $33.00.

I trust that a quick and ready response may be raised, as it seems impossible that such conditions could exist, while we are living in a land of plenty. We only wish we could send more, but we trust that the amount sent will help some.

I remain, very truly yours, amount sent will help some.—I remain, very truly yours.
J. I. ALLEN, Superintendent.

DISABLED TRANSPORT TOWED BY FREIGHTER

(Canadian Press.)

NEW YORK, Jan. 21.—The transport Powhatan, disabled about seven hundred miles from this port, reported by wireless to-day that an attempted transfer of passengers had to be abandoned on account of heavy seas. The disabled steamer is being towed to Halifax by the freighter Western Comet. The message said the weather conditions were rapidly growing worse.

DOLLAR DAY WAS SUCCESSFUL EVENT

BOTH THE SHOPPER AND MERCHANT SHARED IN THIS SUCCESS.

"It beats any yet," was practically the unanimous opinion of all the merchants to-day in reference to Dollar Day. At the beginning of the day a more or less gloomy atmosphere threatened to overcast the stores, as it was feared that the cold weather might detain most of the shoppers from coming out. However, as the morning wore on, in an effort to defeat the high cost of living, in which Dollar Day always lends a hand, the housekeepers turned out in greater numbers than on any previous day. While some of the merchants contended that the buying was distributed about all sections of the store, the majority stated that the people were going in more for such staples as blankets and household linen.

The millinery parlors throughout the city were unusually active and a large percentage of those who had refrained from buying millinery in the early months of the winter went home happy in the possession of a brand new hat.

TEA FOR PUPILS GEORGE STREET SUNDAY SCHOOL

Seven hundred pupils of the George street Methodist Sunday School were entertained at tea last evening in the Sunday School as a conclusion to the 47th Sunday School anniversary celebration.

The celebration last evening was limited to the serving of a splendid tea, no speakers taking part in the occasion.

RAILWAY STRIKE CONTINUES—TRAINS OPERATED UNDER HEAVY GUARD.

TELEGRAPH NEWS

(Canadian Press.)

PARIS, Jan. 21.—Martial law has been proclaimed in the principal cities of Italy as a result of the railroad strike, says a despatch to the Petit Parisien.

The correspondent says that while Southern Italy is not so badly affected, Northern and Central Italy are in the grip of a general railway strike.

The Government was able to run a few trains over the principal lines yesterday, heavily guarded by troops armed with machine guns.

The streets of the principal cities are now patrolled by cavalry, and are under the guns of the artillery units.

Theatres and places of business are ordered to close at eight p.m.

Relative calm prevailed yesterday. The only disorders were reported from Genoa, where shots were fired at a train.

WILL WITHDRAW TROOPS.

(Canadian Press.)

TOKIO, Jan. 21.—Japan's object in agreeing to co-operate with the United States in supporting the Czecho-Slovak troops in Siberia has been attained, and the withdrawal of Japanese troops from that country will follow, it was decided at a meeting of the Advisory Diplomatic Council yesterday, according to newspapers here.

It was asserted at the meeting, it is said, that Japan has no territorial ambitions in Siberia.

Troops now being sent there are merely to replace losses.

It was declared that the fundamental policies will not be affected by this step.

The Council is reported to have endorsed the Cabinet's decision not to interfere further in Siberian internal affairs, and to adhere strictly to the Government's declaration when it [illegible] in 1918.

INJURED WERE BROUGHT HERE LAST EVENING

The G.T.R. coached that were derailed yesterday at Godolphin, have been re-railed and the track repaired and train service resumed as usual. Two wreckers, one from Belleville and one from Lindsay, were working there all day and some time last night, and the two coaches were replaced on the track.

The injured were brought to the city last night on the 8.26 and were removed to their homes. Mr. J. Macdonald was the most severely injured, having five ribs broken, and to-day he is suffering greatly from his injuries. Mr. John Cameron was badly shaken up, but is able to be at work again, and Mr. P. Blain has also recovered and has continued his business trip. The name of Mr. Austin Cranfield was omitted from the list of injured yesterday. Mr. Cranfield was badly shaken up and a small bone in his leg was broken. To-day is condition is somewhat improved and he will be around again in a few days.

The two railway men were badly shaken up, and although able to continue with their train, are to-day laid up.

Mr. MacNab, local G. T. R. agent, to-day remarked on the fact that the tracks were practically undamaged, the cars appearing to have been lifted bodily off, and expressed himself very thankful that no fatalities had occurred.

"Have you heard what caused the derailment?" he was asked. "No, not yet."

CLAIMS TREATY IS UNACCEPTABLE

(United Press.)

LONDON, Jan. 21.— The Hungarian peace treaty is unacceptable, Count Apponyi, head of the Hungarian peace delegation, told the National Assembly in Budapest Wednesday, according to delayed despatches. Apponyi said he was aware of the dangerous consequences if Hungary refuses the treaty, but, he added, to accept was to commit suicide before before being killed.

CRITICISM OF THE NAVY

REAR ADMIRAL W. S. SIMMS CLAIMS THE DIFFICULTIES ARE WITH THE ADMINISTRATION.

HONEST DUTY

(United Press.)

NEW YORK, Jan. 21.—Rear-Admiral William S. Sims, the storm centre of the present naval inquiry at Washington, at a dinner for the Army and Naval Club here last night, pleaded for the unmuzzling of the American navy officers during peace time.

He declared this was necessary, that their criticisms of the administration of the "first line of defence" might tend to its improvement.

Sims declared that he had only done his honest duty as an American naval officer in expressing his views upon the awards of medals and the general conduct of the naval administration.

He declared several times "that the Navy was entirely solid" and "that it was all right," adding that "the difficulties were administrative and not operative."

...ERAL BUSINESS DISCUSSED AT VETERANS' MEETING LAST NIGHT

ONE HUNDRED DOLLARS VOTED TO THE ARMENIAN FUND—APPLICATION FOR MEMBERSHIP.

The regular semi-monthly meeting of the G.W.V.A. was held in their rooms last night. The attendance was not large owing probably to the cold weather.

After the roll call of officers Comrade Allin was appointed Sergeant-at-arms. The minutes of the last meeting held on January 5th, were read by Secretary Whatley, and carried.

Two applications for membership were received by Secretary Whatley, from T. Littlefair and J. F Daly. Both applications were accepted.

Neither of the new members were present so their initiation had to be postponed.

The correspondence was read by the secretary at the conclusion of which the reports of committees were called for by President Muir.

The only committee report given was that of the Social Committee of which Comrade Primeau is the chairman. Comrade Primeau said that the dance of last Thursday netted $26.27, which was a very good showing. He said that more of the veterans should turn out to these dances, and incidentally to the regular meeting.

President Muir re-read the correspondence. One interesting letter was read from the Governor-General's secretary informing them that their efforts on the part of Sam Zaluski had been rewarded and Zaluski's sentence had been commuted by the Governor General to life imprisonment.

A telegram received by Secretary Whatley referring to a circus, was explained by the secretary. A circus was started some time ago in Toronto composed of 98% of war veterans and has met with marked success wherever it has appeared. It is run on a fifty-fifty basis; that is for the war veterans allowing them to use their name they split the proceeds, which in some places have amounted to four and five thousand dollars. They wish to appear in this city in the armouries and will carry out their agreement with the G.W.V.A. as elsewhere and will ask them to assume no responsibility for the success of the circus.

It was moved and carried that the matter be left over to the Social Committee with power to act.

A letter was read from the 21st Battalion Club thanking the Association for the help and cooperation it had given them.

A letter was received from the local Musicians' Union objecting to the playing of outside musicians at dances and asked the War Veterans to vote down outside orchestras whenever they get the opportunity.

This brought up much discussion, and it was moved and carried that the matter be left in the hands of the Entertainment Committee

President Muir appointed three members to draw up a resolution that the Peterboro branch of the G.W.V.A. was opposed to compulsory service, and to have the resolution brought up at the next meeting for endorsation.

A motion brought in that the semi-monthly meetings be adjourned at 10 p.m. caused much comment.

Comrade Clancy moved an amendment that the semi-monthly meetings be adjourned only when all the business was completed.

An amendment to this amendment was brought in that if there was important business on hand the president could declare the meeting open after ten.

This point of course brought up a great deal of discussion. Some of the members favoring the first and others the second suggestion.

Comrade Muir spoke on the long-drawn-out meetings. "There are too many petty affairs brought up," said the president. "If we went through with the business faster we could get out easily by ten o'clock."

Comrade Clancy's amendment carried, the motion and amendment to the amendment being defeated.

President Muir near the completion of the business referred to the Armenian fund and their great need for assistance. "It is a noble cause," said the president. "We who were in France saw suffering and suffered but none of us ever suffered like these poor people who for years have been oppressed by the Turks. I think that we should make some grant to them.

It was moved and seconded that $100 be given to the fund and that a subscription list be opened at the G. W. V. A.

Secretary Whatley suggested that a special meeting should be called, and all members should be present before the delegates leave for the convention in Montreal.

The President briefly referred to the Provincial Convention to be held here in the spring and spoke of how it was up to Peterboro to give the delegates a good time. "Peterboro has always been the first branch in Canada and it is up to us to show the delegates that we can outdo Windsor. The Great War Veterans have put Peterboro on the map and have had more to do with it than any other organization, and let us keep it there."

The meeting closed about 10.20 with the singing of the National Anthem.

BAD LUCK TO DIE ON FRIDAY.

Even Superstitious About a Friday Death Sentence.

NEW YORK.— Frank Kelly, the negro, convicted of murdering Catherine Dunn, in a letter, written in Raymond street jail, where he is awaiting sentence which is to be pronounced, asked Edward J. Reilly, his counsel, to do all in his power to have sentence imposed on any day other than Friday. In the letter Kelly said: "Will you please speak to the Judge and the District Attorney and ask them to put off my day to be sentenced to any day except Friday. My belief is that Friday is a hoodoo day, bad luck to try to do anything. I believe that if I am sentenced on Friday I will have bad luck in my appeal and with my case altogether. I would rather try to kill myself than be sentenced on that day."

POLES OFF THE MAIN STREET.

The old G. N. W. Telegraph poles have all been removed from our front street, which adds very much to the appearance. The next move should be to have the telephone wires either put under ground or on the back street. When they are renewed which will be in a year or two, this modern way of having it done should be insisted on and no further erection of polls on the front street allowed.—Millbrook Reporter.

Combing Won't Rid Hair Of Dandruff

The only sure way to get rid of dandruff is to dissolve it, then you destroy it entirely. To do this get about four ounces of ordinary liquid arvon; apply it at night when retiring; use enough to moisten the scalp and rub it in gently with the finger tips.

Do this to-night, and by morning, most if not all, of your dandruff will be gone and three or four more applications will completely dissolve and entirely destroy every single sign and trace of it, no matter how much dandruff you may have.

You will find, too, that all itching and digging of the scalp will stop at once, and your hair will be fluffy, lustrous, glossy, silky and soft, and look and feel a hundred times better

You can get liquid arvon at any drug store. It is inexpensive and never fails to do the work.

92 YEARS IN ONE HOUSE

LONDON, Eng. — Having spent the 92 years of her life in the house in which she was born, Ann Gabriel, a widow, has just died. The same house had been tenanted by members of her family for two centuries, and one of them preserves a receipt for rent dated 1791.

Tells How to Stop a Bad Cough

Surprising results from this famous old home-made syrup. Easily prepared and costs little.

If you have a severe cough or chest cold accompanied with soreness, throat tickle, hoarseness, or difficult breathing, or if your child wakes up during the night with croup and you want quick help, try this reliable old home-made cough remedy. Any druggist can supply you with 2½ ounces of Pinex (50 cents worth). Pour this into a 16-oz. bottle and fill the bottle with plain granulated sugar syrup. Or you can use clarified molasses, honey, or corn syrup, instead of sugar syrup, if desired. This recipe makes 16 ounces of really remarkable cough remedy. It tastes good, and in spite of its low cost, it can be depended upon to give quick and lasting relief.

You can feel this take hold of a cough in a way that means business. It loosens and raises the phlegm, stops throat tickle and soothes and heals the irritated membranes that line the throat and bronchial tubes with such promptness, ease and certainty that it is really astonishing.

Pinex is a special and highly concentrated compound of genuine Norway pine extract, and is probably the best known means of overcoming severe coughs, throat and chest colds.

There are many worthless imitations of this mixture. To avoid disappointment, ask for "2½ ounces of Pinex" with full directions and don't accept anything else. Guaranteed to give absolute satisfaction or money promptly refunded. The Pinex Co., Toronto, Ont.

FUNERALS COME HIGH.

LONDON, Eng.—Judge Ivor Brown made strong comments on the extravagance to which people went in funerals in a case at the Newtown County Court. He was told that the funeral expenses of a labourer were $100 and that a coffin only, in another case, had cost $120, and remarked, "It is positively wicked, and the Profiteering Act should apply."

The reports of the officers for the past year were very encouraging, and the prospects for the coming year are bright. The Entertainment Committee, with Bro. Webb as chairman and Bro. H. Wilford as secretary, are planning several social evenings to be held during the winter months. The next one will be held on Friday, 30th January, when the Daughters of England and the Sons of England will unite for a social evening.

The financial statement showed that the Lodge was beginning to recover after the heavy expenditures of the past five year, and it is expected that very soon the Lodge will be in the same strong position financially as it was before the War. The Lodge during the past five years has kept in good standing the 54 members who had enlisted, paid all dues, and also paid out $1,400.00 to the beneficiaries of the four members who laid down their lives in the Great War. The members of Lansdowne Lodge will never forget Bro. F. A. Thomas, Bro. R. Gifford, Bro. J. Chandler, and Bro. G. Sadler, the four members who gave their all in proving that they were worthy Sons of England.

INVENTS PLANE TO RISE VERTICALLY

AUSTRALIAN DEMONSTRATES INVENTION SUCCESSFULLY—SEEKS FRENCH PRIZE.

NEW YORK, Jan. 20.—An airplane which rises vertically in the air, sustaining itself by rapidly revolving horizontal propellers, was demonstrated here by its inventor, William J. Beach, an Australian, in his workshop.

Mr. Beach, who has been flying since 1908, and has designed machines on more conventional lines, believes that his machine, when built in normal proportions, stands a chance of winning the prize of 100,000 francs offered by M. Michelin, through the Aero Club of France, for the first machine of this type which shows itself capable of rising vertically from a space about the size of a small roof. The principal advantage of this type of machine is that it can land in a small space, while an airplane of the ordinary type requires a landing field.

Demonstration Successful.

A model shaped much like the present type of plane, about two feet long and weighing two pounds, lifted itself directly from a drafting board. Cole Younger, chairman of a special committee of the American Flying Club, appointed to examine the invention, was the first to hold the machine and note that its two propellers, mounted on each side of the nacelle in the usual place for wings, actually lifted it from the ground.

The governing principle, which Mr. Beach says is original with him, is in the propeller rotaton. Instead of one motor working directly on the vertical shaft, he has two rotary motors which rotate in a circle beneath the propellers around a circumference almost as large described by the propeller tips.

By removing the motors from the direct centre to a circumference, Mr. Beach says, it is possible to cut down the amount of power necessary to rotate the shaft at great speed. Each propeller has two little motors, driven in the case of the model by compressed air and in practice by gasoline.

BITRO-PHOSPHATE IS GOOD FOR THIN NERVOUS PEOPLE

A PHYSICIAN'S ADVICE.

Frederick S. Kolle, M.D., Editor of New York Physicians' "Who's Who," says that weak, nervous people who want increased weight, strength and nerve-force, should take a 5-grain tablet of Bitro-Phosphate just before or during each meal.

This particular phosphate is the discovery of a famous French scientist, and reports of remarkable results from its use have recently appeared in many medical journals.

If you do not feel well; if you tire easily; do not sleep well, or are too thin; go to any good druggist and get enough Bitro-Phosphate for a two weeks' supply — it costs only fifty cents a week.

Eat less; chew your food thoroughly, and if at the end of a few weeks you do not feel stronger and better than you have for months; if your nerves are not steadier; if you do not sleep better and have more vim, endurance and vitality, your money will be returned, and the Bitro-Phosphate will cost you nothing.

The remainder of the evening was spent in cards and dancing and the happy gathering broke up in the wee small hours, but this wasn't all—one sleigh load upset and others had a hard time finding the road across the ice, owing to the blinding snow storm and severe wind, but through time all arrived home safely.

DON'T WORRY, LIVE LONG.

Columbia Physician Also Urges Moderation in All Things.

NEW YORK—Don't worry and be moderate in all things if you want to five to be 70 or more. This recipe for longevity was given by Dr. George L. Meylan, director of the Columbia University gymnasium, after an investigation of the modes of life of those who live long and those who die "prematurely."

"There is abundant evidence," says Dr. Meylan, "to justify the belief that the average duration of life could be increased from ten to twenty years by the general adoption of the principle, 'moderation in all things.'" Deaths by infectious disease or violence are excepted.

The characteristics of people over 70 years old, Dr. Meylan finds, are that they do not worry, have a happy disposition, and eat, drink, exercise, and enjoy themselves moderately.

Voice Of. The People

To the Editor of The Examiner,—

Sir: It has been my humble wish to do what I could to aid the churches in their mighty effort to throw off materialism, so prominently set forth at present in many ways.

As a contribution to this determined effort to rescue us from the new temptation I ask you to publish the following as an advertisement for one week:

"These five separate communions are of one mind as to their belief in God the Father Almighty, maker of Heaven and Earth, and in Jesus Christ His Son, our Lord. They now declare to their respective constituencies, and also unitedly to the Canadian people that the only effective Method of Making Good Citizens is by urging men to a more faithful practice of Christianity, by inculcating personal faith in Jesus Christ. They insist that there is no other dependable way of correcting evil tendencies in individual and national life. Signed by the United National Campaign representing the simultaneous but independent Forward Movements of the Anglican, Baptist, Congregational, Methodist and Presbyterian Communions of Canada."

THE OLD FASHIONED FAITH.

I am somewhat old fashioned I know
When it comes to religion and God
Many think I am painfully slow
Since I walk where my father's have trod
I believe in Repentence from Sin
And that Jesus within us must dwell
I believe that if Heaven we win
We must flee from the terrors of hell.

I believe that the Bible is true
Tho the critics have torn it apart
All its warnings and miracles too
I do wholly accept with my heart
I believe that the Sabbath was made
To be sacredly kept for the Lord
And when broken for pleasure and trade
We shall miss the Eternal reward.

I believe that our religion must be
Not a cloak for our meanness or shame
But a power from bondage to free
All who trust in that Heavenly name
I am telling the people each day
That the Sinner forever is lost
Wha has failed to accept the true way
Which was opened at infinite cost

ANOTHER EPIDEMIC OF THE SPANISH INFLUENZA

A great many authorities have predicted a return of that terrible plague which swept Canada from one end to the other not long ago and left so many deaths in its wake, and those who did survive were left in a great many cases with some serious after effect such as weak heart, shattered nerves, improvished blood and a general weakened and exhausted condition of the system.

If you are run down, heart not just right, nerves a little shaky, take a few boxes of Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills and fortify your system against this terrible plague.

If you had the "Flu" before and it left you with any bad effect Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills will bring you back to health and strength.

Mrs. C. C. Palmer, Keppel, Sask., writes:—"I wish to inform you of the great good Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills did for me. After a bad attack of the Spanish Influenza my heart and nerves were left in a very bad condition. I got two boxes of your pills and must say they are the best I ever used, and I have taken a great many different kinds I will always keep Heart and Nerve Pills in the house."

Why Women Grow Old More Quickly Than Men

Greater Percentage of Anaemia—Lack of Iron in the Blood—Among Women Makes Them Lose Much of Their Youth, Beauty and Former Attractiveness, And Become Fretful, Nervous and Run-down—

What Women Need Is Not Cosmetics or Stimulating Drugs But Plenty of Pure Red Blood, Rich in Iron

Physician Explains How Organic Iron—Nuxated Iron, Enriches The Blood, Strengthens The Nerves, Builds Up Physical Power and Often Makes Weak, Pale Careworn Women Look and Feel Years Younger.

Look for the woman who appears younger than a man of the same age and you will find the exception to that vast majority upon whom anaemia—lack of iron in the blood has fastened its grip and is gradually sapping the health, vitality and beauty which every woman so longs to retain. In most cases men safeguard their health better than women by eating coarser foods, being more out-of-doors and leading more active lives, thereby keeping their blood richer in iron and their bodies in better physical condition. The very moment a woman allows herself to become weak, nervous and run-down she is placing a drain upon her whole system which overtaxes the power of the blood to renew wasted tissue and keep active the natural life forces of the body. There are thousands of women who are ageing and breaking down at a time when they should be enjoying that perfect bodily health which comes from plenty of iron in the blood, simply because they are not awake to their condition. For want of iron a woman may look and feel haggard and all run-down—while at 50 or 60 with good health and plenty of iron in her blood she may still be young in feeling and so full of life and attractiveness as to defy detection of her real age. But a woman cannot have beautiful rose cheeks or an abundance of strength and endurance without iron, and physicians below have been asked to explain why they prescribe organic iron — Nuxated Iron — to help supply this deficiency and aid in building a race of stronger, healthier women.

Dr. James Francis Sullivan, formerly physician of Bellevue Hospital (Outdoor Dept.), New York, and the Westchester County Hospital says: "Many a woman who is run-down, easily tired out, nervous and irritable, suffers from deficiency and does not know it. I am convinced that there are thousands of such women who, simply by taking Nuxated Iron might readily build up their red corpuscles, increase physical energy, and put themselves into a condition to ward off the influenza and other diseases that are almost continually around us. I consider Nuxated Iron one of the greatest blood and body builders under heat to which I have ever had recourse."

Among other physicians asked for an opinion was Dr. George H. Baker, formerly Physician and Surgeon Monmouth Memorial Hospital, New Jersey, who says: "What women need to put roses in their cheeks and the sparkle of life into their step is not cosmetics or stimulating drugs but plenty of rich pure blood. Without it no woman can do credit to herself or to her work. Iron is one of the greatest of all strength and blood-builders, and I have found nothing in my experience as effective for helping to make strong, healthy, red-blooded women as Nuxated Iron.

If unprepared foods, Nuxated Iron which is prescribed and recommended above by physicians is not a secret remedy but one which is well known to druggists generally, the ethical formula of which is printed in plain English on every package, and which can be purchased by the public at a reasonable cost. It is dispensed in this city by all good druggists.

LOSING OUR EXPERTS.

The number of Canadian Government experts who are being lured out of the Public Service by the higher salaries paid by private companies is attracting considerable attention. Not only have six experts of the Department of Mines been engaged by a petroleum concern in the United States, attracted by a considerable increase in salaries but Dr. McGill, the chief analyst of the Pure Food and Drugs branch of the Department of Public Health is authority for the statement that the branch has only five analysts and chemists on its staff when it should have thirteen. Private firms are offering bigger inducements and in two cases mentioned by Dr. McGill, men who were being paid $1,700 by the Government were engaged by companies who started them at $2,500 and since have raised their salries to $5,000. If the Government Service is not to suffer the good men on the staffs will have to be paid in proportion to their ability, if experts are worth big sums to manufacturers they should be of corresponding value to the country.

THE VALUE OF A NEWSPAPER.

For the past three days the people of Winnipeg have been without daily newspapers owing to a famine in news print. The absence of their favourite sheets has already taught the public to appreciate how big a part the newspapers play in their daily life. Naturally when there is no authenic method of distributing news the city has been flooded with foundationless rumours of happenings in the world at large. Stories that lose nothing in vividness as they pass from one to another have been circulated and as a result the telephones of the newspaper offices have been kept constantly busy by citizens anxious to ascertain the truth about some of the stories that spread through the city. The experience of Winnipeg calls attention to the value of the daily newspapers in keeping its readers informed of the real facts of what is occuring in the world. The service that is given in this respect is not understood until a crisis like that in Winnipeg shows how effective is the work of the newspapers in the prevention of wild rumours and false reports that would be daily features were it not for the corrective influence of the press. Again the absence of the newspapers has had a discouraging effect upon business, and upon every other line of the city's activity. Three newspaperless days have been enough to give Winnipeg people a much higher opinion of the press than they have hitherto entertained.

THE VETERANS KNOW.

Returned soldiers know what war means not only to the fighting forces but to the women and children of a devasted country. They saw enough of the suffering of refugees in Belgium and France to be able to appreciate the terrible conditions existing among the Armenians. The generous action of the Peterboro branch of the Great War Veterans' Association in passing a grant of $100 to the Armenian Relief Fund is therefore significant and should be an incentive to other citizens to do what they can to help save some of the victims who are threatened with death by starvation. Not only have the Veterans made a donation of $100 from the Association's Funds but a subscription list will be opened at G. W.V.A. headquarters so that individual members who are in a position to help will have a chance to do so. The action of the G.W.V.A. in taking this big share in helping to pile up an adequate subscription from Peterboro is thoroughly appreciated and the Examiner on behalf of the Armenian Relief Fund asks the Association to accept the sincere thanks of those who are working to help to the helpless women and children of Armenia. The subscription list at the Examiner Office is being kept open to allow those who have not made their donations a chance to subscribe. Already the subscriptions received by the Examiner run into a four figure total.

OFFICIAL SANCTION.

In Hamilton the price of bread has not been increased. It is still selling at 11 cents for the pound-and-a-half loaf. Some days ago representative bakers of this city said they saw no reason why there should be any increase in the near future.

However, the board of commerce assumes to know better. It has just made public announcement that, in view of the increase in the price of flour authorized by the Canadian wheat board, "this increased cost of flour will necessitate an increase in the cost of bread of about one cent and a quarter per pound-and-a-half loaf, so that where bakers were selling at eleven cents per loaf they would be justified in advancing the price to, say, twelve and a half cents per loaf." And the board of commerce is considerate and sympathetic enough to add this comment: "While this increase is to be regretted from the standpoint of the consumer, the public must bear it."

It's a rather odd situation. Hamilton bakers, desiring to be fair to their customers, say they have no intention to raise the price of bread, and along comes the board of commerce and tells them that they ought to raise their price a cent and a half per small loaf and thus make "the public" bear the enchanced cost of flour. There is a board for bakers to cheer for!

As a matter of fact it is a board for almost all producers to cheer for. Since it was instituted its achievements have been mainly in the nature of sanctioning price increases already made. Now it appears to be seized with a desire to spur on producers to increase prices—for, as it kindly says, "the public must bear it."

Yes, we suppose the public must bear it; but as for the board of commerce, it is question if the public must bear with it. Parliament will soon be in session, and it is not improbable that some members of an inquisitive frame of mind will insist upon being informed what practcal good is achieved by a board of highly paid officials whose main function seems to be to O.K. every boost that is made in the price of necessities.

As for the increase in the price of bread, it is justified, as we have seen, by the increased cost of flour. The increase in the price of flour is justified by the increase in the cost of wheat. The increase in the price of wheat is justified by the impressive fact that the farmers want more money.—Hamilton Herald.

After beating Peterboro in checkers and hockey Lindsay added insult to injury by swamping the Peterboro Curlers. What is the Board of Trade going to do about it?

The weatherman's bulletin yesterday announced that the weather would turn very cold again to-day. Did he think yesterday was warm?

There seems to be a lesson in economics in the action of the German Government in closing down a locomotive plant at Frankfort because declining output coupled with increasing wages made continued operation unprofitable. There evidently is a point where loafing recoils on the loafer.—The Globe.

Toronto and Guelph are to have daylight saving again this year, irrespective of what the government may do in the matter. After the beneficial results of the innovation during the past two years, Kingston says the Whig would do well to change the clocks during the summer also.

PETERBORO LIBRARY NOTES

By F. M. DELLA FORSE, Librarian.

This article is headed "Library Notes," because it is going to deal with more than the mere call to the reader to persue certain books. First and foremost it is going to take the form of a short sermonette on the subject of thieving and mutilation of periodicals. During the last three weeks there have been three distinct cases of theft and mutilation in our Library. A copy of the Woman's Home Companion has had the whole middle portion torn bodily out and a copy of Elite has been stolen, whilst, on the Men's side a short poem has been clipped from a recent issue of the Canadian Bookman. There are certain misguided souls who look upon such acts as "smart" and think that because such misdemeanours are common in all libraries, they bear the hall-mark of a prerogative and may be smiled at and condoned. Such individuals seem to forget that "smartness" does not usually imply the possession of an ample supply of honesty. They seem to forget also if they ever were aware of the fact, that in being given all the advantages and facilities of a Free Library they are being treated first and foremost as ladies and gentlemen. No watch is set on their movements and they are trusted just in the same way as guests are trusted in a private house. They are given and given gladly, the full use of the house on the assumption that they are above walking off with the spoons or slashing their host's collection of books and prints with knives or scissors. It is pitiful to know that the hospitality that the city metes out to its inhabitants can be foully abused by even one individual. When one comes to think of it, it shows a depth of depravity and meanness beyond that of a burglar or a footpad. In the latter case the robber carries his life in his hand, where as in the former, the culprit can pursue his or her vile calling in almost perfect immunity. The Library authorities are helpless to prevent depredations of this kind. All that they can rely upon is the good will of such of Library patrons who detest such acts in assisting them in the two ways possible either in pointing out any suspicious circumstance that may come to their notice or in notifying any of the staff on duty of the mutilation of papers and periodicals as soon they discover it. It is needless to add that an adequate punishment will be handed out to the first one man or woman, found guilty of such offences. And now to other matters.

The test of time.

Walking along the shelves a few days ago, I came across the name of A. M. Broadley. To the present generation he would be almost unknown, but in his day he was a well-known figure, in England, for besides being a lawyer of high standing he was a distinguished writer and collector of articles of vertu. For many years he was legal adviser to the Bey of Tunis, and was instructed by the British Government to take the leading part in the defence of Arabi Pasha when that historic figure was placed on trial for the rebellion in Egypt. Mr. Broadley had perhaps, the finest collection in existence of pictures, portraits and caricatures of Napoleon the Great. He has written a book about him and also in conjunction with Mr. Barttelot, entitled "Nelson's Hardy", which is in the Library

Mr. Broadley was the man who unfortunately for the British was instrumental in introducing Mr. Ernest Terah Hooley to influential financial men in England. It will be probably be remembered by many how wide a swath Mr. Hooley cut in that country in the fields of frenzied finance some years ago.

For those interested in psychic phenomena, most fascinating reading may be found in a book by F. Bligh Bond, entitled "The Gate of Remembrance", Mr. Bond, was, for many years architect for the diocese of Bath and Wells, and whilst acting in that capacity had under his supervision the ruins of Glastonbury Abbey. The remains of the Abbey offered an inviting field for research along psychic lines, a subject in which he had long been interested, and the result of the investigations of himself and his friend, John Alleyn is embodied in this book. It is sufficient to say that he claims to have discovered by means of automatic writing the site of the long-lost Edgar Chapel. Not only did the two friends discover this, but they found through the same agency, that the proportions of the building were, exactly the same as mentioned by those with whom they had been in communication. The book has apparently stood the test of the most rigid examination by the keenest minds in England. Sir Conan Doyle has referred to it in glowing terms as a most remarkable exposition of the fact that unseen forces in the spirit world are within our hail and can be communicated with, and at more than one Synod it has been made the subject of serious comment.

Legend and Story.

For those who know Glastonbury and the region round about the book must possess additional interest. It is a place famed in legend and story. It was to Glastonbury that Joseph of Arimathea, according to tradition, bore the Holy Grail, and it was there also according to the same legend, that he planted his pilgrim's staff which took root and blossomed every year until an unbelieving Puritan, in the time of the religious upheaval in England, cut it down. But there are additional reasons for the interest that anything connected with Glastonbury must awaken in people's minds. It is situated in that wonderful Vale of Avalon, in which ancient legends say dwelt the mighty smith who forged King Arthur's sword Excalibur. It is the centre of all the stories connected with the doings of the Knights of the Round Table. But if there was nothing else to make Glastonbury dear to the hearts of all English-speaking people, the fact that its abbey was the "one church of the first rank in England which stood as a memorial of British days, the only one which had lived unscathed through the storm of English conquest", would be enough to do so.

ETHER HIGHBALL NOW "VERBOTEN" IN MAINE

LEWISTON, Maine. — "Have an ether highball" is the newest invitation among Maine "wets." The ether highball is a mixture of ether and alcohol—about one part ether and two parts alcohol. Those who have experimented with it assert that it has an "elevating" effect.

While the stuff is taken as mixed, many prefer to heat the mixtures to a temperature where the ether evaporates ,after which the alcohol is diluted with water on a 50-50 basis thereby becoming the good old-time "split" of Maine fame.

This concoction is put up in ounce and a half and three ounce bottles under the name "Inhalent," which enabled it to get by for some time, but now the officers have been seizing the stuff and the courts to condemn it as an intoxicant.

Insure Better Belt Traction

The adhesion of a belt on a Dodge Wood-Split Pulley is greater than the adhesion on a metal pulley of equal belt tension. The reason is that there is less belt slippage over the wooden surface than over the metal surface.

Then there also is less weight friction because the Dodge Wood-Split Pulley is so much lighter and so much better balanced. It may be run at high speeds without bursting.

The interchangeable bushing system makes it adaptable to any standard shafting.

It is a mighty good all-round standard service pulley that will meet the demands of all ordinary—and most extraordinary—shop practice. In addition to which it costs less to buy.

Try a few Dodge Wood-Split Pulleys in your plant. They will justify your investment.

SANDRA THE JEALOUS

BY JANE PHELPS

SANDRA IS RECEIVED BY EVERETT'S FRIENDS:

CHAPTER XXV.

I never had been so bored in my life as I was at that dinner. In the first place I didn't understand half the man next to me said. I suppose I might have done better if I had paid attention. But Everett and that woman at the other end of the table were talking so intimately all the time that I kept stealing a glance at them. Everett caught the third and smiled reassuringly. But the next time he caught me looking at them he scowled.

"Mr. Graham is awfully fond of red-headed women." I started. The stage whisper of the woman opposite me had reached me distinctly.

Mr. Leveridge, the heavy man next me whose name suited him so well, laughed a little before he remarked:

"You heard that?"

"Of course, I'm not deaf."

"I hadn't thought of it, but you are exactly the coloring of the first Mrs. Graham. She had just such hair as you have."

The first Mrs. Graham! I suppose they spoke of me as "the second Mrs. Graham!" How flattering to be a man's second choice! I felt like screaming! I hated them all, every single one of these old friends of Everett's, who knew "the first Mrs. Graham," but I especially hated the man next to me, and the handsome woman with whom Everett was talking.

Mr. Leveridge looked at me, then chuckled. I hated him still more when he chuckled.

"Never mind. You are young. He won't get a chance to make it three of a kind."

I suppose he imagined himself cleverly facetious. But I thought him a stupid fool, and pretended not to hear that, or anything else he said to me. I suppose it was childish in me to do so, as I heard his chuckle to himself each time that I ignored him.

That dinner was one long drawn out agony. What people could see in sitting so long, eating and drinking and talking I couldn't see. I hoped they would dance or something afterward. If I had to listen to some other old man or old woman talk I would be wild. That I might also be an uninteresting companion never entered my head—not then.

To my disgust there was no dancing afterward. The women all got up from the table, and left the men drinking liquors and smoking. At home the men and women always left the table at the same time, I thought it awfully foolish for the women to go trailing off into the drawing room alone; and was frightened when I thought I should have to talk to them.

"What beautiful hair you have, Mrs. Graham," Mrs. Curry, the woman whose speech I had overheard at the table said to me. "It is just like the first Mrs. Graham's hair. She was a lovely woman."

"I heard you remark on my hair at dinner," I said coldly; thinking she would be chagrined. But she only laughed.

"It is very unusual that a man marries two women of the same coloring, therefore noticeable. You wear sapphire too. Another point of similarity. She wore a great deal of that color, and had the most gorgeous jewels; sapphires, to wear with it."

Just then some women came up and spoke to her, and she said no more. Perhaps she would have asked me if I had sapphires also; it was dreadful to have the "first Mrs. Graham" constantly thrust at me. And I could say nothing to Everett about it because he had forbidden me to mention her. I wished he would forbid also his friends to mention her.

By and by the men came strolling in. Then cards were brought out and two tables made up. The rest preferred to talk. I like to play, but as no one suggested that I do so, I could not very well offer. The next hour dragged unmercifully. Everett was playing partners with the same woman he took in to dinner. They were winning, and were both laughing and talking as if they were having the best time ever, while I was being bored to death by that same Mr. Leveridge, who sat next me at dinner.

No one ever welcomed a departure more than did I that night.

"I should have died if that old Mr. Leveridge had talked to me any longer!" I said to Everett when he asked me if I had enjoyed myself.

He laughed, and said:

"You must not call him 'old'; it might hurt my feelings. He is just my age," but he said it so kindly I was emboldened to reply:

"He's an old bore anyway. Do I have to go to many of those dinners, Everett?"

"No—you aren't absolutely obliged to go. But as I enjoy them, and it would look strange if I did not take you, I hope you will be contented to go for my sake."

I said no more, although I was wild to tell him that I didn't care to hear about "the first Mrs. Graham," or to be told my hair was like hers. I should have liked also to have repeated Mr. Leveridge's facetious remark, I was so disgusted I wanted to talk about it. Of course, I couldn't after his prohibition.

"Go right to bed," Everett said when we reached home; "I shall read a while." But I knew by the way he kissed me that I had not displeased him.

MUSIC IN THE HOME

THE MAN WITH THE STICK.

Why Orchestral Effects Depend Upon the Conductor.

At a concert the other day, a small, but very audible voice near us asked, "Mamma, what does that funny man shake that stick for?" And many times have we heard a like query from older lips.

That a body of trained musicians, many with years of experience in their profession, should require some one to make them play in tune is to a novice ,something of an anomaly. Yet the men who can wield the baton are few in number, and upon them depends largely the success or failure of the body of musicians under their control.

Every instrument in the orchestra, every voice in chorus or solo work, has its individual tone, every artiste great or humble his or her particular temperament — all perhaps alike in just one point, which is that each has a way which he believes is just a little better than any other.

The conductor, however, has a plan of his own which may not at all resemble those of his satellites, and it is his task to get the very best out of all these elements, and amalgamate them into a harmonious whole, reflecting alike the personality of the leader and the artistry of each individual.

Much orchestral music, especially that of the older composers, conveys no adequate idea of the intention of the composer as to expression or dynamic effects, and in many instances even the tempi are open to question. This is where the labour of the conductor lies, and is the reason why it is said that a certain work is "interpreted" by a leader, which is to say that we are listening to his conception of what the composer intended to say.

In this connection it is a curious fact that many composers are failures with the baton. On the other hand, an able conductor may bring out of a composition even finer results than the composer had thought of originally.

When we attend the concert and see "the man with the stick" gracefully waving it to and fro, we must remember that his work all unseen and unheard, has already been accomplished, and that we are hearing only the finished product.

ANIMALS LOVE MUSIC.

Music is certainly coming into its own, for the reason that in many farm houses they are introducing phonographs to make the hens lay more eggs.

But the latest invention is combination phonograph and milking machine. The milking machine is attached to the cow. As it starts to work the phonograph plays. The quantity as well as the quality of the milk given by the cow under these circumstances is reported to be phenomenal.

This may seem to some grotesque, but that many animals are particularly subject to musical impressions has long been known.

SOUSA HAS NEW BAND IDEA.

Advocates Leagues of Cities to Form Band Circuits.

The idea of co-operation among municipalities for the advancement of band music has just been brought forward by no less an authority than John Philip Sousa. To the many achievements of his famous career as band director and composer, Mr. Sousa, or rather Lieut. Sousa, has now added the distinction of having whipped into shape the mammoth 1500 piece band of the Great Lakes, Illinois, Naval Training Station. His words relating to the future of the American brass band are, therefore, of more than passing importance:

"It has long been a dream of mine," says Mr. Sousa, "and I sincerely hope its fulfillment is near, that our various municipalities co-operate and form band leagues much on the order of baseball leagues common to our country. These leagues could be operated according to geographical position and size of population and sustained by municipal appropriation during the season of outdoor pleasures and entertainments, each band making a circuit of its league cities, playing as the case may be, a week or two in each city, town, or village of its circuit. The public, by this means, would have an opportunity to hear eight, ten, or twelve bands, to note the stimulating effect of novelty in music, personality in conducting, and the best effort in personnel.

Now that so many cities are establishing municipal music commissions and civic music associstons, it is reasonable to believe that progress will be made along the line of combinations among them, and that such ideas as Mr. Sousa's will be sown in favourable soil.

"Gee-Whiz! How it Hurts—a —The Pain in My Feet!"

"Sometimes it is in my arm. Merciful Heaven, how my back hurts in the morning!" It's all due to an overabundance of that poison called uric acid. The kidneys are not able to get rid of it. Such conditions you can readily overcome, and prolong life by taking the advice of Dr. Pierce, which is "Keep the kidneys in good order." "Avoid too much meat, alcohol or tea. Drink plenty of pure water, preferably hot water, before meals, and drive the uric acid out of the system by taking Anuric." This can be obtained at almost any drug store.

Send a bottle of water to the chemist at Dr. Pierce's Invalids' Hotel, Buffalo, N. Y., and you will receive free medical advice as to whether the kidneys are affected. When your kidneys get sluggish and clog, you suffer from backache, sick-headache, dizzy spells, or twinges and pains of lumbago, rheumatism or gravel or clogs in distressful two or three times a night, calls head, before too late. Quit acquire (anti-uric-acid), for it will give new life into your kidneys and your entire system. Ask your nearest druggist for it or send Dr. Pierce ten cents for trial package.

VOICE REFLECTS THE SOUL.

There can be no permanent success in the world of art without a deep soul development. One goes to a concert not so much to be thrilled or startled but to be soothed. An artiste may strike a phenomenal or unusual note which may give a momentary thrill, but which when heard once or twice no longer interests, if that is all the artiste has to contribute to his art. Where, however, there is spiritual and ethical development behind that singing art carries a new message. If a singer, any man for that matter—is kindly, thoughtful and unselfish, it shows in his life and actions, and to an unthought of degree in the quality of his voice, and consequently consciously or unconsciously he draws others to him.

This is a truth which holds absolutely in art. No singer can cherish hatred in his heart and keep it out of his voice, for the voice is the reflection of the soul. As art is indeed the inmost soul of man expressing himself, so art indeed is the clearest revelation of a man and expresses best what he truly is. All the persons in his audience may not get his message the first time nor measure his ability, but sooner or later it penetrates and his hearers are repelled or attracted in proportion to the greatness or smallness of the man.

IRON IN STOMACH.

MONTREAL, Can.— This miscellaneous collection has just been found in the stomach of Charles W. Bruzzell, a prisoner at Deer Island, off New Brunswick, as the result of a complaint that he was suffering from indigestion: A dog chain two feet long; a safety razor blade, nearly whole; a suspender buckle; 175 fragments of glass, hay wire, staples, nails and screws. According to the doctor, Bruzzell had been making the "collection" with suicidal intent since last December.

RAILWAY POSTAL CLERK TESTIFIES

ATTACKS OF BILIOUSNESS AND INDIGESTION SOON AFTER HE TAKES TANLAC.

"Since I started taking Tanlac I have gained ten pounds in weight and my general health is as good as it ever was," said Albert MacKenzie, a railway mail clerk, who resides at 2140 Scarth street, Regina, Sask., recently.

"For some time I have suffered from a severe stomach trouble and frequently would have bad bilious attacks," he continued. "After every meal gas would form and I would bloat something terrible and what little I ate just seemed to form into a solid lump. My appetite was very poor and I had to force down every mouthful I ate. At times I would turn deathly sick and become so dizzy, it was all I could do to keep from falling and spots of different colors would come before my eyes. I was so nervous I could get but little sleep and was so restless I would just roll and toss from one side of the bed to the other all night long, and get up in the mornings feeling miserable.

"I had been reading so much in the newspapers from people who had been benefited by taking Tanlac I decided to try it, and after I had taken two bottles my improvement was simply wonderful, I continued taking it until now I have taken five bottles in all, and I am glad to say my stomach trouble is a thing of the past. My appetite is simply splendid, and I can eat anything I want and all I want without suffering the least bit afterwards. I never have those pains or dizzy spells and my nerves are in such good condition I can sleep all night long without ever waking up once, and always get up feeling greatly refreshed and full of energy. I am surely glad I took Tanlac and I never miss an opportunity to tell others about it."

Tanlac is sold in Peterborough by W. B. Warne Drug Co., Ltd., in Havelock by A. C. Denike, in Lakefield by Tanner Drug Co., Ltd., in Fowlers Corner by W. A. Hunter, in Gelert by A. J. Scott, in Westwood by G. Pringle & Son.

"DEAD" WOMAN SPOKE TO UNDERTAKER

From Newton, King's County, near Sussex, N. B., comes a report, since verified, that on last Saturday, Mrs. Mary E. Mahoney aged ninety years, apparently died. Preparations for burial were under way, when the undertaker's deputy thought he noticed the apparently dead woman move. He could not credit his sense of sight, but next moment she spoke and sat up. She is very weak and there are little hopes that she will live.

WILL OBTAIN VALUATION OF RIVERSIDE PARK PROPERTIES

RAILWAY COMMITTEE UNABLE TO PROCEED WITH STREET RAILWAY EXTENSION UNTIL SIR ADAM BECK RECOVERS—DECLINE TO TOUCH UNION STATION ITEM.

Before accepting the options for the properties comprising the proposed Riverside Park, the Railway and Parks Committee decided last night to obtain an independent valuation of the separate lots. This appraisal will be performed at once as one of the options expires on Feb. 1.

The prices that have been offered the city are as follows: For the Rapid Tool lot, $6,250; Bettis estate, $7,500; Ellis property, $8,000, and the present Riverside Park, $11,000, making a total of $32,750.

Those present were Ald. Gainey, in the chair; Mayor McIntyre, and Ald. Crowe, Whitehouse, Copping and Gordon.

Ald. Crowe regarded $6,250 as too high for the Rapid Tool Company's lot. It was not worth more than $3,500, he believed.

"The price seems pretty high to me," the Mayor remarked.

Ald. Copping said $4,500 would seem high to him for this lot.

City Solicitor Widdifield estimated the cost of expropriation proceedings at several hundred dollars. If this plan were followed the committee should decide upon the highest sum they felt they would pay and submit it to a board of arbitration.

Ald. Crowe argued in favor of securing an independent valuation of the properties as a matter of business and moved to that effect seconded by Ald. Copping.

The Mayor and chairman were authorized to engage the valuators.

Mr. James Finnie and Mr. John T. O'Connell, who estimated the value of the Wilson property for the city's outfall sewage plant, were suggested, and will probably be employed.

Amen to Union Station.

That misty project of a Union Station for Peterboro received a short shrift from the committee.

"Not for me," said Ald. Crowe.

"Leave it to some one getting ready for another election," Ald. Gordon laughed.

The G. T. R. Company wrote that they had been under the impression that their company had given the city ample and satisfactory station facilities and their letter bore the intimation that they had no intention of considering any union proposal.

The Committee unanimously sidestepped this question. Not one member evinced the slightest interest in it, and neither of the railway companies showed any signs of approval.

Accordingly this dream project of "the Greater Peterboro" recurring from time to time these five or six years was erased from the committee's slate, leaving more space and prominence for pressing practical problems.

The Street Railway.

Discussing the question of street railway extensions, Ald. Whitehouse said that the south end of the city had a strong claim for a good service. A large area in the factory district should be accommodated this year if at all possible.

Ald. Gordon referred to the illness of Sir Adam Beck in London, Eng., and advised that the committee wait a month or six weeks in the hope that the Hydro Commissioner would have recovered.

In the meantime the local superintendent, Mr. W. G. Ferguson will be asked for a definite statement in writing what the commission is prepared to do in Peterboro. The extension of the C. G. E. line down Park street to the De Laval factory, and looping with George street, will be strongly urged upon the Hydro Commission, but since the gas plant is involved in the transfer of ownership hitherto proposed, the Committee is forced to defer negotiations until an authoritative offer can be obtained from Sir Adam Beck.

All the members of the committee expressed themselves as determined to execute a deal with the Hydro favorable to the city this year if it is at all possible.

MR. ROLAND DENNE RE-ELECTED PRESIDENT OF THE FAIR BOARD

ANNUAL MEETING HELD THIS AFTERNOON—THE PRESIDENT'S ADDRESS—FINANCIAL STATEMENT.

Mr. Roland Denne was unanimously re-elected President at the annual meeting of the Peterborough Industrial Exhibition in the Board of Trade rooms this afternoon. Mr. Denne objected that he had done his full duty and that some of the other members should assume the responsibility. There were many farmers available for the position, he said, and it was also their turn. The directors refused to listen to Mr. Denne's arguments and he accepted graciously, with a last remark that Harry Webber, C. E. Moore, Reg. Turner or some one of the other members should be appointed.

President R. Denne.

In his address to the directors, Mr. Denne said he had heard that a few of the members were talking of resigning. "This is not the time to leave the ship," he urged. "We need more members, especially from the city."

Mr. Denne reviewed the work done last year, the building of the horse barns, swine pens, and the improvements to the ground.

Mr. Graham, who judged the light horses last year, said he thought he was coming to a country fair. He was greatly surprised by the exhibits and asked not to be invited to judge next year as he intended to make an exhibit. This would mean, Mr. Denne continued, that additional accommodation was absolutely necessary. He hoped that this problem would be fully considered by the directors.

"The citizens and merchants have been very good to us, but we have a lot to do yet. We should not forget that our assets are $17,000, represented by the permanent improvements and buildings we have made to the grounds."

Financial Statement.

The financial statement read by Mr. F. J. A. Hall, showed receipts of $24,122.17, of which $5,500 was a bank loan. The expenditures totalled $23,371.04, leaving $551.13 balance.

Directors' Reports.

Mr. C. G. Graham, reporting as a director of the light horses, suggested that the saddle class for returned soldiers be discontinued this year, as it did not attract the number of entries that had been expected. The farmers carriage class should be advertised. It was omitted last year and was the subject of some complaint from country exhibitors.

"There wasn't a complaint about the vegetables," said Mr. Frank Kitney. "We were a little crowded, but the exhibits were all good."

Mr. Denne remarked that perhaps the merchants would build their own display pavilion, and leave the present exhibits building for the roots and other classes.

"If we hope to get a winter show here we must have the accommodation," Mr. Denne added.

Mr. Tom Brown expressed the opinion that the daylight fireworks had not been successful. More telephones were needed and there should be a strict understanding about the time the exhibitors should leave the grounds.

No, Stallion Show.

Mr. Brown moved, seconded by W. J. Cox, that a spring seed and stallion show be not held this year.

It was decided to continue the field crop competition for wheat and oats.

Mr. Cox commented that this competition could not be regarded a success unless a comparatively large number of farmers participated.

To promote interest among the farmers in the field crop contest a committee was appointed, composed of Mr. W. Roseborough of Smith, H. G. Webber, North Monaghan, R. B. Rogers of Douro, R. Granby of Cavan, and John Gillespie of Otonabee. Fields of grain must be of not less than five acres.

Mr. Webber moved, seconded by Mr. Kitney, that the Board engage the judges instead of accepting those provided by the Department of Agriculture.

Poultry Association.

J. W. Dickinson and Joseph Kelly were received as directors representing the Poultry Association.

"I think the Poultry Association has done the right thing," Mr. Brown remarked.

"Why not go a step further and combine the two," Mr. J. W. Fraser suggested.

Mr. Fred Holmes approved this idea but explained that the Fair was held during the season.

No action was taken, mainly for the reason that while separate, two grants were received, whereas if the organizations were amalgamated, one of the grants from the government would be lost.

1st Vice-President—Reg. H. Turner
2nd Vice-President—W. J. Cox.
Secretary—F. J. A. Hall.

The directors decided to separate the two offices of secretary and treasurer, and increased Mr. Fred Hall's salary as secretary from $125 to $200 a year. The appointment of a treasurer was referred to the Finance Committee, with power to act.

Resignation Not Accepted.

Mr. R. H. Turner submitted his resignation in a letter, in which he stated that his work on the Fair Board required considerable time, interfering with his private business.

Mr. Eastwood moved, seconded by Mr. Cox, that no action be taken.

Mr. Turner was later elected first vice-president.

Among those present were R. Grandy, Dickson Hall, H. G. Webber, W. H. Young, Webber Turner, J. Gillespie, Albert Roberts, W. R. Brevforle, Sam Jordan, C. E. Moore, C. Graham, J. W. Fraser, T. H. Hooper, F. Kitney, Sam Oke, A. Breault, Rev. C. J. Phelan, J. J. Hartley, Tom Brown, V. Eastwood, Sam Devell, R. B. Rogers, E. W. Wood, I. Williams, F. Holmes, S. Milburn, T. Cruikshanks, Allan B. Mann, Bruce Johnston, Bruce Savigny, Beecher Savigny, J. T. O'Connell, Harold Baptie, and H. Lush.

A LEADER FOR CONSERVATIVES

(Canadian Press)

TORONTO, Jan. 21.—Plans for holding a convention to choose a leader for the Provincila Conservative party early in the summer are progressing favorably, according to Hon. G. Howard Ferguson, acting leader of the Conservative party in Ontario to-day. He declared that there was no allinace between parties now in opposition to the present farmers government, regarding leader.

He regards the wave of U. F. O. popularity as starting a decline. The proposition that Government will bring its bills into house through private members to avoid defeat he said was contrary to proceedure. They could be defeated on a reply to a speech from throne or the budget.

"You don't think that Legislature can be run like large county council?"

"No, I think they are beginning to find that out themselves."

LOCAL DELEGATES ATTENDED MEETING

PROVINCIAL HIGHWAY FROM PORT HOPE TO KAWARTHA LAKES.

A deputation of members from the local Automobile Association, consisting of Aldermen G. N. Gordon and R. Copping, County Warden McIntosh, Claude Rogers, Acting President Charles Banks, and Secretary H. O. Fisk, attended the annual dinner and meeting of the Ontario Motor League held at the King Edward Hotel, Toronto, on Monday evening.

The main feature of the evening was the enunciation of the road policy by the Honourable Mr. Biggs, Minister of Public Highways. He assured the one thousand or more delegates, representing over eighty clubs from all parts of the Province, that instead of 420 miles as outlined by the old Government, that the present administration have under consideration 1,600 miles of road for improvement. It might be said in passing that Hon. Mr. Biggs comes from Wentworth County, the first to go into the good road system, and that Mr. Biggs himself has had a good deal to do with the road improvement in this County, therefore he speaks as a practical man. One important feature he pointed out was that road maintenance should commence as soon as the construction was completed, and that all roads improved should be patrolled by section men, and the least little depression should be fixed at once, and not allowed to develop into expensive mud holes and ruts.

Kawartha Lake Road.

He also assured the meeting that in addition to the main artery from Windsor to the Quebec Boundary, but many other highways connecting up Muskoka and all the various cities to this main highway would be undertaken. It would appear that now is the time for the Peterborough Automobile Association to boost for a Provincial highway leading from the main highway at Port Hope to the Kawartha Lake system through Peterborough, which is the natural gateway to our beautiful lakes, which are so little known outside of ourselves.

Ottawa has succeeded in getting a road to Prescott, which they propose calling the Prince of Wales Highway. There is also a beautiful road from Montreal to Rouses Point, N.Y., called the King Edward Highway. This is the outlet from Montreal to the New England States. Why can we not have a King George Highway from the main Provincial Highway at Port Hope through Peterborough to Lakefield and Young's Point, branching through Burleigh and Kawartha Park on the west and Clear Lake and McCracken's Landing on the east?

A sample of good road work through the townships of Smith and Douro would possibly convert these townships to better system of roads.

As the road programme for several years to come is being formulated by the Department at the present time, a strong deputation should be formed in this vicinity to wait on the Government and try and obtain our share, for we will not get it any other way.

HAD ECZEMA For Over 28 Years

Eczema or Salt Rheum manifests itself in little round blisters, which contain an extremely irritating fluid. These break and subsequently a crust is formed, and the intense burning, itching and smarting, especially at night or when the part is exposed to any strong heat is almost unbearable.

The success which Burdock Blood Bitters has met with in skin diseases of such severity is due to its wonderful blood cleansing and purifying properties, and we know of no other remedy that has done or can do, so much for those who are almost driven to distraction with the terrible torture.

Mr. James Walker, 152 Niagara St. Hamilton, Ont., writes:—"I have been using Burdock Blood Bitters for some months past, and find it an excellent remedy for skin eruptions. I have suffered with eczema for over 28 years, and have tried almost everything you could think of. I was recommended to use Burdock Blood Bitters, and I am now clear of my skin trouble. It is certainly a good remedy and I shall recommend it to all my friends."

GRATIFYING REPORTS AT THE ANNUAL MEETING KNOX CHURCH

EACH OF THE DEPARTMENTS OF THE CHURCH HAVE MADE EXCELLENT PROGRESS.

The annual meeting of Knox church was held last Wednesday evening in the Brotherhood Room of the church, with Mr. J. S. Morrison in the chair and Mr. J. W. Sayers as Secretary.

The reports of the various organizations gave substantially good indications of the progress each is making. All were of a decidedly encouraging character.

The report of session read by Mr. M. N. Clark included the following: "the past year has been in many respects a memorable one, and has been unmistakably one of progress. The attendance at the regular services have shown a gratifying increase. The Communion services of the past year and notably the last two have been marked by impressiveness and the spirit of the fellowship; the last one surpassing all others in the history of Knox in point of attendance. Increased interest is also noticeable in our Prayer meeting and in the work of our Young People's Society, Sabbath School and other organizations."

The Treasurers report showed that the congregation had met its financial obligations for the year, by paying all current expenses. Interest on the mortgage on church property and $1,200 on the principle of the mortgage as well. This is very creditable, especially in view of the fact that the Board of Management had to deal with new and important expenditures during the year, which considerably added to the financial burdens of the church.

Appreciation of the ministers' services have shown by a raise in salary.

Memorable Events.

A number of events that make the year 1919 memorable to Knox congregation are the following. The purchase of a manse, the purchase of choir gowns, the introduction for congregational use of the new Book of Praise, the appointment of a new organist and choir leader in the person of Mr. F. E. Waldon, the installation of a memorial window in honor of Knox soldiers who have made the supreme sacrifice in the Great War and the appointment of four new elders in the persons of Ernest Benson, Adam Gillespie, Andrew McKenzie and William Watt; while one of the most gladdening features of the years' experience was the return from overseas of our soldiers who have been spared in the Providence of God to co-operate with us again in the work of His Kingdom here.

Among many organizations whose flourishing condition deserves special mention it is hard to single out any one as meriting particular notice. There are many which in spirit and achievement set forth admirably the genius of Knox church. In this respect there is perhaps none that excels the Teachers' Aid and the Berean Bible Class. The enthusiasm, efficiency and faithfulness of these organizations afford at one and the same time an indication of the spirit that animates all the workers and organizations of Knox, and an example of what is possible along the line of donated service.

The report of session closed with these words: The outlook for 1920 is distinctly forward and upward. May this be true of the membership of Knox both individually and collectively.

EFFORTS TO FORM A MACHINE GUN COMPANY IN PETERBORO

CAPT. J. E. EDWARDS WILL VISIT THIS CITY ON THURSDAY NEXT.

Captain Edwards will be in Peterboro on Wednesday to look into the possibilities of organizing three Batteries of the 4th Canadian Machine Gun Brigade. He hopes to secure the services of Mr. Leonard Fraser of the Peterboro Board of Trade to act as Company commander of these three Batteries.

With the co-operation of such men as Major Miller, D.S.O., M.C., and Mr. Fraser besides several energetic Battery commanders, whose services have been offered the organization is bound to succeed.

On Wednesday evening all officers will meet Captain Edwards in the Empress Hotel to discuss progress and also most suitable recruiting campaign.

On Thursday evening at 8 o'clock there will be a meeting in the Machine Gun quarters of the Armories, of all who have expressed their willingness to join and all others who are interested in the formation of a Machine Gun Company in Peterboro.

You can attend this meeting without being a Machine Gunner.

As soon as organization has been decided upon, Vickers Machine Guns will be issued, and training will commence immediately.

Development of Machine Gun Service

When Canada entered the war her first contingent was forced to proceed to England without a Machine Gun in its possession because, at that time, there were only about three Maxim guns in the country and these guns had been used so much for instructional purposes they were useless for service. Before proceeding to France each Infantry Battalion of the C.E.F. were issued with four Colt machine guns. Machine guns proved successful from the very beginning and before Canada had been at war two years each Battalion was equipped with 16 Lewis Guns in addition to new organization armed exclusively with Vickers Machine Guns and known as Machine Gun Battalions. Although Canada entered the war with a total of three machine guns, when the armistice was signed Canada had on the field 48 Battalions each with 16 Lewis guns, besides one Machine Gun Squadron, Two Motor Machine Gun Brigades, and four Machine Gun Battalions. All these latter seven organizations carried a total of Vickers guns in excess of 500.

To get a fair estimate of the power of such a quantity of machine guns one must remember that a single machine gun can be tuned up to fire at the rate of, from 450 to 1,200 rounds per minute. At each gun is mounted by expert shots and is fixed securely on a well-set tripod, the fire power of one gun in war is easily equal to 150 rifles handed by experts in times of peace. So the power of one of the three Batteries that it is hoped to organize in Peterboro, is equal to 1,200 rifles because a battery is armed with 8 guns.

In other words the Peterboro Company of the 4th Machine Gun Brigade would have a rifle strength equal to over seven Infantry Battalions of the Active Militia of highly trained marksmen.

That this organization is going to be a success can easily be understood when we remember the great variety of subjects that must be taught a young man before he can become an expert machine gunner, besides this "army" is free from the irksome mechanical and automatic movements so common to other branches of the service.

All officers of this unit and many of the men will be overseas veterans, and, as a consequence, the young man who joins without previous military knowledge will derive benefit from the lessons taught by those who have gone through the game and speak from actual experience.

SERUM MAY SAVE THE LAST SURVIVOR

DEATH WINS GRIM RACE WITH EXPRESS TRAIN AND AIRPLANE.

NEW YORK, Jan. 20.—Death won a double victory in a grim race with an express train and a Government mail airplane Saturday night, when two more members of the Paul Delbene family, poisoned from eating olives, died in Fordham Hospital owing to the late arrival of the special serum necessary to save their lives. Hospital physicians, however, made an injection in the arm of Conochetta Delbene, 20 years old, the only surviving member of the family of seven, with serum received from Washington. This morning the physicians said they believed the serum had saved the girl's life. Unless unforseen complications develop, they believe she will recover.

Another package of serum, which was being rushed eastward from Chicago by mail airplane, failed to arrive, the machine having been disabled and forced to land at Black Oak, Ind.

Health Commissioner Copeland has traced the poisoned olives to an East Side store. The olives originally came from California, he said.

BROUGHT HOME WRONG BAG AND FOUND BABY IN IT.

BRIDGEPORT, Conn., Jan. 20.—After bringing home a black leather bag, not his own, Robert F. Rohland arriving from New York City, found in it an eight-weeks' old infant, two bottles of milk and a package of talcum powder. As Mr. Rohland rode in a smoking car he believes that an exchange of black bags was made in the Grand Central Station. The infant suffered no ill-effects from the trip.

A CHANCE FOR PETERBORO TRADE

Mr. D. O. Wood, traffic manager of the Canadian National Railways, writes to the Board of Trade that the Government Merchant Marine have established steamship service to South America, touching the ports of Fernambuco, Rio de Janeiro, Santos, and Buenos Ayres.

This will interest the manufacturers of Peterborough who are doing an increasing export trade with South America. Brazil and the Argentine Republic are anxious to cultivate closer business relations with Canadian exporters. Communications addressed to the Canadian Trade Commissioners at any of the larger centres in South America will be promptly answered.

Referring to the balance of trade and rates of exchange, it is already certain that British trade will soon reach normal. British ships are now bringing in a freight revenue of more than $5,000,000 per day. Under such influences the stability of exchange will soon be restored.

Canadian exchange rates will be hastened to normal if Canadian exporters will direct shipments via Canadian Government ships. The Government has, at public expense, established a corporation known as the Canadian Government Merchant Marine, Limited, which is operated by the Canadian National Railway Board. Twenty-six ships are already in the service.

Canada has in actual operation eleven ships sailing between our ports and those of the United Kingdom; ten connect with the British West Indies and Cuba; three reach South American ports; and two Australia and New Zealand.

The Board of Trade will be glad to give all desired information to its members who are interested in exports or imports or in the development of Canada's Merchant Marine.

Royal Bank Of Canada Enjoyed Greatest Growth Of Any Year Since Bank Was Incorporated

Annual Meeting Marked the Close of Jubilee Year---Steady Growth From Local Bank to International Institution---Sir Herbert Holt and Mr. Edson L. Pease Deal With Canada's Internal Problems and the Possibilities of Export Trade---Mr. C. E. Neill, General Manager, Reports an Expansion Enjoyed by the Bank During the Past Year---Pays Strong Tribute to Staff.

The shareholders of The Royal Bank of Canada, when they assembled for the annual meeting today at the head office of the bank, received reports which indicated that the past year had been the most prosperous in the history of the institution.

Today's meeting also marked the close of the Golden Jubilee Year of the bank and on this account the leading officials took occasion, in their addresses, to refer to many of the features of the progress which the bank had enjoyed.

Growth of Bank.

Sir Herbert Holt, the president stated that the report presented was the most satisfactory in the Bank's history and fittingly marked the Jubilee year.

"In the fifty years since our incorporation," said Sir Herbert, "we have grown from a local bank to an international institution with a steadily rising place among the great banks of the world. Our paid-up capital has increased from $300,000 to $17,000,000 our reserves from $20,000 to $18,000,000, and our assets from less than a million to over half a billion dollars.

Most of this phenomenal progress has been made in recent years, but tribute is due to the prudence and wide vision of those early administrators who laid so solidly and broadly the foundation upon which we have built. In all periods of grave depression we have never failed to pay a dividend and only once, and that 34 years ago, have we drawn on our reserve. Throughout our career, advantage has been taken of every favorable opportunity both at home and abroad to extend our operations and to add to our resources. This expansion has proved beneficial not only to the bank, but to the Dominion. In 1870 our profits were 4 per cent. on our working resources. Now, owing to the volume of business, we are affording increased facilities on a return of less than one per cent. on total assets.

Canada Met Emergency.

During the year just passed, Canada has again proved her ability to meet every emergency as it arises. Our soldiers have been absorbed into civil life without strain, our industries have been re-adjusted with little unemployment, and the unfailing response of our people to every patriotic call has been shown by the immense over-subscription to the last Victory Loan. Despite an unfavorable harvest in some parts of the West, the country is prosperous and the balance of trade continues largely in our favor.

Factors which have contributed to the prevailing high prices are being gradually eliminated. Ocean transportation service will soon far exceed that of the pre-war period and stores which have accumulated in distant lands will, as a result, become readily available. Industrial plants have multiplied and everywhere an army of women workers has been added to the ranks of labor. Moreover, Europe can only ultimately pay its huge debts by a corresponding output of goods. We shall then enter upon an era of greater supplies and keen competition If prices fall in the future, as seems probable, each dollar made and saved to-day will then have greater purchasing power. We should therefore strive to produce to the limit of our capacity while markets are high, and exercise the most rigid economy in order that our gains may be conserved.

How to Meet Conditions.

The Government is still discharging some of the heavy obligations arising out of the war and the net public debt now fast approaches two billion dollars. There are only two ways of meeting this responsibility; greater industry and less extravagance—prosperity is not unending or national borrowing power unlimited. It is an unvarying economic law, of which we in Canada had a bitter experience following the Civil War, that all conflicts terminate in a period of prosperity and inflation during reconstruction which is succeeded by equal or greater depression. For this inevitable re-action in the future, we should now be prepared, and it is the duty of the Government to set an example to the nation by abstaining from all unnecessary or wasteful expenditure. It cannot be too strongly urged, or too often repeated that the greatest possible effort must be put forth in every direction if we are to meet the amount required for interest and the redemption of debt. It has been aptly said that Governments have no income outside that of the people, and that the wealth of a country like that of an individual can only be built up by spending less than is earned.

In the difficult times ahead, the Dominion holds a commanding position owing to the abundance of its natural resources which need only the touch of energy and capital. The market for pulp and paper continues to expand, the demand for gold and silver adds to the value of our mines, and the soaring price of coal will hasten the development of water powers. Above all, the expected influx of settlers to the West will further agricultural production, our main source of wealth and extend our market for home manufactures.

Expansion of Trade.

Edson L. Pease, the Vice President and Managing Director, in his address dealt more particularly with the expansion of trade and how Canada had readjusted herself to the conditions that had arisen since the close of the European war.

Special reference was made to the advantage to Canada, of the foreign branches of the Bank and Mr. Pease also announced that it was the intention to follow up the establishment of branches at Rio de Janiero and Buenos Aires by establishing at Sao Paulo and Santos in Brazil and at Bogota and Barranquillo, Colombia.

He also strongly recommended closer commercial relations between the Dominion and the British possessions on this continent, owing to the more favorable financial conditions that prevail in these colonies than in many of the European countries.

Exchange Situation.

The problem of exchange grows in perplexity. The prevailing rates give additional value to almost all our exports, but our immense imports from the United States are penalized. The return to parity may be a long and difficult process, depending in great measure upon European conditions and the course of American action. The only effective means of checking the advancing rate upon remittances to the United States is to reduce to the lowest possible limit our imports from that country, remembering that the purchase of articles of luxury, or goods that can be manufactured in Canada, by increasing the adverse balance of trade, adds to the premium which we pay on iron, steel, coal, cotton, and other raw materials which are absolutely necessary for the maintenance of some of our industries. There are indications, however, that the present unfavorable position may be somewhat improved in the near future. The British Goverament has given notice of its intention to make a substantial payment on account of the indebtedness to the banks, and it is expected that within the next four months Canada will export to the United States a large amount of flour.

Production is Needed.

To keep production from falling off and to increase it, thus furnishing full employment for labor, is more essential now than ever. There is no encouragement to enlarge old industries and establish new ones when profits, if made, are to be specially taxed by the government. The Secretary of the Treasury in reporting upon the effect of a similar impost in the United States, says that "in many instances it acts as a consumption tax, is added to the cost of production upon which profits are figured in determining prices, and has been and will, so long as it is maintained upon the statute books, continue to be a material factor in the increased cost of living."

We are also co-operating in the movement in favor of closer commercial relations between the Dominion and the British possessions on this continent, These colonies from one of our natural markets, selling the things we need and buying the staples we have for export. The lowering or removal of customs barriers, and the inauguration of direct steamship communication, would result in greatly increased trade and lead to the speedy development of the agricultural, forest and mineral wealth of these colonies.

This brings our Jubilee, the bank has prepared a brief history of the efforts made during the past fifty years to build up a sound and progressive institution, and to promote the commercial interests of the Dominion. A copy will be forwarded to each of the shareholders at an early date.

Features of Reports.

C. E. Neill, the General Manager, dealt entirely with the features of the annual report of the Bank and touched on some of the more important features of the expansion that had been enjoyed during the past twelve months. Mr. Neill stated that the record established showed the greatest growth of any year since the Bank was incorporated.

The total assets are $433,647,084.93, an increase of over $106,800,000 over the previous year, and it is of interest to know that no portion of this increase is due to the absorption of banks, as has been the case in some previous years.

The capital of the bank has been increased $3,000,000 since our last Annual Statement, through the sale of 30,000 new shares at $140 per share to our shareholders, and 20,000 shares at $200 per share to the London County, Westminster & Parr's Bank.

The Reserve Fund now stands at $17,000,000, as compared with $15,000,000 last year.

The regular dividends of 12 per cent. with an additional bonus of 2 per cent. were paid during the year, and a balance of $1,096,418.74 is carried forward in Profit and Loss Account.

I desire to take this opportunity of commending the staff of the bank. I think I am safe in saying that from the highest executive officers to the newest junior there is the strongest possible feeling of loyalty to the institution, and this is undoubtedly a great factor in our development.

Children Cry for Fletcher's

CASTORIA

Fletcher's Castoria is strictly a remedy for Infants and Children. Foods are specially prepared for babies. A baby's medicine is even more essential for Baby. Remedies primarily prepared for grown-ups are not interchangeable. It was the need of a remedy for the common ailments of Infants and Children that brought Castoria before the public after years of research, and no claim has been made for it that its use for over 30 years has not proven.

What is CASTORIA?

Castoria is a harmless substitute for Castor Oil, Paregoric, Drops and Soothing Syrups. It is pleasant. It contains neither Opium, Morphine nor other narcotic substance. Its age is its guarantee. For more than thirty years it has been in constant use for the relief of Constipation, Flatulency, Wind Colic and Diarrhoea; allaying Feverishness arising therefrom, and by regulating the Stomach and Bowels, aids the assimilation of Food; giving healthy and natural sleep. Recollections of the Old Survey Days

During the summer of 1881, we were locating and running trail lines for the main line of the Canadian Pacific Railway along Nosbonsing Lake and down the Vase Creek towards Lake Nipissing. A Mr. Hogan was in charge of the party, that gisted for work, Mr. E. J. Duchesnay was transitman, and Emile Tetu leveller. At that time there was but one settler on Nosbonsing Lake, and what fishing there was in it!

While we were camped along the lake we used a lumberman's red boat to take us to and from our work, when we invariably trawled with a hand line and common spoon.

I recollect while rowing to work one morning, Duchesnay trawled. I was looking on. Suddenly there was a tremendous tug at the line. Uttering an exclamation Duchesnay began hauling it in, but it was no easy matter. 'Twas evident he had hooked a big one. Fortunately, however, the line was a stout one and the fish securely caught. After a brief and desperate struggle on the part of the fish, he was brought alongside of the boat. The question then was, how to get him on board? for we had neither gaff nor landing-net. At his belt, Duchesnay carried a neat little 32 calibre Smith and Wesson revolver. A brilliant idea occurred to me.

"Shoot it, Mr. Duchesnay," I called out. Promptly acting on my suggestion, at a range of a couple of feet or so, he broke his back with a bullet, killing him immediately and a muskinonge of thirty-two lbs. weight—weighed on our return to camp in the evening—was lifted into the boat without any trouble.

The following Sunday morning Duchesnay and I took a bark canoe and went trawling. We had but one line and took it turn about to fish and paddle. I do not recollect how many we caught, but I do remember that after fishing for only a portion of the morning, we brought back to camp more black bass and dore than the whole party of about twenty-two healthy men could eat, before a good part of the catch went bad and had to be thrown away.

I do not know how many settlers now live along about the lake, or how much fishing has been done since those days, but unless it has been much fished it should still well repay a visit of any enthusiastic disciples of the gentle art.

Recollect we had but one common, large red and silver spoon. How the fish must have swarmed in the lake, then. What sport might not expert fishermen have today, with rods and proper tackle? Where could, they find finer camping grounds either, or lovelier wild scenery of lake and woods?

When we had left the lake a few miles with our survey we got into the undulating brule country along The Vase Creek. What a paradise that country was for sportsmen, then, before its world old silence had been disturbed by the locomotive's whistle. Moose, bear, lynx abounded. Never a day passed that we did not see fresh tracks of them. The bear and lynx we never saw. What animals are more shy or wary? A moose occasionally we did.

One day, while running the line along a side hill, in the open brulé country, we saw six magnificent moose. But, of course, no rifle was ever carried on the line and we could only watch them trot away. What strides they took, with what ease they negotiated fallen timber!

It was about mid-summer, if I remember rightly, of that year 1881, somewhere along The Vase. We had gone out to work as usual, I was a rodsman on that survey; that morning, however, one of the chainmen was laid off, for sickness or something, and I was told to fill his place.

As usual, that morning, Duchesnay got up his transit, and as usual the axemen lolled about, lighted their pipes, or gave a final touch with whetstones to their axes, while they waited for line. In a few moments the transit was in readiness and Duchesnay turned to me.

"Get a good stout four by four inch, four foot dry stake, like a hub-stake, blaze it like a hub-stake, and mark on it with red lead, in big letters, C.P.R. Station 0.' From now on this line will be known as The Canadian Pacific Railway, not The Canada Central." He turned to the men. "All right, boys, stick up a picket and get line now."

Thus I had the distinction of making and driving in the first station stake marked, C.P.R.

I think there is a station now somewhere about there, called Calendar.

WORK OF CONSOLIDATED SCHOOLS OUTLINED TO A WARSAW AUDIENCE

MR. E. N. MACDONALD, M.P.P., WAS ONE OF THE SPEAKERS—WARSAW NEWS OF INTEREST—HAND CUT BY A CIRCULAR SAW.

WARSAW, Jan. 21.—At a public meeting held under the auspices of the Women's Institute, on Friday evening for information "re-consolidated schools" Messrs. I. Chisholm of Toronto, R. Leek of Peterboro, E. N. MacDonald, M.P.P. for East Peterboro, and Wm. Payne gave addresses. Mr. Chisholm was the main speaker. The night was bitter and the Town Hall none too warm. The gathering was representative of all local school sections. Mr. Chisholm had the people remain as near the stove as possible and stood near the centre while speaking. He held everyone's attention from beginning to end. He said the moment in Ontario for consolidated schools is quite near. The farmers earn all they get and do not care to part with it, unless they do for a good cause, but when they do see the good they will. There is the demand for knowledge and to succeed the farmer now needs a better education than he can get in the public schools. He gave a short history of these schools, the first one was in Montague, Mass., 45 years ago, and that one has gone on continuously ever since. 16 years ago they were started in Manitoba, and in every case successful. Now they are making the county the unit, and have all the schools under one county board.

One at Guelph.

At Guelph a consolidated school was built opposite the O.A.C. It was erected and helped for 3 years by Mr. MacDonald, then for another three years, then Mr. MacDonald withdrew his assistance and the three sections from the other side of the city withdrew. The distance across the city made the cost of transportation heavy. However only one parent voted to discontinue, the majority in the section were bachelors and families with no children. However the school still carries on for those on the near side of the city. Another school was started some years ago near New Liscard, the first building was burned but another soon took its place. The conditions there are if anything worse than here. Several new schools are starting now, in one place they are planning the school and then will plan the good roads.

Two Advantages.

Two great advantages are co-operation and classification. At present out of the 5½ hours in school, often the only time due to one of the average classes is about 40 minutes, and that class may have but one or two pupils, more time could be given to each class.

2. County environment—We could have the graded schools, with fresh air and all nature. Disadvantages are cost and roads. But he showed the cost not to be so very much greater in comparison with the gain. In places where mud is much more sticky than here the roads were not a hinderance and generally speaking the van routes were along main roads or good roads followed.

Estimate of Cost.

He gave an estimate of cost based on actual outlay of schools now in progress. What does make the cost greater is the transportation. The ideal school has four rooms; one for the High School work. He also added that if a community hall is built there is government aid for it, really making it worth while of such a hall is needed. The grants for consolidated schools are $2,000 straight for schools begun before June 1920 plus 5% of total cost up to $6,000 ($30,000 building would get $6,000 grant) plus ½ cost of transportation and $100 towards salary of each teacher.

Would Not Revert.

Mr. Leek gave work of individual schools which he had visited in the West and in United States. Neither he nor Mr. Chisholm had ever heard of a school which would go back to the old system. He also outlined what the district here could do, now there are 7 teachers for 151 pupils and most of these teachers have 6 to 8 classes, and little time for each.

Mr. E. N. MacDonald.

Mr. E. N. MacDonald asked those who were present and would stand by him in offering his seat to the Premier to stand. The majority did so. He thanked the people and told them how much he approved of better education and said that it was because Mr. Drury had more advantages of education that he was offering his seat to him. The Premier had advantages of education which fitted him for his position as Premier, he had not.

Questions Asked.

Discussion was invited. A few questions were asked and Mr. Wm. Payne took the floor, explained his stand in politics and gave a long list of reasons against consolidated schools. He objected against herding children together in vans, objected to educating children away from the farms. He objected to the very inefficient teachers and he knew something about teaching as two of his sisters had taught, one was a qualified teacher, a deaconess, and a Missionary in Japan, wanted better inspectors, etc. Mr. Chisholm replied that Mr. Payne's address was the very best argument for consolidated schools as they were meant to keep the boys on the farm and give teachers and inspectors a chance to do better work.

The meeting appointed the Women's Institute a committee to take the matter of Consolidated Schools in hand.

Hand Cut.

While sawing at Mr. Freeburn's, Mr. Wm. Dunford met with a painful accident. The middle finger of the right hand was sawn in two from the tip right into the hand by the circular saw.

Roads Impassable.

For a few days it looked as though there would be good sleighing, but Sunday's wind drifted the roads so that in some places now they are almost impassable. The branch of Indian River running through Warsaw is almost dry below the mill and the other half is very low.

Wells Frozen.

Some of the barn wells are frozen so they cannot be used and one farmer has for a few days to carry water for a fairly large stock from the house. What time they can spare from their chores the men are working the bush trying to get out their years' supply of wood.

Church Services.

The service in the Baptist church yesterday was conducted by Rev. J. C. Cameron of Toronto, assistant Sup. of Baptist Home Missions. The congregation was small, only three cutters out. Mr. Duncan Kidd was to take Mr. Cameron to Indian River for the afternoon.

There was Sunday School in St. Mary's church yesterday, but no preaching service, as the weather was too severe and the roads too bad for Dr. Archibald to come.

The Presbyterian Sunday School was fairly well attended by the village children. The banner for regular attendance, earned by Miss Sarah Miller's class was in its place. At the church service Mr. Brown's text was "Enoch walked with God." Few people from the country were present, only two cutters out. There was no evening service. Mr. Brown made the trip to Cotessloe, only to find no one there but the janitor.

Girls Club.

The Girls Club will meet at the home of Mrs. Robert on Friday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock.

The Presbyterian Ladies' Aid will meet at the home of Mrs. (Dr.) Munro on Thursday afternoon, Jan. 29th at 2.30 o'clock. As this is the annual meeting all the ladies of the congregation are cordially invited to attend.

Annual Meeting.

Presbyterian annual meeting was held in the church on Wednesday evening last. Annual reports were read and adopted. The Sunday School and Ladies' Aid had good reports showing work done and a good financial standing. The only change in officers is that of the Financial Secretary, Mr. Charles Calder wished to be relieved and Mr. David Miller was put in his place.

Personals.

Mr. A. F. Choat went to Ottawa on Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. John Tucker entertained a number of friends on Wednesday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. John Lawrence Kidd gave a party on Friday evening in honor of their daughter and her husband, who are home from the West.

A few of Mrs. Henry Clement's Cousins and friends phoned her they were coming out on Friday evening, so Mrs. Clement's invited some of the village people, including all the boys who had worn the khaki, as Friday was the anniversary of Mr. Hilliard Clement's return from overseas.

Rev. J. D. P. Knox returned on Saturday evening, having spent the week in Frankford, where his last charge was.

Mr. Louis Drain, who has been visiting in Detroit since Christmas returned home Saturday.

Mr. Vernon Selkirk went to Peterboro on Saturday to attend the Business College. He is getting a course of vocational training and he surely earned it.

FIRST SHAVE IN 55 YEARS

HARVARD, Col.—For the first time since the Civil War Henry C. Boylston of this city has trimmed his whiskers. However, it wasn't his fault. When Boylston's detachment of the Confederate Army surrendered he vowed he'd never trim his whiskers as long as he lived.

He was planing lumber with an automatic planer, operating with rotating knives. Lengthy whiskers tucked in his vest, he bent over the board, but he bent too far. The whiskers caught in the knives, and with a yell of pain Boylston bid good-bye to his hirsute adornment. It was the first time since 1865 his chin had seen the daylight.

A clean shave at the barber shop finished the job.

SWITCH OFF!

Put aside the Salts, Oil, Calomel, or Pills and take "Cascarets."

Are you keeping your bowels, liver, and stomach clean, pure, and fresh with Cascarets, or merely whipping them into action every few days with Salts, Cathartic Pills, Oil, or Purgative Waters?

Stop having a bowel wash-day. Let Cascarets gently cleanse and regulate the stomach, remove the sour and fermenting food and foul gases, take the excess bile from the liver and carry out of the colon and bowels all the constipated waste matter and poisons so you can straighten up.

Cascarets to-night will make you feel great by morning. They work while you sleep—never gripe, sicken or cause any inconvenience, and cost so little too.

THOSE DEAR GIRLS.

It was a little argument between two women in Shoreditch street.

"There is one thing no man can say about you," said one of the combatants: "No one can ever call you two-faced."

"No; they can't, neither," snapped the other.

"No, if you had two faces you would never be seen out with the one you are wearing now," was the rejoinder.

Then the hostilities became more furious.—Tit Bits.

TO-NIGHT'S GAME THE LAST HERE FOR OVER A WEEK

The intermediate game between Cannington and Peterborough, scheduled for Brock street rink to-night at 8.30 o'clock, will be the last O.H.A. game to be seen here until a week from Friday, when Lindsay will be the attraction. The fans should therefore not miss this game as they will have a long wait before there is another O.H.A. fixture.

The Cannington team has been improving right along and should give Peterborough a harder game to-night than on their last appearance here. The Petes cannot afford to drop another game if they want to stay in the running, for Lindsay are now a game in front and going strong. To-night's game should be an interesting one from start to finish.

VETERAN TOMMY WHITE SAYS JIMMY BARRY WAS BETTER FIGHTER THAN JIMMY WILDE

Tommy White, who was conceded by boxing experts in this country 20 years ago to be the most skilful, as well as the most inteligent ringman in the featherweight division, went over to Milwaukee from his home in Chicago to see the Jimmy Wilde-Jack Sharkey ten-round bout at the auditorium. Tommy occupied a ringside seat, from which he studiously studied the two fighters, not only when they were in action, but while they were seated in their chairs between rounds.

Tommy was requested the next day by a Chicago newspaper to write his impressions of the English flyweight champion and how he compared with Jimmy Barry, when he stood at the head of the flyweight division of the world. Tommy White, in his review of the fight for the Chicago newspaper, says in part:

"The English boy is my idea of all that a boxer should be in ability cleverness and gameness—a student of the game who has learned something about fighting and who hasn't forgoten it —a great little man at his weight. But Jimmy Barry was far better.

"A frail-looking but stout-hearted little fellow is Jimmy Wilde, weighing 107 pounds, battling a sturdy chap fully 10 per cent. heavier than himself — the sturdy one fully aware of the great advantage he possessed, also willing to take a chance on that account — that's the sort of a fight I saw Saturday night.

"Sharkey put up a good, clean fight, but Wilde, handicapped as he was, had to put up a greater one to offset his stronger opponent. It was a great battle, and both boys deserved a lot of credit, but my main reason in atending the contest —the first one I have seen in 17 years, by the way—was to take a look at the man whose friends claim is greater than Jimmy Barry was in his prime.

"First of all, Jimmy Barry was the only bantamweight boxer who was a real and undisputed world's champion in his class, at that time 115 pounds, yet Jimmy never weighed over 107 1-2 pounds in any of his fights, and was once as low as 98. He was the undisputed champion of America. His defeat of Jimmy Anthony, of Australia, and Walter Croot, of England, left no other world to conquer. He was king.

"Other boys had risen to the top, but none ever met and defeated the title-holders of other lands. At 115 pounds Wilde may be able to defeat any man in the game to-day, and yet he is by no means the dashing, tricky, clever and resourceful boxer and knockout hitter that Barry was. In his contest Saturday night Wilde's greatest mistake was in allowing Sharkey to make him fight in Sharkey's style, instead of the reverse."

NEW VESTS NEEDED FOR LINDSAY MAGNATES

CAP. SIMPSON AND DICKIE BUTLER WALKING IN THE MIDDLE OF THE ROAD, SAYS LOU MARSH.

Toronto Star—Dick Butler and Capt. Simpson, the Lindsay hustlers, are walking in the middle of the road to-day with a victory in each series to their credit. If the boys repeat the performance once more this week the Butler-Simpson team will be buying new vests with elastic buttonholes. Yes. Mam! Lindsay intermediates pasted an 8-4 score on Father Gorman's Petes, while the Lindsay juniors rambled back from the Life Lock City with a nice little fat 7-4 victory following the skate box home.

POST OFFICE WON TWO FROM DE LAVAL

Last night at the Water street alleys, in the Business Men's Five-Pin League, the champions of the first round defeated the De Laval two out of three games. For the De Laval Gillespie rolled the grand total of 650, Lafave 564, and Barrette also passed the 500 mark. For the Post Office Ballard was high with 555. McIlmoyle next with 528. The scores:

THE CITY LEAGUE BASKET BALL CHAMPIONSHIP WILL BE DECIDED TONIGHT

If the Cressman Team Defeat the Belmonts—Quaker Oats Meet the Bankers.

There is much difference of opinion as to the outcome of to-night's contest among those who have watched both teams workout during the past week. If both aggregations play up to form and there is every indication that they will, there is bound to be a great argument in the Y.M.C.A. gymnasium for the championship. The Cressman team is undefeated and the only loss sustained by the Belmonts was in the early part of the schedule when the store team managed to win by the narrow margin of two points.

Line-up:—

Belmonts—forwards, English and Jobbit; centre, Stewart; Defence, Darling and Heaslip.

Cressmans—forwards, Flowers and Nicholls; centre De Graw; Defence, Matthews, McCarthy and Raynor.

VAUDEVILLE FOR TWO NIGHTS ONLY AT GRAND THEATRE

A GOOD BILL HAS BEEN PROVIDED FOR TO-MORROW AND FRIDAY

The Grand's Week End Vaudeville will this week be limited to two nights on account of "Friendly Enemies" which will be played at the theatre on Saturday. While the time of showing the programme is limited to Thursday and Friday it is unusually good embracing as it does the Keith Vaudeville circuit featuring "Celina's Circus", a unique comedy novelty absolutely different from anything ever shown in the city before. Manuel Romain Powers and Delmers in "The Midnight Marauders" present a side splitting sketch, Al Lester and Co. a breezy playlet "I'll Make a Note of it" and Ladd Betty and Shannan a novelty song and dance act which like the rest of the programme is something really new.

In addition to the Vaudeville Lew Stone and Jane Novack appears in the famous Robertson-Cole picture will also be presented.

KINMOUNT RADIAL IN ABEYANCE UNTIL FACTS ARE KNOWN

SEVERAL IMPORTANT CONTINGENCIES ARE NOT SETTLED, HYDRO REPORTS.

There are no prospects of an early decision or action by the Hydro-Electric Commission with respect to the proposed railway from Peterborough to Kinmount, according to a letter received by Ald. Gordon. The report of the engineer who went over the route last October in company with Ald. Morrison, has been received by the Commission, but additional details of the possible tourist trade and other business are desired by the Commission, who intimate that they will probably wait for some co-operation from the Dominion government.

The Commission's initiative in this respect also depends upon the opening of the electric railway from Toronto, to Whitby, of which there was so much discussion by Sir Adam Beck and ten of the municipalities east of Toronto last year. It is also understood by the Commission that there is no pressing demand for the line to Kinmount. Hence it will be held in abeyance until there are developments in the radial east from Toronto, which was sometimes mentioned as part of a line to cut across country from Whitby to Peterborough. The Dominion Government is expected to secure the management of the G.T.R., a factor which also prompts the Hydro Commission to defer consideration of the local radial until all the affecting conditions are determined.

PRESENTATION TO PRESIDENT OF MISSIONARY SOCIETY.

The Women's Missionary Society of Trinity Church held their regular meeting on Tuesday, with about sixty members, and the meeting was all that could be desired. It was full of interest, both spiritually and socially. There was ready response to prayers, followed by Mrs. Malott's Bible reading. Stewardship was well illustrated by Mrs. Cruikshanks with a blackboard talk, and Mrs. Lane, in a reading, and also by the district superintendent, Mrs. Moore, who fully convinced her auditors of the need of greater stewardship.

The president, Mrs. R. F. Downey, was given a unique surprise, when she was presented with a Life Membership, the gift of one most interested.

Two soles were rendered by Mrs. King and Mrs. Hooper, followed by a social half-hour, with refreshments.

The first year book was published by Rabelais in 1533.

TOM MOORE SEEN TO ADVANTAGE IN "THE GAY LORD QUEX"

Gay bachelors, midnight parties, "Other women" shadowy pasts, well seasoned with a dash of spice and mixed with a spoonful of snappy complications comprise one of the best entertainment concoctions of the year—Tom Moore in "The Gay Lord Quex", written by Sir Arthur Wing Pinero. As seen at the Allen Theatre there is something crisp and smart about this new Moore photoplay and many of its situations are "Frenchy" in flavor. It has a tendency toward the audacious, and the mildly daring, yet is devoid of anything that would agitate the mind of the most sanctimonious censor.

VOICE OF THE PEOPLE

Peterborough, Jan. 21st, 1920.

Dear Editor,—In an issue of your popular paper I note a few remarks re the merchants of Peterborough are striving to make this town an economical buying centre. It is to be hoped that the bakers will be included in this wise scheme and sell their bread here for 24c. a loaf instead of shipping it to other towns at that price, and charging the Peterborough people 26c. Surely they can deliver bread here as cheap as they can thirty miles from here. If not we would like to know why not. Thanking you, Mr. Editor for space in your valuable paper, I remain.

Yours for Peterborough,
W. J. DOWNER,
181 River Road.

RE HOUSES OF RAMMED EARTH

To the Editor of the Examiner,
Peterboro, Ont.

Dear Sir: You have performed a considerable service in your interesting article in to-night's issue, dealing with this subject. It is to be hoped that you will persist in your reference to this remarkable experiment until it is better known and attempted in Canada on a sufficiently wide scale to demonstrate its possibilities.

Your article contains one slightly misleading suggestion which if carried out might cause the entire experimentment to fail. I refer to the use of "blocks" of rammed earth. The use of blocks would destroy the integrity of the wall. The process is a continuous one whereby the earth is rammed inside shuttering, and loose earth (not blocks of rammed earth) spread over the surface and the process of ramming being continuously repeated until the wall is at its desired height.

It is perhaps too much to expect that the idea of houses of rammed earth will appeal to dwellers in the "effete East" but in our Canadian West there are very many whose needs for a suitable abode for both themselves and their stock are exceedingly pressing and because of the high cost of materials and the long and expensive haul would find Pise de terre an easy solution to these serious problems. The material lies at their feet and no building knowledge of an expert character is required.

Mr. Clough Williams Ellis, who is the architect in charge of Mr. St. Low Strachey's experiment, to which your article refers, has written a book entitled "Cottage Building in Cob, Pise, Chalk and Clay," published by Country Life, London. This book contains definite specifications for a Pise building and photographs which would be of considerable assistance, or if more immediate information be desired, I have a fairly complete collection of published matter relative to this subject which would be gladly placed at the disposal of anyone wishing same.

Yours very truly,
A. E. DAWSON

THRIFT WEEK—INSURANCE DAY.

The future is secure for the families of men who insure. It is saving, investment, and protection in one. An insurance policy cuts off a multitude of worries. An insurance policy means that there will be no interruption of family policy after you have gone.

The value of life insurance is so much taken for granted in some circles that we fail to apreciate the large number of people who have no conception of its value. Don't be like the Arkansas Fiddler. There was a man in Arkansas who was very fond of fiddling. A passing stranger found him sitting on a stump in front of his cabin, sawing away on his fiddle with intense earnestness. There was a great hole in the roof of his house, and the stranger asked him why he did not repair it. He replied, "When it ain't raining it ain't necessary, and when it's raining it can't be did."

Here was a man who believed in enjoying himself regardless of consequences, and doubtless had a sneaking idea that he was thrifty because he was saving himself the cost of repairing his roof. There are many people who are in the same class as the pleasure-loving fiddler, who prefer to fiddle away their money, over and above necessities, instead of saving a portion to protect them and their loved ones against the rainy day that is sure to come to all of us.

Insure during this Thrift Week.

BALLOTS SO MIXED UP JUDGE WOULDN'T COUNT
New Election May Be Result of Conditions Disclosed at Recount.
(Canadian Press.)
OTTAWA, Jan. 20.— A new election for the purpose of selecting a Mayor for the town of Eastview, may be the result of the recount asked by Camille Gladu, which commenced at the Court House before Judge Gunn, and during which the conditions of the packages in four of the six boxes opened indicated a serious state of affairs.
So mixed up was the state of the ballots in the four boxes in question that Judge Gunn did not even undertake to count them, and the recount was adjourned for a week, during which time the interested parties wil get together and decide on whether or not they will proceed along the lines of a new election or continue with the recount.
The recount was asked for by Camille Gladu, who in the election for Mayor on January 6th, was defeated by 19 votes by J. H. White.

MAYOR M'BRIDE SENDS S.O.S. APPEAL TO MR. T. TOOMS, M.P.P.

HIGHLY INTERESTING EXCHANGE OF COMMUNICATIONS BETWEEN MAYOR M'BRIDE, MR. TOOMS AND HON. MR. ROLLO.

HOT SHOT FOR MAYOR M'BRIDE

(Special to the Examiner)
TORONTO, Jan 21.—The meeting of certain labor members of the Legislature held yesterday at the Walker House, took on a sensational aspect at noon to-day when Hon. Mr. Rollo the Minister of Labor, one of the two representatives of labor in the farmer-labor Government and leader of the Independent Labor Party in Ontario issued the following statement:
"My attention has been drawn to an article in a morning paper of a supposed meeting of labor members of the legislature in the Walker House in which it is stated that it was unanimously decided to form a separate labor group. As leader of the labor group in the Ontario Legislature and President of the Independent Labor Party of Ontario I know nothing of any such meeting neither did I receive an invitation to attend such a meeting. Mayor McBride, of Brantford who is credited with calling the meeting in the Walker House was in the Parliament Buildings yesterday and I understand called on the Hon. Mr. Mills, Minister of Mines but as far as I can learn Mayor McBrie did not intimate to Mr. Mills that such a meeting had been called, the first intimation I had of any such meeting was on Tuesday evening when I received the following letter from Mr. Thos. Tooms, Labor member-elect for West Peterboro.

The Letter
Peterboro, Jan. 18th., 1920.
Hon. W. Rollo, Minister of Labor,
Dear Sir:—Am sending here in a copy of a telegram I received from McBride of Brantford.

Copy
Sunday, Jan. 18th., at 11 a.m.
Brantford.
To T. Tooms, M.L.A., of Peterboro,
"Labor throughout Ontario disgusted with Drury seat-hunting tactics. U.F.O., and Labor party is being wrecked on the altar of Druryism. Labor members should act and save future of our party now headed for oblivion unless our position is made clear. Meet at Walker House, Toronto, Tuesday 2.30.

McBRIDE.
"I have original of above. Of course I ignore such a summons, but I think McBride should be shown his place by the Labor Party. You, Sir are our respected leader, not McBride. This should be made clear. I personally believe McBride to be a menace to the successful working of the Government and some action should be taken to let him and perhaps his confederate know we are alive to their trickery.
Yours very truly.
THOS. TOOMS,
West Peterboro.

McBride Bolted.
"It will be remembered that Mayor McBride bolted at the meeting of the U.F.O. and labor members held last October when the amalgamation between the two organizations was formed, for reasons best known to himself. Since that time time he has been doing his level best to create dissension in the labor movement. Just how far he has succeeded will be demonstrated in the near future."
Press reports state that yesterday's meeting was attended by Messrs. G. G. Halcrow, member for East Hamilton, C. F. Swayze, member for Niagara Falls, and Fred Greenlaw, member for St. Catharines, Sergt. Major McNamara, the soldier member for Riverdale and others.
"To-day it is said that there was no "others". Sergt. Major McNamara was elected in opposition to John Vick, the candidate for labor party. Mr. Halcrow is not regarded as belonging to the "McBride party" when the coalition held a caucus at the time the U.F.O. conference was in progress in Toronto recently, the invitations sent out by Premier Drury's secretary by an inadvertence, did not include Mr. McBride, the labor member for Brantford. That may have had something to do with his insurgency. Mr. McBride is sending out another call for Labor members to meet in Toronto, the time and place being the Walker House next Tuesday, the professed object this time being to consider labor legislation to be introduced in the coming session of the legislature. In the light of the latest developments great interest will be taken in the personnel of the meeting next week. After yesterday's meeting the following statement was issued: "At a meting of labor members-elect, held in Toronto to-day Tuesday, Jan. 20, it was unanimously decided to hold a meeting of labor members-elect on Tuesday, January 27 in Toronto, with the object of considering labor legislation to be introduced at the coming session of the legislature, invitations will be sent to labor members only, as it is thought advisable that the identity of the labor party should be established by the formation of a separate labor group in the legislature. it was decided to appoint Mayor M. M. McBride of Brantford, as convenor.

LATEST NEWS DESPATCHES

(Canadian Press.)
HALIFAX, Jan. 21. — Late this morning the American transport Powhatan, which for the past three days has been in a helpless condition off the Nova Scotian coast, was still plunging about in a heavy sea with no prospects of securing a tow or being relieved of her passengers. During the night the steamer "Western Comet" managed to tow her forty-eight miles in a Halifax direction, but was compelled to abandon the effort.
Subsequently the storm which yesterday prevented the Dominion government steamer, Lady Laurier, from landing supplies at the light ship off Halifax harbor, redoubled in fury, and with all means of direct communication with the Powhatan cut off, the rescue ships found themselves obliged to give her wide berth.

FORMER EMPEROR MENDING DYKES

(Canadian Lillian.)

AMERONGEN, Jan. 22. — While diplomats of the great powers are occupying themselves with a demand for his surrender for trial, the former Emperor William of Germany, as far as those outside Bentinck castle can learn, remains unperturbed. To-day water from the swollen Rhine is overflowing part of the Bentinck estate, but the castle itself is not flooded. The floods came at an opportune time to relieve any mental strain. The one-time Emperor may have had as a result of extradition proceedings. He is working hard daily with laborers strengthening the dikes and there is no sign apparent whatever that he intends either to return to Germany or to surrender voluntarily to the Allies.

THE CALL FROM ARMENIA

BREAD AND CLOTHES CHIEF NEEDS OF THE SURVIVING VICTIMS—NEAR EAST RELIEF SAVES THOUSANDS FROM DEATH —LETTER TO THE EXAMINER.

FROM A LITTLE GIRL.

21 Cricket Place, Peterborough, 21st January, 1920.

The Peterborough Examiner.

Dear Sir,—I am sending you $1.00 from my bank for you to send to help the little Armenian girls who are starving. I hope they will soon get something to eat.—Your friend. Jean McKeown.

Clisraday, 21st January, 1920.

The Examiner Armenian Helpers.

Please fine enclosed $1.00 for the Armenian Fund.—Yours truly, One Who Would Be a Friend to the Poor.

SERVICE THAT COUNTS.

Mr. Peter Gauld, of Brigden, Ont., is eighty-one years of age. When he heard of the need of the Armenian sufferers, he immediately made up his mind to forward his own donation. Then he started to think it over—but here is his own letter to Mr. Cameron:

"Enclosed please find post office order for eighty-eight dollars, also list of those who donated to the relief of the suffering Armenians. I am an old man of eighty-one years, and I have never read of more terrible sufferings than those of tortured and persecuted Armenia. I was about to forward you my own donation, and, thinking I might do better, started out around our little village, and in a short time secured the enclosed amount, which I trust will help a little to allay the dreadful sufferings of our faithful Ally. Wishing you continued success.—I am, yours truly, Peter Gauld."

The contribution of Mr. Gauld and those who helped him raise such a fine totalhas been acknowledged, but in the meantime there is no person who read this but will pay tribute to the man who so generously gave his services for the cause of a destitute people.

It is unnecessary now to refer in any detail to the terrible massacres of 1894-95-96, the awful events at Adana in 1908-09, which are fresh in many minds, and the crowning iniquities of 1915-16, with the deportations and their horrors. As Dr. Gabrielian says, the carrying away of men, women, and children was "far more diabolical and hellish" than instant death, because it meant "death by starvation, by rape, by disease, and by a slavery far worse than all." The Turks were determined to get rid of the Armenian question by getting rid of the Armenians themselves. It is a satisfaction to know that German missionaries in Armenia protested against these barbarities, but, as Lord Bryce's report shows, the German military authorities censored these utterances and published the letters without the protests.

The first is the urgent need of Christian philanthropy on the widest scale. It is scarcely possible to exaggerate the needs of the country, and, do what we will, untold suffering is inevitable as the result of all these massacres and deportations. Mr. Hoover's words should be quoted again and again, that "the Near East presents the most desperate situation in the world." And not long ago when the Foreign Missions Council of the Inter-Church Federation of America asked Mr. Rickard, Mr. Hoover's leading assistant, where in the whole world was the best field for American benevolence, he recommended the Near East as the place where this benevolence should be concentrated, because it is the place of greatest need. It is a great satisfaction that response to the appeal has been so prompt and generous. Philanthropy was once quaintly defined by Archbishop Benson as "man-loving-ness," and there is no finer proof of genuine Christianity than the desire and determination to help the needy, and thereby to prove the possession of the love of God by love of the brethren also.

The Toronto Globe acknowledges receipt of a letter from The Peterborough Examiner, in which it is stated that contributions to the amount of $831.85 had been received by the fund started by The Examiner in aid of the Armenian sufferers. The cheque has been forwarded to Mr. Cameron.

The Examiner Fund is now well on the way to $1,500.0.

ACTING MINISTER DECLINED TO ACT

PETERBORO DEPUTATION WAS HANDED A SUGGESTION.

Mayor A. A. McIntyre, Ald H. Gainey and Ald. G. N. Gordon waited on The Honourable Dr. Reid, acting Minister of Public Works, Ottawa, yesterday, to obtain the Minister's assurance that the Post Office and Customs House would be built on the lot the Government purchased a few years ago, at the corner of Sherbrooke and George street.

The Honourable Dr. Reid said that he was at present only Acting Minister, and that a Minister of Public Works would be appointed, he expected, to-day or to-morrow and that this matter would strictly speaking, come before the new official. He suggested that when the estimates are struck, about the 26th., of February, that this mattgr be brought to the attention of the Minister so that he could deal with the matter.

Mayor McIntyre feels that there is a strong probability that the matter will be dealt with at this Session and a new Post Office and Customs House will be built and the old buildings used, one for a Bank, which is said to be willing to purchase it and the other may be sold by the Government for the purpose of office building or an apartment house.

Mayor McIntyre made a strong argument in the City's favor and expects that the matter should be dealt with without delay. He intends to follow the application up without any delay and if there is any possibility, have the matter dealt with this year.

666 COPPERS IN THE JAR

A NUMBER OF TIE ESTIMATES IN THE EXAMINER CONTEST—PRIZES PAID ON MONDAY NEXT.

The Examiner contest in connection with Dollar Day proved just as good an attraction to the Day as usual. The estimate on the number of coppers in the jar was simpler and easier to work out than previous contests and consequently there is a number of ties for the prizes which are as follows:

1st 666 Thos. McQuillan, 215 Simcoe street, $5.50.
and 666 C. Ferguson, R.R. No. 2, $5.50.
3rd. 665 M. Lee, 253 Burnham, $2.20
4th 665 R. H. Nesbitt, R.R. No. 4, $2.20.
5th 667 T. H. Ruth, 314 Pearl, $2.20
6th 667 John Fligg, 576 Aylmer, $2.20.
7th 665 John Fligg, 576 Aylmer, $2.20.
8th 668 M. Lee, $1.00.
9th 663 J. Fligg, 576 Aylmer, $1.00.
10th 669 M. Lee, $1.00.

It is quite evident that a number of the contestants worked this estimate out and stuck to their figures closely.

First and second prizes of $6.00 and $5.00 are divided between Mr. Thos. McQuillan, City, an Mr. C. Ferguson of the County, and each estimated the exact number.

The next five were only one away from the correct number and divided prizes awarded for the 3rd, 4th, 5th, 6th and 7th receiving $2.20 each. The Examiner has to thank the public again for another successful Dollar Day.

The list of prizes in the Merchants Contest will not be announced until to-morrow or possibly not until Saturday.

RESTLESSNESS AMONG THE LETTER CARRIERS IN MANY PLACES THROUGHOUT THE DOMINION

(Special to The Examiner.)

OTTAWA, Jan. 22.—Restlessness among the letter carriers in many places in Canada because of low wages, which has been brought to light by strike votes and protest meetings in several cities—notably Toronto, Hamilton, London and Quebec—is to be made the subject of a National inquiry by the head officers of the organization of letter carriers of Canada. Announcement has been made in Ottawa that this inquiry will probably take the form of a referendum asking if the letter carriers in favor of a general strike from coast to coast to enforce wage demands. No definite information could be gleaned last night, but it is believed that the machinery for taking the referendum has been prepared and that the result of the vote will be in the office of the head union within a few weeks. The letter carriers at present start on a wage of $1,427 a year, and the general demand is for a minimum of $1,700 a year.

WIELDING THE AXE IN MILITIA DEPARTMENT

NINETEEN EMPLOYEES WERE LAID OFF YESTERDAY—MAKING WAY FOR REAL WAR VETERANS.

MORE TO FOLLOW

(Special to The Examiner.)

OTTAWA, Jan. 21.—To make way for returned soldiers out of employment further drastic cuts have been made in the present personnel of the militia and defence department. A large number of employees who have no war service record were given notice yesterday that their services were being dispensed with, while it is authoritatively stated that the end of the month will witness the laying off of many more in various branches of the department. This policy is in line with the announcement of the government that further re-organization was in prospect. The chief reason for the changes in the Militia and Defence Department, however, is the insistent demands that returned soldiers be given the preference in positions open in the department, and as far as is consistent this will be carried out. It is stated there are many employees of the Militia and Defence Department, who have been there since the war started and it is among these that the axe is falling. Nineteen were laid off in one of the branches yesterday. A total of sixty were let go altogether yesterday. These who are being let go receive a week's salary for every year that they have been in the employ of the service.

INVESTIGATION INTO REGIMENTAL ACCOUNTS

PAYMENTS OUT OF THE REGIMENTAL FUNDS—CONTRACTS FOR REGIMENTAL RATIONS.

FALSE STATEMENT

(Special to The Examiner.)

ST. CATHARINES, Jan. 22.—At the military inquiry last night, Col. Burleigh was recalled to the stand, and stated that he had not received any other cheques from Captain McKinley for accounts. He remembered Captain McKinley telling him on one or two occasions that Dr. Greenwood was spending more money that he should spend.

"How did you know he was spending too much when no accounts were kept?" asked the president.

"Captain McKinley evidently knew."

"How did you get funds to pay the bills for $821, an account at Bradley's for $633 and $820 for a motor car?"

"I did not know there was an account at Bradley's," the witness stated.

"Not when you say Bradley's were pressing you for payment?" queried the General.

"No, sir." Col. Burleigh persisted. "What became of the cheque for $821.50?" demanded the president.

"I gave the money to Mr. Greenwood; my bookkeeper cashed it."

"Were there any other accounts besides Bradley's?"

"I don't think so, but I did not know Bradley's had an account."

"Was not Bradley's account made at your instance? Did you not want to draw 75 cents and put the balance to the funds to pay for these extras?" demanded Gen. Cruikshanks.

"Absolutely not," returned the witness. "Captain McKinley asked me if I would like some money for the Regimental Fund, and handed me $400, which he said was left over from overseas quotas, and a couple of days later he handed me $200. I deposited it in the Regimental Fund under 'Sale of Badges and Rent of Chairs.'"

"That was not true?"

"No."

"It was a false statement made with intent to deceive?"

"Yes."

"Who?"

"The junior officers."

"Where did the money come from?"

"I think it was left over from paying the bills of the contractors."

"The same game game was played in the first five and a half days?" asked the president.

"Yes, but I did not know anything about it."

Col. Burleigh stated that Captain McKinley had given him $928.63 in all, part of which was represented in a receipted bill of Frank Taylor, Niagara Falls, for $328.60. He had also paid another bill for $200, which probably came from the same source.

Re-examined regarding the Bradley contract by Col. Young, Col. Burleigh declared that he had not gone to the Bradley Company, and had not spoken to Major Bradley in reference to the contract. Mr. Greenwood told him he had made arrangements with Bradley's. His recollection was that the agreement had been made outside of a lock shanty in the presence of a number of officers. Bradley's were to send in a bill for the provisions ordered.

The Pay Rolls.

Col. Burleigh stated that Major Traill was only on duty for the afternoon of the first day. He did not know he was on the pay list. He did not examine the pay rolls, although he signed them.

The pay rolls were produced, and Major Traill's name is shown on the pay list as drawing $155. Then letters from Major Traill to Col. Burleigh and from Col. Burleigh to Major Traill were read in regard to pay. Enclosed was a cheque from the Regimental Funds for $100.

"How came it that pay and allowances were drawn for him from the Government and he was paid with a cheque from the Regimental Funds?" asked Col. Young.

Col. Burleigh held that the cheque sent to Major Traill was in payment of services at a provisional school in the Armouries. He did not think that Major Traill had ever drawn his Government pay, and could not say where it had gone. In regard to the Bradley contract for the draft to the

INFLUENZA IN NEW YORK CITY

THE EPIDEMIC IS BELIEVED TO HAVE PASSED ITS PEAK.

(Canadian Press.)

NEW YORK, Jan. 22. — In New York city 671 new cases of influenza, an increase of two hundred over yesterday, were reported. Fifteen died of influenza to-day and 55 from pneumonia.

In Chicago the epidemic is believed to have passed its peak. Two thousand new cases represents a decrease from yesterday, but the death rate for twenty-four hours reached sixty-one, the largest yet. The disease is declared to be of a mild character. Six thousand cases reported in Havana, Cuba.

MUSIC AND DRAMA

"FAIR AND WARMER"

A theatrical cocktail might adequatey describe "Fair and Warmer", which was presented at the Grand last evening to a large and appreciative audience. It was a mixture of comedy, anti-prohibition drinks and a 1920 model husband whose ability to produce an alibi at the present moment, contrasts strangely with that of a husband who makes a failure of trying to please a tempermental wife and finally follows the advice and ways of the former with strange results. Ruth Allen as "Laura Bartlett and Howard Freeman as 'Jack Wheeler" plays prominent parts in the plot and are well received. Anthony Blair as "Billy Bartlett" also lends strength to the cast in what might be termed the title role of the play. Other characters were equally good and the whole play is a mirth provoking production acceptable to any audience.

TURKS NOW SEE MISTAKE OF SIDING WITH TEUTONS IN THE WAR.

PARIS, Jan. 21. — In his speech from the Throne at the opening of the Turkish Parliament last Monday, the Sultan referred to "Turkey's mistake in entering the war on the Teutonic side," according to reports of the speech just received here from Constantinople. The speech, read by the Minister of the Interior, because of the indisposition of the Sultan, dwelt at length on the fact that, while the armistice had been in effect for fourteen months, the forces of the Allies still occupied certain parts of the Empire.

Greek occupation of Smyrna, the Sultan said, increased the difficulties, but he added:

"It is necessary at this time to explain the gravity of the situation. Prudence, clear-sightedness, firmness, and patriotism ought to lead us to safety and success. Justice is the foundation on which all human society rests."

The Hacking Cough Strains the Lungs

The terrible, racking, lung-wrenching cough that sticks to you in spite of everything you have done to get rid of it is a great source of danger to your health, and the longer it is allowed to stick the more serious the menace becomes.

You can easily get rid of the cough or cold at its inception by using Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup, a remedy that has been universally used throughout Canada for the past 30 years.

Mrs. Samuel Matthews, Portage, P. E.I., writes:—"Last winter I caught a heavy cold, and was laid up for sometime. I had such a hacking cough I could not sleep at night and did not think I would ever get over it. One day a friend dropped in to see me and was surprised to see how bad my cough was. She advised me to use Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup, so the next day I sent for a bottle, and soon got relief, and by time I had taken two bottles my cough was all gone. I doubt there is anything to equal it."

Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup is put up in a yellow wrapper; 3 pine trees the trade mark; price 25c and 50c. Manufactured only by the T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

ACCUSED OF MELTING COIN.

Six Arraigned in London for Breaking Up Sovereigns.

LONDON.—Six persons, including Harry Lewis, a barrister, and Shure and Chamberlain, diamond merchants, were to-day arraigned in Bow Street Police Court on a charge of melting and breaking up gold coin. They were arrested yesterday under the provisions of the Defense of the Realm Act.

Gold amounting to thousands of pounds sterling has recently been withdrawn from the Bank of England for illegal purposes, according to The Daily Mail. Gold is now worth about £3 11s. per ounce, which is in excess of the face value of a sovereign, and The Mail asserts that gold valued at several thousands of pounds was found in the houses of the persons under arrest.

Sloan's Liniment Keep it handy

WOLF, FOX, LYON AND BAER NOW IN MARINES

BUFFALO, N. Y. — "Wolf, Fox, Lyon," called the sergeant, as he ushered three recruits into the marine corps recruiting office here.

"It sounds like a menagerie," said the recruiting officer to the sergeant. "Do you think we're signing up animal acts for a circus?"

"Nor, sir," replied the sergeant, "but there is still one more man to sign up, captain."

"Bring him in."

"Baer!" shouted the sergeant, and the fourth recruit entered.

The four recruits were James E. Fox, of Gates, N.Y.; James Baer of Erie, Pa.; George R. Wolf of Warren, Pa., and Charles Lyon of Rochester, N.Y.

INDUSTRIAL DEVELOPMENT OF CITY TO BE DISCUSSED TO-NIGHT

WELL KNOWN LOCAL CITIZENS WILL ADDRESS THE BOARD OF TRADE.

The industrial development of Peterborough will be discussed from the business and scientific stand points at the special meeting of the Board of Trade to-night.

The principle address will be by George A. Gillespie, head of the Peterborough Milk Produces Limited, who represented Peterborough as a member of the Provincial Legislature for several years.

Mr. Gillespie is one of the leading business men of Peterborough and has successfully developed, without outside capital, one of its principle industries. He will speak from the stand point of Peterborough and will deal with the local situation as it is effected by init iative and promotive enterprise within Peterborough itself.

Mr. William H. Pretty, engineer on the staff of the Trent Canal, will follow Mr. Gillespie on the subject of the "Political Economy of Power."

This subject is of particular interest to Peterborough because of the Board of Trade's controversy with the Hydro-Electric Power Commission of Ontario. The Board contends that Peterborough's interests lie in the use of water power at the centre of a natural power zone. The Hyro-Electric policy is to diffuse electrical energy from the economic centre to far-distant industrial users.

Mr. Pretty will likely deal with this subject from the scientific standpoint and much interest is taken in his view of the situation.

The prosperity of Peterborough as a city rests primarily upon its industrial economics and the purpose of the Board of Trade is to work out with the City Council an industrial plan consistent with that principle.

The addresses this evening will make the second of a series of discussion devoted to the pratical problems of the city development in which the Board takes a particular interest.

The members of the Board will not be "drummed up" to attend these Thursday evening meetings. The attendance is limited to members. Admission is by ticket.

The meeting will be called to order by President Turner promptly at 8 o'clock and he hopes tha the members will be seated at that time.

Next Thursday evening will be devoted to an address by Mr. R. B. Moreley of the Ontario Safety League.

ALL PARTIES ADMIT THE ACT IS A HARDSHIP.

But Magistrate in Ottawa Has to Fine Firm for Selling Maple Butter.

OTTAWA, Jan. 21.—Bains, Limited, of Montreal, was convicted under the Adulteration Act of selling an article labelled maple butter which was neither pure maple sugar nor maple syrup, and was therefore adulterated within the meaning of the Act.

Magistrate Askwith imposed a fine of $25.00, and costs, and J. U. Vincent, who appeared for the defence, gave notice of appeal.

Both W. J. Simms, who appeared for the prosecution, counsel for the defence, and the Court, admitted that the Act was a hardship, and it was admitted that the maple butter was a wholesome food, and in the nature of a godsend to the poor people, who were unable to purchase butter or oleomargarine at a higher price.

Careless Shampooing Spoils The Hair

If you want to keep your hair looking its best, be careful what you wash it with. Don't use prepared shampoos or anything else, that contains too much alkali. This dries the scalp, makes the hair brittle, and ruins it.

The best thing for steady use is just ordinary mulsified cocoanut oil (which is pure and greaseless), and is better than anything else you can use.

One or two teaspoonfuls will cleanse the hair and scalp thoroughly. Simply moisten the hair with water and rub it in. It makes an abundance of rich creamy lather, which rinses out easily, removing every particle of dust, dirt, dandruff and excessive oil. The hair dries quickly and evenly, and it leaves the scalp soft, and the hair fine and silky, bright, lustrous, fluffy and easy to manage.

You can get mulsified cocoanut oil at any pharmacy, it's very cheap, and a few ounces will supply every member of the family for months.

GETS POSTHUMOUS HONOUR.

Jean de Reszke's Name is Enrolled in Legion of Honour.

PARIS, Jan. 21.—Posthumous honours have been paid Lieutenant Jean de Reszke, son of the former grand opera tenor, who was killed while leading his section in battle near Mory, south-east of Montdidier, on 20th June, 1918.

The ribbon of the Legion of Honour was handed to his brother Edouard by officers of the Legion early last week.

FIRST AID FOR PETERBORO MEN

CLASS OF INSTRUCTION MAY BE OPENED HERE.

In order to offset the serious results of wounds and injuries received and not instantly attended to, the employees of the C. P. R. and Lake Steamships at Port McNicol have during the past eight weeks undergone a course of instruction in First-Aid, having as instructor and demonstrator Mr. E. G. Noble, of Montreal.

In the fact that accidents on railroads are necessarily more or less common, due either to some unavoidable or unknown cause or carelessness on the part of others, the course of instruction is almost essential to both the railroad man or the woman of the house, who may very easily learn the simple remedies of First-Aid, and not only consequently alleviate suffering, but in many cases save the life of some injured man.

Mr. Noble, who has been holding similar classes in MacTier, will probably come to Peterborough, en route from Toronto and Trenton to Havelock.

Constipation or Costiveness

Constipation, although generally described as a disease, can never exist unless some of the organs are deranged, which is generally found to be the liver.

There is nothing more productive of general ill health than constipation of the bowels, and a regular action is absolutely essential to general health. One of the most common, painful and troublesome troubles caused by constipation is piles, and unless the bowels are kept open by the use of a good laxative such as Milburn's Laxa-Liver Pills the whole system will be poisoned and many different complications of diseases arise, so if you would be well, keep your bowels regular.

Mr. A. Roder, Hastings St. E., Vancouver, B.C., writes:—"I desire to express my thanks for what Milburn's Laxa-Liver Pills have done for me. I had been suffering from constipation for two years, and also had a bad cough and headaches. I tried all sorts of cures and remedies, but got no relief until I was advised to try your pills. I got great relief after the first few doses."

Get Milburn's Laxa-Liver Pills when you ask for them or send 25c. and they will be sent by return of mail by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

"FLU" INVADES MICHIGAN,

DETROIT, Jan. 21.—The threatened invasion of Spanish influenza in Michigan materialized when the State health authorities were notified that at the little town of Milan, some fifty miles south-west of the city, one hundred cases of the disease had developed. This means that one person out of every fifteen in the town is down with the "flu."

GROWING DEAF WITH HEAD NOISES? TRY THIS

If you are growing hard of hearing and fear Catarrhal Deafness, or if you have roaring, rumbling, hissing noises in your ears, go to your druggist and get 1½ ounce of Parmint (double strength), and add to it ¼ pint of hot water and a little granulated sugar. Take 1 tablespoonful four times a day.

This will often bring quick relief from the distressing head noises. Clogged nostrils should open, breathing become easy, and the mucus stop dropping into the throat. It is easy to prepare, costs little, and is pleasant to take. Anyone who is threatened with Catarrhal Deafness or who has head noises should give this prescription a trial.

AN INCREASE IN FREIGHT RATES

OTTAWA, Jan. 21.—An increase in freight rates is understood to be calculated upon in the draft estimates of the Canadian National Railways, which are now in course of preparation, President Hanna has so intimated.

The head of the Government system has been here in consultation with the Minister of Railways on the finances of the system, and after being drafted the estimates will be approved by the directors and then sent to the Government for revision. To what extent the rates will be increased is not yet known, but owing to the increased operating expenses some augmentation will be necessary to-wards make both ends meet.

The effect of such an order as applied to the National Railways will be that similar rates must be authorized on the lines of the Canadian Pacific if proper competition is to be maintained.

Nine Months Yet.

The financial appropriations now being made do not provide for financing the Grand Trunk. It is believed that it will be nine months before that line is formally taken over, he shareholders of the company will not meet till some time in February to ratify the agreement of agbitration, and, assuming that they do, the arbitration will not begin till the early spring. It is likely to be protracted.

However, once the agreement is sanctioned, a Board of Management will be created, and the operation of the Grand Trunk will be conducted with the C. N. R. without waiting for the arbitration.

This board will consist of two, appointed by the National Railways, two by the Grand Trunk, and a fifth to be agreed upon by the others.

Provision will be made in the estimates for the construction of a number of western branch lines already authorised by Parliament.

ELIMINATING THE GLARE.

Hon. Mr. Biggs, Minister of Public Works, made a statement the other night that will earn him and the Drury Government the applause of an appreciative public when he declared that the Government were going to find a way to end the menace of glaring moter-car headlights. The danger to pedestrians, to drivers of horse-driven vehicles and to motorists by reason of the blinding glaring from many of the headlights that have been in use on Ontario roads has been frequently referred to by the newspapers and there have been many reports of accidents caused by these lights. Mr. Biggs did not state what means the Government intend to employ to put an end to the evil but it is to be hoped the scheme adopted will be effective. The elimination of the headlight menace will be appreciated by every one who has to travel on the public highways, perhaps most of all by the motorists themselves.

A ROAD TO BE IMPROVED.

In the good roads programme of the Drury Government for the coming year there should be a place in the Provincial Highways System for the road leading from Port Hope through Peterboro to the Kawartha Lakes. Few roads in Eastern Ontario see more tourist traffic during the summer months than does this section of roadway—and unfortunately there are portions of it that are anything but an inducement to motorists. It is a road that should properly come under the Provincial System and no time should be lost in impressing this fact upon the Government. The Kawartha Lakes are a magnet for hundreds of visitors every summer; there would be a notable increase in the number of tourists were the lakes made more accessible by a system of good road. Every section of the community benefits by the summer influx and therefore would feel the effect of an increase in the numbers. These facts should be called to the attention of the Ontario Administration and the city council, county council, Board of Trade, Automobile Association and other bodies should get together in a campaign that will bring before the Government the necessity of including the Port Hope—Peterboro—Kawartha Lakes highway in the Provincial Scheme.

THE PENSION SYSTEM.

The question of equality of pensions is one that will undoubtedly be an issue not only at the coming session of Parliament but also at the Provincial convention of the Great War Veterans' Association which will be held in Peterboro in March. The views of the majority of returned men and apparently of the people in general seems to favour the equalization of pensions to Canada's ex-service men who will agree with the opinion of Turner's Weekly that social caste is a rotten basis on which to establish a pension system.

The Dominion parliament is to have another session next month, and no doubt the vexed questions concerning the re-establishment of soldiers and their general assimilation into the civil population again, will be once more the subject of more or less debate says our Western contemporary. Aside from all questions of direct aid, locating of soldiers in suitable situations, etc., there are two matters which vex the soldiers and which could be very easily handled by the coming session. One of the points is the equalization of pensions. In spite of the fact that there never has been a serious objection entered from any quarter against the logic of equalizing the pensions paid to all ranks in the Canadian Army, there seems to always have been, in the past, a marked reluctance on the part of any members of parliament to seriously pursue this reform. At Ottawa, someone apparently asks some general if equality of pensions would be a good thing, and he says, "No," and that settles the matter. Even granting that the services of all officers were more valuable than we are not inclined to admit, and only do so for the sake of argument: even supposing this much was the case, there never has been any contention that pension was based on service rendered. If that were the case, of course a man who had taken part in a dozen battles and performed heroic service for a number of years, would, if he were disabled, receive many times as great a pension as a man who had never seen the front line, but had received a similar disability in the course of training or in some non-important base job. If the pension is not dependent in any way on service, it must be dependent, to some degree, on the extent of the disability a pensioner encounters in again taking up the duties of civil life. Viewed from this angle, there can be no question that a carpenter, who was a major in the army, is not handicapped to any greater extent by the loss of an arm than the carpenter who had been a private and who had received a similar injury. The difference in the pension is based solely on the difference in social caste and that is a rotten sort of a basis to work on in a country like this. Parliament could equalize the pensions without doing anyone the slightest injustice, and, by doing so, parliament would be acting in accordance with the wishes of ninety per cent. of those whom they are in Ottawa to represent.

LABOR'S OPPORTUNITY.

Never in all its history in civilized countries has organized labor had a larger opportunity than now to play a useful part, useful to its own members and useful to the communities in which they live. The misfortune is that in too many instances organized labor is neglecting the opportunities for legitimate use of its power and entering upon lines of action that in the end must lead to much evil. Organized labor in many communities is losing its all powerful ally, intelligent public opinion. Let it be admitted that often in times past the workers did not receive their fair share of the product of their labor. In the old order of things, in too many quarters, labor was looked upon as merely a commodity in which the employer was free to deal with regard entirely to his own interests. From various causes, largely from its own efforts, no doubt, but largely also from the growth of a more just and generous spirit in the consideration of labor's problems, organized labor has come to a situation in which it can by a legitimate exercise of its influence accomplish every purpose that is to at variance with the public good. Few are the labor disputes that cannot to be settled by patient enquiry, conciliation and arbitration. The most powerful influence for the reformer is public opinion. With that behind them the men who desire changes may achieve great things. Where public opinion is indifferent the work of the reformer is hard. When public opinion is distinctly hostile, failure is inevitable. The public opinion of the civilized world is with organized labor in all reasonable demands for fair wages and proper working conditions. Is organized labor to hold that great influence or drive it into hostility? If organized labor has no regard for the public interests, the public convenience, the public comfort, how can it hope to retain public sympathy?

How many strikes have occurred within a few months in which organized labor has shown profound indifference to all public interests. The Winnipeg strike was a defiance of the whole community. The bituminous coal miners' strike in the United States at the opening of winter was a cruel blow to the people. The police strike in Boston left the city for a time at the mercy of the criminal classes. The street car strike in Ottawa on the morning of a public holiday did not hurt the shareholders as much as it did thousands of the poorer people whose holiday plans were destroyed. The waterworks strike at Montreal last week didn't harm the city authorities more than other citizens, but the sick in the hospitals and the people generally were deprived of one of the necessaries of life.

Is it any wonder that in the presence of these and other instances of organized labor's disregard of the public interests, public opinion is being turned against the labor movements?

Organized labor is not powerful because of its numbers. Relatively its numbers are not large. Only a small percentage of the workers—in a country where almost everybody is a worker—are enrolled under the banner of organized labor. It is because of its organization, rather than its numbers, that organized labor, a minority of the population, has a large influence. On the field of war a small army thoroughly drilled and disciplined is able for a while to defeat a larger army which has lacked organization. But when the larger army is trained members count. Will organized labor have influence if, by a selfish and inconsiderate course, it forces the larger army to organize against it? Already there are signs of such organization. In England, where labor has been asserting itself very vigorously in various ways, the Lord Chancellor, an astute politician, has made an important speech in which he calls on the masses of the people of all shades of politics to organize into a party to resist the pretensions of organized labor. In the United States there are murmurings of a similar movement and occasionally there is very plain speaking. In a speech at Plymouth, Mass, at the celebration of the landing of the Pilgrim Fathers, ex-Senator Albert Beveridge, of Indiana, said:

"At one time combinations of capital, at another time organizations of labor, seek to control the government of all of us, and to dictate legislation which affects all of us. These groups do this by corruption or by force.

"Yesterday it was evil wealth that worked its will through agents disguised as law makers and smuggled into the councils of the nation, and also by adroit and skilful rogues hired to tamper with the representatives of the people.

"Today it is ruthless labor that forces its sway by organized intimidation not only of our government in all its branches, but of the people as a whole, and also by as crafty and shameless a lobby as every capital maintained at the seats of the legislation. Just as yesterday the question was whether financial plunderers should exploit the nation, so today as whether labor bandits shall hold up the symbol. At this particular time the crowning domestic issue immediately before America is whether labor unions shall run the American Government or whether the American people shall run the American Government."—Journal of Commerce.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

The dazzling expanse of white made his eyes pain sharply: there was no relief; the flat, glistening area, without limit and without a break, made him feel that he must find shelter soon or go blind. Where was he? On the frozen wastes surrounding the North Pole? No: at a dance, looking at a back. (Extract from an unwritten novel.)—Turner's Weekly.

PUT HIM ON.

If a fellow clad in khaki,
Olive drab, or sailor blue,
Walks in and asks to see the Boss,
And the Boss, of course, is you;
If a fellow clad in khaki,
Olive drab or sailor blue,
Walks in and asks you for a job,
What are you going to do?
Put him on!

He's the fellow, please remember,
When the Huns knocked at our door,
To whom you prayed with fervor,
"Keep the Germans from our shore!"
He's the fellow—Oh, remember!
Who, knee-deep in mud and gore,
Gave your prayer a happy answer,
Made your hearthstone safe once more.
Put him on!

When he marched away you cheered him;
Have you cheered him, coming back?
Have you given him a welcome
Since he laid down gun and pack?
Have you thrown his deeds in discard?
Put his record on the rack?
Is it you who'll be a slacker
To the boy who didn't slack?
Put him on!

If a fellow clad in khaki,
Olive drab, or sailor blue,
Walks in and asks you for a job—
What are you going to do?
Yes, of course, it seems a problem:
May mean sacrifice for you;
But, remember Somme and Ypres!
He's been sacrificing, too!
Put him on!

CANADA DEPORTS 1,600 "REDS."

Work has been Done Quietly for a Year, says Lieut.-Col. Date.

MONTREAL, January 21. — Referring to the recent deportation from the United States of prominent Reds' Lieut.-Colonel W. E. Date, commandant of the Canadian Internment Camp for Enemy Aliens at Kapuskasing, stated here that Canada had been in advance of the United States in such action. In June last during the labor troubles in Winnipeg, the Royal North West Mounted Police had quietly gathered in about 100 prominent "Reds" from Winnipeg and had shipped them to Kapuskasing, from whence they had later been deported to their European homes without any publicity whatever. More Reds are still to go.

During the past year well over a thousand enemy aliens had been shipped from Canada, and more were to go, he said.

KING SAYS FARMERS WILL QUIT AS PARTY

THINKS THEY WILL HARMONIZE WITH THE LIBERAL DOCTRINES OF LOWER TARIFF.

MONTREAL, Jan. 21.—Hon. William L. Mackenzie King paid his first visit to Montreal as Liberal leader Monday, when he addressed members of the Montreal Reform Club at a special luncheon. Mr. King devoted much of his address to an account of his recent tour of the Maritime Provinces and to a consideration of the Farmers' movement throughout the Dominion, which he regarded as a species of Liberalism. He declared that there was no danger of a Farmers' political movement in the Maritime Provinces, giving as his view that the farmers there were quite content with the political program of the Liberal party. As to Ontario and the West, it was his opinion that the movement there would, in the end, harmonize with the Liberal doctrines of lower tariff and reciprocity with the United States. He stated that owing to pressure of work and the approach of another Parliamentary session he had been compelled to postpone his original intention of making a tour of the West until after the conclusion of the next session.

'BEST BRITISH ADMIRAL IN NAVY OF U.S."

SIMS SAYS REFERENCE OF CLEVER AMERICAN CORRESPONDENT EMBARRASSING.

NEW YORK, Jan. 21. — Rear-Admiral William S. Sims, was given an ovation here by several hundred of his brother officers of the army and navy, when it was announced at a banquet tendered to general officers of the army and flag officers of the navy, that Admiral Sims, one of the guests of honor, would, "in view of recent happenings," answer any questions which were put to him at the close of his address.

The keen interest aroused among the diners by these announcements was no, however, rewarded with any sensational statements when the Admiral finally rose to speak. He refrained from all personalities and the only direct reference he made to his recent testimony before a Senate committee in Washington was the statement that he was "embarrassed to find myself referred to by a clever correspondent as 'the best British Admiral in the American navy.'

Saw Trouble Coming.

The Admiral said there were "two distinct rows" off at present, one over medals and the other, his criticism. He declared the impression was that he was the aggressor, but having had some historical and practical knowledge of decorations, he saw "this trouble" coming for some time, and tried to avoid it. His criticism, he contended, was not an act of insubordination.

"Let me say it was nothing with a view of the kind," he continued. "The regulations of the navy provide than any officer who can consistently and efficiently criticise the actions of the department is to do so. But some of them don't. It is not proper to publish these criticisms without the order of the department."

Admiral Sims declared that the Secretary himself issued orders inviting criticisms, adding that anybody who did criticize probably interfered with his personal comfort.

What Ships Lost?

"But an officer must consider the efficiency of the navy," he said. "If he does not make criticisms where thinks they would do good, he is not not worth the pay the government gives him and not worth the powder to blow him to hell."

Admiral Sims asserted that medals are of no value, unless discretion is use in distribution. He caused much laughter when he remarked men in the navy didn't want their grandchildren to say to them in later years, "What ship did you lose during the great war?"

Fletcher's Castoria is strictly a remedy for Infants and Children. Foods are specially prepared for babies. A baby's medicine is even more essential for Baby. Remedies primarily prepared for grown-ups are not interchangeable. It was the need of a remedy for the common ailments of Infants and Children that brought Castoria before the public after years of research, and no claim has been made for it that its use for over 30 years has not proven.

What is CASTORIA?

Castoria is a harmless substitute for Castor Oil, Paregoric, Drops and Soothing Syrups. It is pleasant. It contains neither Opium, Morphine nor other narcotic substance. Its age is its guarantee. SANDRA THE JEALOUS

BY JANE PHELPS

SANDRA REALIZES THAT SHE LOVES HER HUSBAND.

CHAPTER XVI

Everett had said that he enjoyed going to those stupid sort of dinners as if he meant it. He had spoken so nicely to me that I felt quite guilty because I had complained of being bored. Of course he wouldn't feel as I did. They were all about his age.

I have always thought that if Everett had realized how I longed for a companion of my own age at this time he would have allowed me to invite Rose Grandon to visit me. He evidently thought that lovely clothes, a handsome home and motor cars were all a woman needed to make her happy. Perhaps they would have been all an older woman needed. But I was young, at times full of gay spirits. I not only wanted but needed companions of my own age.

Had I been capable of taking charge of the house it would have filled many weary hours. But I was not, even if Everett would have consented to allow me to do so. The consequence was that I had many idle hours, unoccupied hours during which I thought of what Everett had told me, and of Leola, of whom I was furiously jealous.

It really seems terrible to confess jealousy of a dead woman. Yet I think no living woman would have made me quite so unhappy because of my jealousy of the part she had in my husband's thoughts and life. Had Everett not prohibited my speaking of her; had I been able to repeat what I heard, I might in time have overcome it. But always I thought of what he had told me of her; that only because of her had I attracted him. I had realize that Everett was almost unconscious of some things he had told me. That he had spoken more to himself than to me. But I was neither so young nor so dense that I had not read between the lines. That I had not sensed to the full the wonderful love he had given "the first Mrs. Graham," the woman named "Leola."

I had looked for the pictures in the table drawer where I saw him lay them, and not finding them had put them where they would not be found by me again.

Day by day my love for Everett, my husband, grew stronger. From a mere pride in him, and a feeling of flattery because of his attentions; I had begun to have an all absorbing affection for him. But I compelled myself not to give it expression of ten. I was positive he did not love me. And I too had my pride.

Instead of decreasing as time went on my jealousy of the dead wife, the "first Mrs. Graham," increased. Tho it was childish the oddity of her name added to that jealousy. I would say it over an over many times a day. My own name which had always been rather a source of pride to me now sounded harsh when compared to the musical name of the other woman, Leola, Sandra.

In consonance with Everett's wishes I had meekly gone to several formal dinners with him. Each time he bought me a lovely gown, and each time there were touches of sapphire somewhere about the costume, if it was not entirely of that color.

"Why do you always choose blue for me?" I once asked him, my mind on what I had been told of his fondness for that color.

"Because it is your color—you should always wear blue. Not light blue. Your hair is too vivid. But deep rich blues."

"I look well in white. Let me have an all white dinner dress next time."

All that day I wondered if he were going to give me the jewels that awful Mr. Leveridge told me the "first Mrs. Graham" wore. Our dinner conversation had taken place at the breakfast table. The dinner was for a month hence and I was to meet him at my modiste's to see about a new gown.

Mrs. Garry, the woman whom I had disliked because she compared my hair to that of Leola, was giving the dinner. While I did not want to go, I did want to look well as long as Everett insisted upon our accepting her invitation. Already I had learned the power of clothes upon the minds of some women, and nearly all men. I had the "I'll show them" feeling because of the patronizing way they treated me. That is most of them—especially the women.

"One would think I was an infant in arms!" I scolded one morning after attending a function at which almost everyone treated me as if I were a child. And I begged Everett again to allow me to comb my hair as the older women did so I would look less like a little girl. But he again refused.

If there had been any other women of my age in the set to which Everett belonged I wouldn't have been so noticeably young. But most of them had daughters my age who were still in school, or considered too young to be "out".

I had heard people say they hated to grow old. I was constantly wishing I were older; more like the self-contained, poised women with whom Everett, and consequently I, associated. It seemed to me that whether one could be happy about one's age or not depended on one's environment.

CROWD PRAY AS MEN JUMP FROM FLAMES

IMPRESSIVE SCENE AS THEY LEAP FROM BLAZING NEW YORK BUILDING.

NEW YORK, Jan. 21.— Four men were burned to death, one died as a result of jumping to escape the flames and two were so badly injured they may die, in a fire that gutted a five-story building at 16 Maiden Lane this afternoon. Sixty others were rescued.

One of the men, badly injured, leaped from the third story while a crowd of thousands on the way home from the financial district stood in the streets below and prayed and cried warnings to the man not to jump.

The fire started from an explosion of chemicals on the second floor and spread up the stairs, blocking escape.

The two dead men and the three badly hurt were unidentified.

The flames spread so rapidly after the explosion that the street was filled with people ebfore the firemen arrived.

Suddenly half a dozen men were seen standing in the windows facing Maiden Lane.

"Get a net!" one of them shouted from the fourth floor.

When it was seen that he had either to jump or be scorched by the leaping flames, the crowd below began praying, its chant being heard above the shouts of the firemen.

Then, while the awed men and women in the street held their breaths or cried warnings to the men above, he stepped out into space and came hurtling downward.

Still shouting encouragement to the men above the crowd watched the others jump. All were badly injured.

TIGHT-FITTING COATS TO GO.

Sack and Box Styles Will Prevail Next Fall at Higher Prices.

NEW YORK. — Tight coats and overcoats are to give way to the sack and box coat next fall, according to Harry Simons, chairman of the Style Committee of the American Designers and Foremen's Association, which held its annual convention and exhibition at the McAlpin Annex a few days ago.

"The loose fitting coat wears longer and maintains smartness for a longer time than the tight fitting coat and the buying public are paying more attention to durability than they have in the past. The form-fitting overcoat of semi-military appearance will give way to the ulster type and box coat for the same reason."

It was the opinion of the majority of the designers present that men's clothing would be 30% higher in the Spring and under prevailing conditions 60% higher in the FFall. The reduction in the number of hours of the working week and the high wage scale which has come to replace piece work, especially in New York, was given as the chief cause by the designers for the increase in the cost of production which, they say, has gone up over 100% since the armistice.

TESTED HER RELIGION.

ST. CATHARINES, Jan. 21. — At Niagara Falls, Ont., they have a real Christian man, according to the Rev. Tomas Todd, Methodist minister of that city. He told about it in the Welland Avenue church here.

A widow out in Stamford had had a fire and lost practically everything she had, and the Falls Methodist Church decided to help her with donations of money and goods. One good lady confided in Mr. Todd.

"I had always wanted a new nickle-plated tea kettle," she said. "The one we used was a granite one and pretty old. We had used it for a long time. I thought here was a good chance to get rid of it and get the new nickle one that my soul craved. I would donate the old one to the widow's fund. When my husband came home I told him about my plans—he immediately put his foot down on the idea. He asked me if I hadn't read in the Bible how God required that the best lambs of the flock, without blemish or without fault, be given as a sacrifice to Him. 'Well,' he said, 'here is a chance to test your religion. You go and buy a nickle-plated tea kettle and give it to the widow. We will make the granite kettle do.' I did as he said, and I tell you I felt better realizing there is no real giving without sacrifice."

IMPOSSIBLE

"Daughter," said Mr. Grabdain to his eldest girl, "have you thought seriously of matrimony?"

"Well, father, I'm quite fond of Mr. Skidmersby."

"What, that shiftless upert who thinks his tailor a greater man than the President of the United States and 'jazz' the chief end of existence? No, no, my girl. If that's the way the wind blows you are not thinking seriously of matrimony."—Birmingham Age Herald.

HOME CIRCLE COLUMN

LOVE YOUR JOB.

Are you trying to climb where chosen are;
Where the feet of men are few?
Do you long for a "job that is worth one's while?"
Well, here is a thought for you;
The pots of gold at the rainbow's end
Are sought by the teeming mob,
But the fairies who guard them choose as friend
The man who loves his job.

No matter what grip of hand he has—
How poor or strong his brain,
There's always a place for the man who loves
His work with might and main;
Does he dig a ditch or blaze a trail
Where the dream of man may run?
No clods of earth shall shoulder him
From his place out in the sun!

It isn't the kick, it's not the pull,
That brings the strong man out;
But it's long time work and it's all time will,
Have you faith in yourself? Do you want to win?
There's just one thing can bring you in
With the winners—love your job!

There is something very personal about the administering of discipline to a small child. The punishment takes on color from the one who gives it. Don't make our child feel an accompanying impression of terror when you chastise him. The feeling will turn to a positive dislike of you. Although an unreasoning fear may instill obedience, it will cloud the whole aim of the punishment — to teach a knowledg of wrong. And worse than that, it will completely rob you of the child's confidence. Under these circumstances, the child will never feel free and at ease with you in other matters, and as he grows up, the memory of that shrinking fear which you inspired in him will become doubly fixed and repulsive in retrospect.

"What's the matter with father? He'se all right." You may have sung it; you probably think it. But have you ever told him so? Fathers are taken too much for granted these days. They receive a great deal of silent appreciation which leaves them feeling quite like a necessary evil. Especially if there are all women in your family, try to include father in that general spirit of comradeship, not just when you want something, but at all times. Try doing the things he likes when it doesn't happen to suit our convenience particularly. Don't discourage his little surprises or attentions, because, in the blundering masculine fashion, they are not anything you would really want. You will probably discover after a short time, that there is a lot more to father, aside from the visible means of support, than you thought there was.

Don't carry your business grouch into your home. It's like taking muddy feet into a Chippendale drawing room. This advice doesn't preclude a sane discussion of business troubles, for no man is above gleaning an unlooked for suggestion of value from the woman who keeps his household expenses properly within the limits of his income. For the same reason he has no right to come home disgruntled, throwing everything into a state of confusion, which his wife has to put in order after her day's work. He would not expect his business partner to bring him his unfinished work at the close of the day. Besides, the amount of energy expended in blowing off steam would fix the cause of the grouch so that it would never stick its head above board again.

Are you careful to see that only correct conversation goes on ordinarily in your home? If you have young children, it's imperative that you do this. You know from the way in which a child acquires a swear word, how quickly he will seize upon an incorrect expression. It is doubly difficult to discourage the conscious use of the grammatical errors, which have become unconsciously fixed in childhood, when he grows up. Baby talk is adorable, but such word as "ain't got" and "h'aint see no," and the like, are never pretty on any child's lips and cannot be corrected too young. A knowledge of the correct use of the English language is the greatest inheritance toward success in life that you can leave a child. The place to begin this lesson is in the home before the child reaches school age, when he is bound to hear imperfections outside of his home. He must learn to know the difference between correct and incorrect usage, and to cultivate an instinctive sense of the right word at the right time. You and he can accomplish this, if you will take the time, and exercise the necessary patience.

I cannot refrain from remarking, after recent exhibitions of supposedly good manners have come to my attention, that above all things good manners and ostentation are as far apart as the planets. When you try to force your "good manners" on people, they promptly become bad manners. If the occasion should arise for you to perform a slight service for some one, don't make a fuss about it. Better leave it undone than to do it in a way that will make the object of your service feel under obligations to you.

The other day I noticed a young lady helping an elderly lady put on her coat, and she made it seem so much like a service which youth must render age that the old lady became vexed and her vexation was pictured in her face. I imagine she wanted to tell the young woman she was "perfectly able to get into her own coat and please to stop fussing about it and attracting every one's attention." This could so easily have been a nice little courtesy, that it seems a shame the young woman's false sense of breeding should have spoiled it. Good breeding makes itself known in a very quiet and unassuming way.

S. C. WILLIAMS OF SARNIA WRITES FROM "SOMEWHERE" IN U. S. TO STORES.

SARNIA, Jan. 21.—From "somewhere" in the United States a missive written by Stanley C. Williams, the missing President of the chain of cash-and-carry stores here, was received in Sarnia late today, which contained the news that the much-wanted President will not voluntarily return to the Imperial City, but will, unless unforeseen incidents happen, become a citizen for the time being of the United States of America.

No mention of restitution was mentioned in the letter, and, according to the informant, M. A. Saunders, the missive was addressed to the S. C. Williams Co., Ltd No. 1 Store, Sarnia, Ont. Among the lines were a few words wishing the whole of the stores luck, and stating that the President would not be back in Sarnia, and that he was somewhere where he would commence work in the near future.

According to former officials of the Williams Company Stores, the whereabouts of the missing President is as much a mystery now as it was the day he left Sarnia and disappeared in Detriot some three weeks ago.

INVESTIGATION INTO REGIMENTAL ACCOUNTS

81st Battalion, Col. Burleigh declared that there had been no conversation between him and Major George R. Bradley in regard to the contract. He thought Major Bradley was mistaken.

Col. Young read a letter of Colonel Burleigh's, written in 1915, stating that he had made a contract with Bradley & Sons to supply the 81st draft with rations at 75 cents per man, and a letter from Col. J. S. Campbell to Col. Burleigh stating that Bradley's were to keep 40 cents and return 35 cents to the regiment.

Col. Burleigh demanded production of the originals of the letters that he might see the signatures, and was informed that they were in Ottawa, and had been sent for.

"You think that somebody forged your name on the letters?" queried General Cruikshanks.

"I don't remember anything about those letters. It looks suspicious," Col. Burleigh said.

Col. Burleigh was shown Major Traill's real signature on a cheque, and asked to compare it with the name opposite $455 on the pay roll. He admitted they were not much alike.

General Cruikshanks summed up the total sum unaccounted for properly, representing field allowances stopped from the men and the difference between contract prices and Government allowance for feeding overseas quotas. The sum is eleven thousand nine hundred and eleven dollars and ninety-one cents ($11,911.91).

OBITUARY.

Mrs. David Jewison.

In Cavan township on Nov. 10, 1844, Catherine Fry, daughter of the late Samuel Fry, was born. After careful and wise home training she became the life partner of David Jewison in Nov. of 1862. During the pastorate of Rev. S. Livingstone and shortly after her marriage she became a member of the Methodist church, and during their twenty years' residence in Hope township, and over thirty years in South Monaghan, she was active in the work of the church and made their home fragrant with the sweet influence of godly life. She has been a member of the Bailieboro Woman's Missionary Society since its organization. Last November at the home of their daughter, Mrs. T. White, Bailieboro, the fifty-seventh anniversary of their wedding was celebrated.

On Jan. 15, she entered into eternal rest, leaving the memory of a beautiful life. The funeral service was conducted by her pastor, Rev. M. W. Leigh, B.A., on Saturday last and interment made in the Bailieboro cemetery.

Mrs. William Dawson.

Mary Jane, daughter of the late Thomas Box, was born on Nov. 3, 1847, in England, and in early life came to Canada, residing in the township of Hope. At the age of 23 she was united in marriage to William Dawson, of South Monaghan, with whom she helped to build a happy and prosperous home. She was a Methodist and a useful member of the W. M.S. and the Ladies' Aid. On Nov. 6 last her husband suddenly passed away. She bore her bereavement bravely, but the reaction came on Christmas day and gradually she weakened, and on Jan. 10 she crossed the great divide. The funeral was conducted by her pastor, the Rev. M. W. Leigh, who spoke on her favorite psalm, 103. The pallbearers were the same as those of her husband, with the exception that her nephew, Frank Cole, took the place of Edmund Dawson.

Interment took place in the family plot in the Methodist cemetery in South Monaghan. Two sons, T. Edgar and Ira H., mourn a loving mother.

Voice Of The People

To the Editor of The Examiner,—

Sir: It has been my humble wish to do what I could to aid the churches in their mighty effort to throw off materialism, so prominently set forth at present in many ways.

As a contribution to this determined effort to rescue us from the new temptation I ask you to publish the following as an advertisement for one week:

"These five separate communions are of one mind as to their belief in God the Father Almighty, maker of Heaven and Earth, and in Jesus Christ His Son, our Lord. They now declare to their respective constituencies, and also unitedly to the Canadian people that the only effective Method of Making Good Citizens is by urging men to a more faithful practice of Christianity, by inculcating personal faith in Jesus Christ. They insist that there is no other dependable way of correcting evil tendencies in individual and national life. Signed by the United National Campaign representing the simultaneous but independent Forward Movements of the Anglican, Baptist, Congregational, Methodist and Presbyterian Communicas of Canada."

6d15 J. H. Burnham.

Peterboro, Jan. 17th, 1920.

Editor of Examiner:—

Being an Irishman, I note with indignation and disgust the anti-Irish propaganda carried on by Canadian journals and newspapers.

"Special Canadian Press Despatches" are sent every day by correspondents living in London, Eng., not in Ireland. The news is highly colored like the cheap literature found in the "Deadwood Dick Series."

The "Star" tells us on Saturday night the municipal elections were quiet in Ireland except in Cork where the Sinn Feiners with sticks, revolvers and bombs clashed with ex-soldiers. Strange to say no one was killed and the "Special" goes on to say that the soldiers disarmed the Sinn Feiners. Imagine now if you can such a formidable armed party disarmed by men without arms. We will label this Mr. Mackenzie's Special anathem.

The attempted assassination of Lord French turned out to be quite a sham as the evidence was so conflicting that no more has been said about it. The supposed attack on the Vice Regal Lodge in which a poor innocent youth was murdered in cold blood came to nothing. The evidence was comparable only to that given at the trial of the Son of God, so conflicting was it. One of the witnesses said he was beside himself he didn't know what he was saying or doing. The bullet found in the Lieutenant's body proved to be a military bullet. Kennedy was unarmed.

McClure rightly tells us that Ireland compared to the rest of the world is a paradise.

The "Globe" tells us in large print that there has been sixteen murders in three years in Ireland. In Canada we have had that many in a month.

The Sinn Feiners are a powerful organization working against lawlessness. Robberies attributed to the Sinn Feiners have not the slightest connection with that body. It is a significant fact that only policemen have been attacked in Ireland which goes to prove that robberies and raids on police barracks are the work of organized thugs operating in England, Scotland and Ireland. For example police sergeant Barton was murdered about two weeks ago. Barton had never persecuted the Sinn Feiners, but was a terror to criminals. His enemies have probably revenged themselves on him.

Irish Unionist papers have said that the Sinn Feiners were hostile to the returned Irish soldiers. This is contradicted by English newspapers. De Valera further tells us that most of the Irish soliers are strong supporters of the Sinn Fein party.

Religion has nothing to do with this organization as it is made up of both Catholics and Protestants.

Arthur Griffith and Russell, two prominent Sinn Feiners are adherents of the Protestant religion.

The "Manchester Guardian" a well known British paper says in its issue of Dec. 23rd, 1919:—

"The whole world is starring at the failure of our Prussian supermen in Ireland. When will England practice what she preaches about little nations.

Three of our family including myself enlisted to fight Prussianism, but our fight has been in vain.

G. FRANCIS.

A FEW MORE

A few more years shall roll,
A few more seasons wane,
And we shall be with those that rest
Till Christ shall come again.

A few more suns shall set
O'er these dark hills of time
And we shall be where suns are not—
A far serener clime.

A few more storms shall beat,
On this wild rocky shore,
And we shall be where tempests cease
And surges dwell no more.

A few more struggles here,
A few more partings o'er,
A few more toils, a few more tears,
And we shall weep no more.

A few more Sabbaths here
Shall cheer us on our way,
And we shall reach the endless rest
The eternal Sabbath Day.

Then, Oh, my Lord, prepare,
My soul for that great day,
Oh, wash me in Thy precious blood,
And take my sins away.

—J. H. Taylor.

MR. JOHN CORKERY SECURES POSITION

RECOMMENDATION TO THIS EFFECT MADE BY THE DEPARTMENT.

(Specail to The Examiner.)

OTTAWA, Jan. 2.—The Postmaster-General's Department have submitted a recommendation to the Civil Servite Commission that Mr. John Corkery, present Assistant Postmaster at Peterborough, be appointed Postmaster to succeed the late Mr. James Edgar.

Mr. Corbery will be notified of his appointment within a few days.

To Keep Skin in Fine Condition in Winter

It would be much better for the skin if little cream, powder or rouge were used during the winter term. These things which clog the pores, tend to aid wind and weather in roughening and coarsening the skin. Ordinary mercolized wax will do for the complexion, and without encouraging the skin to chap, crack or become harsh and leathery. It is the ideal application for the season, as it not only keeps the pores clean, but daily removes particles of scarf skin which have been spoiled by winds or temperature. By constantly keeping the complexion clear, white and soft it does more toward perpetuating a youthful countenance than any of the arts or artifices commonly employed. One ounce of mercolized wax obtainable at any drugstore, will completely renovate the worst complexion. It is applied at night like cold cream and washed off in the morning.

An Advance in Furs

DURING the past year we have maintained one price on every Fur Article produced, based on the cost of skins from the trapper, and the work entailed in manufacturing. We believed it was good business to let our patrons have the benefit of all Fur Stock on hand at the lowest prices possible in keeping with their best to us.

Many Fur Houses increased prices in ratio to the ever-advancing values of the raw fur market, so that as much as $100 to $150 increase on a garment was in evidence in the one item of Hudson Seal Garments alone.

We wish to announce that on and after February 15th all our Fur articles in Coon, Muskrat, Mink, Hudson Seal, Persian Lamb and Alaska Seal will be advanced according to the higher values now maintaining in these Furs; and all customers wishing to get Fur Garments will have to purchase before February 15th to reap the benefit of the lower prevailing prices of this past season.

We deemed it wise to let the public know of these coming advances and still give them an opportunity to select from our present stock at present prices. However, in order to protect ourselves, we must limit this concession to a given time —February 15th—just about three weeks after which prices will be advanced

FOUR DAY FAIR DECIDED BY THE EXHIBITION WORKERS

EXACT DATES WILL BE SELECTED SHORTLY—NEW DIRECTORS ADDED TO STRENGTH OF EXECUTIVE AND GENERAL PROGRAMME OF PROGRESS WAS OUTLINED.

MEMBERS ENTHUSIASTIC

Peterboro's exhibition will be a four day show this year. In making this progressive extension, breaking away from the old precedent of three days, the members at the annual meeting yesterday afternoon declared that Monday was needed as a preparatory day to give all the exhibitors the fullest opportunity of making the most of their booths and exhibits. It was admitted that the change might create some conflict with the Lindsay fair, but prominent exhibitors such as Albert Roberts, Edgar Wood and others stated that they weren't particular whether they went to Lindsay or not.

John Gillespie remarked that the Lindsay fair last year would have fallen far short of the average had they not received the Peterboro exhibits. It was pointed out that Lindsay could change its dates if their directors desired but Peterboro had to take care of its own fortunes.

The decision to extend the Exhibition to four days was made in a motion by W. J. Cox, seconded by E. W. Wood. The exact dates will be fixed at a meeting of the directors during the first week of February.

The tenor of the annual meeting was entirely optimistic. The directorate was increased from thirty-two to forty members. Plans for a financial campaign were roughly sketched, and the President R. Deane, announced that the committees would be formed at once in order that an early beginning could be made on the various advancements that have been proposed. Plans for enlarging the grandstand will be obtained as soon as possible, the importance of the Exhibition to the agricultural counties of this district will be laid before Premier Drury and his Ministers when they come to Peterboro, and energetic effort to secure adequate accomodation for cattle and a winter stock show will be put forth.

MR. A. J. BOLWELL RE-ELECTED PRESIDENT OF TRADES COUNCIL

DELEGATE'S COMPLAINT OF HIS ISOLATION DURING QUARANTINE WILL BE DRAWN TO THE ATTENTION OF THE CITY COUNCIL.

ORGANIZATION ADVISED

Mr. A. J. Bolwell was re-elected President of the Trades and Labor Council last night, beginning his second term in office. Other members nominated were Mr. L. F. Humber and Mr. T. H. Lane. The complete roster of officers elected follows:

President—A. J. Bolwell.
Vice-President—T. H. Lane.
Rec.-Secretary—Wm. Stevens.
Treasurer—Thos. Darrah.
Sergt.-At-Arms—H. Matthews.
Auditors—J. A. Sharpe, Wm. Rudkinds, H. Frost and H. Matthews.
Hall Trustees—H. Frost, J. J. Hartley, B. M. Fredericks, A. Morrison and J. Cairns.

Advised Organization.

Mr. James Marsh, of Niagara Falls, organizer for the Carpenters, briefly addressed the Council, setting forth the need and benefits of thorough organization. At this time of the year it was particularly opportune, he said, to undertake such a campaign for all the trades and workers in the city. Illustrating the advantages of unity Mr. Marsh stated that the average wage for outside carpenters in Ontario was seventy cents an hour. Some were getting more, some less. Inside woodworkers averaged less than thirty cents an hour in this province. The inside wood-workers had realized that the outside men were earning twice as much as they were and in 1919, saw fit to organize.

"As a result," Mr. Marsh continued, "we have some 3,000 inside carpenters organized in Ontario, and Quebec is also organizing. In view of some of the wages that are being paid, you sometimes wonder where the press gets its information when you see articles that high wages are causing the high cost of living. Do you know that in this province girls are taking lumber off planers at eight cents an hour and boys are working for six cents. Organized labor is striving to get enough money in the old man's envelope to enable him to let the boys and girls stay at school. You hear the Government and the press talking about more production, saying that it will bring down the cost of living. I can't see it myself, because we are exporting all we make, leaving a shortage at home; and the fellow we buy from is charging three or four prices for everything we need. In the course of three or four years when we get Europe filled up and our own storehouses, too, the cost of living may come down. Then we won't have the money to buy things because we won't have a job."

Regulate Prices.

Something ought to be done to regulate prices, Mr. Marsh proposed. "I certainly think we should export, but there should be some control exercised on our exports."

He referred to the increased costs of newsprint. Some time ago it sold in Canada at $64 a ton, but was advanced to about $80, while in the United States the price for the same Canadian newsprint was $100.

"The Government saw fit to permit the producers to charge only $60 in Canada. Why was newsprint the only thing that could be controlled? Why can the manufacturers of shoes and flour and other articles charge so much? The only reason is because the newspapers are fine things for the Government to have friendly when they are in power. The Government is buying the support of the papers by that difference of $90 or $100 a ton in the cost of newsprint, and for that the [illegible] advertising and editorials."

"We want more production, but not the way some manufacturers would have it. They want long hours but they are not willing to share the profits."

Give the boss a good fair day's work, when you're able to do it, when the boss will let you. There is lots of construction going on and if a man works too hard he's fired. There is too much of the cost plus system in construction, and contractors don't want the jobs done too quickly. There is not one contractor in one hundred but wants to make the job last as long as he can. If we could eliminate that we would be doing something, for in the long run we have to pay the extra costs."

Mr. Marsh was tendered a vote of thanks by the Council.

For Elective Commission.

A resolution was passed to be forwarded to Hon. Mr. Rasey, approving the system of electing police commissioners.

Stringency of Quarantine.

One of the delegates, whose house has been placarded for smallpox, complained that he had found it almost impossible to obtain supplies of food and other necessaries for his family. He was unable to leave his premises and no one came near him. The attending physician had remained away for four days, and only the kindness of a neighbor saved his family from distress.

"I will say that Sanitary Inspector Stapleton did his duty when I asked him to send the grocer," said the delegate, but he intimated that he himself neglected to arrange for the grocer to call regularly. For that reason the Council hesitated to place the responsibility in this case, but to ensure supplies and relief for other citizens who may be quarantined, a committee was appointed to communicate with the Mayor and with the City Council.

Weak - Nervous Women

There is No Remedy Like Vinol

"Women's work is never done." That's why they are overworked, nervous, all run down, no appetite, and can "hardly drag around." Vinol creates a hearty appetite, induces sound sleep, invigorates the nerves and creates strength.

Here is Proof that Should Convince Everyone

"I was run-down, nervous, and losing flesh rapidly, and had fainting spells, so I had to stop work for weeks at a time. My doctor told me to take Vinol. I did and after two or three days I commenced to feel better. I have gained flesh rapidly and feel better in every way since taking it." —Miss Phyllis Jones, W. Toronto, Ont.

"I suffered from general debility and a nervous breakdown; I was depressed, weak and tired all the time. A neighbor told me about Vinol, and after all other medicines had failed to help me Vinol built me up and made me well. I heartily recommend Vinol." —Mrs. Samuel Stock, Winnipeg, Manitoba.

For all run-downs, burnout, anaemic conditions, weak women, convalescent men, feeble old people and delicate children, there is no remedy like Vinol.

BEWARE OF TENDER GUMS

Unhealthy soil kills the best of wheat. Unhealthy gums kill the best of teeth. To keep the teeth sound keep the gums well. Watch for tender and bleeding gums. This is a symptom of Pyorrhea, which affects four out of five people over forty.

Pyorrhea menaces the body as well as the teeth. Not only do the gums recede and cause the teeth to decay, loosen and fall out, but the infecting Pyorrhea germs lower the body's vitality and cause many serious ills.

To avoid Pyorrhea, visit your dentist frequently for gum inspection. And use Forhan's For the Gums.

Forhan's For the Gums will prevent Pyorrhea—or check its progress, if used in time and used consistently. Ordinary dentifrices cannot do this. Forhan's will keep the gums firm and healthy, the teeth white and clean. Start using it today. If gum-shrinkage has set in, use Forhan's according to directions, and consult a dentist immediately for special treatment.

SAVE THE OLD SHOES

A campaign to be launched by the National Shoe Retailers Association of U.S., estimated to save $200,000,000 by repairing all the old shoes.

Retail Shoe dealers are to be urged, not that new shoes be purchased, but that Old Shoes be dug out of the closets and repaired.

It is said that there are "millions of shoes in the closets of the nation, that, with a little repair, may be made perfectly serviceable. If people will get out their old shoes it will release [illegible] leather from more than [illegible] to [illegible]."

What is true of the U.S., is true of Canada and of Peterborough. I am splendidly prepared to Repair all kinds of Old Shoes. Dig them out of the Closets and bring them here for a first-class job. We don't cobble Shoes, we Repair them.

Has a mother the right to decide how many children she will have?

How the women of Holland have answered the question of birth-control

THE war has made us realize that we cannot afford to ignore anything that claims to improve the health of our children; and this is why Pictorial Review, in line with its forward-looking editorial policy, presents to the thinking women of America the opportunity for considering the much misunderstood subject of scientific birth-control.

Everybody has heard of birth-control, but comparatively few people know what it really means. Many people are shocked at the very word. Pictorial Review does not take sides in this discussion, but when a conservative country like Holland boldly endorses the movement and publishes its reasons for so doing, it is time we looked into the matter judicially and impartially.

The remarkable story of what the women of Holland have done under the leadership of Dr. Aletta Jacobs is graphically told by Eleanor Kinsella McDonnell in the mid-winter issue of Pictorial Review. In this illuminating and inspiring account, there is valuable information for every woman in America.

In Holland today—Holland, mind you—slow-moving, conventional Holland—they have a smaller death rate and a higher healthy birth rate than in any country in the world. That fact is unescapable. And Dr. Jacobs states that this is due to a sane understanding and appreciation of birth-control. Whether this is so or not, is for the women of America to judge after reading this amazing article.

An American Who Became a Peer

WILLIAM WALDORF ASTOR, Viscount Hever, one of the richest men in the world, and at one time one of the most discussed, died on October 19. This was the Astor who shook the dust of America from his feet and became a British subject. For nearly thirty years he pursued his ambition to enter the peerage, despite any discouragements and rebuffs. It was not until the war came and he opened his deep purse to his adopted country that the King saw fit to honor him, and it must be said that Viscount Astor was deserving of honor. He gave millions, and not only gave but showed that here was at least one British subject of German blood who was intensely loyal to the land of his adoption. Nevertheless, when he was created a baron there was much criticism of this act of royal favor, on the ground that other men equally generous had been passed over. However, the country was then in the throes of the war and not a great deal of attention was paid to an incident so trifling, but the comment showed that the old prejudice against Astor had not died, though it was far from being as strong as when it made life in England not much more pleasant than it had been in the United States.

William Waldorf Astor was the son of John Jacob Astor, the third, and inherited the bulk of his fortune. He was probably the richest of the Astors. From boyhood he was trained in the management of the huge estate that was one day to be his, but this was irksome to him, and he turned to politics. He was elected to the New York Assembly and later to the Senate. When he offered himself as a candidate for Congress he was defeated, and it is said that this was a blow from which he took a long time to recover; but his pride must have been appeased when shortly afterward President Arthur appointed him ambassador to Italy. While there he amused himself as an author and produced a couple of novels now forgotten, but probably what one might have expected from a millionaire. He also showed some interest in art, which he had inherited from his mother, she being a woman of unusual culture and charm. After his term of office he returned to the United States and suddenly displayed a keen interest in society. He built a great establishment at Newport and made no secret of the fact that he and his wife were the dictators of American society, and were prepared to meet all comers in defence of their title.

It was about this time that he ran foul of the American newspapers. It appears that another Mrs. Astor was the pretender to the social throne, and she also lived at Newport. One day Mr. Astor informed the postmaster that all letters that came addressed simply to "Mrs. Astor" should be forwarded to his wife. The newspapers commented derisively on this news, and also on the fact, or alleged fact, that Mrs. William Waldorf Astor had actually copyrighted the name "Mrs. Astor." Another cause of offence and one which more readily entitled Mr. Astor to sympathy was when the Charlie Ross case was recalled as the result of an alleged confession, and a New York newspaper indulged in speculations as to what ransom would be demanded if the eldest son of the Astors should be kidnapped. This story was widely copied and gave Mr. Astor deep anger, because he and his wife both feared that the idea of kidnapping their son might be thus planted in the mind of some desperate man. Indeed, it was said that worry over the possibility seriously impaired Mrs. Astor's health.

Then it was that Mr. Astor announced his intention of going to England to live, because "newspapers made the United States unfit for a gentleman." His remark was treated with jeers, and it is to be admitted that when he established himself in England certain newspapers there were not more kind. The Astors, however, soon introduced themselves to English society, and bade fair to enter upon a brilliant career when Mr. Astor had the misfortune to get himself "in Dutch," as he said, with King Edward. It appears that one of the King's intimates was Admiral Sir Barclay Milne, and one night the admiral, after dining with some friends, went with them to an Astor reception. The admiral had not been invited, but it was and is an English custom for invited guests to take with them their own dinner guests to after dinner functions. Whether Mr. Astor was aware of this custom or whether, as is suspected, he had previously been snubbed by Sir Barclay, is not exactly known. At any rate he demanded a cheque or ticket from the admiral, and his inability to produce a definite and legally binding invitation led to his being asked to withdraw.

King Edward was indignant, and the unfortunate Astor was made to feel the weight of his displeasure, for society naturally took its cue from the King, and for a time it appeared that the Astors' social ambitions were a closed chapter. Later on King Edward, with his proverbial good nature, relented, and was several times seen in the company of Mr. Astor, who was then a naturalized British subject.

Mr. Astor raised a laugh at one time by publishing the Astor genealogy, proving that they were descended from a well-known Spanish family of the tenth century. Since everybody knew that the Astors were first discovered in Waldorf, Germany, about a hundred years ago, this effort deceived nobody.

LESS MEAT IF BACK AND KIDNEYS HURT

Take a Glass of Salts to Flush Kidneys if Bladder Bothers You.

Eating meat regularly eventually produces kidneys trouble in some form or other, says a well-known authority, because the uric acid in meat excites the kidneys, they become overworked; get sluggish; clog up and cause all sorts of distress, particularly backache and misery in the kidney region; rheumatic twinges, severe headaches, acid stomach, constipation, torpid liver, sleeplessness, bladder and urinary irritation.

The moment your back hurts or kidneys aren't acting right, or if bladder bothers you, get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any good pharmacy; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to flush clogged kidneys and stimualte them to normal activity; also to neutralize the acids in the urine so it no longer irritates, thus ending bladder disorders.

Jad Salts cannot injure anyone; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which millions of men and women take now and then to keep the kidneys and urinary organs clean, thus avoiding serious kidney disease.

THE HAPPY WARRIOR.

There grew upon a hillside fair
A mullein tall and straight;
A sentinel it seemed to stand,
In lonely, silent state.
The grazing cattle spared its stalk,
To crop more humble weed,
And left it in its ripe old age,
Unharmed to go to seed.

And long it stood, the mullein straight,
Upon the hillside fair,
The shadows came, the shadows went;
It did not seem to care.
When dew and rain refreshing fell,
With thanks it seemed to dine,
And when the skies withheld their showers
It did not droop nor pine.

Through autumn days it flourished on,
This mullein sentinel;
Though Summer comrades soon were gone,
And leaves about it fell.
And when the white flakes covered all
The grass of sunny hill,
It stood on guard above the snow,
A cheerful soldier still.

Tells how to loosen a sore, tender corn so it lifts out without pain

Good news spreads rapidly and druggists here are kept busy dispensing freezone, the ether discovery of a Cincinnati man, which is said to loosen any corn so it lifts out with the fingers.

Ask at any pharmacy for a quarter ounce of freezone, which will cost very little, but is said to be sufficient to rid one's feet of every hard or soft corn or callus.

You apply just a few drops on the tender, aching corn and instantly the soreness is relieved, and soon the corn is so shriveled that it lifts out without pain. It is sticky substance which dries when applied and never inflames or even irritates the adjoining tissue.

This discovery will prevent thousands of deaths annually from lockjaw and infection heretofore resulting from the suicidal habit of cutting corns.

PETERBORO EASILY BEAT CANNINGTON BY 10 TO 2

INTERMEDIATES STAY IN THE RUNNING, BY DEFEATING VILLAGERS IN HANDY FASHION—VISITORS HAD GOOD TEAM WORK BUT LACKED THE SPEED TO TAKE ADVANTAGE OF THE COMBINATION.

The fans evidently regarded the result of last night's Intermediate O.H.A. game at Brock street rink as a foregone conclusion for only a handful of spectators saw Peterboro beat Cannington by 10 goals to 2 in a game that was not devoid of features in spite of the one-sided score. Cannington showed considerable improvement over their last appearance here. They looked speedy, and their shooting was by far the better part weak and inaccurate but they played better combination than any team seen here this year. And although they were suffering their first consecutive defeat without a win to relieve the monotony, they never stopped trying.

Peterboro had a wide edge on speed and stick handling ability and these features easily won for them, especially as they passed the puck much more frequently to much greater advantage than in their other games.

The game was very clean, only one man on each side being penalized. The referee was that dean of officials, F. A. Waghorne, who used to officiate at hockey games in Peterboro before some of the players in last night's game were born. "Wag" had an easy contest to handle and gave good satisfaction. Incidentally he supplied the heartless fans with a chance to laugh when he staged a back flip in the last period that would have made an acrobat envious.

Harry Thornton and Ray Rose were big factors in Peterboro's victory, Thornton playing the best game of the season so far, while Rose starred for the first time this year, was very effective, getting three counters, and figuring in most of the combined rushes. The rest of the squad all performed nicely. Although the score was one sided Murray in the nets had a lot of work to do and he gave it some excellent exhibition.

For Cannington the veteran Callaghan and F. Halward on the defence, and Welsh and Ted Halward on the forward line, were the pick. Welsh is a tricky centre man and was generally there for a pass while Halward at left wing, although he loafed a lot, was effective.

The teams:

For the first ten minutes Cannington had the match of the play as the Petes. They were coming down three in line and passing nicely but Micky Murray had to pull off some clever stops at close range to keep them off the scoring sheet. Finally, however, a nice little piece of three man combination caught the Peterboro defence cold and Welsh scored the first counter for Cannington.

Then the Petes started to come. Harry Thornton evened the score when he took a pass from Ray Rose, and fanned from close in. The right wing came back with two more on individual plays before the period ended, leaving the figures at the end of twenty minutes, Peterboro 3, Cannington 1.

The second period was all Peterboro. Ray Rose started the scoring when he went down the side, and scored nicely. A little later Harry Thornton made it 5 to 1 on a pass from Ray Rose and Jackson added another in a minute on a combined rush with Halpin and Ray Rose. Lornie Rose went in alone on a nice rush for the next counter, and just before the period ended, Ray Rose made it 8 to 1 on an individual rush.

In the last period the Petes took things very easy and contented themselves without scoring Cannington 2 to 1. Ray Rose slammed in the first Peterboro counter and Harry Thornton wound up the local scoring. Welsh got Cannington's goal on a combined rush about five minutes before the final bell.

First Period:
1 Cannington, Welsh.
2 Peterboro, H. Thornton.
3 Peterboro, H. Thornton
4 Peterboro, H. Thornton.

Second Period:
5 Peterboro, R. Rose.
6 Peterboro, H. Thornton.
7 Peterboro, Jackson.
8 Peterboro, L. Rose.
9 Peterboro, R. Rose.

Third Period:
10 Peterboro, R. Rose.
11 Peterboro, H. Thornton.
12 Cannington, Welsh.

HOCKEY PRACTICE AT MARK STREET

Last night Mark street rink was the scene of a lively hockey practice when Capt. Jack Burke led his squad of Peterborough future hopes out on to the ice. They will meet Brownton youngsters in a fast, death-dealing battle on Saturday afternoon on the river, somewhere north-west of Robinson's Island. If alive after their defeat they will challenge any team under nine or over ninety for the championship of the city or county.

Capt. Burke wil be the fastest man on the ice if his corns will allow him to get his boots on. To some of the team it is a mysterious game, while others played about five years ago. The game will be well worth seeing, so as the manager has kindly consented to let the team play, everybody is invited to come. As the team has only two new hockey sticks every one is requested to bring one. Mr. A. Casson has kindly consented to carry the water and Oldham Nifty Hill to lead the cheering.

Bob Haddow, 10, vs. Bob Veitch, 7.
McCulloch, Jr., and S. Leith have to play off yet to complete round four
The semi-final draw now stands as follows:— Elliott vs. McCulloch or Leith, Irwin vs. Haddow.

Notes

The two Bobs—Hendry and Haddow—caused great excitement as they both had their supporters to help them along but Bob Haddow won out amid great excitement on a tie score.

Bill Smith gave an exhibition of how to talk to the bowls but he forgot to talk to them the right way and had to admit defeat to "silent" Sandy McArthur.

The surprise of the third round was when Grant had to go down to defeat by the youngest member playing—Hugh McCulloch—by the score of 13 to 5.

The "Big Bobs"—the Haggis carriers— French and Veitch gave an exhibition of playing as the ends produced peculiar twists in every finish.

Sandy Irwin only played 4 winning ends and won out with the score 10 to 7 against "Glasgows" favorite, John Smith.

Tom Mc Arthur went down to Bob Elliott, with the score —12 to 5.

A Play For the Nation
"It has the laughs of 'Potash and Perlmutter' and the tears of 'The Music Master.'"
PRESIDENT WILSON

At the Grand Saturday Matinee and Evening.

ACTION AND THRILLS IN "MAN'S DESIRE"

LEWIS S. STONE SUPPORTED BY ALL STAR CAST IN RED BLOODED DRAMA OF THE NORTH-WEST WOODS.

Those lovers of the drama who like action, excitement, and suspense in their film food, will find a dish to their taste in "Man's Desire," a Robertson-Cole production distributed by Exhibitors Mutual and starring Lewis S. Stone.

Fans with an anaemic appetite will find stimulation in this highly-seasoned production, while the lovers of the virile and primitive will be satisfied with a red-blooded drama.

Tom Denton, the "straight-shooter," literally and figuratively; "Slim" Durgan, a primitive and useless member of society; "Buff" Larkin, an abysmal beast and evil genius of the woods; and gentle Mary Larkin, an exquisite flower in a primitive wilderness, are characters in this story who are woven into a drama that vibrates with suspense and thrilling situations.

Lewis S. Stone, who starred in "The Man of Bronze," "Inside the Lines," and other great screen successes, wrote the play himself, and has succeeded in creating in "Tom Denton" a new type of out-in-the-open hero which is a relief from the ordinary screen gunman.

Jane Novak, who plays opposite Stone, as Mary Larkin, has a part that fits her admirably. Miss Novak will be remembered for her work in "His Debt," with Hayakawa.

Charlotte Burton, Bill Dyer, Jack Curtis, George Pearce, and Joe Bennett complete an excellent cast.

At the Grand to-night and to-morrow with the Keith Vaudeville programme.

WATCH YOUR STEP

Irving Berlin's international syncopated musical success, "Watch Your Step," which broke all of last season's touring records for musical entertainment, will be presented at the Grand on its fourth annual tour, for an engagement of one night only, Wednesday Jan. 29th.

Everyone associated with the production of "Watch Your Step" has won an enviable fame in their particular field, and this musical play is described as their joint masterpiece.

Mr. Berlin, who has given the public some of the most prolific song hits the modern stage has known, formed an idea that a musical show, written wholly in syncopated time, would catch the popular fancy of theatregoers. He seized upon the idea with enthusiasm and not long after completed the score and lyrics. Then the book was intrusted to Harry B. Smith, and none could have made a better play. Then came the selection of men and women to stage the piece. The most noted were secured. Leon Baker was commissioned to paint the production; R. H. Burnside to produce it, and Helen Dryden, designer of all the covers of "Vogue," to design and furnish the costumes. The trio were given carte blanche. The result was sufficient to give theatregoers a distinct surprise.

It was the first time that a ragtime musical play had ever been offered for public approval. That it was a genuine success is proven by the fact that it played in New York nearly an entire season, in Chicago for three months, in Philadelphia for three months and in Boston for three months.

"CHECKERS" COMING TO THE ALLEN THEATRE

At last "Checkers," the well-known racing melodrama, has been made into a big special film production, and is to be presented with an all-star cast by William Fox at the Allen Theatre for three days, starting Monday.

"Checkers" is especially adaptable for the motion pictures, for it contains many elaborate outdoor scenes that can be accurately displayed on the screen.

As a stage play "Checkers" was a classic. There are many big spectacular scenes in the film, such as an actual race at one of the large tracks, a thrilling train wreck in which a freight car containing several persons and a racehorse topples into a river, and a sensational scene in New York's Chinatown.

FRIENDLY ENEMIES

"Friendly Enemies," the play that has made theatrical history, will be presented at the Grand on Saturday Matinee and Evening, for an engagement under the direction of A. H. Woods.

This internationally famous comedy, which has been playing continuously for almost three years, is too well known to millions of theatregoers to need more than a passing introduction. From the historic evening (in March 1918) when it received a public endorsement from President Wilson at the National Theatre, Washington, D.C., it has played without stop in almost every city and town in the United States and Great Britain. It has everywhere been received with tumultuous enthusiasm. The King of England approved of it as cordially and as heartily as President Wilson. A famous critic said that it had the tears of "The Music Master" and the laughs of "Potash and Perlmutter." Another famous critic called it "One of the great theatrical properties of the last decade." The timeliness of the play; its wonderful blending of comedy and pathos; its tender love and its compelling human interest have combined to make it more popular than either of the plays mentioned above. The authors are Samuel Shipman and Aaron Hoffman, both of them among the foremost American playwrights.

OBITUARY

BUTTLE HUDSON

A well-known and highly respected citizen of Peterboro passed away last night at his home, 629 Stewart street in the person of Buttle Hudson in his seventy-fifth year.

The deceased who was the son of William and Mrs. Hudson was born in Otonabee on the farm now owned by Zachias Burnham in 1844. He attended school in Otonabee but when he reached his early manhood he came to Peterboro, where he learned the cabinet making trade under the late John Brown. After learning the trade he conducted a cabinet making shop on Brock street where Mr. Butcher's store is now located. This shop will be remembered by the older citizens both for its kindly proprietor and the high class work that was produced. Later on Mr. Hudson carried on taxidermying and a picture framing business in the same shop and did paintings and portraits.

Some five years ago Mr. Hudson became enfeebled and he sold his shop and removed his business to his home 629 Stewart street where he has carried it on as much as he was able although in failing health.

Mr. Hudson had always enjoyed excellent health until about six years ago last fall when he suffered a stroke. During the past five years he has been in failing health and during the last few months his condition had become rapidly worse, and last night at 6.40 he slept peacefully away.

The deceased was married in 1886 to Annie Butcher, daughter of the late Rev. J. W. Butcher, whom he leaves to mourn his loss and one son Harold, of this city.

The late Mr. Hudson had great artistic talent and his works have been greatly admired wherever they have been exhibited. In New York his paintings won marked commendations from the great critics. His art work was carried on besides his other business and although he never reached great fame yet his pictures will serve as a lasting memory of this true artist. Besides his artistic talent the deceased exhibited considerable talent as a singer and musician and was associated with many organizations and bands.

In early years Mr. Hudson was associated with the Baptist Church but in later years attended service at the Bethany Tabernacle.

The death of the Buttle Hudson leaves a gap in the community that will be hard to fill for his kindly Christian qualities had made him a host of friends.

The funeral will take places tomorrow afternoon at 2.30 from the family residence 629 Stewart street to the Little Lake Cemetery. Service at the house will be held at 2 o'clock by the Rev. A. G. Doner of the Bethany Tabernacle.

THE WEATHER

The low point last night was 15 degrees below zero. This makes nine mornings in succession with below zero. There is yet no sign of the usual January "thaw," and altogether the month is likely to be a record breaker for cold.—W. P.

DIED.

Both sterling and francs fell to still lower records after the opening, but later rallied. Sterling sank to $3.59 3-4 but recovered to $3.62; francs declined to $12.13 per dollar but rose to 12.10. Lires also made a new low at 14.18 and then recovered to 14.16.

From a trading standpoint, the market was just as unsatisfactory to-day as it has been since last week. most of the professionals were still bearish, but depressed stocks almost invariably reacted to their former levels.

Renewed pressure by the bear element forced down prices of several leading issues in early trading.

MILITARY ENQUIRY BROUGHT TO A CLOSE LAST EVENING.

EVIDENCE HEARD

(Special to The Examiner.)

ST. CATHARINES, Jan. 23.—The military enquiry into the nineteenth regiment finances while the unit was doing Welland canal and frontier guard duty, ended abruptly last night at the close of the night session. Gen. Cruickshank, the president, announced that the court would adjourn to allow the members to discuss the evidence and decide what observations or recommendations they would make. If Col Burleigh wished to call any more witnesses the court could be reopened, which would be quite regular. When court resumed last night at 8.30 a sum total was made of receipted accounts from merchants which Col. Burleigh had presented to offset the eleven thousand nine hundred and eleven dollars which the court had informed him was the amount unaccounted for properly. The accounts totalled eight thousand seven hundred, but from this was deducted two thousand six hundred and sixty-five dollars representing the accounts. Among those represented which were known to be paid by the government with government checks, that left a net total of five thousand one hundred and thirty-five dollars to the credit of Burleigh to oset the eleven thousand nine hundred. Evidence all through the enquiry showed that many things were bought and paid for on the spot and no receipts taken, however.

Col. Young asked Col. Burleigh if he had drawn an allowance for an automobile, dollars a day for it. He had, in 1915 sold the Ford he purchased to Lieut. Greenwood for $250 and had the money to hand over.

Industrial Development of Peterboro Was Subject of Two Interesting Addresses

MR. G. A. GILLESPIE AND MR. W. H. PRETTY ADDRESS THE BOARD OF TRADE LAST EVENING—TWO GREAT FACTORS.

CO-OPERATION WANTED

The Board of Trade, at its special meeting last night, listened to two strong addresses on industrial development. Mr. George A. Gillespie made the first address on "Industry in Peterborough," speaking from the business man's point of view and basing his remarks upon the theory that to be successful, industry, business and labour must be developed as factors in city growth by "clear thinking, proper planning, honourable purpose and the will to do."

Vice President Thomas Barrie occupied the chair in the absence of President J. J. Turner, who could not be present by reason of a slight illness.

Chairman Barrie said that the intention of the Board was to make an institution of these Thursday evening addresses because of their educational value and influence upon the life and development of the city.

One of the large advantages of a practical Board of Trade is that the study of the business man and specialist is at the service of the community.

The two outstanding [illegible] and energy to Board of Trade work, as never before in Peterborough's history.

More and more the broad-minded man of affairs sees that after all service to the community is rewarded by the fruits of growth which feed the industrial and commercial life of the city.

Mr. Barrie said that George Gillespie needed no introduction. He had grown up with us and would give us the business view of our city's industrial problem.

Mr. G. A. Gillespie

Mr. Gillespie was given a cordial reception and, after acknowledging it, spoke in part as follows:

Mr. Chairman and Fellow Members:

In the year 1819, one hundred years ago Peterborough was first established but not until the year 1825, with the Robertson immigration settling here, was much progress made, but from that time on Peterborough began to make real progress in increased population, and we find between the year 1819 and 1850 several Saw Mills and Wood Working Plants including the Peter Hamilton Manufacturing Co., were established, and according to records, the population was 2,000 people.

Between the years 1850 and 1875 real industrial development began in Peterborough. The Raceway was built from London to Murray street, with the view of developing water power for industry, and was responsible for building up a number of Woolen, Flour Mills, etc. The Wm. Hamilton Manufacturing Co., which were manufacturers of saw mill machinery, boilers, etc., was established between these dates. The population of Peterborough in the year 1875, according to records, was 7055

From the year 1875 to the year 1900 a further number of industries were established, in the line of Woollen Mills, Iron Works, Flax Mills, Lock Manufacturing, Carriage Works Canoe Building, Harness Manufacturing and the present plant of The George Matthews Company, Port Packers, which has been responsible for the building up of the agricultural district taking from the farmer his production of hogs.

The population in the year 1900, record show to be 10,897.

From the year 1900 up to the present year, 1920, a further number of industries were established, among them being The Quaker Oats Co., The Peterborough Cereal Co., The Colonial Weaving Co., The Bonner-Worth, The De Laval Co., The Henry Hope Co., and The Vermont Marble Company, and since the war closed we have added to our industries, The Western Clock Co., The Nashua Gum and Coated Paper Co., The Allied Mfgr. Co., and the Albion Knitting Company.

An Industries.

During the past one hundred years there has been established in Peterborough, in the neighborhood of 80 manufacturing plants. The majority of them are still doing business, un-

INDIANS HELP THE ARMENIANS.

A shadow social was held at Hiawatha on Wednesday evening and the proceeds amounting to $71.85, will be turned over to the Armenian Fund. The Indians [illegible] and friends in the vicinity took part. Sixteen boxes were successfully auctioned by Jack Coward.

THE CALL FROM ARMENIA.

A cable has been sent to Dr. F. W. MacCallum, who is stationed in Constantinople, authorizing him to draw on Mr. D. A. Cameron, Toronto, Manager of the Canadian Bank of Commerce, to the sum of $65,000. In this way the money being raised by the present campaign will be put to immediate use in providing needed food and clothing for the refugee Armenian people.

A telegram received by Rev. I. W. Pierce, Secretary of the Canadian National Armenian Relief Association, from C. V. Vickrey, General Secretary of the Near East Relief Association, says that arrangements are made to have Canadian contributions forwarded direct to Constantinople, where they will be administered by three of the Canadian medical missionaries now actually working in the field. These doctors are F. W. MacCallum, who is in Constantinople; Nesbitt Chambers, who is supervising a refugee and orphanage problem in Cilicia, and Dr. McLachlan.

MONEY AVAILABLE FOR FOOD.

The telegram proceeds: "Dr. MacCallum, in Constantinople, when authorized by you or by us, will draw against Mr. Cameron for any amount authorized immediately, realizing advantageously upon the draft in Constantinople, making money instantly available for relief. Food can be purchased economically in Constantinople through Anatolian, Indian and Black Sea ports, but Armenian refugees and orphans dispossessed from their lands without funds cannot command available food stores except with [illegible] assistance as the newspapers are now giving.

"Your contributions are helping to save literally thousands of lives."

800,000 DESTITUTE.

The following are excerpts from a cable received from Colonel William N. Haskell, who is serving as Joint High Commissioner by authority of the Paris Peace Conference, and who also officially represents the Near East Relief in Armenia:

"I estimate that there are 800,000 destitute Armenians who will require assistance until next year's harvest."

"The minimum relief requirements amount to 7,000 tons of flour monthly until the harvest, beside one full cargo for additional relief to 150,000 children for three months."

"For food relief I estimate that the Caucases will require $500,000 monthly."

ISSUES IN THE TRIAL

PETITION FOR THE WITHDRAWAL OF JUSTICE METCALFE AS TRIAL JUDGE.

OTHER OBJECTIONS

(Special to The Examiner.)

WINNIPEG, Jan. 23. — A legal thrust parry centering about the attempt by the defence to prevent a jury trial or at least a jury trial before any of the members present panel which gave off fire as blade met blade featured the trial of the so-called sedition cases. The entire day was spent in argument and motions challenging the array of the entire jury panel, the right of the Crown Counsel to represent the King, and a petition for withdrawal of Justice Metcalfe from the position of trial judge. Announcement of the intention of W. A. Pritchard, R. J. Johns, Alderman John Queen, Alderman A. A. Heaps, William Ivens, to defend themselves without assistance of counsel, and speeches made by them during the day developed a new angle of the defence. Pritchard refused to agree to the suggestion of Metcalfe to the appointment of counsel representing R. J. Johns, George Armstrong, R. B. Bray as legal representative for the other men on the ground that he considered the lawyers have "indoor minds" and were unable to grasp the proper interpretation of matters connected with the present industrial movements. Further argument and challenge to the array of jurymen is expected to take more of to-day. Mon[illegible] Monday. In case the challenge is allowed the result will be trial at once, if Justice on charges of prejudice, negligence or wilful misconduct, although the defence declared it wanted only a friendly action against the Sheriff. Metcalfe said from the bench that any fault on the part of an officer of the court worthy of barring the entire panel from acting as jurors was sufficiently flagrant to warrant punishment. Pritchard, Ivens, Queen, Heaps each spoke in favor of the motion of withdrawal of Metcalfe as trial judge on the grounds of bias, each reading from the charge to the jury in the case of R. B. Russell. The excerpts, he declared, showed prejudice against him as an individual. A. J. Andrews, Crown Prosecutor, protested vehemently against the attitude of accused labor leaders got represented by counsel.

SAYS DRURY IS NOT MAN FOR THE JOB

G. C. HALCROW SAYS BIGGER MAN SHOULD BE LEADER.

HAMILTON, Jan. 23.— That it is not too late to select a man of the type of Sir Adam Beck as premier of Ontario and leader of the U.F.O.-Labor government, is the opinion of G. G. Halcrow, M.L.A., for East Hamilton. He takes the ground that the country requires the leadership of a strong man of parliamentary experience, and he believes that Sir Adam Beck would be the best man. While Mr. Halcrow is a follower of the Drury administration, he says that in his opinion Premier Drury is probably not strong enough and not experienced enough to be at the head of the government during times that are bound to be trying.

As to the possibility of Sir Adam listening to such a proposition, Mr. Halcrow stated that the probability was that Sir Adam would not. "I believe he is utterly disgusted with public affairs," stated Mr. Halcrow, "and I hardly believe he would consider it. He is preferable, but if he would not accept, some other strong man should be secured."

CONSUMPTION OF TEAS INCREASE

VANCOUVER, Jan. 8.—In discussing the tea outlook for 1920, a prominent Vancouver tea importer brought out information that cannot fail to be useful to the trade in understanding the "why" of tea prices. "For one thing," he said, "we are not alone on this continent, or Europe, with our labor troubles. The various primary tea markets are in a state of labor unrest, which makes the growing and picking of tea uncertain. Labor is dearer now than formerly.

India and South Africa Tea Drinking.

"Another thing that will have a great effect is the fact that India, with its millions, is beginning to drink tea. If this great mass of humanity ever gets the tea-drinking habit, there will be an added strain on the world's tea production. Then again, South Africa is consuming increasing quantities of tea. Tea is growing in popularity with the higher prices of everything else. It continues to be an economical beverage, when one pound, will produce seven-and-a-half gallons of liquor.

Consumption Is Increasing.

"The per capita consumption of tea in Canada and the United States is increasing. Prohibition has not had anything to do with it. A man that wants whiskey will not take tea instead. The increased per capita consumption, especially in the States, is due to the number of United States soldiers who learned to drink tea when overseas.

"You would also be surprised to know that the States bordering the Persian Gulf are using increasing quantities of tea, and big fair to become a large market for teas in the very near future. The presence of large numbers of British troops has undoubtedly given a great stimulus to the use of tea by these peoples. This will serve to give you an idea of what the future holds in the way of demands for tea.

Curtailed Supplies.

"When we turn to consider the supply, we find, generally speaking, that the tea gardens of the world have suffered during the war. With prices low, it was a very long-sighted and wealthy grower who could continue paying out wages for the constant attention that the tea shrub requires, when the return would not let him even break even. A few did it, but the majority had to do as the majority in any branch of merchandising would have to do, lay off help, and permit a portion of their gardens to go uncared for, or the whole to be half-looked-after. It is well known, that in the case of a tea shrub, neglect is suicidal. If the leaves are not plucked when they should be, the plant runs to wood very quickly, and the quality of the leaf drops below market standards. This neglect was general, to a serious degree, during the war; and, as it takes new shrubs six years to mature in the valleys and twelve on the highlands, it will be seen that, during the next year and more, some—either old or new tea drinkers—are going to be short—and it looks as if the rest of us cannot expect cheap tea."

Thousands of people suffer from baldness, and falling hair who, having tried nearly every advertised hair tonic and hair-grower without results, have resigned themselves to baldness and its attendant discomfort. Yet their case is not hopeless, the following simple home prescription has made hair grow after years of baldness, and is also unequalled for restoring gray hair, to its original color stopping hair from falling out, and destroying hair fro mfalling outhdrl ll stroying the deadruff germ. It will not make the hair greasy, and can be put up by any druggist: Bay Rum, 6 ounces, Lavena de Composee, 2 ounces, Menthol Crystals, one-half drachm. ALL TENDENCIES POINT TO HIGH TEAS

From all sources in the trade, reports to Canadian Grocer are to the effect that not only is the tea market ruling with the continued strong undertone, but the possibility of higher prices prevailing in the near future is definitely hinted at. The London market has opened and prices there are exceptionally high. Just whether this will have a definite effect upon the Canadian situation is not quite clear at the moment, but the trade feels that any effect would be that of firming the market here.

Scarcity Prevails.

The present holdings of tea, by the Canadian trade, are said to be very light. This is true when better grade teas are taken into account and the high grades have been snapped up very quickly when offered. Not only is this true of the Canadian market, but the same situation prevails in the United States, where better grade teas are reported very scarce.

The situation looks as though no drop in prices will be possible and there is strong probability of advances being made. No one has any tea for sale, and any teas arriving from abroad are snapped up quickly on arrival. The foregoing statement, as expressed by a large factor in the trade operating throughout Canada, indicates clearly that the situation is with regard to quality teas. It bears out what Canadian Grocer has already pointed out in previous articles on the tea situation, viz.: that importations of tea, and especially highgrade Japans, have been very quickly absorbed. This has made a situation which may be considered as unusual and has caused a smaller holding of tea stocks than have been recorded for a great many years.

Demands Are Heavy.

The demand for tea from all sources of the trade has been responsible, in a large measure, for the extensive absorption of tea stocks. Part of the increased demand is traceable to the prohibition legislation, which has been enacted in so many parts of the country. People have had to use something as a beverage, and the enactment of liquor laws has served to make the tea business exceedingly good. This is a condition that is reported from all sections of the trade and with a demand which, if it has not exceeded the supply, has at least kept pace with the offerings of quality tea. This demand is likely to continue, and with the high-grade teas produced in the Far East very well distributed, and, in some cases, already cleaned up entirely, there seems to be little prospect of lower prices obtaining, or of heavier stocks of tea being obtainable for a long while to come.
